What is Ontario?

ONTARIO is the Premier Province of the Dominion of Canada. It is as large as the French Republic or the German Empire. It has a population of over 2,000,000, contained in one-third of its area.

Ontario is without a dollar of Provincial debt. The municipal taxes for all purposes, including schools, average only $6 a head per year of the whole population. There is no direct tax for either Provincial or Dominion Government revenue.

Its climate is healthful and invigorating, warm in summer and exhilarating in winter. It admits of the growth of grapes, peaches, plums, pears and apples in the greatest abundance, and of unexcelled appearance and flavor.

Its cereals, grasses and roots stand unrivalled on the American continent. Its cheese stands first on the British market, and its live stock products are noted for their excellence.

The timber and mineral wealth of Ontario is enormous, and will provide the greater portion of revenue necessary for conducting the public affairs of the Province for many years to come.

The tourist and sportsman may revel amongst the fish and game and the marvelous beauties of scenery the lakes and rivers of Ontario afford. The world-famed Niagara, the island summering places on the St. Lawrence, the Georgian Bay and the Muskoka Lakes, the wild magnificence of its unsettled Northland—Algonquin Park, Lake Superior, Lake of the Woods, Rainy River. All these and more are within the bounds of the Province.

Life in Toronto, Hamilton, Ottawa, London and other cities and towns of Ontario, provides religious facilities, educational advantages, social privileges and business opportunities of the best class.

The Government of Ontario is practically a pure form of democracy, forming in confederation with six other Provinces the Dominion of Canada. Its institutions are most enlightened and advanced. It is a country of splendid promise and offers attractive homes and spheres of activity for millions of citizens.

Ontario still has millions of acres of free grant and low priced land, equal in fertility to any in the Province, to offer settlers.

For hand-book descriptive of the resources of Ontario apply to P. BYRNE, Ontario Government Agent, 9 James St., Liverpool; or to the ONTARIO DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, Toronto, Canada.

7. "The Canadian Legal Directory: A Guide to the Bench and Bar of the Dominion" (Toronto, 1878).

In 1862 Mr. Morgan established "The Canadian Parliamentary Companion," which he edited and published, annually, up to 1876; and, in 1878, he established "The Dominion Annual Register and Review," which he likewise edited and published, annually, up to 1887.

"More general contributions to history are the works of the Abbé Faillon, of Mr. Parkman, of Dr. Scadding, of the Abbé Laverdière, of Sir J. M. Le Moine, of Judge Haliburton, of Mr. Fennings Taylor, of Dr. Miles, of the Abbé Casgrain, of Col. Gray, of Mr. Louis Turcotte, of Mr. Charles Lindsey, of Dr. George Stewart, and of Mr. H. J. Morgan. We might add very largely to this list, which serves rather to show the variety of ways in which historical talent may be advantageously occupied than to sum up what has been accomplished. Of all these writers there is none who is more deserving of the gratitude of his fellow-citizens than the last-mentioned. Hardly a day passes, indeed, in which we, as journalists, do not refer for information to some of Mr. Morgan's various stores of information, and rarely do we refer to them in vain. His latest enterprise, "The Dominion Annual Register," the last issue of which we had the pleasure not long since of reviewing in these columns, will prove of exceeding value to the future historian. It is a repertory of all that is really important in the history of the year, and is the only source to which we can go, with the confidence that we shall not be disappointed, for political or general information. Yet this is only one of the results of Mr. Morgan's thoughtfulness, ability and energy. His "Celebrated Canadians," his "Bibliotheca Canadensis," his "Legal Directory," and his "Parliamentary Companion," are also contributions to history of superior interest and value. The two former have won deserved praise on both sides of the Atlantic, especially in the great English reviews, and we bespeak for the new edition of them, which is now in preparation, a reception even more favourable, in proportion to Canada's greater and growing importance."—Montreal Gazette.

PREFACE.

ALTHOUGH the scope and object of THE CANADIAN MEN AND WOMEN OF THE TIME are sufficiently indicated on its title-page, a further word or two from the Editor may not be without interest to the reader.

Commencing with the Editor's "Sketches of Celebrated Canadians," published in 1862, there have appeared from the native press, at various times, many works and publications of a similar character. The present work, however, would seem to be the first attempt made to supply a hand-book of biography devoted exclusively to living persons, of both sexes, including among these Canadians of note dwelling in all parts of the world. That the number of the latter is very considerable no person can doubt who examines these pages. Canadians have earned and are still earning distinction for themselves and their country in every clime and, indeed, under every form of government.

In carrying out his design the Editor has tried to adhere to the arrangement adopted in the English "Men and Women of the Time," a work whose excellence is universally recognized. Some features, now introduced for the first time in a biographical dictionary, will, it is hoped, be found useful. These are, 1st, including in certain of the sketches the recorded or original opinions of the subject of the sketch on the public questions of the day; 2nd, adding, to the majority of the sketches, opinions taken from the public press or other trustworthy authority on the merits, work and services of the subject thereof; and 3rd, supplying the post-office address, town residence, and club (if any) of each person represented in the book.

The Editor has conscientiously endeavoured to prepare a book which shall be found full and accurate, and to be truly representative of Canadian achievement, intellect and worth; still, as mistakes are inseparable from all human undertakings, he is not without misgivings that he may have fallen into errors, but he is not without hope that these will be found few and trivial.

It is intended to make THE CANADIAN MEN AND WOMEN OF THE TIME a permanent institution in the land, a new edition, thoroughly revised, appearing every three years. Suggestions for new names, corrections and additional information are respectfully invited.

The Editor feels himself under a great weight of obligation to many gentlemen throughout the country for valuable assistance rendered him in his present task. To one and all he here tenders the expression of his most grateful acknowledgments.

CANADIAN MEN AND WOMEN OF THE TIME.

ABERDEEN, His Excellency the Right Honourable Sir JOHN CAMPBELL HAMILTON GORDON, Earl of, Viscount Formartine, Baron Haddo, Methlick, Tarves and Kellie, in the Peerage of Scot., and Viscount Gordon of Aberdeen in that of the United Kingdom, and a Baronet of Nova Scotia, was b. in Edinburgh, Scot., Aug. 3, 1847. He received his education at St. Andrew's Univ. and at Univ. Coll., Oxford (B. A., 1871; M.A., 1877). While still at coll., he succeeded to the peerage, by the death of his elder bro., the sixth Earl, who was lost at sea, Jan. 27, 1870. His Excellency is the Hon. Col. of the Aberdeenshire Artillery Volunteers; a Brigadier-Genl. of the Royal Co. of Scottish Archers; Presdt of the Self-Help Emigration Soc.; Hon. Presdt. of the Boys' Brigade in Gt. Brit., and also in Can. He is a Fellow of the Royal Soc. of Antiquaries, and an LL.D. of the Univs. of Aberdeen and St. Andrew's; he has also received the hon. degree of LL.D. from Queen's, McGill, Toronto and Ottawa Univs., and that of D.C.L. from the Univ. of Bishop's Coll., Lennoxville. In 1885 Lord Aberdeen received the freedom of the city of Edinburgh, and also that of the city of Aberdeen. In 1895 he was created a Knight Grand Cross of the Most Distinguished Order of St. Michael and St. George. In the same year he was made a Chief of the Blackfeet Indians; and in 1896 he was adopted into the Seneca Tribe of Six Nation Indians, and made a Chief of the same. The Earl of A. entered the Ho. of Lords in 1872 as a Con., but in the session of 1876 he disagreed with some of the principal measures of his party, and when, two yrs. later, the Earls of Derby and Carnarvon resigned their offices, Lord A. heartily supported them in the step they had taken. In 1880 he was apptd. Lord-Lieut. of Aberdeenshire. In the following year he was called to the dignity of Lord High Commr. to the Genl. Assembly of the Ch. of Scot., an office to which he was reapptd. five yrs. in succession. In 1875 he was a mem., and subsequently he became Chairman of the Royal Comn. apptd. to inquire into the subject of Railway Accidents. During 1877-78 he served on the Comte. of the Ho. of Lords on Intemperance, and on several other Special Committees of the Ho. He was Chairman of the Royal Comn. on Loss of Life at Sea in 1885. His Lordship "had now become known," says one of his biographers, "as a mem. of the Lib. party, and as one frequently taking part in the debates in the Ho. of Lords. In 1886 Mr. Gladstone apptd. him Viceroy of Irel., and as such he won well-deserved popularity. When leaving Dublin, on the completion of his term of office, the manifestations of regret over his departure were most marked. Nothing like the demonstration then made by the people had been seen there since the leave-taking of Earl Fitzwilliam in 1795." In 1887 Lord A., accompanied by Lady Aberdeen, made a tour, in the course of which he visited India, Ceylon, Australia, New Zealand, and the U. S. Later, in 1890, he took up his residence in Can. for a few months, and again returned to this country in 1891. On these occasions he made himself acquainted with the wonderful natural resources of B. C., and as one result of his observations invested largely in lands in that Province. On one portion of his new estate in the Okanagan Dist. he has since maintained a ranche for stock-breeding purposes ; on another a thriving and extensive fruit-farm, together with a forty-acre hop-yard. His appt. as Gov.-Genl. of Can. took place in 1893. His Excellency arrived at Quebec by the Allan steamer Sardinian, on Sunday, Sept. 17, and was given a hearty welcome by all classes of the population. On the following day he was sworn into office by Sir Henry Strong, Chief Justice of Can. Since then he has traversed the entire Dom. in his official capacity. While of course making Ottawa their headquarters and principal place of abode, Lord and Lady A. have since their arrival in Can. contrived to reside for a portion of each year in one of the several provinces of the Dom., and in this way to come into personal contact with the people and their interests in the various portions of the country, a unifying influence with reference to the Dom. as a whole being thus promoted. The most noteworthy incident of Lord A.'s Vice-Royalty thus far occurred in June, 1896, when, in consequence of their defeat at the polls, the Con. Admn. at Ottawa, led by Sir Charles Tupper, resigned. The duty of forming a new Govt. for the Dom. was entrusted to the Hon. (now Sir) Wilfrid Laurier, theretofore leader of the Lib. Opposition in the Ho. of Commons, who acquitted himself of the task to the entire satisfaction of the Gov.-Genl. As one result of the change of administration, Can. has committed herself to a fiscal policy, which for the first time embraces preferential trade arrangements with the Mother Country. Early in 1897, as the result of a public appeal made by Lord A. as Gov.-Genl., the sum of about $200,000 was subscribed by the people of Can. in aid of Her Majesty's famine-stricken subjects in India. The Earl of A. m. Nov. 7, 1877, the Hon. Ishbel Maria Marjoribanks, younger dau. of the first Lord Tweedmouth. This lady, who has been well described as "a noble woman, possessing rare executive ability, great capacity for work, and the broadest sympathies," was, before coming to Can., the Presdt. of several Women's Assns. in Gt. Brit., including the Scottish Mothers' Union, the Women's Local Govt. Soc., and the Women's Liberal Federation of Eng. and of Scot., a position which Her Excellency resigned on coming to Can., owing to the strictly non-political character of the Gov.-Genl.'s functions. While at Dublin Castle in 1886, Lady A. organized the Irish Industries Assn., its object being to develop home industries among the poorer people. In order to strengthen the work of the Assn., it was decided to have a display of Irish industries at the World's Fair, Chicago, and this display was carried out under Lady A.'s supervision, Her Ladyship crossing the ocean for that purpose. On leaving Irel. on that occasion, she received the thanks of the Queenstown Municipal Bd., and of numerous other public bodies in Irel., irrespective of political parties and religious creeds (including a representative meeting of citizens of Dublin, convened by the Lord Mayor), for her own and her husband's endeavours to promote cottage industries among the poorer classes. She also received the freedom of the city of Limerick. At an earlier period she founded the Onward and Upward

Assn., a league possessing many thousand members and associates drawn from all classes of Scottish women, the object being a more sisterly interest in one another among women in every station of life, and especially among mistresses and their female servants. In Can. Lady A. has likewise brought herself closely in touch with the people, and in a variety of ways has materially assisted her husband in his work of national unification and development. Chief among her many beneficent undertakings is the National Council of Women of Can., of which she is the first Presdt. This body, whose object is to promote greater unity of thought, sympathy and purpose among the women of Can., by binding all Women's Assns. together in a federation pledged to "further the application of the Golden Rule to society, custom and law," held its first meeting in Ottawa in May, 1894, and promises to become a permanent institution in the land. At the meeting held in Toronto, 1895, the Council recorded "its grateful appreciation of the zeal, the unfailing tact, the administrative ability, and devotion to the cause of humanity by which Her Excellency the Countess of Aberdeen has endeared herself to the hearts of the women of the Dominion." Another organization in which Lord and Lady A. take the deepest interest, and which was founded by Her Excellency, is the Aberdeen Assn., for sending out literature to settlers in the isolated districts of Can., who are unable to procure reading for themselves. In commemoration of the Queen's Diamond Jubilee, Lady A. now desires to found another institution, the "Victorian Order of Nurses," in sympathy with the movement in Gt. Brit. for establishing the Queen's Jubilee Nurses under the special patronage of Her Majesty. To carry out this scheme, which will place efficiently trained, skilful, certified nurses within the reach of all classes of the population, it is stated that a fund estimated at one million dollars will be required. The scheme has been warmly endorsed at public meetings held in all the principal cities of the Dom., and will undoubtedly become an accomplished fact in due course of time. Not the least of Her Excellency's gifts are those which have made her so widely known as a writer and speaker. She is the author of "Through Canada with a Kodak," a series of descriptive sketches of Can. Among her public addresses, "The Present Irish Literary Revival," and that on "The University and its Effect on the Woman," the latter delivered at the Eighteenth Quarterly Convocation of the Univ. of Chicago, Apl., 1897, are the most recent. In acknowledgment of her public services, Her Excellency in 1897 received from Queen's Univ., Kingston, the honorary degree of LL.D. In the U. S. she has been elected Hon. Presdt. of the Intern. Women's Health Protective League; and she is also Presdt. of the Intern. Council of Women. Lady Marjorie Adeline Gordon, only surviving dau. of the Earl and Countess of A., has displayed uncommon literary ability in the columns of Wee Willie Winkie, a periodical for the young, of which she has been the editress.—Government House, Ottawa; Haddo House, Aberdeenshire, Scot.; Tarland, Aboyne, Aberdeenshire; Brooks's Club, London, Eng.

"Lord Aberdeen has succeeded in unusual measure in winning the respect and esteem of all classes. At every public appearance he has shown natural tact and sense which have called forth the unstinted praise of all who have heard him."—Globe.

"Everywhere throughout the Dom. he has been loyally received as the representative of Her Majesty, and everywhere he has won favour by the urbane manner in which he displays his deep interest in all that pertains to Canada."—Mail and Empire.

"Rideau Hall has seen fair mistresses who have filled well their high office in social obligations and gracious courtesies, but none have come so closely in touch with the people as Her Excellency has done. By travel through our broad-stretching land, by sojourn in its cities, by gathering its women together and taking counsel concerning their needs, by cordial recognition of all who are working for national progress, by the little personal word of encouragement to the struggler or the troubled, by the kindly act that tells of the kindlier thought, by all that tact can suggest and quick sympathy offer — the Countess of Aberdeen has reached to the very heart of Canadian womanhood, and stands to-day one with us in our needs, our strivings and our fulfilments."—Faith Fenton, in Home Journal.

ABBOTT, Harry Braithwaite, C.E., is the s. of the late Rev. Joseph Abbott, first Ang. incumbent of St. Andrews, Argenteuil, P.Q., by his wife Harriet Elizabeth, dau. of the Rev. Richard Bradford, first rector of Chatham, P. Q. B. at Abbotsford, P.Q., June 14, 1829, he was ed. at the High Sch., Montreal, and at McGill Univ., and commenced his professional career on the engineering staff of the St. Lawrence and Atlantic (now the G. T.) Ry. On the completion of the line he was apptd. resident engr. of one of the divisions. This position he resigned, 1857, to take a contract with the late C. Freer, on the G. T. Ry., Later, he and Mr. F. leased the Rivière du Loup section of the G.T., which they opened up, and operated with success for a year. They also operated the Carillon and Grenville Ry. until its purchase by the Ottawa River Navig. Co. In 1864 Mr. A. assumed the control and filled the position of Chief Engr. of the Brockville and Ottawa Ry., and in 1872 he built the Carleton Place and Ottawa branch of the Can. Central Ry. He was for some time Presdt. and Managing Dir. of the former road, and Managing Dir. of the latter. In 1876 he organized the Eastern Extension Ry. Co., and was apptd. Chief Engr. and Mangr. of Construction of the same. His connection with the Can. Pac. Ry. dates from 1882, in which year he became Mangr. of Construction of the Sault Ste. Marie branch. After completing this work he was chosen Mangr. of Construction of the main line west from Sudbury. When finished, May, 1885, he built an additional 75 miles of track. He was still in charge of this div. at the outbreak of the Rebellion in the N. W. T., and all the arrangements for the prompt conveyance of the troops sent from the East for the suppression of the Rebellion were made and carried out by him. After having served as Supervising Engr., Mr. A. was apptd., in 1886, Genl. Supt. of the Can. Pacific Ry. in B. C. From this position he retired, Mch., 1897, at the same time declining appt. as adviser to the Bd. of Management in Montreal. He was admitted a mem. of the Soc. of C. E., 1887, and has been a mem. of the Council of that body. During the "Trent" affair, he assisted in raising the 11th Batt. V.M., Argenteuil Rangers, and served under the command of his bro., the late Sir J. J. C. Abbott, for a considerable period, finally retiring with the rank of Major. Mr. A. unsuccessfully contested Brockville in the Con. interest at the Dom. g. e. 1872, and East Algoma, for the Legislature, 1886. He is a mem. of the Ch. of Eng. He m. Margt. Amelia, dau. of the late Mr. Justice Sicotte, and widow of C. Freer, C.E. —Vancouver, B.C.; Vancouver Club.

ABBOTT, Henry, Q.C., is the 3rd s. of the late Hon. Sir J. J. C. Abbott, K.C.M.G., who succeeded Sir John A. Macdonald as Prime Minister of Can., by his wife Mary, dau. of the late Very Rev. J. Bethune, D.D , Dean of Montreal. B. in Montreal, Oct. 5, 1857, he was ed. at the High Sch. in his native city, at Bishop's Coll. Sch., Lennoxville, and at Trinity Coll. Sch., Port Hope. He graduated B.C.L., at McGill Univ., 1878; was called to the bar, Jan., 1879, and entered into partnership with his father, who was considered the ablest commercial lawyer in Can. Mr. A. was created a Q.C. by the Marquis of Lansdowne, 1887, and was named Prof. of Commercial Law in McGill Univ. (a chair formerly occupied by his father), 1890. He holds a high position at the bar, his specialty being banking, railway and corporation law, and has frequently appeared before the Privy Council in Eng. At present, and for some yrs. he has been a mem. of the firm of Abbotts, Campbell & Meredith. He is the author of a "Treatise on the Railway Law of Can." (Mont., 1896). As a young man he served in the V. M., being for some yrs. an officer in the Victoria Rifles, Montreal. He declined an appt. to the Bench, 1895. In 1897 he was elected Rear Commodore of the Royal St. Lawrence Yacht Club. In religious faith he is a mem. of the Ch. of Eng.; politically, he is a Con., and he unsuccessfully ran in that interest for Argenteuil at the Dom. g. e. 1896 (Vote — Christie, 1,125; Abbott, 1,050). He m. 1st, May, 1882, Miss Jane Ratcliffe Liddell (she d. 1883), and 2nd, 1897, Bertha Pillans, 3rd dau. of the late P. S. Stevenson, Montreal.—35 Tupper St., Montreal; St. James's Club, do.

ADAM, Graeme Mercer, author and editor, was b. 1839, at Loanhead, Midlothian, Scot., and ed. at Edin. His father, who d. 1841, was factor on the estates of Graeme Mercer, of Mavisbank and Gorthy, after whom he was named. His mother was one of the Wisharts of Montrose, and is a lineal descendant of Geo. Wishart, the Scottish martyr. Mr. A. may almost be said to have been cradled among books, for from early youth he was engaged in the commerce of literature, and at the age of 19 was at the head of the retail branch of one of the oldest Scottish publishing houses. Through the interest of Wm. Blackwood & Sons, the well-known Edinburgh publishers, young A. was in 1858 led to accept the management of the book-house of Mr. (now Rev. Dr.) Cunningham Geikie, who has since achieved distinction as a religious writer in Eng., and in that year came to Toronto to enter upon his engagement. Two yrs. afterwards he succeeded to Mr. Geikie's business, in connection with a gentleman then engaged in educational work, with whom he formed a partnership under the firm name of Rollo & Adam. This partnership was dissolved, 1866, and in the following year, a new one was formed under the style of Adam, Stevenson & Co., which for 10 yrs. was favourably known to the native reading public, and especially to the book-selling community of the Dom., whose trade the operations of the firm did much to elevate and develop. During this period Mr. A. threw himself actively into the work of a publisher and wholesale bookseller and importer—the many publications with the imprimatur of the house attesting the spirit and enterprise which characterized the work of the firm and the impetus given to the higher reading tastes of the people. In 1876 Mr. A., in alliance with the late John Lovell, the Montreal publisher, opened a publishing house in N. Y., as an outlet for the literature manufactured by mems. of Mr. Lovell's family at Rouse's Point, N.Y.; but as the experiment was not maintained he returned to Toronto in the spring of 1878. Mr. A.'s brief career as a N.Y. publisher was not, however, barren of results, for during the year in which his firm did business in that city, over 60 works were issued bearing the imprint of the house. The N.Y. enterprise, moreover, gave life to a house founded by one of Mr. A.'s partners, in continuation of the firm's projects, which subsequently developed into the mammoth publishing concern known as the U. S. Book Co. With Mr. A.'s return to Toronto ends his career as a publisher. At this date his literary life may be said professionally to have begun, though as far back as 1861, when publishing the British Am. Mag., we find that he contributed reviews of books to that periodical. From 1869 to 1872 he edited and, indeed, wrote almost the whole of each number of a trade quarterly, the Canada Bookseller, issued by his firm as an organ of the book and publishing houses of Can. In 1872, with the co-operation of Prof. Goldwin Smith and other friends of Can. literature, he founded the Canadian Monthly, and his connection with that national mag.

was closely maintained up to the period of his leaving for N.Y. In the spring of 1879 Mr. A. resumed his connection with the publication, and became its sole ed., a position he retained until its decease, 1883. In 1879, also, Mr. A. launched the first number of the Can. Educational Monthly, which, under his editorship, lasting for over 5 yrs., won for itself a high place in the periodical literature of Can., and was, at the time, ranked as one of the ablest professional mags. of the continent. Mr. A. was also for several yrs. office-ed. and business manager of The Bystander, and in connection with this duty acted as secy. and literary assist. to Goldwin Smith. He was also of the staff of writers on the Week, when the latter gentleman had relations with it; was likewise a contributor to the Toronto Nation, the Globe, the Mail, and other journals of the Ont. capital; and had much to do with almost all the literary undertakings which originated in Toronto between the years 1872 and 1892. Besides these various employments of his pen, Mr. A. found leisure for authorship, and the undertaking of literary work for native as well as for Eng. and Am. publishing houses, in contributing articles, revising manuscripts, and putting works through the press. His interest in literature has ever been an active one, and many native literary ventures owe something to the aid of his friendly pen. Mr. A.'s services to education in Can. have not been confined to journalistic and mag. work. In 1883 he edited a series of school reading books, in 5 volumes, known as the "Royal Canadian Readers"; two yrs. later he also edited for Univ. use, a scholarly edition of Macaulay's "Essay on Warren Hastings," and in conjunction with J. W. Connor, B.A., he published the "Canadian High School Word Book," a manual of orthoepy, synonymy and derivation. Another text-book which at this period came chiefly from his pen, in association with W. J. Robertson, M.A., was his "School History of England and Canada," an historical precis for schs. which has had a sale of nearly 250,000 copies. The work was authorized for use in all the schs. of Ont. as well as in many of the educational institutions of other provinces. In 1885 he published "The Canadian North-West: its History and its Troubles," a résumé of the annals of Man. and the Territories from the early fur-trade period, with the narrative of the half-breed émeute in the Selkirk Settlement, and the two Riel rebellions. In 1886, in conjunction with Miss A. E. Wetherald, he wrote an historical romance entitled "An Algonquin Maiden," which passed through three separate editions. Of other works which came from Mr. A.'s pen at this period, the chief is an "Outline History of Canadian Literature," published as an addendum to Dr. Withrow's Can. History. This was followed by a volume summarizing the work in Equatorial Africa of Hy. M. Stanley, by a series of books of a topographical and descriptive character on Can., the more notable of which is an interesting volume, attractively embellished, entitled "Illustrated Quebec," a companion volume to "Illustrated Toronto," also from Mr. A.'s pen. These were again followed by "Canada from Sea to Sea," a tourist's hand-book from Halifax to Vancouver, and by a similar though more local work entitled "Picturesque Muskoka." In 1884 Mr. A. was a contributor to "Picturesque Canada," edited by Principal Grant, and recently he has supervised a reissue of this work for an Am. publisher. In 1891 appeared an elaborate pictorial quarto volume, issued for the Toronto Mail Printing Co., on "Toronto Old and New," a work designed as a memorial of the 100th Anniversary of the founding of U. C. and its capital. In the same year was published Mr. A.'s revision of the late Edmund Collins's "Life of Sir John A. Macdonald," brought down to the lamented Can. statesman's death, with an introduction, and the narrative of Sir John's later career. The editing of a "Hand-Book on Commercial Union," preceded by an introduction by Goldwin Smith; and the issue of a volume, in conjunction with Principal Dickson, M.A., embodying the "History of Upper Canada College," completes Mr. A.'s literary work up to the period of his second removal to N.Y. The occasion was taken advantage of by Can. literary men and publishers to present Mr. A. with an address and purse, in recognition of his long and important services to Can. letters, and of regret at his departure from the country. For the next 4 yrs. Mr. A. was a resident of N.Y., and identified with its publishing and literary interests. His chief connection there was with the U. S. Book Co., as reader and literary adviser for the house, as well as reader for a number of other publishing firms, native and foreign. His intimate knowledge of the book world, both Am. and Eng., brought him not only into relations with the chief publishers, but opened up fields for his pen, in compilations, cyclopædias, reference books, etc., as well as in magazines and critical journals as reviewer, memoir writer, and general contributor. His familiarity with Can. affairs was also of value to him in utilizing his pen on Can. articles, in such enterprises as Johnson's "Universal Cyclopædia," in the Americanized "Encyclopædia Britannica," in the Am. issue of "Picturesque Canada," in the English "Men of the Time," and in review work for the N.Y. Nation and other critical and literary journals. Besides this varied labour Mr. A. was able to do considerable work as an author. His most successful books in the U. S. have been a work on Athletics, being an exposition of the strong man "Sandow's System of Physical Training," with a narrative of his career; an illustrated work of a descriptive and pictorial character, entitled "Scenic America, from Alaska to the Gulf of Mexico"; an edition of Justin McCarthy's "History of Our Own Times," with an introduction and supplementary chapters dealing with the later annals of Eng., from 1880 to 1894, and a work entitled "The Standard Young People's History of the United States," by Edward S. Ellis, M.A., with introduction, illustrative notes, and lists of authorities, from Mr. A.'s pen, as genl. ed. Other forthcoming works projected by Mr. A. are a "Cyclopædia of British and American Authors," and an "Encyclopædia of Canadian Affairs." Some outline sketches, as material for the former of these, have just appeared in the section, "Literature and Belles-Lettres," in the "List of Books for Women and their Clubs," issued by George Iles for the Am. Library Assn. In May, 1896, Mr. A. removed to Chicago to become ed. of Self-Culture, a new mag. He is also Secy. of the Home Univ. League established there. Mr. A. m. 1863, Jane Beazley, 2nd dau. of the late John Gibson, for many yrs. ed. of the Literary Garland (she d. 1884), and 2nd, 1891, Frances Isabel, 4th dau. of the late Fredk. Brown, of Rochdale. Mr. A. served Can. in the militia for 12 yrs., and is a graduate and 1st class cert. holder of the M. S. of Toronto. He was for many yrs. a Capt in the Queen's Own Rifles, Toronto, and commanded a co. of that corps at the fight at Ridgeway, 1866. After the engagement the co. presented him with an address and sword. In religion he is a mem. of the Ch. of Eng.; in politics he is an Ind., a free-trader, and a Can. nationalist.—Chicago, Ill.

AIKINS, Hon. James Cox, statesman, is the eld. s. of the late Jas. Aikins, a native of Co. Monaghan, Irel., who came to Am., 1816, and after 4 yrs' residence in Philadelphia, removed to U.C., now Ont. B. in the tp. of Toronto, Co. Peel, Ont., Meh. 30, 1823, he was ed. at the local schs. and at Victoria Coll., Cobourg (LL.D., 1892). After leaving Coll. he secured land in the neighbourhood of the paternal homestead and became a farmer. In 1851 he was offered the Reform nomination in connection with the representation of his native Co in the Legislature, but declined. He accepted it, however, at the g. e. 1854, and was elected. His first vote was recorded against the Hincks-Morin Administration, thereby helping to secure its downfall. He voted for the secularization of the clergy reserves, and his voice was frequently heard in support of measures providing for public improvements. He sat in the Assembly until 1861, when he was defeated by the late Hon. J. H. Cameron, the leader of the bar in U.C. In the following year, he was elected to the Leg. Council, for the "Home" div., comprising the Cos. of Peel and Halton. He continued to sit in that Chamber until the accomplishment of Confederation, a measure which had his support, when he was called to the Senate, with others, by Royal proclamation. Mr. A. entered Sir John Macdonald's Administration as Secy. of State and Regr.-Genl. of Can., Dec. 9, 1869 (succeeding the Hon. Wm. Macdougall in the Cabinet), and continued in these offices until the resignation of the Govt., Nov. 5, 1873. As a minister he framed and carried through Parlt. the Public Lands Act of 1872, and to him was entrusted after the acquisition of the N.W.T. by Can., the organization of the Dom. Lands Bureau, now the Dept. of the Interior. On the return of the Con. party to power, Oct , 1878, Mr. A. was again apptd. Secy. of State. This office he exchanged for that of Mr. of Inland Revenue, May 8, 1880. He resigned from the Cabinet, May 23, 1882, and, in Dec. of the same year, was sworn in as Lieut.-Gov. of the Province of Man. and of the Dist. of Keewatin. On the expiration of his term of service as such he returned to Toronto, and in Jan., 1896, was a second time called to the Senate. Mr. A. has had to do with many important financial, commercial and industrial undertakings. At present he is a dir. of the Freehold Loan and Savings Co., a dir. of the Ont. Bank, and of the Loan and Deposit Co., Presdt. of the Man. and N. W. Loan Co., and Presdt. of the Trusts Corporation of Ont. A Meth. in religion, he is also Genl. Treas. of the Meth. ALEXANDER, Charles, merchant and philanthropist, was b. in Dundee, Scot., June 13, 1816. Ed. there, he came to Can., 1840, and during the major part of his subsequent career has lived in Montreal, where he has been actively and successfully engaged in business on his own account. He sat for many yrs. in the Montreal City Council, and in 1874 was elected to represent Montreal Centre in the Legislature, filling the vacancy caused therein by the retirement of the late Hon. L. H. Holton. At the ensuing g. e. he was defeated by A. W. Ogilvie, now a Senator. Mr. A. has displayed throughout the warmest interest in local charitable and philanthropic works, and is regarded as one of the leaders in all movements of the kind originating among the Protestants of Montreal. He was one of the founders and first Presdt., of the Inst. for Prot. Deaf Mutes and the Blind; one of the founders, and is still Presdt., of the Prot. House of Industry and Refuge; one of the founders, and is still Presdt., of the Can. Soc. for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals; one of the founders, and is now V.-P., of the Prot. ALEXANDER, William John, educationist, was b. in Hamilton, Ont., 1855. Ed. in the Hamilton Coll. Inst., he matriculated at the Univ. of Toronto, 1873, where he took a double scholarship. Having gained the Gilchrist Scholarship, he studied at London Univ., from 1874 to 1877, and graduated from that institution with 1st class honors in Eng. Returning to Can. he was apptd. to the staff of Prince of Wales Coll., Charlottetown, but determining to thoroughly qualify himself in Eng., as well as in the classics, modern languages and philology, he entered the Johns-Hopkins Univ., Baltimore, and took a post-graduate course of four yrs. In 1881 he won a Fellowship in Greek, which he held for two years, finally graduating, 1883, as Ph. D. A year at the Univ. of Berlin followed, and in 1884 he was selected to fill the chair of Eng. Language and Literature at Dalhousie Coll., Halifax. The wide reputation which he obtained as a teacher and scholar brought him under the notice of the Ont. educational authorities, and led to his appt., Feb., 1889, to the Professorship of Eng. in Univ. Coll., Toronto, a position he still fills. He is also a mem. of the Educational Council for Ont. Besides two text-books on Eng. poetical literature and composition, Prof. A. has published "An Introduction to the Poetry of Robert Browning" (Boston, 1888). He m. ALLAN, Alexander Macdonald, fruit grower, exporter, and experimenter in fruits, is the s. of the late Rev. Danl. Allan (Presb.), and was b. on his father's farm, "Brier Bank," North Easthope, near Stratford, Ont., July 11, 1844. Ed. primarily at the local public sch., and at Stratford High Sch., he afterwards went to Toronto for a few years under private tuition. He had, however, acquired such a taste for rural pursuits that further study became irksome to him. He therefore returned to the farm, which he managed for some yrs. Early in life he had also imbibed a strong taste for horticulture, and as a boy was given full charge of the home orchard and garden, then considered one of the best in that part of the Province. In pursuit of his inclination Mr. A. spent several yrs., after leaving the farm, travelling in the U. S., and on returning to Ont., gave the result of his acquired knowledge and observation in numerous contributions to the periodical and newspaper press, his letters and articles, under various noms-de-plume, appearing in the Canada Farmer, the Farmer's Advocate, the Weekly Globe, the Horticulturist, and the Country Gentleman. About this time he became ed. and prop. of the Huron Signal, and in this journal gave special prominence to the subjects uppermost in his mind. He was an early dir. of the Ont. Fruit Growers Assn., and its Presdt. for some yrs. Gradually becoming recognized as the leading expert in the judging, not only of Can., but of Am. and European fruits, his services have been sought for by the authorities at all the leading fairs and exhibitions upon this Continent, where he usually acts alone in the performance of his duties. In 1886 he was apptd. a Commr. on Fruits on behalf of Can., at the Ind. and Col. Exhn , London, Eng. On this occasion he spent nearly 6 months in the world's metropolis, and conducted the most successful fruit exhibitions which have ever been held there. It is believed that these displays have done more to advertise Can. favourably in Europe than probably any other agency. While in Brit. he examined all fruits grown there, and selected for propagation those he considered worthy. Besides conducting the exhibitions at London, and the International at Edinburgh, held in that year, he handled over 100,000 barrels of apples in Brit. and continental markets for Can. shippers. He was one of the first, and the largest shipper of apples to the Brit. markets, and made practical tests of other fruits as well, from time to time. His tests were not confined to Brit. alone, but successful shipments were made to Norway and Sweden, Germany and India. He established brands of apples in the Brit markets, and some 5 yrs. ago when he organized the Imperial Produce Co. of Toronto, his brands were handed over to that Co., which is now one of the largest exporters of Can. products. Mr. A. organized this Co. for the purpose of bringing producers and consumers closer together, and the Co. has built up a magnificent trade in this way, by taking the goods direct from the producer in Can., and placing them in the hands of the Brit. retailer. It took some years to perfect the scheme, but it is now so well established that it cannot be broken up, although naturally it did receive strong opposition from speculators. Mr. A. is one of the staff of lecturers employed by the Govt. to address Farmers' Institutes, his subject having special reference to horticulture or such others as local institutes may desire to be made acquainted with. In pursuit of the principles of his profession he served some yrs. in the nursery business in connection with the old Toronto Nurseries. Outside of his own particular line he has never pushed for advancement, so far as office is concerned. He has never entered the political or municipal field, although frequently requested to do so. When in Toronto pursuing his studies, he entered the M. S. under Col. (now Genl.) Lowry, H. M.'s 47th Regt., and took a 1st class certificate, but he has never connected himself with any volunteer corps. Some yrs. ago he made a thorough tour of the N. W. T. and B. C., spending the whole of one summer and more there, for the purpose of acquainting himself with the capabilities of that country as a future field for fruit-growing and forestry. While in B. C. upon this occasion he was instrumental in forming the Provl. Fruit Growers' Assn., which is now doing an important work for growers in that Province. Mr. A. m. Coll., Philadelphia, 1875, he has since practised his profession at Amherst, N.S., of which town he was elected Mayor, 1893. He is a coroner for Cumberland and Westmoreland. He has been Chairman of the local Bd. of Health, and has served as a Capt. in the 93rd Batt. V. M. Dr. A. has written and spoken not infrequently on public and professional topics. A Lib. in politics, he was one of the delegates to the Ottawa Reform Convention, 1893. He believes in the continuance of Brit. connection, with the fullest measure of self-govt., and with liberty and power to make our own commercial treaties.—Amherst, N.S.

ALLAN, Hon. George William, statesman, is the s. of the late Hon. Wm. Allan, a well-known public man in U. C., by Leah Tyrer, his wife, 4th dau. of Dr. John Gamble, surgeon of the "Queen's Rangers," and a U. E. Loyalist. B. in York, now Toronto, Jan. 9, 1822, he was ed. at the U. C. Coll., and was called to the bar, 1846. While at Coll. he joined the volunteers, and served with the Bank rifle corps during the rebellion of 1837. Subsequently, before commencing the practice of his profession, he made not only the grand tour of Europe, but went out of what were then the beaten tracks of travel, undertaking the voyage of the Nile as far as the Nubian country. He also journeyed through Syria, the Holy Land and other parts of Asia Minor. Returning to Can., he entered public life, becoming an alderman in Toronto, a municipal beginning which culminated in his attaining the mayor's chair of his native town in 1855. Before this latter event, however, he had made a second journey to the other hemisphere, and in 1858 he was elected to represent York in the old Leg. Council, which position he held until Confederation. In 1867 he was called to the Senate by Royal proclamation. In the deliberations of that body he has always taken a prominent part. For many yrs. back he has held the chairmanship of the Committee on Banking and Commerce. He has ever manifested an interest in the mental and moral advance of his fellow-countrymen. He has held the office of Chancellor of Trinity Coll. for many yrs., he has been closely identified with the growth of the Ont. Soc. of Artists, and has striven in many ways to foster in his fellow-citizens a love for what is of worth, of beauty or of true nobility. His gift to the city of Toronto of the ground upon which the Canadian Inst. is now built, and also of the greater portion of what is now known as the Horticultural Gardens in that city, are acts which best show his large and generous public spirit. Mr. A. was apptd. Speaker of the Senate, Mch. 17, 1888, and continued to hold that office up to the close of the Parlt., 1891. In May of the latter year he was called to the Queen's Privy Council of Can. He received the degree of D.C.L. from Trinity Univ., 1877. He is a fellow of the Royal Geol. Soc., and of the Zoological Soc., Eng. Among various public positions to which he has been elected or apptd. are the following: Trustee of the Ho. of Industry: V.-P. of the Boys' Brigade; V.-P. of the North Am. Life Assur. Co.; Presdt. ALLEN, Grant, author and naturalist, is the s. of Joseph Antisell

Allen (q.v.), and was b. at Alwington House, Kingston, Ont., Feb. 24, 1848. His early education was personally directed by his father, but before going to Oxford, he attended King William Sch., Edgbaston, near Birmingham. After graduating from Merton Coll., where he carried off the highest honours that Coll. could bestow, he accepted the principalship of a Coll. newly established at Spanish Town, Jamaica, where he had the opportunity of observing the wonderful vegetation of the tropics, and also the peculiar features of West Indian life, both of which he has since turned to good account. His popular novel, "In all Shades," is one of the fruits of his tropical experiences. He now began to contribute frequently to the magazines, and also to publish works on his own account, and soon established a reputation as one of the most popular of scientific authors. He is considered one of the best writers of the evolutionary sch., and has ably contributed to the exposition of the Darwinian theory. Among his numerous works the most noticeable are: "Physiological Æsthetics" (1877); "The Colour Sense" (1879); "The Evolutionist at Large" (1881); "Anglo-Saxon Britain" (do); "Vignettes from Nature" (do); "Colours of Flowers" (1882); "Colin Clout's Calendar" (1883); "Flowers and Their Pedigrees" (1884); "Charles Darwin," in Andrew Lang's Series of English Worthies (1885); "Babylon," a novel (1885); and "For Mamie's Sake" (1886). Others more recently published, are: "What's Bred in the Bone"; "The Devil's Die," "This Mortal Coil," "Dr. Palliser's Patient," "Farce and Energy," "Dumaresq's Daughter," "Blood Royal," "The Attis of Catullus," "Science in Arcady," "Post-Prandial Philosophy," "The Scallawag," "The Lower Slopes," and "At Market Value." His latest novel, "The Woman Who Did" (1895), in which he enunciates the doctrine that matrimony should be replaced by a contract terminable at will, in which there is a perfect equality between the contracting parties, has excited much adverse criticism and been condemned from many pulpits in this country. In 1897 he commenced the publication of a series of guide-books, dealing with the art and history of some of the principal towns of Europe. — "The Croft," Hind Head, Hazelmere, Surrey, Eng.; Saville Club, London, Eng.

ALLEN, Joseph Antisell, author, is the s. of the late Hy. Francis Allen, S.T.C.D., a mem. of the Irish bar, by his wife Eliza Josephine Antisell. B. at Arbor Hill, Co. Tipperary, Irel., Feb. 27, 1814, he was ed. at private schs. He entered Trinity Coll., Dublin, but instead of finishing his course, went to London where he lived 5 yrs., and did much literary work, especially for the Baxter Publishing House, for whom he brought out a Concordance to the New Testament. Declining an appt. in Tinnevelly Coll., India, he came to Can., 1842, and was ordained by the late Bp. Mountain, of Quebec. His first charge was at Huntingdon, and his next at Christieville, P. Q. In Sept., 1843, he m. Charlotte, only dau. of Chas. Wm. Grant, 4th Baron de Longueuil (she d. Apl., 1894), and removed to U. C., living for some yrs. at Ardath, Wolfe Island. There he took charge, without remuneration, of Trinity Ch. (built by the Baroness de Longueuil), but gave up ch. work, 1861, taking his family to New Haven, Conn. Subsequently he returned to Can. In addition to the work already mentioned, Mr. A. has published "Day Dreams by a Butterfly," a poem (1854); "The Lambda-nu-Tercentenary Poem on Shakspeare" (1864); "Orangeism, Catholicism, and Sir Francis Hincks" (1877); "The True and Romantic Love Story of Col. and Mrs. Hatchinson," a drama in verse (1884); "A Reply to a Speech of the Hon. Edward Blake, against the Orange Incorporation Bill" (do); "Dr. Ryerson: a Review and a Study" (do); "The Church of the Pope and Primitive Christianity" (1891). He has frequently lectured in different places. He enjoys the friendship of many eminent men, including Herbert Spencer and A. R. Wallace. "Alwington," Kingston, Ont.

In 1862 he retired from the navy, and after preparatory study, was apptd. 1864, to the North Atlantic Squadron, under Admiral Sir James Hope, as a Scripture reader. He was ordained deacon by Bp. Binney, 1866. Leaving the navy, he was advanced to the priesthood, May, 1867, and was placed in charge of Terence Bay Mission the same year. In 1872, he visited Eng., where he was employed in deputation work by the Col. and Cont. Ch. Soc. In Apl., 1873, an event took place which brought Mr. A. prominently before the world. The White Star Liner, Atlantic, having been disabled while making for Halifax, was wrecked in Terence Bay, with nearly 800 souls on board. Mr. A., by his bravery, was instrumental in saving a large number. He laboured most assiduously with the sufferers. For his distinguished bravery on this occasion he received the medal of the Royal Humane Soc., with its certificate, a gold watch from the Dom. Govt., and a gold watch and purse of gold from the citizens of Chicago. He was called from Terence Bay to take charge of Trinity Ch., Halifax, the same year. He became rector of Rawdon in 1889, and rector of Londonderry, 1890. Since then he has been called again to Halifax in connection with the Ch. of Eng. Inst., and has been apptd. a canon of Halifax Cath. In its centennial year he received an hon. M. A. degree from King's Coll., Windsor. He is the author of several books. He became ed. of the N. ANDERSON, Rev. Duncan (Presb.), poet, was b. in Rayne, Aberdeenshire, Scot., 1828, and received his education first at the parish sch., Monymusk, then at the old Aberdeen Grammar Sch., and afterwards at King's Coll. and Univ., Aberdeen, (M.A., 1848). At the latter institution he ranked 15th in a class of 150 students as competitors for bursaries. Soon after leaving Coll. he was apptd. rector of the grammar sch. of Banchory Ternan, which he subsequently gave up to become parish schoolmaster of Monymusk. Licensed by the Presb. of Garrioch, 1853, he was ordained to the ministry, 1854, and in the same year, became pastor of St. Andrew's Ch., Lévis, P.Q. There he remained up to July, 1886, when he retired from the active duties of the ministry. He was for many years chaplain to the Imperial troops stationed at Lévis, and for two decades he occupied the position of Presb. Clk. He is known far and wide as an ornithologist of fine attainments, the labour of his hands finding its way even to Kensington Palace and the Castle of Inverary. Mr. A.'s poetic gifts are many, and have found expression through several channels. His best known work in this direction is "Lays of Canada, and other poems" (Mont., 1890). In 1895, he produced a prose work, "Scottish Folklore, or Reminiscences of Aberdeenshire."—"Monymusk," Chaudière Basin P.O., P.Q.

"His writings are true to life, and reach the heart. In particular, his descriptive poems combine a quiet, clear intellectuality, combined with natural refinement of soul and tender sensibility."—Modern Scottish Poets (Brechin, 1893).

ANDERSON, Lt.-Col. William Patrick, Can. public service, is the s. of Thos. Anderson, Crown Timber Agent at Edmonton, N.W.T., by his wife, the late Adelaide Alicia Smythe. B. at Lévis, P. Q., Sept. 4, 1851, he was ed. at Bishop's Coll., Lennoxville. He became a C. E., and was one of the charter mems. of the Soc. of C. E.'s. Entering the Can. public service, May, 1875, he was apptd. Chief Engr. and Genl. Supt. of Light-houses, Dept. of Marine and Fisheries, July 1, 1891. He has been long and intimately connected with the V. M. force, was Lt.-Col. for some years of the 43rd "Ottawa and Carleton" Batt. of Rifles, has served on the Can. Wimbledon and Bisley rifle teams, and is now Presdt. of the Ottawa Brigade Assn., and of the Can. Mil. Rifle League. He established the Can. Militia Gazette, 1885, and edited it for 2 years; was transferred from the retired to the active list of the V.M., as a mark of recognition of his services in promoting and encouraging rifle shooting, Apl., 1895. He is a mem. of the Ch. of Eng. and was elected Presdt. of the Ang. Churchman's Union, Ottawa, Mch., 1895. Col. A. m. Oct., 1875, Dorothea S., eld. dau. of H. B. ANGERS, Hon. Auguste Real, statesman, is the s. of the late François R. Angers, advocate, and was b. in the city of Quebec, Oct. 4, 1838. Ed. at Nicolet Coll., he read law with his father, and was called to the bar 1860. Entering into partnership with the present Chief-Justice, Sir N. Casault and the late Jean Langlois, Q.C., he successfully followed the practice of his profession in Quebec for many yrs., and was created a Q.C., first by the Quebec Govt., 1874; and secondly, by the Marquis of Lorne, Gov.-Genl. of Can., 1880. Entering the Quebec Assembly, Feb., 1874, he sat there up to his defeat, g. e., 1879. He was Sol. and afterwards Atty.-Genl., under Mr. de Boucherville, remaining in the latter office till the dismissal of the Govt. by Lt.-Gov. Letellier de St. Just, Mch., 1878; and was, during 3 yrs. of the time, leader of the Administration in the Assembly. Returned for Montmorency, to the Ho. of Commons, Feb., 1880, he was, in Nov. of the same year, raised to the bench, as a puisne judge of the Sup. Ct., P.Q. This position he resigned, and was apptd. Lt.-Governor of the Province of Quebec, Oct. 28, 1887. On Dec. 16, 1891, after receiving an interim report from two of the Royal Commrs. apptd. to make enquiry into certain matters connected with the Baie des Chaleurs Ry., he dismissed his ministry, led by the late Mr. Mercier, on the ground that they were not in a position to "wisely, disinterestedly, and faithfully" advise the representative of the Crown. He entered the Thompson Administration, Ottawa, as Mr. of Agriculture, Dec. 5, 1892, and continued in office under Sir Mackenzie Bowell. Owing to differences with his colleagues on the Man. Sch. question, he retired from the Cabinet, July 8, 1895. He was called to the Senate Dec. 16, 1892. Resuming his practice at the bar, he established the firm of Angers, De Lorimier and Godin, Montreal. In Sept., 1895, he declined appnt. to the Supreme Ct. Bench, and remained out of office till May, 1896, when he entered the Govt. formed by Sir Charles Tupper, as Presdt. of the Council, being also leader in the Province of Quebec. At the ensuing g. e. in June, Mr. A. was defeated as a candidate in Quebec Centre. He retired from office with his colleagues in July, and has since been out of public life. He received the hon. degree of LL.D. from Laval Univ., 1888, and was apptd. by the Pope, a Knight Grand Cross of the Order of St. Gregory, 1890. "As Mr. of Agriculture," said the Montreal Gazette, Oct. 10, 1894, "Mr. A. carried into his administration of the dept. those qualities which he had before eminently manifested, and which led to his selection for that place. The quarantines when he entered office were a subject of outcry and denunciation to the extent of affecting the reputation of the Govt. They are now in a state of the utmost efficiency, and were declared by our recent visitors —the Health Assn. of the North Am. Continent—a few days ago, to be at the very head, not only of the quarantine appliances of the continent, but of the world. That is a point on which both Mr. A. and the Govt. may fairly be congratulated." As a legislator in Quebec, he placed several important measures on the Statute book, including an electoral Act, which was declared to be superior at the time, to the Dom. Act on the same subject, a Controverted Elections Act, and a law applying the Superannuation Act to the children of Civil servants. He was also mainly instrumental in securing the construction of the North Shore Ry., between the cities of Quebec and Montreal. In private life, Mr. A. is known as a keen sportsman, and delights more especially in yachting. He takes great interest in historical research, and while Lt.-Gov. of his native Province, gave to the Cercle Cath., of Quebec, two silver, and two bronze medals, to be awarded to the authors of the best essays, in French and Eng. respectively, on "Jacques Cartier: His life and works." Mr. A. has been twice m., 1st, to Julia Marguerite, dau. of the late Senator Chinic (she d. Jan., 1879); and 2ndly, Apl., 1890, to Mad. Alphonse Hamel, dau. of the late Alex. Lemoine, of Quebec.—Montreal.

ARMSTRONG, Henry Fry, educationist, is the s. of Adam Armstrong, and was b. at Sunderland, Eng., 1868. After serving an apprenticeship to the teaching profession, he obtained a Queen's scholarship, 1st-class, and entered the National Soc.'s Training Coll. in South Wales, where he remained for two yrs., and was then placed in the first division as a certificated teacher. For the following two and a half yrs. he was second master in a large higher grade sch. in Leeds, and his work, especially in drawing, was most successful. His work in this capacity gained for him the experience parchment from the Education Dept. Mr. A. then spent three years in the National Art Training Sch., South Kensington, qualified as a certificated art master of the Science and Art Dept., and was elected, from a large number of candidates, from different parts of Great Brit., to the privileges entitling him to a maintenance scholarship for a period of four yrs. This he held for only a part of the time allowed. He spent a considerable time in the Art studios in Paris. His career as a teacher of art has included an appt. at the Leeds Sch. of Art as a drawing master and lecturer in Geom. and Perspective; at the National Art Training Sch. as a lecturer in Geometry; also at Prof. Cusack's Coll., in the city of London, as lecturer in Geometry, Perspective, Freehand, and Light and Shade. He was fulfilling the duties of this latter position when called to Montreal, Aug., 1896, to become Asst. Prof. of Descriptive Geometry and Freehand Drawing in McGill Univ. Mr. A. is the author of a text-book on "Solid Geom. and Orthographical Projection," and has invented a box of apparatus for use in the study of this subject. ARNOLD, John Porteous, educationist, was b. in Edinburgh, Scot., where, after leaving sch., he attended the Training Coll. and the Univ. Devoting himself to the science of teaching, he held some important appts. in Scot., and gained the degree of Fellow of the Educational Inst., which is regarded as a very high distinction in his profession. Coming to Can., 1886, he held for some time the vice-rectorship of the High Sch., Quebec. Afterwards, on removing to Montreal, he founded the Roslyn Coll. for Young Ladies, of which he is still Principal. While in Scot. he was tutor to two of the sons of Dr. Livingstone, the African traveller; in Can. he filled the same office for the younger sons of the Earl of Derby, late Gov.-Genl. His institution is carried on under the patronage of H. E. the Countess of Aberdeen, while Sir D. A. Smith has on several occasions been a donor of prizes. Mr. A. lectures occasionally on literary and historical subjects, and contributes to the Scottish Am. While a true Scotsman and full of patriotic feeling, he, at the same, time takes a deep interest in Can. affairs. ARTHUR, Miss Julia, actress, was b. in Hamilton, Ont., May 3, 1869, and is of Irish and Welsh parentage. Her real name is Ida Lewis; her stage name being taken from her mother, who was a Miss Arthur. When only 11 yrs. old, she played in an amateur dramatic club in her native city, taking the part of Gamora in "The Honeymoon," and of Portia in "The Merchant of Venice." Three years afterwards she made her professional debut as the Prince of Wales, in Danl. E. Bandmann's presentation of "Richard III." After playing three consecutive seasons with Bandmann, Miss A. went to Eng. and Germany, where she studied violin music and dramatic art. Her first success in N. Y. was made at the Union Square Theatre, in "The Black Masque." Mr. A. M. Palmer, recognizing her ability and promise of future greatness, made her a mem. of his co.

With him she first took the part of Jeanne in "A Broken Seat"; Letty Fletcher and Lady Windermere, in "Lady Windermere's Fan." But her greatest achievement was in "Mercédes," which Mr. Palmer produced for her in 1893. She terminated her engagement in Am. in Wilson Barrett's drama, "Sister Mary," which she played with great pathos and power. It was at this time that Sir Augustus Harris made her an offer to go to London. She had other offers from the same quarter, none of which, however, she accepted. Sir Hy. Irving was more fortunate, and secured the services of the young Can. by tendering a definite engagement on liberal terms for his London season and for his Am. tour. She made her London debut Feb. 1, 1895, and throughout well sustained the reputation she had brought with her. She played in roles next to Miss Terry, and likewise in some of that famous artist's former parts. Her rendering of Rosamond in the drama "A' Beckett" was pronounced a distinct triumph. In 1896 she accompanied Irving and Terry on their Am. tour. and at the time of writing (July, 1897), it is reported that she is to return to Am. as a "star." Miss A. has written some articles for the press on stage-land, which have attracted attention. She has likewise written some poetical pieces, one of which, "Mother's Precious," has been set to music by Miss Flora Arthur, her sister.—41 Spring St., Hamilton, Ont.

"Temperament such as hers, and beauty and voice like hers, we associate somehow with meridional countries; with Southern France, Spain and Italy. ASCHER, Isidore G., poet, is the eld. s. of the late G. I. Ascher, a Jewish merchant, Montreal. B. in Glasgow, Scot., 1835, he accompanied his parents to Can., and received his ed. at the High Sch. Montreal. He graduated B.C.L. at McGill Univ., and was called to the bar, 1862. His poetical pieces appeared first in the daily press and mags. In 1863 he published, "Voices from the Hearth, and other Poems," which was eulogized by Miss Jean Ingelow, Dr. Hy. Giles and others. Removing to Eng., 1864, he has since published, in addition to poems, "An Old Maid's Confession," "A Cure for a Title," "An Emigrant's Story," and other efforts in fiction. In 1888 a comedietta from his pen, "Circumstances Alter Cases," was produced at the Crystal Palace, London.—London, Eng.

ASHE, Commander Edward Percy, Royal Navy, is the eld. s. of the late Commander E. D. Ashe, R.N., for many years Supdt. of the Quebec Observatory, and was b. in that city. ASHFORD, Hon. Clarence William, barrister, is the s. of Jas. Ashford, formerly of the Tp. of Hope, near Port Hope, Ont., and grands. of Nathaniel Ashford, a U.E. Loyalist, who came from Dutchess Co., N.Y., and was with one Jas. Stevens, who accompanied him, the first settler in the cos. of Northumberland and Durham. The family came originally from Kent, Eng. B. in the Tp. of Hope, he was ed. at the Grammar Sch., Port Hope, thereafter studying law. He graduated B. C. L., at the Univ. of Michigan, 1880, and being called to the bar, practised his profession in Ill. Afterwards he removed to the Hawaiian Islands, where a relative of his mother's, Carter Wilder, who had gone there some years before from the neighbourhood of Port Hope, was Prime Minister. He practised law in the Islands, and became Atty.-Genl. under the late King Kalakaua. His bro. Volney joined him in the practice of the law, and they both enjoyed largely the confidence of the King, and after his death, of the Queen, Liliuokalani. The brothers were both concerned in the unsuccessful attempt to restore the deposed Queen to the throne, 1894, and, in consequence, were taken prisoners. Clarence was liberated and banished from the Islands, Volney was sentenced to a long term of imprisonment, but on account of ill health, was released and banished. Both brothers afterwards practised law in San Francisco, Cal. Clarence m. a dau. of Capt. J. R. Robertson, of Honolulu.—San Francisco, Cal.

ASHFORD, Col. Volney Vaillancourt, bro. of the preceding. B. in the Tp. of Hope, he was ed. at the common and Grammar schs. of Port Hope, and studied law in the same town. At the age of 17 he enlisted in the 21st N. Y. Griswold Light Infantry, and was in active service with the regt. in Va., until the close of the war of Secession, participating in all the battles that took place in the Shenandoah valley during 1864-65, including the battles of Winchester and Cedar Creek. He was commissioned 2nd Lieut., May 11, 1865, and was discharged from the U. S. service at Fort Collins, Col., 1866, when he returned to Can. He was afterwards attached to the Mil. Sch., Toronto, under the 17th and 47th regts. of the line, and the 13th Hussars. He entered the Can. V. M. service as cornet in the 3rd Prince of Wales Can. Dragoons, 1867, became Lieut. and Adjt. 1875, and Capt. of No. 2 troop, 1881. In 1883, he left Can. for the Hawaiian Islands, where he entered into partnership with his bro. Clarence in the practice of the law. He was apptd. by the King a Col. in the army and commander-in-chief of the mil. establishment of the Islands. After his release from imprisonment, as related in the preceding sketch, he proceeded to San Francisco, where he is now practising law in partnership with his bro. Clarence.—San Francisco, Cal.

ASHLEY, William James, educationist, was b. in London, Eng., 1860. Entering Balliol Coll., Oxford, with a history scholarship, 1878, he took a 1st class in the Honor Sch. of modern history, 1881, and received the Lothian prize, 1882, for an essay on the "Arte Veldes," which was subsequently published. For two years and a half he took private pupils for the history sch. in Oxford, until in Feb., 1885, he was elected to a tutorial fellowship at Lincoln Coll., and soon afterwards was also apptd. lecturer in history in Corpus Christi Coll. In 1888 he was apptd. Prof. of Political Economy and Constit. History in the Univ. of Toronto; and in 1892 he was called to the newly created chair of Economic History in Harvard Coll. At Toronto he devoted himself at first, chiefly, to the work of organizing the new dept. entrusted to him, and to the study of modern finance. But he lectured also on Eng. constit. history, acquiring at the same time a knowledge of Am. and Can. constit. history. In all this work he had great success. Writing to the Prof., Nov., 1890, Chancellor Blake bears testimony to the able and judicious manner in which he had overcome the difficulties surrounding him at the outset, owing to the then tariff policy of Can. Among his published works, several of which are regarded as of the highest importance in his own depts. of literature, are his lectures on the earlier constitutional history of Can. (Tor., 1889). Prof. A. represented Harvard Univ. at the Halifax Cabot celebration, 1897.—Harvard University, Cambridge, Mass.

"I confidently expect that the very high reputation which Prof. Ashley has already won for himself in Eng. and Am. will go on increasing. He has already earned for himself a conspicuous place in the very first rank of the new sch. of historians; and I can have no doubt that any Univ. in Britain which is fortunate enough to choose him as among its teachers will count him always as one of the most influential and effective, and sooner or later one of the most illustrious members of its teaching staff."—*Rev. BAKER, Hon. George Barnard, Q.C., is of U. E. L. descent, and belongs to a family that has contributed largely to the public life of the country. S. of the late Wm. Baker, who represented Missisquoi in the Parlt. of L.C., 1834-37, he was b. at Dunham, P.Q., Jan. 26, 1834, and received his ed. at the Univ. of Bishop's Coll., Lennoxville (B.A.,

1855; M.A., 1862). Called to the bar 1860, he has become one of the leading practitioners in the E. T.; was Sol.-Genl. for Quebec, 1876-78; and was created a Q.C., by the Marquis of Lorne, 1880. Mr. B.'s parliamentary experience dates from his entrance into the Ho. of Commons, June, 1870, at which time he was elected mem. for Missisquoi. He sat until the close of the 2nd Parlt., 1874, not offering for re-election. In the following year, however, he was returned by acclamation for the same co., to the Quebec Assembly. Re-elected by acclamation upon his appt. as Sol.-Genl. in the de Boucherville Cabinet, Jan., 1876, he sat therein until the g. e., 1878, when he suffered defeat at the polls. In the same year he was elected to the Ho. of Commons, and continued to hold a seat there until g. e., 1887, when he was again defeated. He again offered for the co., upon the death of Mr. Clayes, the sitting mem., 1888, and was again defeated by the Lib. candidate. He was a candidate at the g. e., 1891, and upon that occasion headed the polls over his old opponent, Mr. Meigs. He was summoned to the Senate by Lord Aberdeen, Jan. 7, 1896, and will henceforth sit in the Red Chamber. BAKER, Lt.-Col. Hon. James, legislator, is the s. of the late Samuel Baker, formerly of Lypiat Park, Gloucestershire, Eng., and was b. in London, Eng., Jan. 6, 1830. He is a bro. of the late Sir Saml. Baker, at one time Governor Genl. of the Soudan, and of the lamented Genl. Valentine Baker Pasha. Ed. at the Coll. Sch. Gloucester, by private tutor, and at Cambridge Univ. (B.A., 1861; M.A., 1864), he entered the Indian Navy, 1845, and was employed in the survey of the Arabian coast and in the suppression of the slave trade, and was acting First Lieut. schooner Matris. He subsequently entered the army as a cornet in the Royal Horse Guards Blue, and afterwards served in the 8th Hussars in the Crimea during the eastern campaign. Col. B. was present at the battle of the Tchernaya and at the siege and fall of Sebastopol (medals with clasp). Returning to Eng., he was selected to raise and command the Cambridge Univ. Volunteers, composed of mems. of that univ. He also took an active part in the organization of the Eng. volunteer force, and was selected as a mem. of the Eng. Intern. eight in rifle shooting at Wimbledon in 1864, and made the highest score in the match. He retired from the force with the rank of Lieut.-Col., 1875. While at the Univ. of Cambridge, he proposed a scheme for military education at the universities so that all officers who entered the army should pass through a univ. and take a special military degree which was agreed to be established. The scheme was warmly espoused by all the universities of Gt. Brit. and Irel., and by the late Prince Consort, who summoned Col. B. to Windsor to discuss the subject, and the scheme would have been carried had it not been for the lamented death of H. R. H. As it was it resulted in a univ. degree admitting to the army without further examination. He afterwards travelled in Turkey, and is the author of "Turkey in Europe," besides several works on army organization. On his return from Turkey, during the Russo-Turkish war, 1878, Col. B. was requested by the Earl of Beaconsfield, then Prime Minister, to make a report upon the situation. In this report he suggested in the event of war being declared by Eng. against Russia, a contingency which was then imminent, the employment of native troops from India to act (in conjunction with Eng. troops) from Salonica on the flank of the Russian army before Constantinople. Lord Beaconsfield informed Col. B. that he had forwarded his report to Her Majesty, and on a subsequent occasion he was informed that the employment of native troops from India in Egypt was the result of his previous suggestion. Proceeding to B.C. with two of his sons, to take up farming and ranching, in 1884, he was returned to the Legislature for Kootenay, at the g. e., 1886, and has retained his seat up to the present time. He entered the Govt. as Mr. of Education and Immigration and Prov. Secy. and Mr. of Mines, 1892, and was elected a V.-P. of the Dom. Educational Assn., 1895. Col. B. attended in his official capacity the educational conference held in Toronto, Apl., 1895, and on that occasion delivered an address on "Diagnosis of Brain Power," which aroused much favourable comment. He is also author of an address on "Evolution of Mind" (1896). He is a mem. of the Ch. of Eng., and m. Dec., 1855, Sarah Louisa, dau. of Capt. W. P. White. Mrs. B. is Presdt. of the Victoria branch of the National Council of Women of Can., presided over by the Countess of Aberdeen.—Victoria, B.C., "Cranbrook," Kootenay, B.C., "Inglewood," Parkstone, Eng.; Athenæum Club, London.

BARRY, Miss Kate Madeline, author, is the 3rd dau. of the late Jas. Barry, Chief Clk. of Statistics, Dept. of Customs, Ottawa, by his wife, Catherine M. Barry, and is, like her sisters, a native of Montreal. Ed. at the Convent of the Sacred Heart, Ottawa, she evinced great talent for composition and essay writing. At 17, she published a novel: "Honor Edgeworth; or, Ottawa's Present Tense," which was full of promise and commanded a large sale, running into a second ed. in the same year. This was followed, some yrs. later, by a second novel: "The Doctor's Daughter," dealing with the same phases of social life and character at the Can. capital. A long and trying nervous illness put a stop to all literary work for the next 3 yrs. Since then Miss B. has done what many consider her best work, consisting of articles and reviews on social and political questions and short stories. She has been specially interested in the subject of Irish industries. Some of her articles have appeared in the N. Y. Independent and in the N. Y. Sun and some in the New Ireland Review. While in Dublin, 1894, she wrote "The Life of Catharine McAuley," the foundress of an Order of Mercy in the Ch. to which she belongs (R.C.), which has been declared to be a most artistic production.—Ottawa, Ont.

BEAUSOLEIL, Cleophas, advocate, journalist and legislator, is the 4th s. of Joseph Beausoleil, by his wife Rose Ducharme, and was born at St. Felix de Valois, P.Q., June 19, 1845. Ed. at Berthier Acad., and the Coll., Joliette, he became a law student in Montreal, 1864. For some yrs. he devoted himself to journalism, writing first for L'Ordre, and then for L'Evenement. He became one of the eds. of Le Nouveau Monde, 1868, and was chief ed. of that paper, 1870-73, when he established Le Bien Public, in conjunction with L.O. David. Apptd. Official Assignee for Montreal, under the Insolvent Act, 1875, he discharged the duties connected therewith to the general acceptance of the public. Called to the bar, 1880, he has since enjoyed an extensive practice. He was for a considerable period, the law partner of the late Hon. H. Mercier, and is now head of the firm of Beausoleil, Choquet & Girard. He has been an ald. of Montreal almost uninterruptedly since 1882, and it is claimed for him that he was the means of abolishing the abattoir monopoly, of repealing the statute labour tax, and of securing the annexation of Hochelaga and St. Jean Baptiste wards to Montreal, thus giving the control of the metropolitan city to the French element. He was a mem. of the R. C. Sch. Bd., 1894-95. A National Lib. in politics, he has represented that interest in the Ho. of Commons, as mem. for Berthier, since the g. e. 1887. He speaks frequently, and is always listened to with attention. He is one of many of his countrymen who "loves France for her past glorious history, but loves Eng. for the liberty she guarantees and the protection she affords them." In all questions respecting the religious and national rights of the French-Canadians, he, as a politician, claims perfect freedom of action, as he places these questions far above the interest of party. Since 1896 he has been chairman of the Standing Comte. on Expiring Laws, Ho. of Commons.—201 St. Hubert St., Montreal; City Club.

BEERS, William George, D.D.S., L.D.S., author, is the s. of the late J. C. Beers, a native of the north of Irel., by his wife, Isabella Hope, a native of Wales. B. in Montreal, May 5, 1843, he was ed. at the L.C. Coll. and at Phillips' Sch. in his native city. Entering the dental profession he founded the first dental journal established in Can., and was its ed. for several years. He is now ed. of its successor, The Dom. Dental Journal (Toronto). Dr. B. was Secy. of the Dental Bd. of Examiners, P.Q., for 11 yrs., and was twice elected Presdt. of that body. He is now Dean of the Provl. Dental Coll., and Prof. of Dental Path. and Therap. and Materia Med. in McGill Univ. He is widely known as a writer for the mags. on subjects connected with Can. field sports and pastimes, and is regarded as the father of the modern game of Lacrosse in Can., since it was he who wrote the first book on the subject and made the first attempt to reduce the game to a set of rules. Having seen the game established as the national game of Can., Dr. B. organized and captained the first Can. lacrosse team that visited Eng. This team went over in 1876, and commencing in Belfast played in most of the available towns of note in Irel., Scot. and Eng. The crowning event of the tour was a command from the Queen to play before H.M. at Windsor Castle, where, after the game, the mems. of the team were presented individually to the Sovereign, and were each presented with an autograph photograph. He also organized and commanded the second lacrosse team sent to Eng., 1883, composed of 15 players selected from the Montreal and Toronto clubs, accompanied by 13 Caughnawaga Indians. This team played altogether 68 matches. Dr. B. commenced writing for the press when quite a boy. In 1862-63 he contributed a series of articles, 20 in number, on Can. sports, to Wilkes' Spirit of the Times, N.Y., and since then he has written constantly for many of the principal Am. mags., including Lippincott, Scribner and the Century. Some of his articles have been profusely illustrated by Sandham. Dr. B. is also noted as a lecturer and public speaker, his patriotic utterances at Syracuse, N.Y., 1888, and before the Victoria Rifle Reserves, Montreal, 1897, being good examples of his powers as such. Politically, he is a Con.; in religion, a Presb. He believes in annihilation rather than annexation, and in Imp. Canadianism. He was one of the founders of the Can. National League, 1893. When a youth he assisted in the formation of the Victoria Rifles, Montreal, organizing No. 6 Co. out of the Beaver Lacrosse Club. He served in the Rifles for many yrs., was "out" during the two Fenian raids, and subsequently retired with the rank of Capt. He is now writing the history of this famous corps. Dr. B. m. Nov., 18—, Mary E., dau. of Jas. Hope. His sister, Miss Augusta M. Beers, writes occasionally for the mags.—47 Union Avenue, Montreal.

BEETON, Henry Coppinger, merchant, is the eld. s. of the late Robt. Beeton, of London, Eng., where he was b. May 15, 1827. Ed. in Eng., he entered mercantile life in his native city, and was for a considerable period senior partner in the house of H. C. Beeton & Co., London, and in that of Turner, Beeton & Co., Victoria, B.C. He became connected with B.C., 1860, and was Agt.-Genl. for the Province in London, Eng., 1883-95. He was a Comnr. to the International Fisheries Exbn., 1883; to the do. Health Exbn., 1884, and was apptd. a Royal Comnr. of the Col. and Ind. Exbn., 1886. In 1888 he received a medal from the Soc. of Arts for a paper read before that body on Brit. Columbia. He was was one of the promoters of the Brit. Yukon Co., 1897. A Lib. in politics, he is also a free trader, and an ardent admirer of Mr. Gladstone. He likewise favours Imp. Federation. He is a mem. of the Ch. of Eng., and m. Miss Louisa Ramie, of St. Helier's, Jersey.—33 Finsbury Circus, London, Eng.

BEGG, Alexander, author and journalist, is the s. of the late Andrew Begg, miller and farmer, by his wife, Jane Taylor, and was b. in Watten, Caithnessshire, Scot., May 7, 1825. Ed. at the Watten parish sch., he obtained a diploma at the Normal Sch., Edinburgh, and thereafter for some yrs. followed the occupation of teacher. After coming to Canada, 1846, he embarked in journalism, and published pioneer newspapers in several localities in Ont. He founded the Can. Lumberman (Toronto), still in existence, and has served as special correspondent in the N.W.T. for the Toronto Mail. Mr. B. was also for some yrs. an officer in the Can. public service, and in 1869, was apptd. Collr. of Customs and Inspr. of Inland Revenue at Fort Garry. He accompanied the Hon. Wm. Macdougall on his well-known journey to take possession of the N.W.T., and was with him when he was prevented by Riel from entering the promised land. Later, he became an Emigration Comnr. in Scot. for the Ont. Govt., founded a Temp. Colony in the Parry Sound Dist., and established a sheep, cattle and horse ranche at Dunbow, Bow River, N.W.T. In 1887, he was sent to Eng. by the B. C. Govt., with the object of furthering the settlement of Scotch Crofters in that Province, and he became the medium of an offer from the Imp. to the Provl. Govt., having in view the settlement in B. C. of 1,250 Crofter families from the Highlands and Islands of Scot. This offer, for some reason, the B. C. Govt. could not see its way to accept, and the scheme is now in abeyance. He published, in 1894, "The History of British Columbia, from its Earliest Discovery to the Present Time" (Toronto), a handsome work, abounding in information and statistics respecting the Pacific Province, which has been recommended for use in the public schs., and in 1895, he founded The Mining Record (Victoria). He also edits "The B. C. Directory of Mines." He is an hon. mem. of the Sir William Wallace Soc., Victoria, which, in acknowledgment of his services in connection with the centenary of Sir Alex Mackenzie's arrival on the Pacific coast, has placed his portrait in the hall of the soc. Mr. B. is an adherent of the Presb.

BEGG, Alexander, author, was b. in Quebec, July 19, 1840. Ed. partly in Aberdeen, Scot., and partly at St. John's, P.Q., he early turned his attention to commerce. He enjoys the distinction of being the pioneer of Can. trade in Man. and the N.W.T., having been the first to arrive in Winnipeg for the purpose of disposing of goods of Can. manufacture. This was in 1867. He afterwards entered into a partnership with the late A. G. B. Bannatyne, and became an extensive dealer in peltries. During the rebellion of 1869, and previous to it, he took a prominent stand on behalf of the people of the country, and strove perseveringly and successfully to obtain representative govt. for them. He was the first steamboat and express agt. in Man., and helped materially towards founding the institutions of the infant prairie capital. Mr. B. was apptd. Sergt-at-Arms to the Legislature, Jan. 1878, and became Depty. Treas. of the province, Nov., same year; this position he resigned Sept., 1884. He was commr. for Man. to the Dom. Exhn., 1879, and conducted the Man. exhibits through Ont., Quebec and the Maritime Provinces in that and in the following year. After this he was sent to Eng. as Genl. Immigration Agent for the Can. Pacific Ry. He was elected a F.S.S., 1884, and read a paper on Can., before the Soc. of Arts, 1886. He is the author of "Dot it Down," "The Creation of Manitoba," "A Story of the Saskatchewan," "A Practical Guide to Manitoba," "Ten Years in Winnipeg," and of a "History of the North-West," 3 vols. (Toronto, 1894-95). He m. 1868, Caroline, dau. of Dr. J. M. Hamilton, of Hamilton, Ont.—Winnipeg, Man.

BEGIN, The Most Rev. Louis Nazaire, Archbishop of Cyrene, Coadjutor of H. E. Card. Taschereau and Administrator of the Province of Quebec (R.C.), is the s. of Chas. Bégin, farmer, who d. Aug., 1887, in his 91st year, by his wife, Luce Paradis. Ed. at the Lévis Model Sch., at the Coll. of St. Michael de Bellechasse, at the little Semy. of Quebec, and at Laval Univ. (B.A., and Prince of Wales' gold med., the first to take that prize, 1862), he commenced his theol. studies at the Grand Semy., of Quebec. About this time, the authorities of that institution had decided to establish a faculty of theol. in connection with Laval Univ., and it was their desire that the mems. of such faculty should be educated at Rome. It was accordingly proposed that Mr. B., who had been selected for a chair in the proposed faculty, should proceed to the Eternal City to continue and complete his theol. training. He left Quebec, Sept., 1863. Mr. B. was absent 5 yrs, returning to Quebec, July, 1868. He followed the course of the Gregorian Univ. of the Roman Coll., including dogmatic and moral theol., Sacred Scriptures, history of the ch., canonic law, sacred oratory, and the Hebraic language. He received all the minor and major orders in Rome, and was ordained to the priesthood in the Major Basilica of Latran, June 10, 1865, by H. E. Card. Vicar Patrizi. In the following year, he obtained the degree of Doctor in Theol. Having gained permission to remain some time longer in Rome for the purpose of making a special study of ecclesiastical history and oriental languages: the Hebrew, the Chaldean, the Syriac and the Arabic, Dr. B. gave a good portion of the years 1866-67 to this work. After the close of the Roman festival in connection with the centenary of the death of St. Peter and the canonization of the saints, 1867, he went to Innsbruck, in the Austrian Tyrol. During the summer holidays of the preceding yrs., he had visited Italy, Savoy, Switzerland, Prussia, Belgium, and chiefly France, but the summer of 1867 was spent in studying the German language. In Sept. of the same year, he started for

Palestine, in order to get thoroughly acquainted, as he had long desired, with certain biblical and historical facts. He spent more than five mths. in this tour, passing through Austria, Hungary, Roumania, Servia, Bulgaria, the two Turkeys, the islands of Tenedos, Lesbos, Rhodes and Cyprus, Lebanon and Anti- Lebanon, Phœnicia, Palestine, Egypt and Sicily. Returning to Innsbruck, he continued his studies at the Catholic Univ., under the celebrated Profs. Wenig, Jungmann, Hurter, Kobler, and Nilles. Dr. B. left the Tyrol on July 2, 1868, crossed France and Eng., and arrived at Quebec in due course. He brought with him several Egyptian mummies, with other archæol. curiosities for the museum of Laval Univ. Apptd. Prof. of Dogmatic Theol. and Ecclesiastical History in Laval, he entered on his duties forthwith. He taught from 1868 until 1884, having also, during the last 7 or 8 yrs., charge of the pupils of the Univ., or of those of the Little or Grand Semy. He was also prefect of studies of the little Semy. During the winter months, for some yrs., he gave numerous public lectures at the Univ. on controversial and interesting questions in ch. history. These lectures were published in book form, with the title: "La primauté et l'Infaillibilité des Souverains Pontifes." In 1874, he published a second work, entitled, "La Sainte Ecriture et la Règle de Foi," which was translated into Eng., and printed in London. In the same year (1874), an eulogy of St. Thomas Aquinas was published. In 1875, he published another work, entitled, "Le Culte Catholique." In 1884, he accompanied to Rome the Archbp. of Quebec, who was going there to sustain the rights of Laval Univ., and the division of the diocese of Three Rivers, before the Holy See. On his return, he was chosen by the Catholic comte. of the Council of Public Instruction to fill the principalship of Laval Normal Sch., and was apptd. thereto by the Lt.-Gov. in council, Jan. 22, 1885. In 1886, he published a small "Aide-Mémoire," or "Chronologie de l'Histoire du Canada," designed, as indicated by its name, to assist the memory of pupils and facilitate their preparations in the examinations on the history of Can. Dr. B. remained at the Normal Sch. up to Oct. 1, 1888, when he was apptd. to the Bishopric of Chicoutimi. He was consecrated in the Basilica, Quebec, H. E. Card. Taschereau officiating, with Bps. Laflèche and Langevin assisting. During his stay at Chicoutimi, Mgr. B. caused the new cathedral to be completed, the semy. to be enlarged, and to secure a fitting habitation for the head of the diocese. On Dec. 22, 1891, he was apptd. Coadjutor to Card. Taschereau, with the title of Archbp. of Cyrene, and left Chicoutimi for Quebec. Since Dec. 3, 1894, he also holds the administration of the archdiocese of Quebec, which the Card. has committed to him. His Grace is a fellow of the Royal Soc. of Can., and a mem. of the Acad. of the Arcades of Rome. —Archbishop's Palace, Quebec.

BEIQUE, Frederic Ligori, Q.C., is the s. of the late Louis Beique, of St. Mathias, P.Q., and was b. there May, 1845. Ed. at the Coll. of Marieville, he was called to the bar, 1868, and has since been practising in Montreal. He was created a Q. C. by the Lt.-Gov. of Quebec, 1885, and by the Earl of Derby, Gov.-Gen. of Can., 1889. Mr. B. was Bâtonnier of the Mont. Dist. Bar, 1891-93. He was elected Mayor of Dorion in 1895, and again in 1896. He is a mem. of the Ex-Council of the Can. Bar Assn., and was apptd. one of the Dom. counsel before the Behring Sea claims Comn., 1896. His name is now frequently mentioned in connection with a seat on the judicial bench. Politically, he has always been a mem. of the Lib. party. He acted as one of the Royal Comnrs. in the Whelan case, 1890, and represented the Provl. Ministers, the late Hon. H. Mercier and colleagues, before the Royal Comn. in the Baie des Chaleurs Ry. ease, 1891. He served on the Chenier-monument Comte., 1895. In religion a R. C., he m. 1875, Caroline Angelinas, only child of the late Hon. L. A. Dessaulles, M.L.C.—954 Sherbrooke St., Montreal.

BELANGER, Louis Charles, Q.C., is the eld. s. of Chas. Belanger, by his wife, Angelique Renault Blanchard, and was b. at Rapide Plat, P.Q., May 19, 1840. Ed. at the Coll. St. Hyacinthe, he subsequently became a prof. in the French Commercial Coll. Called to the bar, 1866, he was, for some yrs., a law partner of H. C. Cabana, but he now, and has for some time past, followed the practice of his profession alone. He became Crown Prosecutor for the Dist. of St. Francis, Mch., 1878, with an Eng. colleague until Mch. 1887, and afterwards alone until 1892, and was apptd. a Q. C. by the Earl of Derby, 1893. His name has been frequently mentioned in connection with a seat on the jl. bench. Mr. B. was one of the pioneer journalists in the E. T., he having established the Pionnier de Sherbrooke, 1866, and the Progrès de l'Est, 1882. In 1876, he founded the P. of Q. Press Assn. and was its first presdt. He was Presdt. of the St. Jean Baptiste Soc. at an important juncture, and has sat in the Sherbrooke City Council, first as an ald. and afterwards as mayor (1895). He likewise served in the V. M., as a capt. in the 53rd Batt., 1882-85. Is an hon. mem. of the St. Patrick's Soc. He unsuccessfully contested Richmond and Wolfe for the Ho. of Commons, Oct., 1874; and Sherbrooke, with the present Judge Hall, Dom. g. e. 1887, and with Mr. Panneton at the Provl. g. e. 1897. BELL, Alexander Graham, inventor, is the s. of Alex. Melville Bell, who has long enjoyed a reputation in the field of philology and linguistics, and who was for some yrs. Prof. of Elocution in Queen's Univ., Kingston. B. in Edinburgh, Scot., Mch. 3, 1847, he received his early education there. Later he went to London where he entered the Univ., but left, owing to ill-health, and accompanied his father to Can., 1870. The family took up their residence in Brantford, Ont., where they remained for several yrs. When quite a child, Mr. B. was told by his father of an augomaton-speaking machine which he had seen. The boy was so interested that he determined to attempt the construction of such an apparatus himself, and he thereupon invented a speaking machine, built it and made it articulate one or two simple words. In 1871 he went to Boston at the invitation of the Sch. Bd. there, to carry on a series of experiments with his father's system of visible speech. In 1881 he removed to Washington. Bell's first public lecture on the telephone was delivered before the Soc. of Arts. at Boston, 1876, and the first transmission of speech over a real line was effected in the same year at Brantford. Bell hastened to patent his invention, and in the same year exhibited it at the Phila. Cent. Exbn., where a memorable display of its speaking powers was made before Sir W. Thomson (now Lord Kelvin), the Emperor of Brazil, and others. Since then, as the result of further investigations, he has invented the Photophone (or Radiophone), and, in conjunction with his cousin, C. A. Bell, the Graphophone. More recently he has been engaged in an investigation of the laws of flight. His chief work, however, is now devoted to the education of the deaf. His permanent place of abode is in Washington, but he spends his summer months usually in Cape Breton, where he has a house delightfully situated, overlooking the sea. In religious belief he is a Prot.—1535 35th St., Washington, D.C.

BELL, Rev. Allan (Presb.), is the s. of Jas. Bell, by his wife, Mary Ann Hedley, and was b. in London, Ont., Jan. 20, 1852. Ed. at London High Sch., and at Toronto Univ., he studied theol. at Knox Coll., and at Princeton Semy., N.J., and took a post-graduate course at Chicago Univ. (D.D., 1892). Ordained to the ministry by Man. Presby., 1875, he was mission. at Portage la Prairie, 1875-77, and pastor there and at Burnside, 1877-88. He was also supt. of schs. for 4 yrs. at the Portage, and while there built 3 chs. and 2 manses, besides one ch. at Burnside. On leaving Portage la Prairie he was presented with a gold watch and $700, all classes in the community contributing. He was pastor of Beaver Dam, Wis., 1888-91, when apptd. to his present charge at Winona, Minn. Dr. B. has written frequently in the newspaper press on the questions of education, municipal reform, and the elevation of political life and thought. The "Provl. Rights" cry in Man. took existence from one of his sermons. He is an adherent of tariff for revenue only, and of moral and religious education in the schs. with the Bible as a text-book. He m. BELL, Benjamin Taylor A., mining expert, was b. in the city of Edinburgh, Scot., July 2, 1863. Ed. at Stewart's Coll. and other private schs. in that city, he came to Can., 1882, and became ed. and publisher of the Can. Mining Rev. and of the Can. Mining, Iron and Steel Manual, the latter being a yearly record of the history, organization and operation of all Can. mining and metal enterprises (7th ed., 1897). He is Can. correspondent of the Iron and Coal Trades Review, the Engineering Rev. and other Brit. technical journals, and has also edited for a number of yrs. the journals of the Can. Mining Assn. of Quebec and of the Mining Soc. of N.S., of both of which organizations he is the Secy. In 1889 Mr. B. was instrumental in bringing to Can. the Am. Inst. of Mining Engineers, the strongest organization of mining men in the world. A series of meetings were held in Ottawa, and large parties were taken to the phosphate, asbestos, copper, nickel and other mining dists. of the country. On this occasion he was presented by the Ottawa citizens' Comte. with a silver service in recognition of his services. In 1890 he was apptd. by the Dom. Govt., in company with Dr. Selwyn, C.M.G., to take charge of the excursions made through the mining and industrial centres of Can. of the Iron and Steel Inst. of Gt. Brit. and the Verein Deutcher Eisenhentenleute, and by them was presented with an illuminated address and a service of cutlery. In the same year, when the Mercier Mining Act threatened the vested interests of mineral landowners in Quebec, he organized and, as its secy., carried to a successful issue the Genl. Mining Assn. of the Province. He was also instrumental, 1892, in uniting the coal, gold and other mineral interests of N.S. into a similar organization, at the time of the agitation to repeal the increased royalty on coal. In 1894 he was presented with a handsome silver cabinet by the iron smelting cos. of Can. in acknowledgment of his services to the iron industry during the year. Originally a mem. of the Queen's Edinburgh Rifle Vol. Brigade, Mr. B. was one of the first to enroll in the 90th Batt. (Winnipeg) on its formation. In the fall of 1884 he took service under the late Lt.-Col. Kennedy, then comdg. the regt., for service in the Nile expedition for the relief of Gordon (Egyptian medal and Khedive's star). Returning to Can. he took a comn. in the Prince of Wales rifles, Montreal, then under orders for the N.W.T. This comn. he held until he was transferred to the 43rd Batt. He is now on the retired list. He has obtained some note also as a cricketer, having in 1886 made the highest aggregate runs known in Can., his score in that season totalling 1306 runs for 36 completed innings. He served also on the 11 of Can. gentlemen chosen to visit Eng., 1886, and has played on the Can. Intern. 11. Mr. B. m. Jan., 1889, Sydney, eld. dau. of Hy. F. BELL, Charles Napier, is the s. of Jas. Bell, Regr. of South Lanark, Ont., and was b. at Perth, Ont., 1854. Ed. at Perth, in the common and Grammar schs., he proceeded to Fort Garry (now Winnipeg), Man., as a mem. of the first Red River expedition, 1870, under Gen. Wolseley, and has resided in the N.W. ever since. He travelled in the Saskatchewan country, 1872-73, hunting and trading with the Indians, but since 1887 has been Secy. of the Winnipeg Bd. of Trade and Winnipeg Grain Exchange. He has taken great interest in the history and archæology of N.W. Canada, and is the author of many papers and reports bearing on these subjects and the geography and capabilities of the country. Mr. B. has been V.-P. and Presdt. of the Man. Hist. Soc. He was elected a fellow of the Royal Geograp. Soc., 1885, and is a corres. mem. of the Royal Scottish Geograp. Soc. and of the Geograp. Soc., of Bremen, of the Buffalo Hist. Soc., Minnesota Hist. Soc., etc. He has for many yrs. taken a prominent position in the Masonic order, being a Past Grand Master of Man. and a mem. and officer of the Supreme Council 33° for Can. He was apptd. Consul at Winnipeg for Guatemala, 1896. An adherent of the Presb. Ch.; politically, he is a Lib.—Winnipeg, Man.

BELL, James, M.D., is the s. of John Bell, and was b. in North Gower, Carleton, Ont., Oct. 10, 1852. Ed. in the local schs and privately, he graduated M.D., C.M. (Holmes gold med.) at McGill Univ., 1877. He became house surgeon, Montreal Genl. Hospital in the same year and Med. Supt. of that institution, 1881. In 1885 he was elected to the staff of the Hospital as asst. surgeon, becoming full surgeon, 1886. He was elected consulting surgeon to the Genl. Hospital, on his appt. in 1894, as surgeon to the Royal Victoria Hospital, Montreal. Dr. B. was apptd. asso. prof. of clin. surg. in his Alma Mater, 1888; asst. prof. of sur. and clin. surg., 1890, and prof. of clin. surg. 1894. He was for some yrs. up to 1888 surgeon to the 6th Batt. "Fusiliers," and at the outbreak of the rebellion in the N.W., 1885, accompanied Gen. Middleton to the scene of operations as Surgeon-Major in charge of the Field Hospital corps (med. and mentioned in despatches). He m. 1889, Edith Mary, eld. dau. of the late J. J. BELL, Miss Mary A., R.C.A., was b. at Douglas, Co. Renfrew, Ont., and is the dau. of Andrew Bell, C.E., by his wife M. Rosamond. Ed. at Almonte and at Berthier, en haut, she studied for her profession in the art schs. of Can., at the Cooper Inst., N.Y., and at Paris and London. After her admission to the Royal Can. Acad., she exhibited at the Paris Salon and at the Royal Acad., London. In 1895 one of her pictures occupied a place "on the line" at the Royal Acad., London.—St. Ives, Cornwall, Eng.

BELL, Richard Smith, journalist, is the 4th and only surviving s. of the late Prof. Jas. J. Bell, D.Sc., formerly of Albert Coll., Belleville, Ont. B. at Berwick-on-Tweed, Eng., Nov. 29, 1845, he was ed. at private schs., and came to Can. in early life. He joined the staff of the Belleville Intelligencer, Jan., 1870; became asst. ed., Jan., 1875, and succeeded Sir M. Bowell, as ed.-in-chief, Oct., 1878. Mr. B. m. May,

BELL, Robert, geologist, is the s. of the late Rev. Andrew Bell, and grands. of the late Rev. Wm. Bell, both of whom were ministers of the Ch. of Scot. in Can. B. in the tp. of Toronto, Ont., June 3, 1841, he was ed. at the Grammar Sch., L'Orignal, Ont., afterwards studying civil and mech. engineering (B.A.Sc. and Gov.-Genl.'s medallist, 1861), and med. (M.D., C.M., 1878), at McGill Univ. He received the hon. degree of LL.D. from Queen's Univ., Kingston, 1883. He joined the Can. Geol. Survey, Mch., 1857, and now holds the position of an Asst. Dir. on the Survey. He studied chemistry under Dr. T. Sterry Hunt, Sir Lyon Playfair, Dr. Crum Brown and others, and was Prof. of Chemistry and Natural Sciences in Queen's Univ., 1863, and lectured there for 5 sessions. Dr. B. was med. officer, naturalist and geologist on the Neptune, Hudson's Bay expedition, 1884, and held the same offices on the Alert, do do, 1885, and on the Diana, 1897. He was elected a mem. of the Am. Inst. of Mining Engrs., 1861; a F.G.S., 1862; a F.C.S., 1866, and was apptd. a Fellow of the Royal Soc. of Can., by the Marquis of Lorne, 1881. In 1888-89 he was one of the Comnrs. apptd. by the Ont. Govt. to report on the mineral resources of that province. During the 39 yrs. of Dr. B.'s connection with the Geol. Survey of Can. he has had opportunities of making more extensive surveys and explorations throughout the Dom. than has fallen to the lot of any other man. These include the provinces of Quebec, Ont. and Manitoba, the N.W.T., the Mackenzie River region, the shores and country around Hudson Bay, the Labrador peninsula and part of Baffin Land. In 1895-96 he was in the territory s.e. of James Bay, where he found an immense region of good soil and timber, and surveyed a great river all the way from the height of land to James Bay. The main or western branch of this stream had no recognized name, and that of "Bell River" has now been generally adopted for it. He is author of upwards of 130 reports and papers, a list of which is given in the "Biblio. of the Royal Soc." A mem. of the Presb. Ch., he m. 1873, Agnes, dau. of Alex. Smith, of Westbourne, near Glasgow, and of Auchintroig, Stirlingshire, Scot.—174 Maclaren St., Ottawa; Rideau Club.

BELL, William, manufacturer, is the s. of Wm. Bell, by his wife, Mary Wateret. B. in Dumfries, Scot., Sept. 5, 1833, where he was also educated, he early acquired a trade and immigrated to Ont. From there he removed to N.Y., where he remained until 1864. His bro. had meanwhile established the Bell organ factory at Guelph, and on returning to Can. he (William) took a share in the business, which he now controls as Presdt. of the Bell Organ Co., so well known all over the world for the fine character of its instruments. Mr. B. in addition to his private business was connected for many yrs. with various other companies and organizations. He was V.-P. of the Manufacturers Life Assn. Co., Presdt. of the Globe Savings and Loan Co., and Presdt. of the Traders' Bank of Can., all of which he resigned after meeting with a painful accident, Feb., 1897. In religion, he is a Presb. He is also a Freemason. He m. 1861, Miss Isabella M. Christie.—Guelph, Ont.

BELL-SMITH, Frederic Marlett, R. C. A., was b. in London, Eng., Sept. 26, 1846. He is the eld. s. of the late John Bell-Smith, an artist of repute, who after filling the position of secy-treas. and trustee of the Inst. of Fine Arts, London, came to Can., 1866. Here he founded and was the first Presdt. of the Soc. of Can. Artists, Montreal, 1867, which is supposed to have been the first

soc. composed exclusively of artists ever formed in Can. Of this soc. his s. was a mem., though he did not enter on a professional career until the formation of the Royal Can. Acad., by the Marquis of Lorne, 1880. For 7 yrs. he held the position of art dir. at Alma Coll., St. Thomas, Ont., and teacher of drawing in the public schs. of London, Ont.; but finding that these engrossed too much of his time, he removed to Toronto, 1888, and soon after decided to confine himself to painting. As a portrait and figure painter he has achieved his greatest success, but unfortunately very few of his portraits have been publicly exhibited, and it is, therefore, as a painter of landscapes that he is most widely known. In his treatment of the cloud-girt and mist-enshrouded peaks and glaciers of our Rocky Mts., he is considered to have a style particularly his own. The rapid advancement made by this artist during the past few yrs. has been remarked by all who take an interest in his field of study. In 1894, he eclipsed all his previous efforts in his "Lights of a City Street." Encouraged by the success of this picture, he determined on a still greater effort, and the two canvasses depicting incidents connected with the death of Sir John Thompson, was the result. For this purpose he visited Eng., where he obtained a personal sitting from the Queen, an honour never before accorded, we believe, to any artist from this side of the Atlantic, and to but three or four living artists in the world. Mr. B.-S. was elected a mem. of the Royal Can. Acad. of Arts, 1888, and two yrs. afterwards, exhibited a picture at the Royal Acad., London, Eng. In 1891, he went to Paris and studied under Courtois, Blanc and Dupain. In religion, a Meth., he is also a Freemason and a United Workman. He m. 1871, Annie Myra, dau. of Prof. S. W. Dyde.—336 Jarvis St., Toronto.

BELLEAU, Isidore Noel, Q. C., was b. at Deschambault, P.Q., 1848, his ancestors having come from Perigueuse, in France. Ed. at the Quebec Semy., he graduated LL.B. at Laval Univ., and was called to the bar, 1871. He has since practised his profession in Lévis and Quebec. Apptd. a Q. C. by the Marquis of Lansdowne, 1887, he was one of the Crown counsel employed in conducting proceedings before the Royal Com. of enquiry re Mercier and Pacaud, 1892. Mr. B. was ed. and prop. of L'Echo de Lévis newspaper, 1871-76, and was Mayor of that town for a considerable period up to 1896, Presdt. of the Club Con. de Lévis, and of the Assn. de Tir de Lévis. He sat for Lévis in the Ho. of Commons, in the Con. interest, from Oct., 1883 to Mch., 1885, when he was unseated on petition. In religious belief he is a R. C. He m. BELLEMARE, Raphael, retired public officer, was b. at Yamachiche, Feb. 22, 1821. Ed. at Nicolet Coll., he was prof. of Belles-Lettres in that institution, 1845-47, and one of the eds. of La Minerve, 1847-55. In the latter year he was called to the bar, but did not practise his profession, having been apptd. Revenue Insp. for the 1st div. dist. of Montreal, at the same time devoting himself to public service duties up to July, 1893. At Confederation, 1867, he was promoted to the office of Dist. Insp. of Inland Revenue for the rev. dist. of Montreal, the largest and by far the most important in the Dom. He was elected twice as an alderman, to represent the St. Louis ward in the city council of Montreal. Mr. B. was one of the founders of La Soc. Hist. de Montreal, and has been the Presdt. of the St. Vincent de Paul Soc. of Montreal since 1860. He is a dir. of the Genl. Colonization and Repatriation Soc., P.Q. He is also a dir. of the Montreal City and Dist. Savings Bank, of which he was a

V.-P. for several years. Politically, he is a Con.; in religion a R. C. He m. 1st, 1849, Mad. Anastasie Geoffrion, dit St. Jean, of Boucherville (she d. 1882); and 2nd, 1885, Mad. M. L. Eucharist Normandin, of Longueuil.—147 Berri St., Montreal.

BELLEROSE, Hon. Joseph Hyacinthe, senator, is the s. of the late Michael H. Bellerose, merchant, Three Rivers, P. Q., by his wife, Geneviève Sophie Lemaitre de Lottinville. B. at Three Rivers, July 12, 1820, he attended Eng. and French schs. in his native city, and completed his education at the colls. of Nicolet and St. Hyacinthe. In his youth he gave some attention to law, but finally entered commerce. He was the first to organize county Vol. Mil. cos. in L. C., and in 1857, took the command of the first Co. formed in the 8th Mil. Dist. Declining appt. to a Co. in H. M.'s 100th Prince of Wales Royal Can. Regt., on its formation, 1858 (after having passed the examinations therefor), he became brigade-maj. of the 8th Mil. Dist., with the rank of lt.-col. 1862, and rendered efficient services at that time in enrolling new levies of men for defence. Retiring from business he gave himself wholly to his mil. duties. He entered political life, 1861, in which year he was an unsuccessful candidate for Laval, in the Can. Assembly. Returned at the g. e. 1863, he continued to represent the County from that time up to the accomplishment of Confederation, a measure which he, as a follower of Sir Geo. Cartier, warmly supported. At the g. e. under the new Constitution, 1867, he was returned, both to the Ho. of Commons and the Provl. Assembly, and continued to sit concurrently in those bodies for some yrs. As Chairman of the Contingent Comte., Quebec, he was the means of effecting large savings in the expenditure for legislation. He was called to the Senate by the Earl of Dufferin, Oct. 7, 1873, and he has been, according to the Montreal Star, "the special champion of French-Can. rights in the Red Chamber." Indeed, throughout his public life, Mr. B. has kept the interests of his fellow-countrymen and of Roman Catholics generally, constantly uppermost, going so far as to part company with his political friends on more than one occasion, for their seeming neglect of those interests. In 1873 he declined a seat in Sir John A. Macdonald's Administration, owing to "Old-Tomorrow's" unsettled policy on the Man. amnesty and N. B. sch. questions. He also resisted Sir John Macdonald's alleged attacks on the rights of the Provinces, his disallowance of Provl. Acts, and his desire to force a Legislative Union upon Canada. Mr. B. was for some yrs. chairman of the Private Bills Comte. of the Senate, and has held other important and influential positions. He declined the Speakership of the Quebec Assembly, 1872, for party reasons. He m. 1847, Henrietta, dau. of the late Lt.-Col. Armand (she d. July, 1895).—St. Vincent de Paul, P. Q.

BELT, Rev. William (Ch. of Eng.), was b. at Williamsburg, Ont., Apl. 10, 1826. Ed. at Spibber's Classical Sch., Prescott; at Bishop's Coll., Cobourg, and at Trinity Univ., Toronto (M. A., 1854), he was admitted to the diaconate, 1850, and to the priesthood, 1851. Apptd. to Dundas, 1850, he served successively thereafter at Scarboro', 1853-69; Oshawa, 1869-75, and Ancaster, 1875-79, and was rector of St. Luke's, Burlington, 1879-96. He was apptd. a canon of the Cath., Hamilton, 1878, and is the author of "Conversations on the Offices of Sponsors and the use of the Sign of the Cross in Baptism."—409 Shaw St., Toronto.

BENDER, Louis Prosper, M. D., litterateur, is the s. of the late Louis P. Bender, advocate, Quebec, by his wife, Jane McMillan. B. in Quebec, July 30, 1844, he was ed. at the Quebec Semy., and graduated M. D. at McGill Univ., 1865. In the same year he was admitted to the Coll.

of P. & S., and later, was admitted to the Coll. of P. & S. of Ont. Before graduating he served on the med. staff of the Northern army, during a portion of the Am. civil war, and was brought under the personal notice of Genl. Grant. Thereafter he practised successfully in his native city, removing to Boston, 1884, where he has adopted the homeopathic system. Before leaving Can., Dr. B. published two works of permanent interest, viz., "Literary Sheaves, or La Littérature au Canada-Français" (Montreal, 1881); and "Old and New Canada, 1753-1844: Historic Scenes and Social Pictures, or the Life of Joseph François Perrault" (do., 1882); and since his change of residence he has added to his reputation as a writer by numerous contributions to the Am. periodical press. The majority of these articles have appeared in the Mag. of Am. History, and in the North. Am. Review, several afterwards appearing in pamphlet form. Dr. B. was m. 1866, to Miss Aurelia Scott.—Exeter Chambers, Exeter St., Boston, Mass.; Press Club, do.

BENGOUGH, John Wilson, caricaturist, lecturer and poet, was b. in Toronto, April 5, 1851. Ed. at the Whitby Dist. and Grammar Sch., he at first studied law, but not finding that profession to his taste, became a printer. Moving to Toronto, he, in May, 1873, established Grip, a humorous weekly, illustrated by himself. His political cartoons in this paper, which has now ceased to exist, displayed a high degree of artistic talent, and led the N. Y. Herald to pronounce him "the greatest cartoonist living on this side of the continent." He severed his connection with Grip, Sept., 1892, and thereafter for some months was employed as a caricaturist by the Montreal Star. More recently he joined the staff of the Toronto Globe in the same capacity. His daily political cartoon was an attractive feature in that paper during the Dom. electoral campaign of 1896. Mr. B. is also widely known as a humorist lecturer, and as a poet. It was he who wrote the famous election song, "Ontario, Ontario," the paternity of which was for a time erroneously given to another. Among his publications are: "Grip's Cartoons" (1875); "Popular Readings, Original and Selected" (1882); "Caricature History of Canadian Politics" (2 vols., illustrated, 1886); "Motley: Verses Grave and Gay" (1895); "The Up to Date Primer: A First Book of Lessons for Little Political Economists" (1896). Mr. B. was apptd. an Assoc. of the Royal Can. Acad. of Arts, on its formation 1880, and became Presdt. of the Single Tax Assn., 1891. He advocates the total prohibition of the liquor traffic, and was, in 1896, offered nomination by the Prohibitionists as a candidate for the representation of North Bruce in the Ho. of Commons. BENNETT, Henry William, journalist, was b. in Dublin, Irel., Sept. 27, 1848. Ed. at the Eng. Ch. Sch. there, he came to Can., and m. in 1874, Miss Ida Annie Levis, of Prescott. Entering journalism, he conducted the Ottawa Herald, 1880 to 1882, when he assumed the proprietorship of the Conservative Messenger, Prescott. He is Capt. and Paymaster 56th Batt., V.M., High Sch. trustee, Vice-Consul for Hawaii, Secy. of the South Grenville Lib.-Con. Assn., and genl. agt. for the Equitable Life Assn. Co. in the Eastern Dist. of Ontario.—Prescott, Ont.

BENNETT, William Humphrey, barrister and legislator, is the s. of Humphrey Bennett, of Barrie, Ont., by Annie Fraser, his wife, and was b. at Barrie, Dec. 23, 1859. Ed. at the Public and High schs., he was called to the bar, 1881, and was Reeve of Midland from 1886 for several yrs. He unsuccessfully contested East Simcoe for the Ho. of Commons, in the Con. interest, at the g. e. 1891, but was returned in Mch., 1892, in consequence of the unseating of the sitting mem. Returned at the g. e., 1896, he was unseated on petition Dec. of that year, and again returned, Feb., 1897. Since entering Parlt. he speaks frequently, and has added to the debating power of his party in the Commons. In 1895 he was chosen to move the address in reply to the Speech from the Throne. In 1896 he was apptd. a mem. of the Ex. Comte. of the Lib.-Con. Union of Ont. He calls himself a moderate Protectionist, and favours the continuance of Brit. connection. Unm. —Midland, Ont.

BENOIT, François, a retired merchant, is the s. of the late François Benoit, of Montreal, by Marie Hélène le Tourneux. B. in Montreal, Oct. 4, 1837, he was ed. at Montreal Coll., and, later, entered on a mercantile career by becoming one of the founders of the house of Benoit & le Tourneux. Retiring from business, 1864, he has since devoted himself to public life, though never a candidate for parliamentary honours. He has been a dir. in various monetary, philanthropic, literary, and colonization soc's., and founded, 1884, the Soc d'Agriculture of the Province of Quebec. He has been for many yrs. Treas. of the Assn. St. Jean Baptiste, and the great national demonstration of 1884, held in Montreal, was due largely to his efforts. Mr. B., since 1887, has been Presdt. of the French-Can. Con. Assn. of Montreal, and his services at the g. e's. of 1887 and 1892 have been highly praised by his party friends. He calls himself a Con. by tradition and conviction. In religious belief he is a R.C.— Notre Dame des Neiges, Montreal.

BENOIT, Rev. Henry Edward (Ch. of Eng.), is of French and Eng. origin, and was b. at Windsor, P.Q., July 5, 1863. Ed. and prepared for the Meth. ministry in Montreal, his first pastoral charge was at Zimmerman, near Hamilton, Ont., 1883. Thence he was called, by Bp. Wm. Taylor, to Africa, where he was Supt. of Schs. in the French colony of Gaboor, 1885-87, and Principal of the Mamba Industrial sch., 1887. He also served on the staff of Gov. De Brazza, in the Loango Province. On his return to Am., he was ordained, 1889, and became Supt. of French missions within the bounds of the M.E. Southern Conf. of the Meth. Ep. Ch. He organized the ch. at Woonsocket, became ed. and publisher of a newspaper, Le Meth. Franco-Americain, and, besides compiling several French hymnals and a French liturgy and hymn book (Meth.), wrote several pamphlets on controversial subjects. In May, 1895, he joined the Prot. Ep. Ch. of the U.S., being ordained therein by Bp. Clark, of R.I. In the same year he was apptd. agent of the Col. Ch. and Sch. Soc. of the Ch. of Eng. in the Dom., and in furtherance of his new duties, took up his residence in Montreal. In 1896 he paid a visit to the U.S. as Commr. on Intern. French work. He m. BENSON, Lt.-Col. Frederick William, mil. staff, is the 3rd s. of the late Hon. J. R. Benson, Senator, and was b. at St. Catharines, Ont., Aug. 2, 1849. Ed. at U. C. Coll. and at the Royal Military Coll., Sandhurst, he is also a graduate of the Staff Coll. He served in the Can. militia during the Fenian Raid, 1866, and was present with the force which advanced on Fort Erie after the engagement at Ridgeway. In his last term at Sandhurst, he was Responsible Under Offr. of the A. Co. He won his commission without purchase, by competition. On leaving Sandhurst he received a sword of honour from the hands of H.R.H. the Field Marshal Commanding in Chief, and another sword from the gentlemen cadets of the A. Co., as a mark of their esteem. He was gazetted to a cornetcy in the 21st Hussars on Jan. 23, 1869. He joined the regt. in India, was promoted to a lieutenancy, 1870, and returned to Eng. with the regt., 1873. For further service in India he exchanged to the 12th Royal Lancers, 1876, and in Jan., 1880, while at the Staff Coll., he was promoted by selection to a captaincy in the 5th Dragoon Guards. In 1881 he exchanged to the 17th Lancers, in which regt. he obtained his majority, 1886, and continued to serve in the regt. until promoted to a lieut.-colonelcy, 1893. During his service Lt.-Col. B. has held the following staff appts.: A.D.C. to the Lt.-Gov. of the N.W. Provinces, India; Brig.-Maj., Bombay Presidency; Garrison Instructor, Bengal, do; with the staff of the Insp. Genl. of Cavalry in India, at the large cavalry camps at Lawrencepore, Delhi and Muridki; and for 2 yrs. he commanded the cavalry of His Highness the Khedive of Egypt. In Jan., 1895, he was apptd. BIGGAR, Emerson Bristol, journalist, was b. at Winona, Ont. (where he received his early education), Mch. 6, 1853. After teaching in one of the Public schs. a year he entered on the career of his life—journalism. Starting in 1873 as reporter on the Hamilton Standard, a journal founded to promote the "9 hour" labour movement, he shortly after joined the staff of the Hamilton Spectator as reporter, and, later, became asst. ed. In 1875 he went to South Africa, where he was a year and a half on the Natal Witness, and three and a half years on the Cape Argus, then the leading journal in the colony. While there he compiled a "Guide Book of the Cape Colony." Returning to Can., 1880, he was connected with various Ont. newspapers till, in 1883, he moved to Montreal, where he started the Dom. Dry Goods Report, the first trade journal in the dry goods trade in Can. This journal afterwards took up the field of textile manufacturing, to which it is now specially devoted, the name being changed to the Canadian Journal of Fabrics. In 1885 he brought out the first textile directory of Can., pp. 218, with a mass of useful statistics, not elsewhere obtainable, relating to the textile trades of the Dom. Three editions of this work have been published, the last being issued in 1892. In 1886 he attended the Col. and Ind. Exbn. in London, and there published a little journal called the Canadian Exhibitor, devoted to the interests of the Can. section of that remarkable display of the products of the Brit. Col. Empire. According to the rules of the Exbn., all the exhibits required to be the actual products or manufactures of the colony, and Can. was the only country represented which could produce the materials of a newspaper. The type, the printing ink, paper, press and fittings were all of Can. manufacture, and the Exhibitor was consequently the only paper printed in the "Colinderies" as an exhibit. In 1889 he compiled a descriptive hand-book of the Dom., entitled "Canada: a Memorial Volume," the book being partly the outcome of his work at the Colonial Exbn., and containing much information not accessible elsewhere. In 1891 he produced the "Anecdotal Life of Sir John Macdonald," which was received with unlimited praise by the press of both sides of politics. The entire edition of 3,000 copies was sold off within about 3 mths. In 1893 he started the Canadian Engineer, devoted to engineering and electricity. Mr. B. has contributed various articles to magazines and encyclopædias, and among other pamphlets has written a "Sketch of the Battle of Stony Creek;" "Longevity in the Maritime Provinces;" a "History of Canadian Journalism," written as an introduction to the first hand-book of Canadian newspapers published in 1892; "History of Saltfleet;" "The Beginning of Bathurst," etc. He is a mem. of the Ch. of Eng., and m. 1875, Miss Margaret Ada Carter (she d. BIRCHARD, Isaac James, educationist, is the s. of Samuel and Ruth Birchard, and was b. at Uxbridge, Ont., Oct. 11, 1850. He received his primary education at Uxbridge Grammar Sch., and at the age of 15, obtained a 1st class teacher's certificate. After attending the Normal Sch., Toronto, where he won the Provl. gold medal and otherwise distinguished himself, he entered Toronto Univ. (B.A., 1880; M.A., 1883), and subsequently took a Ph.D., degree at Syracuse Univ., 1884. Dr. B. was Principal of one of the Toronto Public schs. 1874-80; Principal Perth Coll. Inst., 1881; Math. Master Brantford Coll. Inst., 1882-93, and he now holds the Math. Mastership in the Toronto Coll. Inst. He is spoken of as being a teacher of exceptional merit. He is best known, however, as the author of the text book, "Plane Trigonometry for Schools and Colleges" and as the joint author of another meritorious work; "High School Algebra," in two vols. These works have been commended by the teaching profession, and are extensively used throughout Can. The 2nd volume of the Algebra was favourably reviewed by "Die Zeilschrift für Mathematik," of Heidelberg, an honour never before bestowed, we believe, upon a Can. text book. Outside of his work in teaching, Dr. B. has devoted his time chiefly to ch. work, especially in connection with Sabbath schs. During his long residence in Brantford he was a prominent official in the Wellington St. Meth. Ch. and occupied various other local positions in keeping with his character and tastes, such as Presdt. of the city S. S. Assn., Presdt. of the Brantford branch of the Brit. and For. Bible Soc. He has also done considerable work in Teachers' Assns., and was Chairman of the Coll. and High Sch. Dept. of the Provl. Assn., 1874. Politically, he is a Lib. He m. BIRMINGHAM, Robert, political agent and organizer, was b. in Armagh, Irel., July 26, 1852. He received his early ed. in the Ch. of Irel. schs., and, coming to Can., embarked in the wholesale dry goods business in Toronto. In 1872, his friends being then in Opposition, he took a leading and active part in forming the Lib.-Conservative Assn. of Toronto, under the presidency of the present Mr. Justice Osler. He was apptd. secy. to the organization, and continued in that office up to the formation of the Lib.-Con. Union of Ont., under Dalton McCarthy, Q.C., M.P., 1884, when he was selected to fill the General Secretaryship to the Con. party in the Province. In 1896 he was elected Secy. of the Ex. Comte. of the Lib. Con. Union of Ont., as reconstructed under the direction of Sir Charles Tupper. Mr. B. was elected Secy. of the Grand Orange Lodge of Ont. West, 1884; Secy. of the Grand Orange Lodge of Brit. Am., 1890; and Secy. of the Imperial Council of Orangemen, 1891. He favours very strongly the perpetuation of the connection between Can. and the Mother Country.—5 Harbord St., Toronto; Albany Club.

BISAILLON, François Joseph, Q.C., is the s. of the late Hypolite Bisaillon, by his wife, Marie Josephte Hébert, and was b. at Laprairie, Mch. 12, 1851. Ed. at the Montreal Coll., he graduated B.C.L. at McGill Univ., and was called to the bar, 1877. He has practised throughout in the city and dist. of Montreal. He was for 15 yrs. a partner of Sir Alex. Lacoste, now Chief Justice of the Ct. of Queen's Bh., P.Q., and is now head of the firm of Bisaillon, Brosseau & Lajoie. He was created a Q.C. by the Marquis of Lansdowne, 1887. In religion, Mr. B. is a R.C.; politically, he is a Con., and BLACK, Rev. James Sturrok (Presb.), is the s. of Wm. Black, of Brechin, Scot., by his wife, Catherine Hutchison. B. at Brechin, 1845, he was ed. in Glasgow and Edinburgh, and afterwards travelled in Egypt and Palestine. Ordained to the ministry, 1870, in Nashua, N.H., he was called, 1874, to Erskine Ch., Montreal, where he remained until his removal, 1884, to Colorado, on account of his wife's health. While there he was minr. of the 1st Ch., Colorado Springs, and then of the 1st Presb. Ch., Minneapolis. After travelling in Europe for some time, he entered upon his present charge, as pastor of St. Andrew's Ch., Halifax, 1895. He received the degree of D.D. from the Presb. Coll., Montreal (where he was lecturer on Sacred Rhetoric for 2 yrs.), 1896. He has taken, and still takes, a warm interest in education. Besides being a frequent contributor to the newspapers and magazines, he has published "The Christian Consciousness as related to evolution in morals and in doctrine (Boston, 1895). His tendencies as a clergyman are evangelical of a progressive type.—St. Andrew's Manse, Halifax, N.S.

BLACKADAR, Alexander D., M.D., is the eld. s. of Francis F. Blackadar, of Stirling, Scot. B. in Montreal, 1847, he was ed. at McGill Univ. (B.A., 1870, with 1st rank honors in Nat. Science), and likewise graduated in med. there. He became an M.R.C.S., Eng., 1875, and while in that country was respectively Resident Phys. to the Royal Pimlico Dispensary, to the Brompton Consumption Hospital, and to the Gt. Ormond St. Hospital for Sick Children. He has held office as 1st V.-P. of the Montreal Medico-Chir. Soc. and as Presdt. of the Am. Pediatric Soc. Not long after his return to Can., Dr. B. was apptd. Instructor in Diseases of Children in the Med. Faculty of McGill Univ., and since then, in addition thereto, he has filled the chair of Pharmacol. and Therap. in the same institution. In 1896 he was hon. secy. of the sec. on Pediatrics at the 2nd Pan-Am. Med. Congress, Mexico. He has contributed articles to the "Ref. Hand-book of the Med. BLAIKIE, John Lang, capitalist, was b. in Roxburgshire, Scot., May 9, 1823. Ed. at Melrose and Edinburgh, Scot., he came to Can., 1858. He took up his residence in Toronto, and was for many yrs in partnership there with Wm. Alexander, the firm doing business as brokers and estate agents. Elected a dir. of the Northern Ry. and of the old Consolidated Bank, he became Presdt. in 1871, of the Can. Landed and National Invest. Co., an office he still holds. He is also Presdt. of the Boiler Inspection and Insur. Co. (succeeding the late Sir Alex. Campbell therein), and of the North Am. Life Assur. Co. (succeeding the late Hon. Alex. Mackenzie, M.P., therein), and a trustee of the Toronto Genl. Hospital. BLAIR, Hon. Andrew George, Q.C., statesman, is of Scotch descent, and was b. in Fredericton, N.B., Mch. 7, 1844. After being educated at the Coll. Sch., Fredericton, Mr. B. entered the profession of the law, and was called to the bar, 1866. He was created a Q.C. by the Earl of Derby, 1891. After 12 yrs. of successful practice, he entered political life, being returned to represent York Co., in the N.B. Assembly at the g.e. 1878. A petition was filed against his return, and he resigned, successfully contesting the seat in the bye-election which followed. Those were dark days for Liberalism. The Mackenzie Govt. had just been defeated in the Dom., and in the Local House which Mr. B. was entering, the Liberals counted only 6, in a House of 41 mems. Mr. B.'s ability was already recognized and in the first session of the new House, Feb. 1879, he was chosen leader of the Opposition. He proved himself a formidable antagonist and by 1882, in the last session of that Legislature, his following had increased to 17. In the g.e. of 1882 he was re-elected for York. In the following session, Mch., 1883, he defeated the Hannington Ministry and was called upon to form a new Admn. He accepted the task and in one day had his Cabinet completed. His Govt. was sustained in 3 general elections, viz., in 1886, 1890 and 1894. His reputation as a lawyer stands extremely high, his frequent appearances in important cases before the Supreme Court having brought him prominently before the legal world. He was apptd. a lecturer in the St. John Law Sch., 1892. Mr. B. was a mem. of the Interprovincial Conf., Quebec, 1887, and was a Vice-Chairman at the Ottawa Reform Convention, 1893. On the formation of the Laurier Admn., July, 1896, he resigned the N.B. premiership and was apptd. Mr. of Railways and Canals, Ottawa, being elected to the Ho. of Commons for Queens-Sunbury. Politically, he is a Lib.; in religion, a Meth. He is Presdt. of the Royal Victoria Hospital, Fredericton, and a Fellow of the Royal Col. Inst. He m. Oct., 1866, Annie E., eld. dau. of the late Geo. BLAIS, The Rt. Rev. Andre Albert, Bishop of Rimouski (R.C.), is the s. of Hubert Blais, by his wife, Marguerite Roy, and was b. at St. Valier, P.Q., Aug. 26, 1842. Ed. at the Quebec Semy., he was ordained priest at Quebec, 1868, and became Prof. in the Coll of Notre Dame de Lévis. Here he remained until 1882, when he was transferred to the Semy. of Quebec, holding also the appt. of chaplain to the Convent of the Bon Pasteur in that city. He was elevated to the Episcopate, with the title of Bp. of Germanicopolis, as coadjutor of Mgr. Langevin, at Rimouski, 1889, and succeeded that prelate as Bp. of St. Germain de Rimouski, Feb. 6, 1891.—Bishop's Palace, Rimouski, P.Q.

BLAKE, Hon. Edward, statesman, is the eld. s. of the late Hon. Wm. Hume Blake, a well-known Canadian statesman, who afterwards became Chancellor of U.C., now Ont., by Catherine Hume, his wife, granddau. of Wm. Hume, of Humewood, M.P. for Wicklow in the Brit. Ho. of Commons, and is the grands. of the Rev. Dominick Edward Blake (of the family of Blake of Castlegrove, Galway), in his lifetime rector of Kiltegan and of Lough Brickland, and R. D. B. at the present village of Cairngorm, Ont., Oct. 13, 1833, he was ed. at U. C. Coll. (Gov.-Genl.'s prizeman), and at the Univ. of Toronto (B.A., and silver med. in classics, 1854; M.A., 1858), and was called to the bar, 1856. He entered into practice in the city of Toronto, his first partner being S. M. Jarvis. Later, he and his bro., Hon. S. H. Blake, founded the firm which bears their name. Mr. Adam records that Mr. B. has remained always at the head of this firm, " and mainly through his towering ability, it has become the leading legal firm in Can., and has for yrs. held that commanding position." He was created a Q. C. by Viscount Monck, 1864; became a Bencher of the Law Soc., U. C., 1871; and Treas. of the Law. Soc., 1879. He was for a time one of the examiners in, and a lecturer on, Equity Law for the Law Soc., and was apptd. an hon. mem. of the Law Faculty, Toronto Univ., 1888. He declined appt. as Chancellor of U. C., under the govt. of Sir John Macdonald, 1869, as Chief Justice of Can., under the govt. of Mr. Mackenzie, 1875, and as Chief Justice of Ont., under that of Sir W. Laurier, 1897. Of late he has appeared frequently before the Judicial Comte. of the P. C. in Eng., his services being retained in many cases taken there from the Dom. In 1895 he was chief counsel for the appellants in the Man. Sch. case before that tribunal. His political career began in 1867, the epoch of Confederation. He had early espoused the Lib. cause, and was often importuned to enter Parlt. In the year mentioned he was elected both to the Ho. of Commons and the Legislature. He was immediately offered the leadership of his party in the latter body, but it was not till 1869 that he consented to accept that position. On the defeat of the Sandfield Macdonald Govt., Dec., 1871 (an event largely due to his efforts), Mr. B. was called upon to form a new Admn., and succeeded in the task. He himself took the office of Presdt. of the Council without salary. On the abolishment of dual representation, some time later, he resigned the Premiership with the view of devoting the whole of his attention to Federal politics, and was succeeded therein by Sir Oliver Mowat, who for 24 yrs. continued to fill that position, being in turn succeeded by the present local Reform leader, Mr. Hardy. Mr. B. may therefore be regarded as the "Father" of Lib. govt. in his native Province. In the Ho. of Commons he was urged to accept the leadership, but declined the honour. He was, nevertheless, one of the greatest champions in the well-remembered contest over the Pacific Scandal, which resulted in the downfall of Sir John A. Macdonald. When Mr. Mackenzie became Prime Minister of Can., Mr. B. accepted a position in his cabinet, without office. He was sworn of the Privy Council, Nov. 7, 1873. In Feb., 1874, he resigned owing to ill-health. In May, 1875, he accepted office as Mr. of Justice, and while such undertook an official mission to Eng., touching amendments to the law of extradition, etc. He was mainly instrumental in perfecting the constitution of the Supreme Ct. of Can. at its establishment, and personally selected the judges first apptd. thereto. After the defeat of the Mackenzie Govt. at the polls, 1878, he was chosen leader of the Lib. party in the Ho. of Commons, in place of the ex-Premier, whose health had become impaired by his arduous official labours. He remained in that position until after the g. e. of 1887, when he retired and was succeeded by Mr. Laurier. Subsequent to that event he took no prominent part either in the debates in the House, or in the general work of his party. At the g. e. 1890, he declined renomination, and sent to his constituents in West Durham, a letter, expressing his views of the condition and prospects of the country. This letter was believed to be of the greatest importance, but it was not published until after the elections. When the letter was made public, it created a genuine sensation, for it not only announced the great leader's retirement from political life, but expressed the gravest forebodings concerning the future of Can. "The splendid oratory and brilliant genius of Mr. B.," says Mr. Adam, from whose work of biography we have taken some of the facts herein, "were keenly missed in Parlt., and many were the hopes expressed that he would reconsider his determination, and return to his rightful place as leader of his party." In June, 1892, these hopes were dispelled by the acceptance by Mr. B. of an invitation extended to him by the leaders of the Irish parliamentary party, to accept a seat in the Brit. Ho. of Commons. He landed in Irel. a few weeks previous to the election of 1892, and was received with great cordiality. He stood for the constituency of South Longford, being opposed by J. H. Miller, in the Con. interest. At the close of the poll the vote stood: Hon. E. Blake, N., 2544; J. H. Miller, C., 347. His advent into Imp. politics was made under the most auspicious circumstances, and fully justified the fondest hopes of his friends. At the first dinner after the election of the Eighty Club, the great Lib. fighting organization, he was the guest of the evening, and made a speech, which was widely commented upon, and highly eulogized as the clearest exposition of the policy of Home Rule that had, up to that time, been heard. Since then he has continued to distinguish himself in the cause of Irel. In 1894 he was elected a mem. of the Ex. Comte. of the Irish Parliamentary party. In the same year he was included in the Royal Comn., apptd. to enquire into the financial relations between Gt. Brit. and Irel. This Comte. reported that Irel. was bearing an unfair share of taxation, and in 1897 Mr. B. was selected to move an amendment to the address in reply to the Queen's speech on the subject. Later, he moved a substantive resolution thereon. The London Daily News, in commenting on his speech, said that "his argument lost nothing by the moderation of his tone, and gained much by the skill with which it was marshalled, supported by a multitude of facts and figures. In spite of the mass of detail with which the speech was weighted, he succeeded in commanding attention to the last." The speech occupied more than two hours in its delivery. In 1895 he was re-elected by acclamation for South Longford. In the same year he went to New Zealand, to serve as arbitrator between the New Zealand Govt. and the New Zealand Midland Ry. Co., and made his award in Dec., wholly in favour of the Govt. In 1896 he was one of the Comte. of 15 of the Ho. of Commons, apptd. to investigate South African affairs and the causes of the Transvaal raid. His cross examination of Cecil Rhodes has been spoken of as "a masterly piece of work." Mr. B. has been very successful in obtaining funds for carrying on the work of the Irish Parliamentary party, and has himself contributed largely thereto. To the election fund of the McCarthyite wing of the Nationalist party, 1895, his subscription was £1,000. Mr. B. was the first (and for 14 yrs. continuously) Presdt. of the Toronto Genl. Trusts Co. On his resignation of the office, 1896, the other directors of the Co. presented the Ont. Legislature with his portrait in oils, "to mark their esteem for him and their appreciation of his services in some lasting way." Throughout his career, his interest in education—and especially higher education — has been most marked. In 1873 he was elected Chancellor of the Univ. of Toronto. In 1888 he gave $2,500 to found scholarships in Political Science in that institution, and in 1891 he agreed to give $20,000 as a fund towards endowing junior matriculation scholarships therein. After the destruction of the buildings of the Univ. by fire, 1890, he gave largely to the rebuilding fund, and did much otherwise to assist in the work of restoration. He received the hon. degree of LL.D., from his Alma Mater, 1889. He declined a K.C.M.G., for his public services, 1876. He was a del. to the 3rd Commercial Congress, London, 1893. Politically, he is now an Ind. Lib. At a dinner given in his honour in Toronto, Feb., 1894, he called himself an "Irishman, and an Imperialist, not in a jingo sense, but an Imperialist in the fullest sense of the word, and with the belief that the destiny of the Brit. Empire is to occupy the foremost position as a civilizer and Christianizer throughout the whole world." Continuing, he said, "he looked forward to the granting of Home Rule to Irel. in the near future, and thereafter to seeing systems of local govt. established in all the great historical and natural divisions of Gt. Brit. with one Federal Parlt. in control." His portrait, painted by Grier, was exhibited at the Royal Acad., London, 1895. Mr. B. is a mem. of the Ch. of Eng., of evangel. leanings. He m. 1858. BLAKE, Mrs. Kathleen, journalist, was b. at Castleclakeney, Irel., May, 1863. Ed. in Dublin and Belgium, she m. at 15, and came to Am., 1884. Not long afterwards she entered upon a journalistic career in Can., where, with the exception of extended visits to the U.S. and abroad, she has since resided. A remarkable feature of her work is that she conducts successfully two entirely separate and distinct depts. of the newspaper she represents (The Toronto Mail and Empire), being special travelling correspondent and ed. of the page devoted to the "Woman's Kingdom." Mrs. B. has published a series of popular sketches on Dickensland, being the result of explorations in every portion of London made famous by the great Eng. novelist. Her letters from the World's Columbian Exposition, 1893, and from London during the celebration of the Queen's Diamond Jubilee, 1897, were remarkable for their brilliancy and literary merit. She is best known by her pen name "Kit," over which she has done most of her work. She is said to be now engaged upon a novel.—Toronto, Ont.

BLAKE, Hon. Samuel Hume, Q.C., is the 2nd s. of the late Hon. W. H. Blake, Chancellor of U. C., 1850-62. B. in Toronto, Aug. 31, 1835, he was ed. at U. C. Coll., and subsequently spent 4 yrs. in a mercantile establishment. Entering Toronto Univ. (B.A., 1858), he studied law in the office of his uncle, the late Mr. Justice Connor, LL.D., became a sol., 1858, and was called to the bar, 1860. He practised in Toronto, in partnership with his bro., was created a Q. C. by the Ont. Govt., 1872 (an honor likewise conferred by the Marquis of Lansdowne, 1885), and became Vice-Chancellor of the Ct. of Chancery of Ont., receiving his appointment on the recommendation of Sir John A. Macdonald, Dec. 2, 1872. After serving successfully as junior and senior Vice-Chancellor, he retired from the Bench, May 15, 1881, and resumed practice at the bar. He is now one of the principals in the extensive and long established firm of Blake, Lash & Cassels, and takes rank as one of the foremost practitioners in Ont. As an indication of his industrious and methodical habits, it is recorded that on leaving the Bench there did not remain a single case unadjudicated in his Ct. awaiting his decision. He was apptd. an hon. mem. of the Law Faculty of Toronto Univ., 1888, and has been frequently entrusted with the conduct of the Crown business at the assizes. In 1895 he was counsel for the Univ. of Toronto before the Royal Comn. then apptd. to enquire into the affairs of the Univ. Politically, Mr. B., like his father and bro. and other mems. of his family, is a Lib., and has taken part in many political battles in the interests of his party. He has, however, never been induced to enter Parliament, or to occupy any other representative position, though often pressed to do so. Outside of his profession, he gives much attention to religious and philanthropic work, being one of the leaders of the Evan. sch. of Churchmen, and warmly devoted to all manner of Christian effort. Throughout his long and busy professional career he has never neglected his duties as a Sunday school teacher. He has also assisted other teachers by holding a class for their benefit every Saturday afternoon to aid them in the study of the Intern. lesson for the Sabbath. In 1882 he was chosen Presdt. of the Intern. Convention of Sunday Schs. He has likewise held, and continues to hold, the Presidency of the Y.M.C. Assn., the Presidency of the Prisoners' Aid Assn., the Presidency of the Toronto branch of the Evangel. Alliance, and the Presidency of the Prot. Churchman's Union and Tract Soc. He is also a dir. of the Evangelical Churchman Publishing Co., a dir. of the Temp. and Genl. Life Assur. Co., a dir. of Bp. Ridley Coll., V.-P. of the Lord's Day Alliance, and V.-P. of the Toronto City Mission. A total abstainer himself, he has at the same time done his utmost to promote the spread of Temp. on every side. He m. Feb., 1859, Rebecca, 3rd dau. of the late Rt. Rev. B. Cronyn, Lord Bp. of Huron.—256 Jarvis St., Toronto.

BLANCHET, Hon. Jean Gervais Protais, judge and jurist, is a mem. of a family many of whose mems. have greatly distinguished themselves in professional and public life; two of his uncles, the late Bishops François Norbert Blanchet and Augustin Magloire Blanchet, were among the pioneers of evangelization on the Pacific coast. He is the s. of the late C. Blanchet, N.P., of St. François, Beauce, P.Q., and was b. at St. Gervais, same Province, Feb. 1843, Ed. at Nicolet Coll., he subsequently entered Laval Univ. to pursue the law course at that institution, and was called to the bar 1863. He practised throughout at the Quebec bar, was created a Q. C. by the Govt. of Quebec 1876, had the same honour conferred upon him by the Marquis of Lorne, 1880, was elected Bâtonnier of the Quebec sec. of the bar, 1889, and Bâtonnier-Général of the Province, 1891. A Con., when in political life, he sat in that interest for Beauce in the Quebec Assembly continuously from the date of his first election Nov. 1881, up to his appt. to the bench, Sept. 19, 1891. He held the office of Provl. Secy. in both the Mousseau and Ross administrations, and was leader of the Con. opposition to Mr. Mercier in the Assembly 1890-91. While in the legislature he took a prominent part in all the important debates, including the Provl. autonomy question, the exercise of the veto power, and the Riel affair. He was one of the Comnrs. selected, 1887, to revise the statute law of the province, a work which was completed within one year. He received the hon. degree of LL.D. from Laval Univ., 1891. His Lordship is an hon. mem. of the Hist. Soc. of Montreal, of L'Athenée Louisianais and of the Geol. Soc. of Bordeaux, France. He was for many years Presdt. of the Asbestos Mining and Manfg. Co. of Can., and

BLEWETT, Mrs. Jean, author, is the dau. of John and Janet McKishney, natives of Argyleshire, Scot., and was b. at Scotia, Lake Erie, Ont., Nov. 4, 1862, and ed. at the St. Thomas Coll. Inst. She is perhaps better known in the U. S. than in Can. Her success in literature began with the publication of "Cabinet Articles," a series of pen pictures, quaint and grave and gay, which appeared in various magazines and newspapers. These were too unique to pass unnoticed, "and succeeded," says her biographer, Stanley Waterloo, "in winning for the modest young author a permanent place among writers of note, and a firm hold upon the hearts of thousands of readers on this continent. She possesses that subtle gift which insures success in her profession, the power to make you hear, see and feel with her. Thus, she writes of a man, and you know him well, his virtues, vices and absurdities; she writes of a child at play, and you hear its laughter; of a wild bird nesting, and you see the shining head and bosom, and catch the smell of leaves and moss and dewwet grass." At 17 she wrote "Out of the Depths," a book of some merit, but decidedly inferior to her later works. Mrs. B's. poems are, perhaps, her very best works, and has led to her being called "The sweetest of Canada's poets." A collection of these is to be brought out in book form during the year by the Lippincotts. Of late she has written much in verse and prose for the Globe. She m., some years ago,

Ordained deacon 1881, and priest 1883, by Archbp. Lewis, he volunteered to proceed as a missionary to the Upper Ottawa country, and for 12 yrs. laboured there as a pioneer missionary. During that time he organized 12 congs. in a dist. embracing 13 townships, and built 9 churches and 2 parsonage houses. He established the "associate mission plan," employing young men as his assistants, and training them as future missionaries, with the result that 10 candidates were presented by him for admission to the holy ministry. In recognition and approval of his work he was apptd R. D. of Renfrew, 1889, and was the same year named rector of Eganville. In 1896 he was elected chairman of the Rural Deans of the Diocese of Ottawa. Mr. B. established "The Clerical Guide and Churchman's Directory," 1876, (2nd ed., 1879), and he has written much for the religious press. He m. 1873, Mary Letitia, 2nd dau. of Lt.-Col. G. H. BOND, The Right Rev. William Bennett, Bishop of Montreal (Ch. of Eng.), belongs to a Cornish family, and was b. in Truro, Eng., Sept. 10, 1815. He received his primary education in his native place and in London. Leaving Eng. at an early age, he went to Nfd., where he followed secular pursuits. His inclinations, however, led him to an ecclesiastical life, and he was prepared for holy orders by the late Archdeacon Bridge. In 1840, under the advice of the late Rev. Mark Willoughby, he proceeded to Quebec, where, upon the completion of his studies, he was admitted to the diaconate, and, in 1841, was raised to the priesthood by the late Bp. Mountain. For two yrs. subsequent to his ordination, he was a travelling missionary, his headquarters being first, Russelltown Flats, and then Napierville. Under instructions from Bp. Mountain he organized several missions in the E. T., and he also founded sch's. in connection with the Nfd. Sch. Soc., establishing 11 in the tp. of Hemmingford alone. In 1842 he became incumbent of Lachine, where he remained for 6 yrs. Leaving there, he was called to St. Georges, Montreal, as asst. to the late Dr. Leach. His connection with this important parish continued, without interruption, for 30 yrs., first as asst., and afterwards, from 1860 until his elevation to the Episcopate, as rector. It is said that he had no superior among the clergy of the diocese as an administrator. While rector of St. George's, the new ch. edifice was built in Dom. Square, together with the sch.-house and rectory. Apptd. R. D. of Hochelaga, 1863, and a Canon, 1866, he was chosen Archdeacon of Hochelaga, 1870, and Dean of Montreal, 1873. The resignation of Dr. Oxenden, 1878, making it necessary to elect a successor to him, the choice of the synod fell upon Dean Bond, and he was duly consecrated Bp. of Montreal, in that city, Jan. 25, 1879, by the Bp. (Medley) of Fredericton, assisted by the Bps. of N. S., Quebec, Algoma, Ont. and Niagara. After his election he withdrew his claim to the Primacy of Can., which had previously gone with the Bishopric of Montreal, and the late Dr. Medley, Bp. of Fredericton, as the earliest occupant of the Episcopal bench, became ipso facto Metropolitan. It should be added that his Lordship was for some yrs. chaplain of the 1st or Prince of Wales Regt., and served as such with his corps on the eastern frontier, during the Fenian raids, 1866 and 1870. He received the hon. degree of M.A., from Bishops' Coll., Lennoxville, 1854, and that of LL.D., from McGill Univ., 1870. His Lordship is a gov. of the Prot. Hospital for the Insane, V.-P. of the Mont. Aux. of the Brit. and For. Bible Soc., Presdt. of the Corporation of Bishops' Coll. Univ., Lennoxville, and visitor of the Coll., Presdt. of the Montreal Diocesan Theol. Coll., Presidt. of the Ch. Home, Montreal; Presdt. of the Robt. Jones' Convalescent Hospital, and Presdt. of the Andrews Home. He has always been an ardent supporter of the temperance cause, and likewise earnest in the cause of good govt., both politically and in municipal matters. He was one of the originators of the Citizen's League, Montreal, 1888. As an evidence of the good-will entertained towards him by other religious denominations, it is related, that when prostrated by illness in 1893, prayers were offered for his spiritual and temporal welfare in the R. C. churches in Montreal. His Lordship m. 1841, Miss Eliza Longley, of St. John's, Nfd., (she d. June 20, 1879).—"Bishopscourt," 42 Union Avenue, Montreal.

BOOTH, John Rudolphus, lumber merchant and railway promoter, was b. at Waterloo, P.Q., 1826, and ed. there. Moving to Ottawa, 1857, he saw the great possibilities of the Chaudiere with its vast water power. He built a small shingle mill on the site of what was afterwards known as Booth's mammoth lumber mill. In time he became one of the largest limit owners in Can., as well as one of the most extensive manufacturers of lumber. He controlled 640,000 acres of timber, and cut annually at his mills from 25,000,000 to 30,000,000 feet of lumber. As an illustration of his foresight, the Ottawa Journal has related that during the prevalence of hard times in 1874-76, when other lumber merchants, thinking the bottom had dropped out of the market and things were going to remain in that condition, were disposing of their limits by auction, Mr. B. was always on hand to bid for them. "He had faith in the country," adds the Journal, "while they had not, and now these limits are worth five times the amount he paid for them, and this, too, after he has cut all the logs off them he required for his business." Owing to fires in his mills and yards, Mr. B. has now almost entirely closed his lumber business at Ottawa, and is devoting much of his time to ry. construction and development. One of his first works in this direction was the building of a short line in the Temiscamingue region, where he was also a promoter of the Temiscamingue Steamboat Co. In 1881 he threw himself into the work of building the Can. Atlantic road, connecting Ottawa directly with Montreal and the New Eng. States. Since then he has taken up the Ottawa, Arnprior and Parry Sound Ry. scheme, and has carried it to completion as far as Georgian Bay. Of this scheme the Toronto Globe says: "It is a part of one of the biggest enterprises which any private individual ever undertook on this continent. Mr. B. aims at no less than making the O. A. and P. S. Ry. the greatest avenue to the sea of the North-western States and North-west of Can. To this end the mere laying of the iron between Ottawa and the Georgian Bay, gigantic as the task was, is but a beginning. There are elevators to be built, there are steamships to be put on the lakes, agencies have to be established to divert trade into the new route; in short, Mr. B. has to reach out all over the great lakes to make their business tributary to the Parry Sound road. He is aiming at that, and will accomplish it if he lives long enough." In connection with this scheme he proposes establishing a sanitarium for consumptives in Algonquin Park. Mr. B. is Presdt. of both the Can. Atlantic and the Parry Sound Ry. Cos. In Jan., 1897, he received from the Ottawa Bd. of Trade an expression of the appreciation and gratitude of his fellow-countrymen for the energy and enterprise displayed by him in the construction of the latter road. May 25, 1861, and after serving in various parts of the world, retired from the army, 1868. In the same year he was apptd. Major of the 46th Batt. V.M., and soon afterwards went to Red River (now Man.). At the outbreak of the rebellion under Riel, 1870, he took an active part on the side loyal with the late Sir John Schultz, and was one of the Can. party arrested and imprisoned and sentenced to death by the conspirators. Returning to Ont. after the restoration of peace, he engaged in lumbering operations at Lakefield, and was elected reeve of that place, serving for 3 yrs. He became brevet Lt.-Col., 1873, and retired with that rank, 1881. In 1880 he again became a resident of Man., and has since devoted himself to farming at Shellmouth. Elected Warden of the Co. of Russell, he filled that office for 3 yrs. and was subsequently Chairman of the Jl. Bd. of the Western Jl. Dist. He raised a corps of mounted riflemen known as "Boulton's Scouts," and commanded the same throughout the N. W. Rebellion, 1885 (medal.) He was an unsuccessful candidate for the representation of Birtle in the Man. Assembly, g. e. 1879, and for Marquette in the Ho. of Commons, g.e. 1887, and has written an interesting book: "Reminiscences of the North-West Rebellion" (Toronto, 1886). Called to the Senate by the Earl of Derby, Dec. 10, 1889, he has since acted generally with the Lib. party in that chamber. In 1897 he accompanied Sir W. Laurier to Eng. as a mem. of the mil. staff sent to represent Can. at the Queen's Diamond Jubilee. He favours a commercial unity of the Empire upon a free-trade basis, believing that there is a greater economic force for manufacturing industry and agricul. development under that system than under any other commercial policy, at the same time leaving the component parts of the Empire perfect freedom of action. In 1896 he introduced a motion favouring the establishment of an international peace tribunal. Col. B. m. Miss Latter. His daughter, Miss C. R. Ed. at the Petit Semy. de St. Sulpice, he became a law student in the office of the late Norbert Dumas, Montreal. Subsequently he turned his attention to art, studying under the late Theophile Hamel. He spent 3 yrs. at Florence and Rome. He attended no special class or sch., but was much in Overbech's studio, and followed his methods closely. On his return to Can., he devoted himself to the practice of his art, both as a painter and architect. His intimacy with Overbech is noticeable in the frescoes executed by him in the chapel of the Nazareth Asylum, Montreal, the first decorative work undertaken by him after his return to Can. The Ch. of Notre Dame de Lourdes, Montreal, is also an example of his powers as architect, painter and decorator. During recent years he has confined himself almost solely to architecture, and has but lately designed plans for a fine ch. to be erected by the Dom. Fathers at Fall River, Mass. In 1880 he was apptd. mem. of the Bd. of Arts and Manufactures, P.Q. In the same year he was chosen by the Marquis of Lorne to be a mem. of the newly established Royal Can. Acad. of Arts. Elected V.-P. of that body, he continued to hold that position up till quite recently. He has likewise distinguished himself in literature. He was one of the founders of La Revue Canadienne, 1864, and for some yrs. dir. thereof. Some of his reminiscences of travel, and papers on the progress of art in Can., have appeared in that well-known periodical. Among separate works he has published "Jacques et Marie," an historical romance, relating to the dispersion of the French Acadians, 1755; "Nos Grand Meres," a descriptive sketch of the women of old French Can., and two or three volumes of lectures which had been delivered by him at the old Cabinet de Lecture, Montreal. He lost many valuable manuscripts and drawings in a fire at Montebello. Mr. B. m. 1857, Azelie, young. dau. of the late Hon. L. J. Papineau, the famous leader of the insurrection in L. C., 1837. BOVEY, Henry Taylor, educationist, was b. in Devonshire, Eng., Mch. 7, 1852. His primary ed. was received at a private sch., after which he entered Cambridge Univ., where he competed for and obtained an open scholarship. On graduation he took a high place in the mathematical tripos, and shortly afterwards was made a fellow of Queen's Coll. Adopting the profession of a civil engr., he joined the staff of the Mersey Docks and Harbor Works and was in a short time apptd. an asst. engr. on this work, and in this capacity had charge of some of the most important structures then in progress. In 1877 he came to Can. on his appt. as Prof. of Civil Engineering and Applied Mech. in McGill Univ. At that time the engineering courses in the Univ. were managed as a branch of the faculty of arts, and were without buildings or equipment. The following year, however, a dept. of applied science was constituted, and Prof. B. was elected its Dean. The Macdonald and other endowments enabled the Univ. to erect the magnificent engineering buildings not long since completed, which were planned and equipped by Dean B., and the whole of the work carried out under his direct supervision. Prof. B. is the author of "Applied Mechanics," (1883); "The Theory of Structures and Strength of Materials," (1892); "The Strength of Canadian Douglas Fir, Red Pine and Spruce," (1895); "A Treatise on Hydraulics," (do) and of various papers, one of them on the Public Waterworks of Can., which he has read before the Royal Soc. of Can and other bodies. He was Secy. of the Can. Soc. of C. E., from the foundation of the Soc. until recently, and is now a V.-P. of the Soc. after which he studied for 2 yrs. at Berlin, Leipsic, Geneva and the Sorbonne, Paris. Ordained, 1883, he was called to the pastorate of James St. Ch., Hamilton, Ont., 1887, and continued there till 1894. He was called to the pastorate of the 1st Bapt. Ch., St. Paul, Minn., 1893, but declined. He resigned his charge early in 1894, to spend 6 mths. travelling in Egypt, Arabia, the Holy Land, Greece and Turkey, but was recalled to his old charge in Hamilton the same year and accepted. He is highly regarded as a preacher and lecturer, and is a persona grata not only in his own Ch. but among people of all denominations, because of his catholic spirit. He contested Hamilton for the Ho. of Commons at the g. e. 1896, in the Con. interest, and was defeated by 23 votes. He is unm.—Hamilton, Ont.

BOWELL, Hon. Sir Mackenzie, politician, is the s. of the late John Bowell, carpenter and builder, and was b. at Rickinghall, Suffolk, Eng., Dec. 27, 1823. Coming to Can. with his parents, 1833, he was apprenticed shortly afterwards to the printing business in the office of the Belleville Intelligencer, of which newspaper, he became, in after yrs., ed. and prop. Elected chairman of the Bd. of Sch. trustees, Belleville, he joined the Orange Order, and was elected Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of Ont. East, and, later, Grand Master and Sovereign of the Orange Assn. of Brit. Am. He is also a Forester. He became V.-P. of the Ont. Agricul. and Arts Assn., and Presdt. of the Ont. Press Assn. He entered the V. M. service as ensign in the Belleville Rifle Co., 1857, and was stationed with the corps of observation sent to the western frontier of Ont. during the Am. civil war, 1864. Subsequently, he was on special service at Prescott, on the St. Lawrence, at the time of the first Fenian raid. Promoted major of the 49th Batt., Feb., 1867, he attained the rank of lt.-col., Feb., 1872, and retired from the force with that rank, Mch., 1874. Mr. B. was an unsuccessful candidate for the representation of North Hastings in the Can. Assembly, g. e., 1863. At the first g. e. for the Ho. of Commons after Confederation, he was returned for North Hastings, and continued its representative in the Commons for an unbroken period of 25 yrs., being then called to the Senate. As a private mem., he sat on the Select Comte. of the Commons apptd. to enquire into the causes of the difficulties in the N. W. T., 1869-70, and he subsequently moved for the expulsion of Louis Riel from Parlt. For his action in this matter he received a testimonial from the Orange body. On the return of the Cons. to power, 1878, he entered Sir John Macdonald's cabinet as Mr. of Customs, occupying that office for 13 yrs. During that period the "N. P." was developed, and it fell to his lot to carry the new system into operation. Under Sir John Abbott he was Mr. of Militia, and under Sir John Thompson, he was Mr. of Trade and Commerce. On the demise of the last named statesman, Dec., 1894, Mr. B. formed an Admin. whose main policy was the enforcement of remedial legislation in the matter of the Manitoba Sch. question. Having failed to accomplish this object, he retired from the Govt., Apl. 27, 1896, and was succeeded in the Premiership by Sir Chas. Tupper. As Mr. of Trade and Commerce, he was sent on a trade mission to Australia, 1893. One of the results of his journey was the Colonial Conf., that assembled in Ottawa, June, 1894, over whose deliberations he presided. He was apptd. a K.C.M.G., Jan. 1, 1895, shortly after becoming Prime Minister. Subsequent to his retirement from office, he served as a del. to Eng. touching the Australian cable scheme, and attended the 3rd Com. Congress in London. He was elected leader of the Con. Opposition in the Senate, Aug. 25, 1896, and during the following month repurchased the copyright of his old newspaper, the Belleville Intelligencer. During the Parliamentary session, 1897, he declared himself perfectly ind. of all party leadership. BOWRING, William Benjamin, merchant, is the s. of the late T. C. Bowring, and grands. of Benj. Bowring, both of whom were prominently associated with commerce and politics in Liverpool, Eng. B. in St. John's, Nfd., 1834, he went to Liverpool early in life with his father, and received his education there and at Birmingham. On its completion he returned to Nfd. and went into business. He next went to N. Y., and while there, founded the N. Y. branch of his father's house under the firm name of Bowring & Archibald. After 7 yrs. he returned to Liverpool, where he has since resided. He joined the head office in that city, and is now the senior partner in the important shipping firm bearing his name, having branches in London, Cardiff, St. John's and N. Y., as well as business ramifications extending over North Am., Russia, and other portions of Europe. It is one of the leading houses in the oil trade. He entered the Liverpool City Council, 1884, being elected for St. Peter's ward, and was subsequently twice returned unopposed. In the Council his business and personal popularity speedily brought him to the front. He was elected an ald. 1892, and apptd. Chairman of the Finance and Estate Comte., an office regarded as the premiership of the civic body. During Mr. B.'s official term, in addition to the initiation of other financial measures, the important Act relative to the conversion of the city debt was passed.

He also prosecuted the extension of the city's boundaries. From 1884 to 1892 Mr. B. was a mem. of the Dock Bd., and in 1893 he was elected Lord Mayor of Liverpool. In politics, he is a Lib., and has been Chairman of the Reform Club and Presdt. of the Exchange Lib. Assn. He is the author of a paper in "Subjects of the Day," on Home Rule in Nfd. He m. BOYD, John Anderson, journalist, is the s. of the late John Boyd, a leading Scottish merchant of Montreal, by his wife — Quinn, from Ulster. B. in Montreal, 1864, he was ed. at the High Sch., and at McGill Univ. He left coll. 1881, before graduating, to follow journalism, and was afterwards connected successively with the Herald, Gazette, Star and Witness, in his native city. In 1885 he was apptd. resident correspondent at Montreal of the Toronto Mail, a position he retains under the Mail and Empire. Much of Mr. B.'s work as a correspondent has been of a noteworthy character. More especially may be mentioned the investigation undertaken by him in 1890, in reference to the Sch. system of Ont. His letters thereanent attracted much attention, and led, it is surmised, to important changes in the sch. laws of the Province. Mr. B. takes a deep pride in his profession, and is always ready to further the interests of newspaper men. He was one of the founders of the Montreal Press Club, and in 1891, took a leading part in the organization of the Intern. League of Press Clubs, established at Pittsburg, and of which he was elected one of the first V.-Ps. In 1896 he became man'g. ed. of Politics (Montreal), and in the same year was elected hon. BOYLE, David, ethnologist, is descended, on his father's side, from an old Ayrshire family, and on his mother's, from Highland forbears, in Perthshire and Argyleshire. B. in Greenock, Renfrewshire, Scot., May 1, 1842, he was ed. at the Mason's Hall Sch. there, and at St. Andrew's Sch., Birkenhead, Eng. Coming to Can., with his parents, 1856, he was apprenticed to a blacksmith, then became a sch. teacher, and was for 10 yrs. Principal of the Elora Public Sch. He has held office as Presdt. of the Co. Teachers' Assns., and as Chairman of the public sch. section of the Provl. Assn. of Teachers. While at Elora his growing interest in scientific subjects, caused him to form, in connection with the sch., a museum, which still remains the most important of its kind in Ont. He was also largely instrumental in founding the Elora Mech. Inst. Library, the largest and best collection of that character in the Province. The striking geological formation of the dist.—Middle Silurian—caused him to become interested in practical geol. work, and his ardour was rewarded by the discovery of several important fossils, the "Murchisonia Boylei" and others being named after him by Prof. Nicholson, who in his work on Palæont. thanks Mr. B. for his indefatigable and zealous efforts in geologic science. For many yrs. Mr. B. has also taken an active interest in the Archæology of Ont., and has now become its chief authority. On leaving Elora he possessed an extensive and valuable collection of Indian relics. This he presented to the Can. Inst., Toronto, and it formed the nucleus of its Archæological Museum, which now ranks in many of its features, one of the first, and in some respects, the first on the Am. continent. He has been Curator of this Museum for about 15 yrs., and his annual Archæological report—an addendum to the report of the Mr. of Education of Ont., has succeeded in arousing a yearly increasing amount of interest in this subject. Mr. B. had charge of the collection of the Ont. Mineral exhibit at the Cincinnati Cent. Exposn., 1888. In 1892 he was entrusted by the Ont. Govt. with the collection of the minerals for the Imperial Inst., London, at which place is also exhibited the well-known colossal map of Ont., planned by Mr. B. He also prepared the Mineral exhibit of the Columbian Exposn., 1893, and had the oversight of the Archæological treasures sent by the province to the World's Fair. His literary work in connection with educational matters has for many yrs. been varied and extensive, and includes the compilation of a series of sch. readers. Of other productions from his pen, the best known are: "Notes on the Life of Dr. Joseph Workman" (Tor., 1894); "Notes on Primitive Man in Ont." (do., 1895); "The History of Scarboro', 1796-1896" (do., 1896). (B.A., Prince of Wales gold med. and Valedictorian, 1861; M.A., 1867; LL.D., 1878). Ordained 1864, he spent his first year at Stratford, passing thence to Drayton. Declining the Vice-Presidency of Mount Allison Univ., N.B., he accepted the chair of Math. and Astronomy in the Iowa Wesl. Univ. Soon after, he became Presdt. of the Simpson Centenary Coll., where he remained for 10 yrs. In 1869 he was elected Presdt. of Iowa Wesl. Univ., but declined. While in the U. S. he did a great deal of lecturing, and was one of the three dels. from the Des Moines Conf. of the Meth. Ch. to the Genl. Conf. in Baltimore in the Centennial year, 1876. On the retirement of the late Dr. Rice from the Hamilton Ladies' Coll., 1878, the Bd. prevailed on Dr. B. to take the presidency of the institution, and its history ever since seems to have justified their choice. Dr. B. received the degree of S.T.D. from the State Univ. of Ind., 1870. He is a senator of Toronto Univ., and a mem. of the Bd. of Regents and a senator of Victoria Univ. For many yrs. he has been also an Exam. in Phil. in the Univ. He is well and favourably known as a lecturer, preacher and writer. His lectures have been principally in defence of free thought, free trade, Home Rule for Irel., etc. He is a pronounced Radical and a Home-Ruler; and was nominated as a del. to the Irish National Con. held in Dublin, 1896. He ran as one of the Lib. candidates for Hamilton at the g. e. 1887, polling 3402 votes to 3571 votes for his Con. opponent, Mr. McKay. His political views and position are thus defined: "A free trader; opposed to an Upper House; believes in the equality of all churches; opposed to exemptions; a Henry George man as far as practicable; opposed to Separate Schs., but believes that the curriculum of the Common Schs. could and should be made acceptable to all." He was tried for supposed heresy by the London, Ont., Conf., 1882, and unanimously acquitted on all the charges. In 1895 he became sole proprietor of Hamilton Ladies' Coll. In 1897 he headed a movement for establishing a Ladies' Univ. in Hamilton. He is V.-P. of the Grimsby Park Co., and was elected Presdt. of the Hamilton Ministerial Assn., 1896. He m. 1863, Miss Sarah Andrews, of Barnstable, Devonshire, Eng. —Ladies' College, Hamilton, Ont.

BURWASH, Rev. Nathaniel (Meth.), educationist, a brother of the preceding, was b. near St. Andrew's, P.Q., July 25, 1839. He was ed. at the local schs., and thereafter served for a time as a public sch. teacher. Entering Victoria Univ., Cobourg, where for a couple of yrs. he was a tutor, he graduated (B.A., 1859), and proceeded to M.A., 1867. After graduation he was received as a clergyman, and went on pastoral duty. Ordained 1864, he was still on circuit, 1867, when called to the chair of Nat. History and Geol. in his Alma Mater. Before entering on the duties of this position he underwent a course of study at Yale Univ., New Haven. Later, he attended Garrett Biblical Inst., Evanston (B.D., 1871; S.T.D., 1876). In 1873 he was chosen Prof. of Theol., and became also Dean of the Faculty of Theol., which position he still holds, conjointly with the chair of Civil Polity in the Arts dept. On the death of Dr. Nelles, 1887, Prof. B. was chosen to succeed him as Presdt. of Victoria Univ. He became a senator of Toronto Univ., 1891, and received the hon. degree of LL.D. from his own Univ., 1892. He was elected a mem. of each Genl. Conf. of the Meth. Ch. from 1874 to 1894, and was advanced to the presidency of the Conf., 1889. Dr. B. was closely identified with the movement, some yrs. ago, in favour of federating the Univs., and it was largely through his efforts that the scheme was consummated. He prepared the first draft of the federation scheme, which was discussed among the graduates of the Univs., and was finally submitted, with amendments, in 1885, to the authorities of the various seats of learning, by all of whom it was adopted, with the exception of those of Trinity, Queen's and McMaster. The removal of Victoria Univ. from Cobourg to Toronto is also due to him. He has written frequently for the religious press, and besides several pamphlets, is the author of a treatise on "Wesley's Doctrinal Standards," of a "Commentary on Romans," and of "Instructive Studies in Theology." CALVIN, Hiram Augustus, merchant and legislator, is the s. of the late D. D. Calvin, who represented Frontenac in the Ont. Assembly for a considerable period, by his second wife, Marion Breck. B. at Garden Island, Ont., April 6, 1851, he was ed. at the public sch. there, at the Woodstock Lit. Inst., and at Queen's Univ., and commenced his business career under his father, whom he succeeded as a lumber merchant, ship-builder and forwarder. He has been Reeve of Garden Island continuously since 1884, and represented Frontenac in the Ho. of Commons, 1892-96, when he declined renomination. Although nominally a supporter of the Con. party, he was throughout perfectly independent in his parliamentary course, and voted against the Govt. on the tariff and on the Man. sch. question. Mr. C. was one of the promoters of the Kingston Foundry and Machinery Co., 1890. He is a gov. of the Kingston Hospital, a trustee of Queen's Univ., and Vice-Chairman of the Sch. of Mining and Agriculture, Kingston. A mem. of the Presb. Ch., he m. CAMERON, Rev. Archibald A. (Bapt.), is the young. s. of the late

Rev. D. Cameron, of Tiverton, Ont., and was b. at Breadalbane, Perthshire, Scot., 1841. Ed. at the Free Ch. sch. Lawers, and at the parish sch., Killin, he came to Can. 1857, and continued his studies at the Grammar schs. at Vankleek Hill and L'Orignal, Ont. After teaching sch. for 5 yrs., he entered Woodstock Coll., 1864, graduating 1867. He became pastor of the Bapt. Ch., Strathroy, the same year; was called to Ottawa, 1871; thence to Winnipeg, 1883, and thence to Denver, Col. Since Nov., 1893, he has been pastor of Calvary Ch., Brooklyn, N.Y. Mr. C. has published a number of pamphlets, chiefly on controversial subjects. His lectures on Bapt. received some attention while he was at Ottawa, and led to a controversy with the Evangel. Alliance in that city.—Brooklyn, N.Y.

CAMERON, Donald Ewen, auditor, was b. of joint Scotch and Irish parentage, at Beaverton, Ont., 1851. Ed. at the local schs., he entered the service of the Bank of Toronto at an early age, resigning, 1875, to accept the managership of the Exchange Bank of Can. at Parkhill. In 1878 he embarked in the business of private banking at Lucknow, Ont. This he successfully carried on until May, 1888, when he was apptd. Asst.-Treas. of the Province of Ont. He resigned this office Oct., 1894, to accept the Genl. Auditorship of the Mutual Reserve Fund Life Assn. of N.Y. In May, 1897, he was advanced to the position of Supdt. of the Western Dept. of this Co., with headquarters in San Francisco. While in Can. he was one of the most effective political speakers belonging to the Lib. party, and an active campaigner on that side of politics. He belonged to the advanced Lib. sch., was an uncompromising free trader, and favoured the idea of Independence as the ultimate destiny of Can. He was one of the founders of the Young Lib. movement, and at the convention in Montreal, 1885, was elected V.-P for Ont. Mr. C. has written largely for the press, and has lectured frequently on temp., political and national subjects. He contributed to the Advance, 1888, a paper entitled "A Canadian Republic." He also takes an active interest in musical matters, and during his say in Toronto was Presdt. of the Haslam Vocal Soc., and of the Orpheus Soc., was Secy. of the Massey Hall Festival, and choirmaster of one of the leading Meth. churches in the city. He was also musical and dramatic critic for one of the daily newspapers. He is a mem. of the Presb. Ch.; and m. 1885, Mary Elizabeth, dau. of R. G. Whitely, Lucknow. —San Francisco, Cal.

CAMERON, Irving Heward, M.D., is the eld. s. of the late Chief-Justice Sir Matthew Crooks Cameron, by his wife, the dau. of Wm. Wedd, and was b. in Toronto. Ed. at U. C. Coll., he pursued his med. studies at the Univ. of Toronto (M.B., 1874), becoming a mem. of the Coll. of P. and S., Ont., the same year. Later, he was a mem. of the Bd. of Exam. of that body, of the Univ. of Toronto, and of the Univ. of Vic. Coll. Apptd. Prof. of the Principles of Surgery and Surgical Path. in his Alma Mater, 1887, he became a senator of the Univ., 1889. He is now in genl. practice, and takes high rank in his profession. A Con. in politics, he has already declined the party nomination for a seat in Parlt. He m. a dau. of Dr. H. H. Wright, of Toronto.—307 Sherbourne Street, Toronto; Toronto Club; Primrose Club, London.

CAMERON, James Chalmers, M.D., is the s. of the late Rev. Jas. Y. Cameron (Presb.), of Niagara Falls, Ont., and was b. 1852. Ed. at U. C. Coll., Toronto (Head Boy, 1870), he followed his professional studies at McGill Univ. (M.D., 1874), and afterwards in Great Brit. and on the Continent. He has since practised in Montreal, where his reputation stands very high, especially in Obst. He was for some yrs. on the Med. staff of the Montreal Genl. Hospital. He was also Asst.-Surg. to the 6th Fusiliers. In 1886 he was apptd. Prof. of Midwifery and Diseases of Infancy in his Alma Mater, since when he has made some important additions to the museum of the Med. Faculty, besides contributing $5,000 to its endowment fund. Prof. C. has contributed some valuable papers to the Med. press, and has lectured on "The function of physical exercise in life," and on other subjects, with much acceptance. He has also written important sections in recent standard works on Obst. and Med. Jurisprudence. He was apptd. hon. Presdt. of the Sec. on Pediatrics at the 2nd Pan.-Am. Med. Congress, Mexico, 1896. CAMERON, The Rt. Rev. John, Bp. of Antigonish, N.S., (R. C.) was b. at St. Andrews, Antigonish, N.S., Feb. 16, 1827. After attending for some yrs. the Normal Sch. at his native place, he was sent to Rome, where he underwent a thorough course in Literature, Science, and Theol., and was ordained there, July 26, 1853. Returning to N. S., 1854, he was apptd. Prof. in St. Francis Xavier's Coll., where he remained till 1863, and at the same time had pastoral charge of the parish of Antigonish. In 1863 he was apptd. to the parish of Arichat. In 1870 he was apptd. coadjutor Bp. of the diocese, being consecrated at Rome by H. E. Cardinal Cullen. Seven yrs. later, upon the resignation of his aged predecessor, Bp. McKinnon, he became Bp. of Arichat. On assuming the administration of the diocese he found a heavy debt remaining to be paid, which had been contracted in building the cath. at Antigonish. At present, and for some time past, the diocese owes nothing. His Lordship takes a deep interest in education, and has since 1877 collected many thousand dollars for St. Francis Xavier Coll., partly to improve the building and partly to form an endowment fund. Bp. C.'s jurisdiction extends over 72 priests and about 73,000 lay Catholics, the great majority of whom are Highland Scotch and Acadian French. In May, 1885, he was sent as papal del. to Three Rivers, P.Q., on the subject of the division of the diocese. In Augt., 1886, he transferred the seat of his diocese to Antigonish, since then it has been known by that name. He celebrated his golden jubilee at Antigonish, June, 1895, on which occasion he was presented with a purse of $2,000, from the clergy, and with one of $1,700 from the laity.—Bishop's Palace, Antigonish, N.S.

CAMERON, John, journalist, is of Scottish-Irish origin, his father having been a native of Argyleshire and his mother of the north of Irel. B. at Markham, Ont., Jan. 21, 1843, he was ed. at the local schs. and in London, Ont., to which city he removed when a boy. At an early age he was apprenticed to the printing business, and in Oct. 1863, started the London Advertiser, in the Lib. interest. In addition thereto, he in 1875, founded The Liberal, at Toronto, as the organ of the Blake wing of the Reform party, and continued to publish it until its discontinuance in the following year. After the death of Hon. Geo. Brown, 1882, he became ed. and Genl. Mangr. of the Toronto Globe, a position he retained till 1890. He has been Presdt. of the Can. Press Assn., and of the Ont. Temp. Alliance, and is a V.-P. of the London branch of the Ont. Lord's Day Alliance. He is the author of "A Canadian in Europe," and of other brochures. A Lib. in politics, he also believes in the prohibition of the liquor traffic, and favors an independent Canada and the closest possible trade relations between the Dom. and other countries. In religious belief, he is a Presb., and holds the office of elder in Park St.

Presb. Ch., London. He m. Sept., 1869, Elizabeth, dau. of the late Capt. D. Miller, Royal Can. Rifles. This lady successfully conducts a monthly paper, Wives and Daughters, which enjoys a large circulation both in Can. and the U. S.—London, Ont.

CAMERON, Hon. John Donald, barrister and legislator, is the s. of John Cameron, of Woodstock, Ont., and is of Scottish Highland descent. B. in East Nissouri, Co. Oxford, Ont., Sept. 18, 1858, he was ed. at the Woodstock Coll. Inst., the Woodstock Coll., and at the Univ. of Toronto, (B. A., gold medal. in Classics and Math., and Prince of Wales prizeman, 1879). Called to the Ont. bar, 1882, he proceeded to Man., where he was also called to the bar the same year. He has since been in active practice at Winnipeg, and is a Bencher of the Law Soc. A Lib. in politics, he was elected, in that interest, to represent South Winnipeg in the Man. Assembly, Jan., 1892, and has since been re-elected to that position on 3 occasions. He became Provl. Secy. and Municipal Commr. in Mr. Greenway's Admn., Jan., 1892, and in Mch., 1896, was selected as one of the Commrs. for Man., to meet in conf. the delegates sent from Ottawa, on the Man. Sch. question. In Oct., 1896, he was sent to Ottawa as a del. from his Govt. on the same question. He was apptd. Atty.-Genl. of Man., vice Sifton, apptd. Min. of the Interior at Ottawa, Nov. 17, 1896. Mr. C. is a mem. of the Presb. Ch. Unm. —Winnipeg: Manitoba Club, Man.

CAMERON, John Robson, journalist, is the 2nd s. of the late Alex. Cameron, merchant, of Perth and Bytown. B. in Perth, Ont., Apl. 19, 1845, he was ed. at Brockville and Quebec, and drifted early into journalism. He has been connected in Can. with the Sarnia Canadian, the Stratford Herald, the Guelph Herald, and the Winnipeg Free Press. He was one of the promoters of the Commonwealth (weekly newspaper), Toronto, 1880. It was too advanced in its views, and died after a brief struggle. Mr. C. has also been employed in several leading Am. newspapers. For 15 yrs. he has been connected with the Hamilton Spectator—first as city ed., then as mang. ed., and he became ed.-in-chief, on the retirement of A. T. Freed, Apl., 1894. He is a Lib.-Con. always. Believes that it is for the good of the party to point out, in party journals, where the managers of the party go wrong; is inclined to be independent of party influences and restive when he thinks the policy of the Lib.-Cons. wrong. He believes thoroughly in a protective tariff for Can. Is a great stickler for purity in elections, and advocates the registration system. He served for many yrs. in the V. M. He was at the Front, 1866, and took part in the affair at Ridgeway. Later, 1870, he accompanied Viscount Wolseley in the first Red River expedition, and served the year out in Fort Garry. Remaining in Man. for a time, he was elected to the Winnipeg City Council, and in 1872, went to the Front to repel the anticipated attack on the part of O'Donoghue and his Fenian allies. As a journalist Mr. C. has influenced a great change, both in the wonderfully improved appearance of the Can. newspapers, and in brightening up the formerly unusually heavy and ponderous editorial columns under his control. The Hamilton Spectator is quoted more often than probably any other paper in Can. CAMERON, Malcolm Colin, barrister and legislator, is the s. of the late Hon. Malcolm Cameron, formerly a mem. of the Can. Govt., and a well-known Temp. advocate, and was b. at Perth, Ont., Apl. 12, 1832. Ed. at Knox Coll., Toronto, he was called to the bar 1860, and has for many yrs. successfully practised his profession in Goderich. He was for some time a mem. of the Town Council, and afterwards Mayor of Goderich. A Lib., he sat for South Huron in the Ho. of Commons, 1867-82; and for West Huron, 1882-87, when defeated. He unsuccessfully contested the same constituency, Feb., 1892 (Vote: Hon. J. C. Patterson, Secy. of State, C., 2179; M. C. Cameron, L., 2154), but was returned at another bye-election, Jan., 1896, and re-elected at the Dom. g. e. 1896. He is the author of a pamphlet, "A Vile Conspiracy Exposed —Mr. M. C. Cameron vindicated" (Goderich, 1892), which had reference to certain infamous charges brought against him by the Goderich Star, and for which charges he brought a criminal action against the Star, and secured a conviction, a withdrawal of the charges and an apology. He is a supporter of Provl. rights, and was opposed to the coercion of Man., though willing that any rights or privilege enjoyed by the Caths. of Man., prior to 1890 which have been encroached on, should be restored to them by the Province. In religion, a Presb.; he m. May, 1855, Jessie H., dau. of Dr. John McLean, late R.N.—"The Maples," Goderich, Ont.

CAMERON, Sir Roderick William, merchant and capitalist, is the s. of the late Duncan Cameron, for many yrs. an active partner in the old N.-W. Fur Co., and subsequently M.P. for Glengarry in the U. C. Assembly. B. at Williamstown, Glengarry, Ont., July 25, 1825, he was ed. at the Grammar schs. of Williamstown and Kingston, and commenced his business career as a commission agent and broker in N.Y. In 1852 he established a line of packet ships between N.Y. and Australia, which line continues to the present day. His firm, R. W. Cameron & Co., are large shippers of merchandise, both by their own vessels and by others. They have offices in London, Eng., and in Australia, as well as in N.Y. Sir R. served as a del. from Can. to Washington, 1849 and 1850, in connection with negotiations between those two countries touching the reciprocity treaty afterwards concluded, and he was an hon. Comnr. from Australia to the International Exhns. at Philadelphia, 1876, and at Paris, 1878. He represented Can. at the Exhns. at Sydney and Melbourne, in 1880 and 1881. For his services on the two occasions last mentioned, he received the honour of knighthood, 1883. He occupies a prominent and influential position in the business world. He has done much, by his judgment and liberality, for the improvement of the thoroughbred horse in the U.S. He was the importer of "Leamington," the sire of "Iroquois," winner of the Derby and St. Leger, in Eng., and of many other well-known horses. An enthusiastic yachtsman, he in 1890, introduced for the first time, the blue ensign of the Royal Can. Yacht Club to various European ports, including Cowes, Christiania, Stockholm and Copenhagen. He is a fellow of the Geol. Societies of Am. and Eng., and during its existence was V.-P. of the Can. Club, N.Y. He is also an hon. V.-P. of the U.E.L. Asson., Ont. CAMPBELL, James B., grain merchant, was b. at Sabrevois, P.Q., 1848. After being engaged in mercantile life in Montreal for some yrs., he left there for Chicago, 1871. In that city he devoted himself to the grain trade, and was a mem. of the Bd. of Trade. Since his return to Montreal, 1893, he has followed the same business. He is best known, however, as a writer on the subject of ocean and lake transportation in connection with the grain trade of Can. and the U. S. He favours the St. Lawrence river and great lake route as the channel of trade and commerce for the northern three-quarters of this continent. Among his publications are "Notes from a Car Window," and "Transportation the Problem of Canada." In 1896 he established a monthly paper called The Can. Transportation Journal, for the purpose of advertising in the United Kingdom the advantages of the St. Lawrence route. He has been a mem. of the Montreal Bd. of Trade since 1893.—20 McTavish St., Montreal.

In Halifax, he was chaplain of the North Brit. Soc. A unionist in ch. polity, he took part in the scheme of union in Can., 1875. Politically, he is a Con., and is strongly of opinion that the Colonies should be represented in the British Parlt., and also that the Ch. of Scot., and all the other Scottish chs. should be represented in the House of Lords. He is a life-long abstainer, and an advocate of public control of the liquor traffic. He m. Sept., 1871, Miss Margt. Johnstone Caie, of St. John, N.B.—Buccleuch Parish, Edinburgh, Scot.

CAMPBELL, Rev. John (Presb.), scholar and educationist, is the s. of the late Jas. Campbell, for many yrs. an eminent publisher in Toronto, who was a native of Edinburgh, Scot., and one of the Campbells of Cawdor, in Nairnshire. B. in Edinburgh, 1840, he was. ed. at Roxburgh House Proprietary Sch., London, and by private tuition on the continent. Designed for a commercial life, he followed a business occupation, first in N. Y. and afterwards in Toronto, till 1861. He then entered Toronto Univ., gaining there many scholarships and prizes (including 3 for prize poem), and graduated, 1865, as honor man of his year, with the Prince of Wales prize and two gold medals. Proceeding to the degree of M.A., 1866, he, at the same time, studied Theol. at Knox Coll., where he likewise took the Prince of Wales prize. During the last illness of the late Prof. Hincks Mr. C. taught the classes in Nat. History in Univ. Coll., and while at that institution presided over the Literary and Scientific, the Natural Science and the Metaph. Socs. connected therewith. He was sergt. of No. 6 Co., Queen's Own Rifles, and was present with his corps at Ridgeway, 1866. While also a student he established, conjointly with Robt. Baldwin, the Y.M.C.A. of Toronto. Mr. C. completed his Theol. course at the New Coll., Edinburgh, and after his ordination, 1868, became minr. of Charles St. Presb. Ch., Toronto. He served as a senator of Toronto Univ., and also as an exam. therein in History and Eng. and in Metaph., for several yrs. In 1873, he was apptd. to his present position, Prof. of Ch. History and Apologetics in the Presb. Coll., Montreal. A Can. writer thus speaks of his literary and scientific attainments: "Prof. C. is an indefatigable student. His private studies are chiefly in the line of history, ethnol. and philology, including palæography. And not only has he distinguished himself, but we may affirm with all safety that he has few, if any, who are his superiors in these departments. Although much of his time outside of class work is occupied with these subjects, his students suffer no loss thereby; the rather are their interests advanced, as his studies bear directly upon the subjects which he teaches. The results of his labor have been given to the public chiefly in the form of a large number of articles contributed, from time to time, in the Brit. and Foreign Evangelical Review; in The Princeton Review; in "The Trans. of the Can. Inst."; in the "Trans. of the Lit. and Hist. Soc., Quebec"; in the Can. Naturalist, and other publications. Besides these, many essays, lectures, etc., bearing marks of his eminent scholarship, have passed through the press. Many of his articles attracted a good deal of attention, and excited considerable comment in the U. S., Eng., and various parts of the continent of Europe; and within the lapse of a brief period we find him in correspondence with a large number of writers of the highest scientific attainments from all parts of the world. In order to show how highly his labours have been appreciated, it will suffice to name the various learned socs. of which he has been made a mem. They are: The Can. Inst., Toronto; the Celtic Soc., Montreal; corres. mem. of the Lit. and Hist. Soc., Quebec; mem of the Soc. of Biblical Archæology, London; hon. local secy. of the Victoria Inst., London; delegue genl. de l' Inst. Ethnograph. de Paris; mem. titulaire de la Soc. Am. de France; hon mem. of the Lega Filellenica, Turin; and hon. corres. of the Anjuman-i-Punjab, Lahore. In addition to the honors we have named, certain special distinctions have been conferred upon him. He has received from l'Inst. Ethnograph. de Paris the insignia of delegue general in gold and silver. The bronze medal of honour of the French Republic, decreed by them to service in the cause of science, was awarded to him; he has also received from King Charles of Roumania the ribbon and medal of the order of merit of the 1st-class." He is also a Fellow of the Royal Soc. of Can., and received from his Alma Mater the degree of LL.D., 1889. In 1895 he was included in the Comn. apptd. by the Ont. Govt. to enquire into the then condition of the Univ. of Toronto. A complete list of Prof. C.'s writings is given in the "Bibliography of the Royal Soc. of Can." His principal work is thought to be "The Hittites, their Inscription and their History" (Tor., 1890; 2 vols.). One of the latest of his public addresses was on the subject of "The Perfect Book and the Perfect Father." It was in reference to certain statements made in this address that Prof. C. was tried for heresy before the Presb. of Montreal, 1893, and condemned by a majority vote. His appeal to the Synod of Montreal and Ottawa, composed largely of his own graduates, was almost unanimously sustained, only 3 members siding with the Montreal majority. To save the Presb. from humiliation, a finding was adopted which granted the appellant a larger theol. liberty than he had claimed. He m. 1875, Mary Helen, eld. dau. of John S. Playfair, and a cousin of Lord Playfair.—Montreal.

(Edin.), and in 1896 passed all examinations before the N. Y. Med. Bd. While in Scot., he made a tour through Ayrshire, visiting particularly the haunts of his favourite poet, Burns, as a result of which he published, 1884, a descriptive volume entitled, "The Land of Burns," a 2nd ed. of which he is now preparing for publication. Dr. C. has long been noted as a temp. advocate. He has filled various local positions, including the Presidency of the Mech. Inst., and of the Huron Med. Assn., and the Chieftainship of the Caledonian Soc., and has long been identified with the Odd-fellows, Foresters, Templars, Chosen Friends and Masons. He is a Lib. in politics, and at the Dom. g. e., 1887, unsuccessfully contested South Huron in that interest. He has written largely for the med., as well as for the general press, and in 1892, received the thanks of the Duke of Argyle for defending the memory of one of his ancestors through the press. In addition to being a Lib., he is a pronounced free trader. In religion, he is a Presb. He m. May, 1872, Jane, dau. of John Laird, Haysville, Ont.—669 Leonard St., Brooklyn, N.Y.

CAMPBELL, William Wilfred, poet, is the s. of the Rev. Thos. Campbell (Ch. of Eng.), by his wife, Matilda Frances Wright, and was b. at Berlin, Ont., June 1, 1861. Ed. at the Univ. of Toronto and at Cambridge, Mass., he was ordained to the Ch. of Eng. ministry, 1885, by the Bp. of New Hampshire, and soon afterwards undertook the toils of a parish in New Eng. Returning to Can., 1888, he became Rector of St. Stephen, N.B. In 1891 he retired from the Ch., and removed to Ottawa, where he secured a position in the C. S. Though the literary spirit was strong in him at an early age, he had none of the advantages necessary to develop genius. He began to write short poems in a village paper, after which he became a contributor to the Atlantic Monthly, the Century, and Harper's Mag. It was not until after his ordination that his poems on the lake region, which have earned for him the title of the "Poet of the Lakes," began to appear. His first volume was "Lake Lyrics and other Poems" (1889), and, since then, there have appeared: "The Dread Voyage" (1893), and "Mordred" and "Hildebrand," two tragedies (1895). One of his poems, "The Mother," published in Harper's Mag., Apl. 1891, is said to have received more notice than any single poem that ever appeared in the Am. press. The Chicago Inter-Ocean placed it among the gems in Eng. literature, and pronounced it the nearest approach to a great poem which had cropped out in current literature for many a long day. CARRITTE, Miss Nita, vocalist, was b. in Halifax, N.S., and is of Eng. and French origin. Her first appearance in public was made at a ch. concert in St. John, N.B., she being then a child 5 yrs. old, and her first appearance in opera took place in the same city when she was 14. On this latter occasion she created the role of "Patience" in Gilbert & Sullivan's opera of that name. She first went to Paris to finish her education. She then began vocal study with Mad. Lagrange. She was her favourite pupil, and while with her attracted the notice of Gounod. Although she had no intention of entering the musical profession, and although her parents endeavoured to dissuade her from so doing, she was soon busy singing on the concert platform in Paris. Sir Augustus Harris paid a special visit to Paris to hear her, and at once engaged her to sing in Eng. She made her first appearance there in opera at Convent Garden as Michaela, 1890, and repeated the role till the end of the season. She then sang the principal prima donna roles of grand opera with the Carl Rosa Opera Co. Then she had a good offer from Mr. Carte to take Miss Palliser's part in "The Gondoliers," but, after 3 months' service at the Savoy, her voice failed, and she was obliged to break the 15 months' engagement and get back to France in order to recover. When her voice returned she began to study under Mad. Marchesi, and received the benefit of Massenet's advice. She studied acting at the Grand Opera, Paris, under the finest masters, made herself proficient in several languages, and diversified her studies with lessons in dancing. In 1893 she accepted an offer to join Duff's Eng. Opera Co. in Am. She sang the prima donna parts in "Faust," "Cavalleria Rusticana," "Pagliacci," and "Carmen," throughout the 2 seasons' tours in the principal cities of the States. In 1895 she joined the Carl Rosa Co. again, and appeared in Eng. as Carmen. Later in the same year, she appeared in London, where she received a cordial reception. She is now touring in the U. S. Mdlle. C.'s voice is what the French call forte legère, dramatic in quality, but with coloratura power. CARSCALLEN, Hon. J. D., merchant and banker, is a native of Newburg, Ont., where he was ed. Leaving home, 1852, he has since risen to a high position in the commercial life of N. J., and was recently elected Presdt. of the 3rd National Bank, Jersey City.—Jersey City, N.J.

CARSLEY, Samuel, merchant, is the s. of the late Wm. Carsley, of Bishop's Castle, Shropshire, Eng., and was b. there, 1835. Apprenticed to the dry goods trade in Ellesmere, he spent some yrs. in business in Manchester, Liverpool and London, before coming to Can., 1857. From 1862 to 1871, when he removed to Montreal, he was in business in Kingston, Ont. He is now at the head of the S. Carsley Co., one of the most extensive wholesale and retail dry goods firms existing in the Dom. In 1893 this house erected buildings for its use in St. James' St., Montreal, at a cost of $300,000. The wholesale branch has offices in St. Peter St., and there is a London branch at 18 Bartholomew Close, in that city. Mr. C. is an active mem. of the Montreal Bd. of Trade, and has held office as Presdt. of the United Prot. Workingmen's Soc., and of the Soc. for the Protection of Women and Children. He continues to take a deep interest in the latter assn., and has been instrumental in obtaining some beneficent reforms in connection with its objects. He is also a dir. of the Lachine Rapids Hydraulic and Land Co. He is one of the few business men in Can. who will not permit the insertion of his name in mercantile agency publications. His eld. s., Wm. Francis Carsley, is a partner in the firm. —114 Mackay, St., Montreal.

CARSON, Joseph Hugh, temperance reformer, is the s. of Hugh Carson, by his wife, Anne Miner. B. in Montreal, 1854, he was ed. at St. John's (P. Q.), High Sch. He has been for yrs. prominently identified with the temp. cause and has held for a considerable period the office of Recording Secy. of the Dom. Council of the Dom. Alliance, and of Gen. Secy. of the Quebec Provl. Alliance. He is also a prominent mem. of the Meth. Ch., and has attended its annual and genl. confs., he was likewise a del. to the Ecumenical Conf., held at Washington, 1891. He is a trustee, official and supt. of the Sherbrooke St. Ch. and Sunday Sch., Montreal, and Secy. of the Montreal Meth. Sunday Sch. Assn. He was formerly an officer in the St. John's Garrison Arty. He believes the suppression of the liquor traffic is the greatest national issue before the country, and on the proper settlement of this question the whole future of the country depends.—162 St. James' St., Montreal.

CARSWELL, Edward, public lecturer, is the s. of John and Sarah Carswell, the former of whom was an early watchmaker in York, now Toronto. B. at Ware, Eng., Feb. 19, 1832, he was brought to Can. in infancy and received his education in Toronto. By profession he is a scenic artist. Mr. C. holds high rank in the Temp. order in Can., and is also a V.-P. of the National Temp. Soc. and Publication House, N. Y. He was a del. to and a speaker at the World s Temp. Congress, Chicago, 1893, and enjoys a wide reputation as a lecturer on Temp. and other subjects. He has addressed audiences in all parts of the U. S. and Can., frequently in company with such leaders of opinion as Wendall Phillips, W. Lloyd Garrison, Horace Greeley, Rev. H. W. Beecher, J. B. Gough, Hy. Wilson and Rev. Dr. Cuyler. Among his best-known lectures are those on "Personal Influence," "Moderation," "Prohibition," "Let it alone, and it Won't Hurt You," "Is Alcohol as a Beverage a Good Creature of God?" "Fashion, Avarice and Appetite," and "Laughing." He is also the author of many songs and stories for children. Politically, he is an old Reformer, but he has recently supported the Lib.-Con. party. He is for the old flag, now and forever, and no separation from the Mother Country. He m. May, 1856, Miss Rebecca Thomas, Oshawa.—Oshawa, Ont.

CARTWRIGHT, The Hon. Sir Richard John, statesman, is the only s. of the late Rev. R. D. Cartwright, Chaplain to the Forces, Kingston, Ont., by his wife Harriet, dau. of Conway Edward Dobbs, of Dublin, Irel., and is the grands. of the Hon. Richard Cartwright (U. E. L.), formerly a Judge of the Common Pleas in U. C., and afterwards a mem. of the Leg. Council of that province. B. at Kingston, Dec. 4, 1835, he was ed. at Trinity Coll., Dublin, and after his return to Can., became Presdt. of the Commercial Bank of Can., an institution now defunct. He entered public life as mem. for Lennox and Addington in the Can. Assembly, g. e. 1863, and continued to sit for that constituency until the Union of 1867. Under the B. N. A. Act Lennox and Addington was divided into two constituencies, and from 1867 to 1878 Mr. C. sat for Lennox. Being then defeated, he was returned for Centre Huron, which he represented up to the close of the Parlt. He was then elected for South Huron. Since the g. e. of 1887 he has sat for South Oxford. He belongs to one of the old Tory families of U. C., and in the early days of his public life gave an ind. support to Sir John Macdonald. Since the period of the "Pacific Scandal" he has acted with and been a mem. of the Reform party. On the resignation of the Macdonald Admn., Nov., 1873, he became Finance Minister in the cabinet then formed by Mr. Mackenzie, and continued in that office up to the defeat of the Govt., Sept., 1878. Subsequently, while in opposition, he became the chief spokesman for his party on all fiscal subjects, and developed in debate powers of oratory superior to all the public men of his time, save only the Hon. William Macdougall. His speech in seconding the vote of thanks to the volunteers who had served in the N.-W. rebellion, 1885, is regarded as one of the masterpieces of Can. parliamentary eloquence. On Sir W. Laurier's accession to power, July, 1896, Sir Richard (he was created a K.C.M.G., 1879) became Mr. of Trade and Commerce in the new Govt., and as such was engaged for some months in framing a new fiscal policy for the Dom. In Feb., 1897, he undertook, with Sir L. H. Davies, a trade mission to Washington. He is a large property owner in Kingston and vicinity, and has given largely in land and money to charitable and deserving undertakings. He was elected Presdt. of the Women's Med. Coll., Kingston, 1887, is a V.-P. of the Trusts Corporation of Ont., one of the three trustees in Can. for the Equitable Life Ins. Co., and Presdt. of the Frontenac Loan and Invest Co. During its existence he was Presdt. of the Ont. Reform Club, Toronto, and he is now Presdt. of the Eastern Ont. Lib. Assn. He is, ex officio, a mem. of the Internal Economy Comte., Ho. of Commons, and during Sir W. Laurier's absence from Canada, 1897, he was temporarily leader of the Govt. in that chamber. He was promoted a G.C.M.G., on the completion of the 60th year of H. M.'s reign, 1897. Sir Richard is a mem. of the Ch. of Eng. He m. 1859, Frances, eld. dau. of Col. Alex. Lawe, H.E.I.C.S., of Cork, Irel. Lady C. is a V.-P. of the Local Council of Women, Kingston. Their eld. s., Maj. Robt. Cartwright, is an offir. in the Can. Permt. Mil. Force.—Ottawa; King St., Kingston, Ont.; "The Maples," Co. Frontenac, Ont.; Rideau Club, Ottawa.

"A very able man, a man unsurpassed in political ability, in political knowledge, unsurpassed for sound thinking, unsurpassed in the expression of his views in a forcible and elegant manner."—Sir Oliver Mowat.

"One of the very few examples in this new country of a man of means making statecraft his profession, and devoting himself for 30 years entirely to politics—giving his time and means to a cause from which he cannot hope in case of success for anything more than an opportunity to serve his country.—Globe.

CARUS-WILSON, Charles Ashley, is the young. s. of the late Rev. Chas. Carus-Wilson, Vicar of St. Mark's, Leamington, and grands. of the late Rev. Wm. Carus-Wilson, of Casterton Hall, Westmoreland, well known for the religious work he instituted among Brit. soldiers and for the Clergy Daughters' Sch. which he built on his own estate. B. at Eastry, Kent, Eng., he was ed. at Haileybury Coll. and at the Royal Indian Engineering Coll., at Cooper's Hill, near Windsor. He graduated B.A. (Nat. Science Tripos) at the Univ. of Cambridge, 1887, and M.A., 1891. He then devoted his attention to electrical engineering, and after much practical work at Paris, Vienna, Bucharest, Antwerp and Brussels, took charge of one of the laboratories at Cooper's Hill. In 1890 he was elected to the Professorship of Mech. Engineering and Thermodynamics at McGill Univ., Montreal, and was subsequently apptd. to the newly endowed chair of Electrical Engineering at that institution, whose fine laboratories were fitted up under his supervision. He is a mem. of the Physical Soc. of London, and of the Inst. of Electrical Engrs., and an assoc. mem. of the Inst. of C. Engrs., and a frequent contributor to their journals and to other scientific publications. —66 McTavish St., Montreal.

CARUS-WILSON, Mrs. Mary Louisa Georgina, wife of the preceding, is the dau. of Col. Martin Petrie, late H. M.s 97th Regt., by Eleanora Grant, his wife, one of the Macdowalls of Gartland, Scot., who were lineal descendants of the ancient kings of Galloway. B. at Yorktown, Surrey Eng., she was ed. at Univ. Coll., London (B.A., 1883), and has since devoted herself to a life of usefulness. Besides giving many lectures in London and elsewhere on the history of Christian missions, the systematic study of Holy Scripture, General Lit. and Education, she became the founder and Presdt. of the "College by Post," which gives gratuitous instruction by correspondence to girls unable to avail themselves of professional teaching. Over 250 teachers have been enrolled on its staff, and nearly 4,000 students have availed themselves of its classes. Mrs. C.-W. is the author of several works, among them "Clews to Holy Writ" (1892); "Medical Education of Women" (1895); "Towiwa, and other Poems" (1896), and "Thara, Memoirs of a 19th Century Woman" (1897). In Can. she has been elected V.-P. of the Montreal branch of the National Council of Women, and has lectured on Browning and other subjects before the Women's Art. Assn. of Montreal. She m.

"Inheriting traditions of piety and loyalty, as well as of culture, she belongs to the latter part of the nineteenth century. For she has been one of the first of women graduates, and is chiefly known as the author of a remarkably successful book, as a speaker, and as the founder of the 'College by Post.'"—The Queen.

CASAULT, Hon. Sir Louis Napoleon, judge and jurist, is descended from an ancient family, now almost extinct, which came originally from Granville, in Normandy. He is the s. of the late Louis Casault, and among his bros. were the late Very Rev. L. J. Casault, founder of Laval Univ., Quebec, and the late Lt.-Col. Casault, C.M.G., formerly in the French army, then an officer in H. M.'s 100th Regt., and at the time of his death, Asst. Adjt.-Genl. of Mil. at Quebec. B. at St. Thomas, July 10, 1823, he was ed. at the Quebec Semy., and was called to the bar, 1847. He practised throughout at the Quebec bar, where the firm of which he was principal, Casault, Langlois & Angers, long enjoyed an extensive and lucrative business. He was Prof. of Commercial and Maritime Law in Laval Univ. (LL.D., 1865), 1858-91, and was created a Q. C. by Viscount Monck, 1867. While at the bar he was counsel for the Province of Quebec in the arbitration for the div. and adjustment of the debts, credits, liabilities, etc., of the late Provinces of Upper and Lower Can., and since his elevation to the bench, he has been apptd., with the approval of the Govts. of Can. and Ont., one of the three arbitrators charged with the settlement of accounts between the Dom. and the Provinces of Ont. and Quebec, and likewise between the two Provinces named. Mr. C. sat for Montmagny in the Can. Assembly, 1854-57, and for Bellechasse, in the Ho. of Commons, from g. e. 1867 until elevated to the bench as a Puisne Judge of the Sup. Ct., P.Q., May 27, 1870. Politically, he was always a Con. He received the honour of knighthood June 25, 1894, and became Chief-Justice of the Sup. Ct., Oct. 3, the same year. He received the hon. degree of D.C.L. from Bishop's Coll. Univ., Lennoxville, 1895. His Lordship is a mem. of the R. C. Ch., and was m. July 7, 1870, to Elmire Jane, eld. dau. of the late Hon. John Pangman, Seigneur of Lachenaye, near Montreal. Lady C. holds the office of Presdt. of the Quebec branch of the National Council of Women of Can., founded by the Countess of Aberdeen. In Feb., 1897, the fiftieth anniversary of the admission to the bar of Chief-Justice C., and of Mr. Justice Plamondon, and Mr. J. Malouin, Q.C., was celebrated by the bar of Quebec.—"Londésir," 9 De Salaberry St., Quebec.

CASAVANT, Joseph Claver, organ manufacturer, is the s. of the late Joseph Casavant, organ builder. B. at St. Hyacinthe, P.Q., Sept. 16, 1855, he was ed. at the Coll. in that city (where he was joined by his bro., Joseph Casavant, b. at St. Hyacinthe, Apl. 4, 1859). Devoting themselves to the same trade as their father, the bros. acquired a knowledge of organ-building under a prominent firm in Can. At the expiration of their apprenticeship, they went to Europe with a view of studying the more recent improvements introduced there in connection with their business. On their return to Can., 1880, they established the manufactory at St. Hyacinthe, which bears their name, and from that time commenced to turn out a large number of first-class instruments, composed principally of ch. organs. They paid a second visit to Europe, 1886, and since then have introduced the electric action in their organs. The Messrs. Casavant have supplied organs to a large number of chs. and religious institutions throughout the country. Among the largest and best known of their productions are the organs in St. George's (Ep.) Ch., Montreal; the 1st Meth. Ch., London, Ont.; in the Basilica and in the Ch. of the Sacred Heart, Ottawa; in the R. C. Cath., St. Hyacinthe; in the R. C. Cath., Pembroke; in Notre Dame Ch., and in St. James's Cath., Montreal. Touching the organ in Notre Dame Ch., Montreal, Frederic Archer, the Eng. organist, has pronounced it "the best and most fully equipped instrument on the American continent."—St. Hyacinthe, P.Q.

CASEY, George Elliott, legislator, is the s. of the late Wm. Casey, a native of Mullingar, Westmeath, Irel., by his wife, Sarah, dau. of Geo. Elliott, of a border Scotch family settled in Omagh, Tyrone, Irel. B. in Southwold, Elgin, Ont., Mch., 1850, he was ed. at the St. Thomas Grammar Sch., and at the Univ. of Toronto (B.A., with honours in Classics, 1871), and was returned to the Ho. of Commons for West Elgin, in the Lib. interest, in the following year, continuing to hold that seat up to the present time. Mr. C. has taken a conspicuous part in all the more important debates, and is now regarded as one of the most practised speakers in Parlt. During the Mackenzie régime he was chief Govt. "whip," and was succeeded in that office by the late Jas. Trow. In 1875 he began agitating for the reform of the Civil Service on Brit. lines, and in 1877 was chairman of a comte., which reported in favor of competition and promotion for merit. Sir John Macdonald's Comn., 1881, acknowledged the work of this comte. and approved and extended its findings. Unfortunately the thirst for patronage prevented the adoption of much beyond the improved entrance examination. Mr. C. held that the indoor service should be managed on business principles by a non-political comn., as in Eng., and introduced a bill outlining his views. The general principle involved was endorsed by the Lib. party in the Ho. of Commons, on a motion by him a few years ago. In 1897 he introduced a bill to compel ry. companies to carry bicycles as baggage free of charge. The bill carried in the Commons, but was thrown out by the Senate. He was one of the promoters of the Elgin Transportation Co., 1873. Mr. C. has served in the volunteers, and was Adjt. of the Can. Wimbledon team, 1877. He is also a mem. of the Council of the Dom. Rifle Assn. He was elected Presdt. of the Star Loan Co., 1890, and, later, became Presdt. of the Can. Press Assn. During the session he writes racy letters, descriptive of parliamentary life and work, to the St. Thomas Journal, and was previously an editorial contributor to the London Advertiser. A mem. of the Ang. Ch., he m. Dec., 1877, Sarah Isabella, dau. of the late Jas. L. Biggar, M.P.—Fingal, Ont.

CASGRAIN, Hon. Charles Eusebe, physician, senator, is the s. of the late Hon. Chas. E. Casgrain, a well-known Can. public man, by his wife Anne Elizabeth, dau. of Hon. Jacques Baby. B. in Quebec, Aug. 3, 1825, he was ed. at the Coll., Ste. Anne de la Pocatiere, and graduated M.D., C.M. at McGill Univ., 1851. He commenced the practice of his profession in Detroit, but in 1856, removed to Sandwich, Ont., and now resides at Windsor. He is a coroner for Essex, and was surg. to the mil. force stationed on the Western (Ont.) frontier, 1861-64. Dr. C. sat for 2 terms in the Windsor town council, and was for 18 yrs. a mem. of the local Bd. of Education. He has held the office of Presdt. of the St. Jean Bap. Soc., of Essex, and that of Genl. Presdt. of all the French-Can. Socs. in the co., and while occupying the last-named position, presided at the French Can. Convention, Windsor, 1883. Politically, a Con.; in religion, he is a R. C. In acknowledgment of special services rendered to his Ch., he was created a Knight of the Order of the Holy Sepulchre, 1884. In Jan., 1887, he was called to the Senate of Can., by the Marquis of Lansdowne, and was the first French-Canadian from Ont. to be thus honoured. He m. 1st, 1851, Charlotte Mary, dau. of Thos. CASGRAIN, Rev. Henri Raymond (R. C.), author, bro. of the preceding. B. at Rivière Ouelle, P.Q., Dec. 16, 1831, he received his education at the Coll., Ste. Anne, P.Q., and studied theol. at the Quebec Semy. Ordained to the priesthood, 1856, he became a prof. in his Alma Mater, and was subsequently vicar of Beauport and priest at the Basilica, Quebec. He visited Europe in 1858, 1867 and 1873, in quest of historical material, and was successful in obtaining access to many valuable manuscripts relating to the early history of Can., among which were the journal and papers of the Marechal de Lévis, as well as personal papers of Genl. Montcalm, none of which had previously been given to the public. In 1874 he was compelled, owing to a serious affection of the eyes, to give up active ministerial work. In 1877 he received from Laval Univ. the hon. degree of Lit. D., and in 1889 he was elected Presdt. of the Royal Soc. of Can. Among the best known of his works are "Légendes Canadiennes" (1861), "Histoire de la Mère Marie de l'Incarnation" (1864; new. ed. 1886), "Vie des Saints" (1867), "Légendes et Variétés" (1884), "Biographies Canadiennes" (1885), "Histoire de l'Hôtel Dieu de Québec" (1888), "Un Pélerinage au Pays d'Evangéline" (do.), which was crowned by the French Acad. 1888, and "Montcalm et Lévis" (1891). Dr. C. likewise assisted the late Abbé Laverdière in the preparation of Desbarats' ed. of the "Œuvres de Champlain," and the "Journal des Jesuites," and he wrote the introduction to the "Œuvres Complètes d'Octave Crémazie." CHAFFEY, George, colonizer, is the eld. s. of the late Geo. Chaffey, of Brockville, Ont., by his wife, Anne Leggo. B. and ed. in Brockville, he was trained to the calling of a mech. engr. While still a youth, he did important work in shipbuilding, and subsequently commanded a propeller on the Can. lakes. Proceeding to Southern Cal., 1881, he with his bro., William Benjamin Chaffey, founded the colonies of Etiwanda, Riverside and Ontario, in San Bernardino Co., in that country, which have had each a prosperous history. Before San Francisco had emerged from its gas and coal-oil age, the first-named town was brilliantly illuminated by electric lights, private telephone lines were erected, and many miles of cement pipe laid. Ontario, which is regarded as the model colony on the Pacific slope, was supplied with water, by tunnelling thousands of feet into the mts. An agricul. coll. was likewise established, and endowed with land valued at £20,000. The success attending this new system of irrigation led the Govt. of Victoria, Australia, to invite the Chaffey Bros., to visit that colony, with the object of founding similar settlements there. They accordingly proceeded to Australia, 1886, and secured from the Govts. of Victoria and South Australia the sites for two irrigation colonies on the banks of the Murray, the combined area totalling 500,000 acres. These settlements are situated at Mildura in Victoria, and Renmark, 140 miles lower down the river, in South Australia, the former being the first transferred to them, having made the most headway. The Mildura settlement consists of 250,000 acres, of which 50,000 acres are, in the first instance, being practically dealt with, this area including the site of a town and surrounding residential or suburban villa blocks. A co. has been floated to provide the needful capital, and a most satisfactory and superior class of settlers has been attracted. The cultivation carried on is that of the grape, orange, olive, prune, with other fruit or vegetables found suitable. The establishment of an agricultural college, similar to that in Ontario, was also provided for in the contracts with the Govts, the stipulation having been inserted at the suggestion of the firm, and in April, 1891, the foundation-stone of the Chaffey Coll. of Agricul., at Mildura, was laid by H. E. the Earl of Hopetoun, Gov. of Victoria, with appropriate ceremonies. As an evidence of the energy and good faith of the Chaffeys, it is stated that their expenditure in connection with this scheme, up to June 30, 1891, had reached £183,833.—Mildura, Victoria; Renmark, New South Wales, Australia; Chaffey Bros., Limited, Cornwall Building, 35 Queen Victoria St., E.C., London, Eng.

CHAMBERLIN, Lt.-Col. Brown, late Dom. civil service, is the s. of the late Brown Chamberlin, M.D., and was b. at Frelighsburg, P.Q., Mch. 26, 1827. Ed. there, at St. Paul's Sch., Montreal, and at McGill Coll. and Univ. (B.C.L., 1850; M.A., hon., 1857, D.C.L., 1867), he was called to the bar, 1850. After practising his profession for 2 yrs. he became one of the conductors of the Montreal Gazette, and in addition, was one of the publishers of the same journal, 1853-67. He became a fellow and a mem. of the senate of McGill Coll., 1854, and was subsequently Presdt. of the McGill Graduates Soc. He was Secy. of the Bd. of Arts and Manufactures, L.C., 1857-62, and Presdt. of the same body, 1862-65. In 1862 he was apptd. a Comnr. on behalf of Can. to the London Univ. Exhn. In 1867 he was returned to the Ho. of Commons for Missisquoi, and continued therein, as a supporter of Sir John Macdonald, till apptd. Queen's Printer for Can., June 7, 1870. He retired from this office after organizing the dept. of printing and stationery and the new printing bureau at Ottawa, Oct., 1891. Lt.-Col. C. commanded the 60th Missisquoi Batt., V. M., for some yrs., and was apptd. a C.M.G. by the Queen for his services in connection with the repulse of the Fenians at Eccles Hill, 1870. In recognition of his gallantry on the same occasion, he was presented through H. E. Lord Lisgar, with a sword of honour from the citizens of Ottawa the same year. He retired from the force, 1871, being allowed to retain his rank as a special case. Col. C. m. 1870, Agnes, 2nd dau. of the late Sheriff Moodie, of Belleville, and relict of Charles FitzGibbon, Toronto. As the author of "Canadian Wild Flowers," and other works, Mrs. C. has well sustained the literary traditions of her family. She is known also as a gifted artist. Miss Sanford (Godey's Mag., July, 1897), records that Mrs. C.'s "Canadian Wild Flowers" was the first illustrated book of its kind published in Can. With the exception of the actual printing of the letter-press and the lithographs from the stone, it was the work of one pair of hands. Each illustration had to pass through her hands not less than 16 times, and when the three editions were completed she had colored 15,000 plates. Copies of these editions are now rare. Mrs. C. also drew on the lithographing stone the set of Can. Fungi (edible) recently published by the Geol. Survey of Can. She was the illustrator of Mrs. Traill's "Studies of Plant Life." Her drawings were exhibited at the Centennial Expn., Philadelphia. Col. C. is a mem. of the Ch. of Eng., and a Freemason.—Lakefield, Ont.

CHAMBERS, Edward Thomas Davies, author and journalist, was b. at Saffron Walden, Sussex, Eng., 1852, and came to Can., 1870. Devoting himself to teaching, he was successively Principal of the Model Sch. at St. Andrews, and of the Acad. at Granby, P.Q. He established the Progress at St. Andrews, 1872, the first newspaper ever printed in the co. of Argenteuil or in that dist., and later, adopting altogether the profession of journalism, joined the editorial staff of the Quebec Daily Chronicle, with which he has remained for over 20 yrs. On the retirement of Dr. Stewart from the chief editorship of the paper, May, 1897, he succeeded him in that position. Mr. C. has been a frequent contributor to many journals and mags., including The Week, The Can. Mag., Harper's Weekly, Forest and Stream, Shooting and Fishing, Am. Sportsman, and The Land We Live In, the subjects of his contributions relating either to the early history of Can., to the scenery and natural resources of northern Quebec, or to matters pertaining to hunting and fishing in the eastern and northern portion of Can. He contributed to the article on "Sports and Pastimes" in Baedeker's "Canada," 1894. His published works include: "The Port of Quebec: Its Facilities and Prospects" (1890), "The Haunts of the Ouananiche" (1891), "Quebec, Ancient and Modern" (1892), "Quebec, Lake St. John and the Saguenay" (1893), "Chambers' Guide to Quebec" (1895), which has been specially mentioned by Baedeker, and "The Book of the Ouananiche and its Canadian Environment" (1896). Mr. C. served as a war correspondent during the outbreak in the N.W.T., 1885, and in that connection was referred to in complimentary terms in the account of the rebellion published in the United Service Mag. He was an ald. of Quebec, 1884-94, and during a portion of the time pro-mayor. He retired from municipal politics in order to give his whole attention to literary matters. He has had much to do with Freemasonry in Quebec, and holds exalted rank in the order, being now Grand Master of the Provl. Grand Lodge and Past Grand 1st Principal Z of the Royal Arch Masons. He is also a K. T. and an officer of the Scottish rite. An Ang., he m. 1872, Margt., dau. of the late Jas. Jamieson, J.P., Stoneham, P.Q.—274 Grande Allée, Quebec; Union Club.

CHAMBERS, Rev. James (Presb.), is the s. of the late Maj. Robt. Chambers, of "Kennevar," near Woodstock, Ont., a native of Scot., by his wife, Catherine Lucas Nesbitt, formerly of Tyrone, Irel. B. at Holbrook, Ont., Mar. 1, 1851, he was ed. at Queen's Univ., Kingston, and at Princeton Coll. and Semy. (B.A., 1872; M.A., 1875). Licensed by the Presby. of New Brunswick, N.J., Oct., 1874, he was ordained, Aug., 1875, and immediately afterwards took charge of the 1st Cong. Ch., Sherbourne, N.Y., where he remained until 1882. The reputation he there acquired led to his appt. in the last-mentioned year to the pastorate of Calvary Presb. Ch., 111th St., N.Y., a new organization whose influence has since been widely felt among Presbs. in the metropolis. On Oct. 26, 1890, the cong. took possession of their new chapel in 116th St., between Lennox and 5th Av., occupying property valued at $100,000. Mr. C. has been Presdt. of the Presb. Club., N.Y., Presdt. of the Ministers' Assn., Presdt. of the Italian Evang. Mission, and Moderator of the N. Y. Presbytery. He was also one of the founders of the Presb. Union, one of the most influential social organizations in N. Y. As ed. of Church Work, he has published many articles in the interest of the Ch. and of society at large. Active in furthering the interests of reform, he was one of the first to call attention to the need of change and improvement in municipal affairs in N. Y. In Can. a Con., he has, since his removal to the U. S., been to a large extent politically ind. in opinion, but has acted sometimes with the Republican party. He received the degree of D.D. from Chicago Univ., 1890. In addition to his other claims, Dr. C. is widely known as the inventor of the "Invalid Chair." He m. 1877, Miss Jessie Irene Buell, Sherbourne, N.Y.—97 East 116th St., New York; Presbyterian Club, do.

CHAMBERS, Rev. Robert (Presb.), is the eld. bro. of the preceding, and was b. in the Tp. of Nth. Norwich, Oxford, Ont., May 1, 1849. Ed. at Queen's Univ., Kingston (B.A., 1866), he studied Theol. at Princeton Theol. Semy., N.J., and was ordained to the ministry, 1870. He was pastor, first at Nairn, and after the union of the Presb. Chs., at Whitby, Ont. In July, 1879, he became a mission. under the Am. Bd., and rendered important evang. and educational work in Erzeroum, Turkey. He aided in the organization of several chs., in the establishment of several schs., and in the training of many teachers and preachers. Seeking rest and relief from the severe strain put upon him, he returned to the U. S., July, 1888, and up to Nov., 1891, laboured among the Cong. churches in that country. His heart, however, was more fully in the mission field, and going back to Turkey, he has since had sole charge of an extensive dist. in Bithynia, and is Principal of the High Sch. at Bardezaz, near Constantinople, an institution which has greatly prospered under his administration. During the recent troubles in that country, he rendered distinguished service to the cause of humanity, in assisting the persecuted people of Armenia. In 1897 he received the hon. degree of D.D. from Queen's Univ., Kingston. Mr. C. has written largely for the press of the U. S. on the subject of missions, and besides editing several works, has prepared leading articles for the "Missionary Encyclopædia" (N.Y.). He has an intense love for his native land, taking a just pride in her progress, and mourning over her disabilities. He hopes some day to see a Brit. Imp. Federation, or, if not that, for Can., then political Ind. He m. Dec., 1872, Miss Bessie Lawson, Dereham, Ont.—Bardezaz (Ismidt), Turkey in Asia.

CHAMBERS, Rev. William Nesbit, (Presb.), a bro. of the two preceding, was b. in Nth. Norwich, Ont., Feb. 22, 1853. Ed. there and at Princeton Semy. and Coll., N.J. (B.A., 1876; M.A., 1879), he was ordained, 1879. In the same year he became a mission. at Erzeroum, Turkey, and has since done heroic work in that country in helping wounded and dying Armenians. In acknowledgment of his services in distributing $45,000 worth of relief among the Armenians, he received the thanks of the Brit. and Am. Consuls at Erzeroum, 1897. The influence of both he and his brothers is very great in Turkey.—Erzeroum, Turkey.

CHAPLEAU, Hon. Sir Joseph Adolphe, politician, is the s. of the late Pierre Chapleau, by his wife, Zoe Sigouin. B. at Ste. Thérèse de Blainville, P.Q., Nov. 9, 1840, he was ed. at the coll. there and at St. Hyacinthe. Called to the bar, 1861, he practised in Montreal, and was created a Q. C. by the Earl of Dufferin, 1873. He entered the Quebec Legislature, as mem. for Terrebonne, at the union of the Provinces, 1867, became Sol.-Genl. in the Ouimet Admn., Feb., 1873, and was subsequently Provl.-Secy. under Mr. de Boucherville. After the dismissal of the latter by Lt.-Gov. Letellier de St. Just, 1878, he was chosen leader of the Con. opposition in the Quebec Assembly, and acted as such up to the period of his appt. as Provl. Premier, Oct., 1879. In July, 1882, he exchanged places with the late Mr. Mousseau, who was then Secy. of State at Ottawa. After Sir John Macdonald's demise, June, 1891, he was continued in the Abbott ministry, first as Secy. of State, and afterwards, for a brief period, as Min. of Customs. He was apptd. to his present office, Lieut.-Governor of Quebec, Dec. 7, 1892. In 1884 he served as a Comnr. for the purpose of investigating and reporting on the subject of Chinese immigration into Can. His Honour received the Roman decoration of St. Gregory the Great, 1881, that of the Legion of Honour of France, 1882, and was apptd. a Knight Commander of the Order of St. Michael and St. George, 1896. He is also an LL.D. of Laval Univ., of whose Law Faculty, he was for some yrs. a mem., and of whose council he is still a mem. He is a dir. of the Montreal City and Dist. CHARLTON, Benjamin Ernest, manufacturer and capitalist, is the s. of the late Michael Charlton, who emigrated to Can. from Northumberland, Eng., 1825, by his wife, Maria M. Bowerman. B. in the Co. Brant, Ont., Apl. 12, 1835, he was ed. at the local schs. Later, having obtained a 1st class cert. at the Toronto Normal Sch., he became a master in the Hamilton Central Sch. He retired from the teaching profession to establish the Hamilton Vinegar Works and Distillery, which are now operated by a co. of which he is the Presdt. He is also Presdt. of the Hamilton St. Ry. Co. and a dir. of the Hamilton Steamboat Co. Mr. C. has sat 10 yrs. in the Civic Council, as councillor and ald., and has thrice been chosen mayor of the city of Hamilton. He has likewise held office as Presdt. of the Hamilton Assn., and as Presdt. of the Hamilton Bd. of Trade. He was one of the promoters of the Wellington, Grey and Bruce and the Hamilton and North Western Rys., and was on the directorate of the latter. A Reformer in politics, he presided for years over the Hamilton Reform Assn., but has declined all invitations looking to higher political honours. He was apptd., 1896, one of the Comnrs. for the management of the Queen Victoria Niagara Falls Park. He m. 1854, Sarah Elizabeth, dau. of the late Edward Barber, Hamilton.—Hamilton, Ont.

CHARLTON, John, statesman, bro. of the preceding, was b. at "Wheatlands," near Caledonia, N.Y., Feb. 3, 1829. Ed. at the McLaren Grammar Sch., of Caledonia, and at Springville Acad., N.Y., he spent one year as a clk. in a country store in Ellicottville, N.Y., afterwards read law, and also tried his hand at newspaper work in the same place. Removing to Can. with his parents, 1849, he gave himself up to farm life for a time, working for 4 yrs. on his father's farm, near the village of Ayr, Tp. of Dumfries. In 1853 he went to Lynedoch, where he opened a genl. country store, in company with Geo. Gray. In 1859 he was placed in charge of the Can. business of the extensive lumber firm of Smith & Westover, of Tonawanda, N.Y., and in 1861 he embarked in the same business on his own account. In this business, in which he is still actively engaged, he has been successful, and he is now counted one of the "lumber princes" of the province. A Lib. in politics, he was returned in that interest to sit for North Norfolk in the Ho. of Commons, at the g. e. 1872. He has continued to hold the seat up to the present time, his majority at the last g. e. over Wm. McGuire, his Con. opponent, being 544. Mr. C. has not always been in complete accord with his party. He advised an increase of duties, in 1876, from 17½ to 20 or 22 per cent. to provide for deficiency in revenue and to satisfy the demands of the protectionist element of the Lib. party. He voted against his party leader and with the Macdonald Govt. on the Riel question, and he was one of the "Noble 13" who supported Col. O'Brien's resolution in opposition to the Jesuit Estates bill. He is probably best known as a public man as the promoter of moral legislation. For many yrs. he wrought in Parlt. for the passage of a law affording protection to women and girls, and at last succeeded in securing the adoption of "The Charlton Act," which made the seduction of a girl under 16 yrs. of age a penal offence; the seduction of a girl between the age of 16 and 18 under promise of marriage, a penal offence; and which provided other salutary safeguards on the same lines. He also took up the subject of the better observance of the Lord's Day, believing that while the law cannot properly require men to go to ch. or obey divine commands in respect to religious observances, it can and should provide that men should be secured in the right to go to ch., and have respect for religious duties if they desire to do so, and that any legislation calculated to secure rights of conscience and religious liberty is not only proper but desirable. After three sessions, his bill, with many modifications, was adopted in the Commons, 1894, but it failed to command a majority in the Senate. Mr. Charlton considers rest from labour on Sunday a civil right, and bases the advocacy of the bill upon that assumption, and upon the further assumption that the State may properly seek by legislation to promote the moral, physical and intellectual interests of the people, and take measures to secure the stability of its institutions by putting influences into operation that will improve the moral standard and the general character of its citizens. Among the provisions of the bill is one prohibiting the publication and sale of Sunday papers. He was one of the founders of the Dom. Lord's Day Alliance, having for its purpose the securing of the better observance of the Lord's Day, organized in 1888, and held office therein as V.-P., and he has repeatedly received the thanks of various ch. authorities for his efforts to promote the aims and objects of that important body. Mr. C. has great faith in the future of his adopted country, and aims to make of it a model Christian nation. In a speech lately delivered in Toronto he called upon his auditors to assist in the work of laying the foundation of Canada's welfare in justice, and to build up the superstructure in honesty and truth; to believe in its possibilities and labour for its future, and to consecrate the high privileges of citizenship to the cause of patriotism, to enmity of political baseness and corruption, and to lofty and pure political ideals. He believes that our position on the Am. continent renders the cultivation of friendly political and commercial relations with the U. S. of prime importance, not only to ourselves but to Gt. Brit. as well. He is in favour of the reduction of custom duties to the lowest point consistent with securing revenue for necessary requirements; of the Govt. being economically administered; and he believes that extensive reciprocity of trade with the U. S., whereby the free admission of our natural products into the markets of that country could be secured, would greatly benefit the agricultural, mining and lumbering interests of Can., and make this country a participant in the numberless advantages conferred upon the various States of the Am. Union by the system of absolute free trade that exists between those commonwealths. He also favours strict regard on the part of the Dom. Govt. for provl. rights and provl. autonomy, and a careful avoidance of interference with provl. legislation enacted within the limits of the constitutional rights of the Province. He was apptd. chairman of the Ont. Royal Mining Comn., 1888, and in the prosecution of his duties as such he visited the mineral regions of Ont., as well as the principal mining centres of the U. S. He again visited the U. S. early in 1897 for the purpose of sounding public opinion at Washington regarding more extended trade relations between the two countries, and of seeking to impress Am. statesmen with the advantages that a reciprocity treaty, based upon fair and equitable conditions, would confer upon both countries. He is a newspaper and mag. writer of extensive experience, and is the author of many popular lectures on political, literary and historical subjects. In religious faith, he is an adherent of the Presb. Ch., and in 1896 was sent as a del. from Can. to the Pan-Presb. Conf., sitting at Glasgow. He m. Nov., 1854, Ella, dau. of the late Geo. CHARLTON, Miss Margaret Ridley, is the young. dau. of the late John

Charlton, of Laprairie, a native of Eng., who was a descendant of the celebrated Bp. Ridley. Miss C. was engaged for some yrs. in educational work in Montreal, but inheriting from her parents, and especially from her mother, a woman of strong individuality, literary culture and ability, she was not long in discovering a proper field for the exercise of her talents. During the existence of the Dom. Illustrated she became connected with its editorial and literary staff, and contributed to its pages numerous historical sketches. After that, in addition to articles written under a nom de plume to various mags., she brought out conjointly with the late Miss C. A. Frazer, two volumes of fairy tales, the first ever published in Can., viz: "A Wonder Web of Stories," (1892), and "With Printless Foot" (1894), both of which were much praised by the press and met with an extensive sale. Miss C. is a graduate in Library economy, and has filled successfully a position as librarian in Montreal.—11 Essex Ave., Montreal.

CHARTRAND, Capt. Joseph Demers, late French army, was b. at St. Vincent de Paul, P.Q., Nov. 22, 1852, and belongs to a family that has produced many French soldiers. In his younger days he was connected with Le National and L'Opinion Publique, two newspapers published in Montreal. Entering the V. M., he was apptd. Capt. 65th Batt., 1876; but leaving Can. in the following year, he enlisted as a private in the Legion Etrangere of the French army in Algeria. Promoted 2nd lieut. in the 3rd Zouaves, he was the same year apptd. Prof. of Topography and Fortification at the Military Sch., St. Hippolyte du Fort, and in Oct., 1886, became 1st lieut. in the 27th Batt., Chasseurs Alpins. In Apl., 1894, he attained the rank of capt. in the same corps, shortly after which he returned to Can. and retired from the service. Capt. C. became a naturalized French citizen, Feb., 1881. In July, 1889, he was decorated with the legion of honour for services rendered during the Tonquin war. He is a mem. of the Soc. les gens de lettrés of France, and has written several works under the nom de plume of "Ch. des Ecorres," viz: "Expeditions autour de ma tante," "Souvenirs d'Ecole Militaire," "Au pays des Etapes." In Feb., 1895, he founded in Montreal, La Rev. Nationale; Recueil Mensuel de lectures Can-Françaises, of which he became dir. He m., in France, Mdlle. de Latour-Laton.—St. Vincent de Paul, P.Q.

CHAUVEAU, Hon. Charles Alexandre, judge and jurist, is the 2nd s. of the late Hon. P. J. O. Chauveau, 1st Premier of the Province of Quebec after Confederation, and was b. in Quebec, Feb. 23, 1847. Ed. at the Jesuit's Coll., Montreal, and at Laval Univ. (LL.D., 1891), he graduated B.C.L. at McGill, 1867, and was called to the bar, 1868. He practised his profession at Quebec, in partnership with the late Judge Alleyn, was returned to the Quebec Assembly in the Con. interest, May, 1872, and continued to hold a seat in that body, for a portion of the time as an Ind. mem., up to his appt. as Judge of the Genl. Sessions of the Peace, P.Q., vice Holt, deceased, Jan. 16, 1880. He was created a Q. C., by the Quebec Govt., 1878; was elected Presdt. Genl. of the Soc. St. Jean Baptiste, 1885-86; and a dir. of the Banque Nationale, May, 1895. He held office as Sol.-Genl., and afterwards as Provl. Secy. and Regr., in Sir Henri Joli de Lotbinière's Admn., Quebec, 1878-79. His Honour was for some yrs. Prof. of Criminal Law in Laval Univ. He inaugurated the movement in favour of the Champlain monument, Quebec, 1891, and was Presdt. of the comte. apptd. to secure the erection of the monument. In religious faith, he is a R.C. He m. CHERRIER, Rev. Alphonsus Avila, (R. C.), is the s. of Leon T. Cherrier, of Laprairie, P.Q., by his wife, Lena F. Viaudit L'Espérance. B. at Laprairie, Sept. 26, 1849, he was ed. at the Coll. of Ste. Thérèse de Blainville, and graduated B.Sc. at Laval Univ., 1871. Ordained to the priesthood, 1874, he filled the chair of Literature and afterwards that of Nat. Science at Ste. Thérèse for some yrs. Proceeding to Man., 1878, he became curé d'office at St. Boniface Cath., and, in 1881, assumed the duties of Presdt. of the new Coll. of St. Boniface, being also a dir. of the Semy. connected therewith. Apptd. to the Provl. Bd. of Education, 1878, he remained a mem. of that body till it was abolished, 1890. He has been a mem. of the Council of the Univ. of Man. since 1878, and Presdt. of the Bd. of Studies since 1883. Ill-health compelled him to resign his professional duties and the direction of the Coll, 1884. Since then he has had charge of the parish of the Immaculate Conception, Winnipeg, where he has erected a new ch., in keeping with the wants of that growing and influential parish. In 1890, while on a visit to Europe, he was accorded a private audience with the Pope. On the death of Mgr. Taché he was the nominee of the secular clergy for the vacant archbishopric.—Winnipeg.

CHESLEY, Mrs. Mary Russell, controversialist, is the dau. of Nathaniel Russell, by his wife, Agnes Bissett, and is of Quaker and French Huguenot descent. B. at Dartmouth, N.S., Sept. 4, 1847, she was ed. at her native place, and m. Saml. A. Chesley, barrister. It is only within a period of 4 yrs. that she has taken any interest in pnblic questions. Up to that time her life was an extremely domestic one. At the time mentioned the W. C. T. U. of N. S., with which she had a short time previously connected herself, petitioned the Legislature for the enfranchisement of N. S. women. This petition has been repeated every year, with the exception of 1896, and Mrs. C. has worked and written, to the best of her ability, for the promotion of the "cause." In defence of her views she has broken a lance with some of the leading minds of the U. S. and Can., "and in every instance," says Dr. O'Hagan, in the Catholic World, "has done credit to her sex and the cause she has espoused." Perhaps her reply to Atty.-Genl. Longley's elaborate address in opposition to the second reading of the Bill, has received the widest notice. Mrs. C. is now Presdt. of the W. C. T. U. of N. S. She is an adherent of the Meth. Ch., but in the matter of belief holds herself free. She believes that "righteousness exalteth a nation," but that no nation or state has its foundations in righteousness which excludes the best half of its citizens from a voice in its Govt. She also believes in the "single tax," the legal prohibition of the liquor traffic and kindred abominations, the settlement of national difficulties by arbitration, and in co-operation as opposed to competition—Lunenburg, N.S.

CHICOYNE, Jérome Adolphe, advocate, journalist and legislator, was b. at St. Pie, P.Q., Aug. 22, 1844, and is descended from Pierre Chicoyne, who came to New France during the time of Maisonneuve. Ed. at the Coll. of St. Hyacinthe, he was called to the bar, 1868, and followed the practice of his profession at St. Hyacinthe. In 1872 ill-health compelled him to turn his attention to other pursuits. He entered the service of the Provl. Govt. as a Colonization Agent, and through his efforts, did much to settle the waste lands of the Crown in the E. T. He paid no less than 4 visits to Europe in conection with his various schemes in this regard, and lectured frequently on the capabilities and resources of Can. in Eng., France, Belgium, Switzerland and Italy. He also wrote largely in the press on the objects of his missions. His connection with the newspaper press dates almost from his boyhood. After being connected in an editorial capacity with the Courrier de St. Hyacinthe, L'Opinion Publique, and other journals, he became mang. dir. and ed.-in-chief of Le Pionnier, Jan.. 1886. These positions he still fills. In January 1889, he was elected to the Sherbrooke City Council, holding a seat therein until January, 1895. During his six years' services he served 2 yrs. as Mayor of Sherbrooke, viz., for the yrs. 1890 and 1892, and always devoted a special attention to the financial part of the civic administration. A Con. in politics, he was elected in that interest for Wolfe, in the Quebec Assembly, at the g. e. 1892. He was re-elected at the g. e. 1897, by a majority of 705. A R. C. in religion, he m. CHINIQUY, Rev. Charles Paschal Telesphore (Presb.), is the s. of the late Chas. Chiniquy, by his wife, Marie Reine Perrault. B. at Kamouraska, P.Q., July 30, 1809, he was ed. at the Quebec Semy., and was ordained to the R. C. priesthood, 1833. After serving as vicar or curate at St. Roch de Quebec, at Beauport and at Kamouraska, he established the first Temp. soc. that existed in his native province. From that time he became the apostle of Temp. in L. C., travelling from parish to parish in that interest. In 1851 he was invited to proceed to Chicago, with the view of turning the tide of French, Belgian, German and Can. immigration towards Illinois, and he shortly afterwards founded a R. C. colony at Ste. Anne, Kankakee. In Sept., 1858, he seceded from the Ch. of R., taking his cong., numbering over a thousand souls, with him. He was received into the Presb. Ch., and ordained as one of its ministry. He is now on the retired list. In his younger days he was a contributor to the Melanges Religieux and to L'Avenir. Among his published works are a Temp. Manual, "Fifty Years in the Church of Rome," "The Priest, the Woman and the Confessional," "Papal Idolatry," "The Church of Rome, the Enemy of the Virgin Mary and of Jesus Christ," and "The Perversion of Dr. Newman in the Light of History, the Scriptures, Common Sense and of His Own Declarations." Of these, the second and third have run through no less than 70 editions, and have been translated into 9 different languages. He received the hon. degree of D.D. from the Presb. CLAIRE, Miss Attalie, vocalist, was b. in the city of Toronto, her father being the grands. of a well-known Scottish musical composer, R. A. Smith. She received her early musical education under F. H. Torrington, Toronto, and afterwards studied with Alberto Lawrence and Mme. Fursch Madi, N.Y. She developed a bright mezzo-soprano voice of great flexibility, sweetness and expressive power. Her artistic attainments, together with her personal beauty, made her much sought after, and she finally accepted an engagement with the National Opera Co., singing parts in support of Emma Juch, Pauline L'Allemand and Zelie de Lussan. Her success in these roles led to her engagement by Mr. Abbey to support Mme. Adeline Patti on her great tour through the U. S. and Mexico, and later in the same season, she supported Mme. Albani in an Am. tour. Miss C. was then engaged as Prima Donna in Eng. Opera at the Grand Opera House, N. Y., where her performances attracted the attention of the agent of the Carl Rosa English Opera Co., and she was engaged by Sir Augustus Harris to create the title-role in Planquette's Opera, "Captain Thérèse." Her success in Eng. was all that her friends could desire, and she was again engaged to return to Am. to sing with Lilian Russell in "La Cigale," in which the usual success attended her. She appeared in her native city, Apl., 1892, and received a cordial reception at the hands of her fellow-townsfolk. Since then she has m. Alfred Kaine, N. Y. —New York.

In 1876 he was called to the living of his native parish, and he was still exercising the duties thereof, when raised to the Episcopate as Bp. of Kingston, 1880. His consecration as such took place at Rome, Nov. 21, 1880, H. E. Cardinal Simeoni, Prefect of the Propaganda, officiating on the occasion. His Lordship arrived in his diocese in the following spring, meeting with a most cordial reception from the highest dignitaries in the R. C. Ch., as well as from people of all creeds. A new ecclesiastical province having been created, of which Kingston was to be the Metropolitan See, with the Bps. of Peterboro' and Alexandria for suffragans, Dr. C. was apptd. to the charge of the same as Archbp. of Kingston, July 28, 1889. His Grace has displayed great activity and earnestness in administering the affairs of his diocese. He has built numerous chs., presbyteries, schs., convents and other religious edifices, many of which are models of architectural excellence. One of the most important of his undertakings was the reopening in 1896, of Regiopolis Coll., Kingston, for the purpose of supplying the diocese with a native Canadian clergy, and for the education of Cath. boys for the liberal professions. He contributed $5,000 from his private purse towards a scholarship fund for this institution. In all, he has during the period of his Episcopate, given no less a sum than $50,000 for religious purposes in his diocese. In 1894 he erected a handsome monument over the remains of 1700 Irish immigrants who died of ship-fever at Kingston, 1847-48, and whose last resting place was previously unmarked.—The Palace, Kingston, Ont.

CLEGHORN, James Power, merchant, is the s. of the late Robt. Cleghorn, of Montreal, and was b. in that city, Oct. 3, 1830. Ed. at Howden and Taggart's Acad., where he had for schoolmates, Senators Hamilton and Ogilvie, and others who have since distinguished themselves in public life, he entered the mercantile firm of J. G. Mackenzie & Co., as a junior clk., 1853; he was admitted a partner, 1864, and has since for many yrs. been invested with the bulk of the management of that long established house. Notwithstanding the cares of business, he has found time to interest himself in many public enterprises, and his counsel has been sought in many directions. As Presdt. of the Montreal Bd. of Trade, 1889-90, he did not a little to promote the erection of the fine pile of buildings for the Bd. which were opened for occupation, 1893. He is a J. P. for Montreal, and on the directorate of the Intercl. Coal Co., of the Sun Life Assur. Co., of the Merchants' Manf. Co., of the Can. Accident Co., and of Molson's Bank, is a trustee of Mount Royal Cemetery Co., a gov. of the Montreal Genl. Hospital, and of the Montreal Dispensary, and Presdt. of the Intercl. Coal Co. In politics, a staunch Con., he has never sought political or other preferment, although his name has been more than once mentioned in connection with positions of honour and dignity. He regards himself, and is proud to do so, as a simple private in the ranks, who has always upheld the party, in adversity as well as in success; and has stood for the N. P., Brit. Connection, and the general welfare of the people. In religious belief, a mem. of the Ch. of Eng., he is also a del. to the Synod. He m. 1864, Miss Anna Spalding, Port Hope, Ont.—185 University St., Montreal.

CLELAND, James, merchant and legislator, was b. in Glasgow, Scot., June 10, 1839, and came to Can., 1857, since when he has been engaged in business as a hardware merchant. He has been Reeve and Mayor of the town of Meaford, and, in 1886, unsuccessfully contested North Grey, in the Lib. interest, for the Ont. Assembly. He was returned at the g. e. 1890, and re-elected at the g. e. 1894.—Meaford, Ont.

CLEMENT, William Henry Pope, barrister and historian, is the s. of the late Rev. E. Clement (Meth.); and, on his mother's side, is connected with the Popes of P. E. I. Born at Vienna, Ont., May 13, 1858, he was ed. at the public schs., and, in 1873, won a scholarship at U. C. Coll. In the next year he matriculated in Arts at Toronto Univ. with 1st class honours in Classics, Math. and Mod. Languages. He graduated B. A., 1878. Whilst pursuing his Arts course, he studied law, having entered the Law Soc. U. C., 1875, and was called to the Ont. bar, 1880, standing first in his class. He also took the law course at Toronto Univ., winning a scholarship in each year and the gold medal on receiving the LL. B. degree from that institution, 1881. Mr. C. was for 7 yrs. a mem. of the well-known Toronto firm of McCarthy, Osler, Hoskin & Creelman, but since then he has been at the head of his own firm, now known as Clement & Spence, and is recognized as a successful mem. of the junior bar. He has served as an exam. in Law and Const. History, Toronto Univ. After contributing on constitutional subjects to the Week, he published "The Law of the Can. Constitution" (1892), a work which has been adopted on the curricula of Toronto Univ., the Law Sch., and Trinity Coll., as the standard work on the subject of which it treats. The late Sir John Thompson pronounced it as "being far in advance of anything that has yet appeared on the subject, and as being full of thoughtful and efficient labour, and full of the best information bearing on constitutional questions." The Can. Ed. Monthly likewise declared it "the most comprehensive work in existence on the subject." In July, 1896, Mr. C. was declared winner of the first prize offered by the Educational authorities of the Dom., in the competition opened by them in connection with a text-book on Dom. history. The prize consisted in a royalty of ten per cent. on the retail price of the book after publication. In religion, a Meth.; he is politically, a Lib., and unsuccessfully contested West York, in that interest, for the Ho. of Commons g. e. 1891 (Vote: N. C. Wallace, C., 3434; W. H. P. Clement, L., 2628). He m. 1889, Elsie Lulu, dau. of J. W. Main, Brampton, Ont.—84 Jameson Ave., Toronto.

CLENCH, Miss Nora, violinist, is the dau. of the late Leon M. Clench, barrister, of St. Mary's, Ont., in which town she was b. She commenced her musical studies at Hellmuth Coll., London, Ont., and at 15 yrs. of age went to Germany, entering the Leipsic Conservatory, where she was a pupil of Brodsky, the Russian violinist. Before she graduated she obtained a special prize, which is given, not annually, but only when some particularly brilliant pupil has attained to an exceptionally high standard of excellence. Just before returning to Can. she visited Eng., and gave a concert at Oxford Univ. The Eng. papers spoke most highly both of her technique and artistic feeling. Her tone is broad, pure and resonant and her style severely classical and correct. Miss C. was for a time 1st violinist and leader of an orchestra in Buffalo, N.Y. Later, she made a concert tour in Europe, and had the honour of playing before the Queen at Osborne. In remembrance of the occasion Her Majesty presented the artist with a handsome diamond and ruby brooch. She was still in Europe in 1897, and after playing at an orchestra concert, in Glasgow, was spoken of by the press as an artist "who is accomplished in a rare degree and whose style affords promise of real distinction."—44 Langridge Road, South Kensington, London, Eng.

CLIFF, Pennington E., educationist, is the s. of Wm. and Mary Cliff, and was b. in Queensbury, York, N. B., 1858. Ed. at the Coll. Sch., Fredericton, and at the Univ. of N. B. (B.A., 1883), he was apptd. Principal of York St. Sch., Fredericton, 1884; Principal of of East Centre Sch., Hartford Conn., 1888, and Principal of Newton Academ., Conn., 1889. He was city ed. of the Fredericton Daily Gleaner for 2 yrs., and mang. ed. of the Hartford Journal for a similar period. Unm.—72 Morrison St., West Somerville, Mass.

CLORAN, Henry Joseph, barrister, is the s. of Joseph Cloran, a native of Galway, by his wife, Ann Kennedy, a native of Limerick, Irel. B. in Montreal, May 8, 1855, he was ed. in Classics at the Montreal Coll. under the Sulpicians, and in Phil. and Theol. at the Semy. of the same order in Paris. He subsequently followed the law course at Laval and McGill, and graduated B.C.L., at the latter institution, 1882. Called to the bar, 1887, he was shortly afterwards apptd. a Comnr. by the Provl. Govt. to investigate and report upon the various jury systems in so far as they are connected with the administration of criminal justice in the several Provinces of the Dom. and of the different States of the Am. Union, and prepared a report in the premises, which was highly commended by the Govt. He was also called upon to fill the office of Crown Prosecutor for the city and dist. of Montreal. He was ed.-in-chief of the two Irish Catholic organs, the Daily Post and the True Witness, 1882-87, and held various positions in local societies and organizations, including the Presidency of the Shamrock Lacrosse and Athletic Assn., of the Cath. Y. M.'s Soc., of the St. Patrick's Soc., of the Irish National League, and of the Press Assn. of Quebec. Later, he became one of the founders of the Montreal Trades and Labour Council. As a politician, he joined in the national movement started in Montreal, Nov., 1885, in consequence of the execution of Louis Riel, and was apptd. Joint Secy., with the late Hon. L. Duhamel, of the National Comte., organized on that occasion. During the ensuing campaign he addressed French and Eng. meetings in over 50 electoral divisions in the Province. He unsuccessfully contested Montreal Centre for the Ho. of Commons, in the Lib. interest, at the g. e. 1887 (Vote: J. J. Curran, Con., 3116; H. J. Cloran, Lib., 2185), and was offered the candidature in Prescott, at the g. e. 1891, but declined for party reasons. Subsequently, he removed to Hawkesbury, Ont., where he became identified with the agricult. and industrial interests of the Co. of Prescott, and stood as the Patron candidate for that constituency, g. e. 1896 (Vote: I. Proulx, Lib., 1334; H. J. Cloran, P., 996; D. Sabourin, Con., 902). He does not believe in the principle of protection. He holds that foreign markets, particularly the nearest to hand, are necessary for the prosperity and progress of the farmers, who are the main wealth producers of Can. He believes that as long as Can. remains a colony, and is regarded as such by Europeans, the flow of immigration will be slow and small, as it has been in the past, notwithstanding the many millions spent to encourage it. We have the game of independence, but we want the name of a free country to make Can. attractive to European immigrants, as well as progressive to her own people. He believes it is criminal to introduce questions of race and creed into public affairs and to attempt legislation or administration according to racial and religious prejudices or ignorance. He considers the present Senate an expensive nullity, and that it should be made to depart this life. He regrets that Can., although young in yrs., is already in sore need of many reforms in its constitution, its laws and its administration of public affairs. He was apptd. advocate for the Provl. Revenue, P.Q., June, 1897. Mr. C. is a mem. of the R. C. Ch. He m. Oct., 1882, Agnes, dau. of the late Michael Donovan, of Montreal (she d. Aug., 1896).—235 St. Antoine St., Montreal.

CLOUSTON, Edward Seaborne, bank manager, is the s. of the late Jas. S. Clouston, Chief Factor of the Hon Hudson's Bay Co. B. at Moose Factory, N.W.T., he was ed. at the High Sch., Montreal, and entered the service of the Bank of Montreal as a junior clk., Mch. 8, 1865. After passing through the various grades of service, he became asst. genl. mangr., 1887, acting genl. mangr., 1889, and genl. mangr. of the bank, a position he still fills, Nov., 1890. Mr. C. had the advantage of serving under, or of acting with, six of the ablest financiers Can. has known, viz: The late E. H. King, the late C. F. Smithers, R. B. Angus, W. J. Buchanan, Lord Mount-Stephen and Sir D. A. Smith. He is known as a man of few words, and as being exceedingly accurate and cautious in his transactions. His business skill and tact were well displayed in the conf. held between the bankers and the Mr. of Finance

(Mr. Foster), in connection with the renewal of the bank charters under the Act of 1890. To his efforts and those of Mr. Walker, of the Bank of Commerce (q.v.), at that time, the banks are mainly indebted for the privileges gained by them under that measure. On the organization of the Can. Bankers' Assn., 1893, he was chosen first Presdt. of that body, but was unable to accept the position, owing to other engagements. He was apptd. a gov. of the Royal Victoria Hospital, Montreal, the same year, and subsequently of the Fraser Inst. He is also a mem. of the Council of the Art Assn. of Montreal, and a mem. of the Ex. Comte. of the local branch St. John's Ambulance Assn. He is on the directorate of the Guarantee Co. of North Am., of the Cumberland Ry. and Coal Co., and of the Liverpool and London and Globe Ins. Co., and is a trustee in Can. for the N. Y. Life Ins. Co. A mem. of the Ch. of Eng., he m. Nov., 1878, Annie, young. dau. of Geo. Easton, formerly Collr. of Customs, Brockville, Ont. CLUT, The Rt. Rev. Isidore (R. C.), was b. at St. Rambert, Valence, France, Feb. 11, 1832. Joining the order of Oblats, he came to Can., and was ordained to the priesthood, 1857, from which time he was a mission. in the Mackenzie River dist., N.W.T. Apptd. Bp. of Arindel in partibus, 1867, he became asst. to the late Bp. Farand at Athabaska, and occupies the same relation to that prelate's successor, Mgr. Grouard.—St. Bernard, Petit lac des Esclaves, N. W. T.

COCHRANE, Hon. Matthew Henry, cattle importer and breeder, is the s. of the late Jas. Cochrane, who came to Can., from the north of Irel., and was for many yrs. a merchant, farmer and cattle-breeder in the Province of Quebec. B. in Compton, P.Q., Nov. 11, 1823, he devoted himself in early life to farming, but at 18 went to Boston, where he embarked in the leather business. Returning to Can., 1854, he laid the foundation of the business, subsequently carried on by Cochrane, Cassils & Co., Montreal, which now furnishes employment to over 300 hands, and does business as boot and shoe manfrs. to the extent of half a million dollars a year. It is, however, as a successful breeder of improved grades of cattle, that Mr. C. has become best known. In this respect it may be said his reputation has grown to be world-wide. At the period when he began his enterprise in Compton, 1864, little had been accomplished in stock-raising in the Province of Quebec. He was the pioneer in that field of industry, and everything that has since been achieved, it is felt, is due to him. He set out determined on securing the best specimens of short-horns that money could purchase from leading cattle breeders in Britain. Commencing, 1867, with the purchase of the famous cow "Rosedale"—an animal that had no peer in the Eng. prize-rings—he also imported a choice lot of South-down, Cotswold, Leicester and Lincoln sheep, together with a number of Suffolk horses and Berkshire pigs. "Rosedale" was crossed with the 11th "Duke of Thorndale," imported at a cost of $3,000, and their first calf, a heifer, was sold to an Illinois stock-breeder for $3,500. The next year Mr. C. paid 1,000 guineas for another cow, "Duchess 97th," belonging to the noted Wetherly herd, which was the highest price ever paid for a female short-horn up to that time. In 1870, he gave a further proof of his enterprise and public spirit, by bringing into Can., no less than 40 head of short-horns, which together with 20 more, a flock of Cotswold sheep and some Berkshire pigs, cost in the aggregate $60,000. He has since gone on adding to his stock at "Hillhurst," E.T., and in addition to that establishment, has now, in the N.W.T., a ranche for the breeding of high-class cattle. Of late, he has paid a good deal of attention to the equine race, and it is predicted that he will be as successful in this dept. as he has been with his cattle and sheep. Mr. C. was called to the Senate of Can., by the Earl of Dufferin, Oct. 17, 1872. Besides being Presdt. of the Cochrane Ranche Co., he is V.-P. of the Eastern Townships Bank, a gov. of the Sherbrooke Prot. Hospital, and a trustee of Lennoxville Univ. He was for some yrs. a mem. of the Council of Agriculture, P.Q. A Con. in politics, he is, in religious faith, a mem. of the Ch. of Eng. COCHRANE, Rev. William (Presb.), is the s. of Wm. Cochrane, of Paisley, Scot., and was b. there, Feb. 9, 1831. Ed. at Glasgow Univ., he subsequently entered Hanover Coll., Ind., U.S. (M.A., 1857; D.D., 1875), and completed his Theol. course at Princeton Semy., N.J. Ordained to the ministry, N.Y., 1859, he was pastor of the Scotch Ch., Jersey city, 1859-62. In the latter year he was called to Brantford to assume charge of Zion Presb. Ch. in that city, where he has since remained. In 1874 he founded Brantford Ladies' Coll., of which he is Gov. and Lecturer in Phil. Dr. C. has filled a variety of other positions, both in and out of the Ch. For over 25 yrs. he has been Presdt. of the Mech. Inst. and Public Library in his adopted town. He was Moderator of the Genl. Assembly, 1882, and has been sent as a del. to all the great councils and confs. of the Presb. Ch., including the Pan-Presb. Alliances held in Belfast, London and Glasgow, respectively. He has declined calls from Boston, New York, Chicago, Detroit, etc. Always an industrious writer, he has produced several religious works of more than ordinary interest, chief among which are: "The Heavenly Vision (1873), "Christ and Christian Life" (1875), "The Church and the Commonwealth" (1887), "Memoirs and Remains of the Rev. Walter Inglis" (do.), "Future Punishment" (1888). He has been twice m., 1st, to Miss Mary N. Hovatover (she d.); and, 2nd, Oct, 1873, to Miss Jeanette E. Balmer.—Zion Manse, Brantford, Ont.

COCKBURN, Alexander Peter, merchant, forwarder and legislator, is the 2nd s. of the late Peter Cockburn, a native of Berwickshire, Scot., by his wife Mary McMillan, and was b. in the Tp. of Finch, Stormont, Ont., Apl. 7, 1837. Ed. at the local schs., he commenced his business career in Eldon, Victoria, Ont., of which tp. he was subsequently elected reeve. At the Confederation of the provinces, 1867, he was returned to the Provl. Assembly for North Victoria, and, while there, aided the late Hon. John Sandfield Macdonald in maturing and carrying into effect a liberal land and ry. policy for Ont. He first visited the Muskoka dist., with the development of which he has had so much to do, Sept., 1865. He subsequently took up his permanent residence there, and laboured zealously to bring the resources of the Muskoka and Parry Sound region to the notice of the outside world. From 370 in 1865, the population increased to 36,874 in 1891, mainly through his efforts. He founded the Muskoka Settlers' Assn., 1867, and wrote largely in furtherance of his purpose, his "Few Weeks in the North" (for the production of which he was specially complimented by the late Hon. T. D. McGee, then Mr. of Agriculture), "The Settlers' Guide" and "The Tourists' Guide" being among the most noted of his publications in this direction. But perhaps the most direct means of bringing Muskoka to the notice of intending settlers was by the establishment of a large and magnificent fleet of steam vessels which he owned and controlled on the Northern lakes for many yrs. Mr. C. sat for Muskoka, in the Ho. of Commons, 1872-82, and for North Ontario, 1882-87, when defeated, and he was also again defeated at the g. e. 1891. He also unsuccessfully contested Muskoka for the Ont. Assembly, g. e. 1894. He has throughout his political career been a consistent Reformer. He m. Sept., 1864, Miss Mary Helen Proctor, of Beaverton, Ont. In Dec., 1894, his friends in the dist. of Muskoka and Parry Sound entertained him at a public banquet, and presented him with valuable testimonials in acknowledgment of his many services to the dist. Mr. C. has been strongly recommended to the new Govt. for a Senatorship, and it is generally supposed he will attain that position in the near future.—Gravenhurst, Ont.

COCKBURN, George Ralph Richardson, public man, is the s. of Robt. Cockburn, of Edinburgh, Scot., and was b. in that city, Feb. 15, 1834. Ed. at the Edinburgh High Sch. and University (M.A. and Stratton prizeman, 1857), he continued his classical studies in Germany and France. The celebrated Dr. Schmitz, Rector of Edinburgh High Sch., said of him that he was no ordinary scholar, but a thorough philologist, possessing a remarkable insight into the structure, the relation and affinities subsisting between the ancient and modern languages of Europe, and characterized him as one of the best Latin scholars that Scot. had produced. He commenced his Can. career 1858, as Rector of the Model Grammar Sch. for U. C. He was shortly afterwards commissioned to inspect the higher educational institutions of the Province, and as the result of his investigations, which extended over a period of 2 yrs., presented two comprehensive reports to the Executive, in which the condition and needs of the service were ably set forth. After visiting a number of the principal institutions of learning in the U. S., in order to familiarize himself thoroughly with their methods, he was apptd., 1861, Principal of U. C. Coll., and a Senator of Toronto Univ. These positions he continued to hold for over 20 yrs. On the termination of his connection with the Coll., he devoted 2 yrs. to extensive foreign travel; and, at the g. e. 1887, was returned to the Ho. of Commons, in the Con. interest, for Centre Toronto. He held this seat up to the g. e. 1896, when he suffered defeat. While in Parlt. he gave an independent support to Sir John Macdonald, and the other leaders of his party, and was a warm supporter of Imp. Federation. He was one of the "Noble 13" who voted against the principle of the Jesuit Estate Act, 1889. Mr. C. was Chairman of the Banking and Commerce Comte. of the Ho. of Commons for some yrs. He represented Can. at the World's Fair, Chicago, 1893, as Chief Comnr. He has been for some time a prominent figure in commercial and banking life. He is a dir. of various corporations, and has held the Presidency of the Toronto Land and Invest. Corporation, and is V.-Pres. of the London and Canadian Loan and Agency Co. In 1894 he was elected Presdt. of the Ontario Bank, succeeding Sir W. P. Howland, therein. This office he still fills. He is also V.-P. of the St. Andrew's Soc. of Toronto. A mem. of the Presb. CODY, Rev. Henry John (Ch. of Eng.), educationist, is the s. of J. E. Cody, and was b. at Embro, Ont., Dec. 6, 1868. Ed. at Galt Coll. Inst., and at the Univ. of Toronto (B.A., gold medal. in Classics, and 1st class honours in Mental and Moral Phil. and Civil Polity, 1889) he was ordained deacon, 1893, and priest, 1894, by the Bp. of Toronto. Mr. C. was for some yrs. Classical Master in Bp. Ridley Coll., St. Catharines. He is now evening preacher at St. Paul's Ch., Toronto, and was apptd. Prof. of Old Test. Exegesis and Ch. History, in Wycliffe Coll., 1893. He m. 1894, a daughter of the late H. E. Clarke, M.P.P., of Toronto.—603 Jarvis St., Toronto.

COLBY, Hon. Charles Carroll, statesman, is the s. of the late Dr. Moses F. Colby, who came to Stanstead from New Hampshire, 1832, and afterwards represented that co. in the Parlt. of L. C. B. at Derby, Vt., Dec. 10, 1827, he was ed. at Dartmouth Coll., N. H., where he graduated, 1847. Called to the Quebec bar, 1855, he practised his profession at Stanstead for some yrs., but has now long since abandoned it as an active pursuit. He became Presdt. of the Library Assn. and Mech. Inst., a dir. of the Massawippi Ry. Co., of the Crown Mining Co., and of the Waterloo and Magog Ry., and his name is also connected with that of the late Sir John Abbott and others, as one of the founders, in 1890, of the General Phosphate Corporation, with a capital of £1,000,000, which was wound up in 1893. Mr. C. was V.-P. of the Quebec Temp. and Prohibit. League, 1872. He sat for Stanstead in the Ho. of Commons, in the Con. interest, from g. e. 1867 until his defeat at the polls, 1891. On his return, Oct., 1893, from a visit to Enrope, he announced at a public dinner given in his honour at Stanstead Plain, that "he had laid aside the public harness for good, and desired, hereafter, to dwell among his friends only as a private citizen, in good-will and good-fellowship with all." As a public man he possessed the reputation of being one of the ablest debaters ever heard in the Ho. of Commons. He was one of the first to advocate the principle of Protection, and gave an able exposition of the system in a speech delivered in 1878. He is the author of "Parliamentary Government in Can." (1886), an outline, which the late Dr. Alpheus Todd declared "was drawn with great fidelity and insight by one who was a close observer and an earnest student in the region of political knowledge." Mr. C. was Depty. Speaker of the Ho. of Commons from Apl. 13, 1887 to Nov. 28, 1889, when he was called to the Privy Council, and became Presdt. of that body, an office he resigned after his defeat, Apl. 30, 1891. COLCLOUGH, John George, barrister, is the eld. s. of John G. Colclough, of Bic., P.Q., and was b. at that place Jan. 8, 1869. Ed. at the Semy. Rimouski, and at Laval Univ. (B A., 1888), he studied law in Dublin, and was called to the Irish bar, 1893, he being the first Can. to be called to that bar by examination. He lived for 7 yrs., alternately, in Dublin and London, and is well-known in both cities as a journalist and as a writer in the reviews. At the time of the Parnell crisis in Irish affairs, he joined the staff of the National Press, which was started in opposition to the Parnellite Freeman's Journal, in the capacity of leader writer. An article which he published in the Contemporary Rev., in 1893, on the Ulster question, was much discussed and commented upon, and was afterwards republished as a pamphlet by the Lib. Publication Dept. of the Lib. Federation and circulated broadcast throughout the United Kingdom by the agents of the Federation. After the amalgamation of the National Press with the Freeman's Journal Mr. C. left Dublin for London, where he joined the staff of the London Chamber of Commerce. He continued, nevertheless, to write for reviews, and articles from his pen can be found in the Contemporary Rev., the Month, La Nouvelle Revue, La Revue Intern., La Revue du Monde Catholique, etc. One of his latest articles, in 1896, which has been republished in pamphlet form, deals with the Man. Sch. question. In 1895, in collaboration with Mr. Ullah, an Indian barrister, he published a text-book on "The Law of Contract." In the following year he was apptd. Secy. of the Brit. Chamber of Commerce, Paris, and has since lived in that city.—Paris, France.

COLDWELL, Albert Edward, educationist, is the s. of Ebenezer Coldwell, by his wife, Mary Stevens. B. at Gaspereau, N.S., Sept. 18, 1841, he was ed. at Horton Coll. Acad., and at Acadia Univ. (B.A., with honours, 1869; M.A., 1872). In 1877 he, won the Vaughan prize of £20 stg., for the best essay on Acadia Coll., and, later, travelled in Europe. He was apptd. instructor in Math., in Horton Coll. Acad., 1871; instructor in Nat. Science in Acadia Coll., 1882; and became Prof. in the same dept. in that institution, 1884. CONANT, Thomas, so well known in connection with his notes of travel and other writings in the Toronto Globe, is descended from Roger Conant, who came to Ont. from Mass., 1786, obtaining grants of land from the Crown, some of which are still in the possession of the Conant family. S. of Danl. Conant, by his wife Mary Shipman, he was b. at Oshawa, Ont., Apl. 15, 1842. Ed. at the Grammar Schs. of Oshawa and Whitby, and at Eddytown Semy., near Geneva, N.Y., Mr. C. afterwards privately acquired a knowledge of most of the modern languages, a mental equipment which has been of considerable service to him in his journeyings in foreign lands. Although he has published no book, Mr. C. is probably better known to the people of Ont. by his writings than many of our voluminous authors. His contributions to literature have so far taken the form of historical sketches, critical essays, and notes of travel, nearly all of which have appeared, from time to time, in the Toronto Globe. Among these may be specially mentioned, notes of a camping journey of 550 miles through the Holy Land; sketches of the War of 1812; and articles on the Canadian poets; on Man. and the N.-W.; on early settlers in Ont.; and on the experiences of the refugees from Mass. in the last century. No doubt a collection of his various writings will be presented to the public in book form at some future day. In Sept., 1896, he left Can., intending to visit Australia and India. Mr. C. is an extensive land owner and capitalist. Politically, he is a Lib., with distinctively Can. aims and sentiments.—Oshawa, Ont.

CONMEE, James, contractor and legislator, is the s. of the late Matthew Conmee, by his wife, Rosanna O'Shaughnessy. COTÉ, Louis, inventor and manufacturer, was b. at St. Dominique de Bagot, P.Q., Mch., 1836, and is the s. of Geo. Coté, by his wife, Julie Langelier. Ed. in St. Hyacinthe and at the Jacques Cartier Normal Sch., Montreal, he early turned his attention to mechanics, for which he had a natural inclination. In partnership with his bro. and Guillaume Bresse, he established the extensive boot and shoe factory, bearing the latter's name, since existing in Quebec. Later, his attention being drawn to the special advantages possessed in this direction by the city of St. Hyacinthe, led to his erecting there the boot and shoe manufactory and other works, which have made St. Hyacinthe what she is called to-day, "The New Lowell of Eastern Can." Possessed of considerable talent as an originator, Mr. C. has patented many inventions of a useful and desirable character in connection with his business. Several of these inventions have been adopted and are in use in the shoe factories of Can., Eng., France and the U. S., and have been of benefit both to the trade and to their inventor. Mr. C. has instilled into the people of St. Hyacinthe and the surrounding dist. much of his ardent and progressive spirit, with the result that that city is now not only a busy, industrial centre, but one claiming consideration on other grounds. He holds office as a Sch. Comnr.; he is also Chairman of the Water Works Co., and Presdt. of La Comp. des Pouvoirs Hydrauliques. In 1887-88 he served as a Royal Comnr. to enquire into the Labour question. He m. 1868, Louise, dau. of Chas. Pigeon, of St. Hyacinthe, P.Q. In politics, a Lib.; in religion, he is a R. C.—St. Hyacinthe, P.Q.

COTÉ, Stanislas, journalist, was b. at St. John's, P.Q., 1846, and received his ed. at the High Sch. there, and at the Montreal and St. Mary's Colls. Graduating B.C.L., at Vict. Univ., he was called to the bar, 1869. Later, he became Secy.-Treas. of the St. John's Town Council. He entered journalism, 1880, on Le Monde (Mont.). This paper he left to join Le Moniteur du Commerce, of which he has been chief ed. for some yrs. He likewise holds the office of Secy. of the Chambre du Commerce, Montreal. He is an active mem. of L'Union Catholique. —Montreal; Longueuil, P.Q.

COTES, Mrs. Sarah Jeannete, author, is the eld. dau. of Chas. Duncan, Brantford, Ont., and was b. in that city, 1862. Ed. at the Coll. Inst. there, she fitted herself for a public school teacher, but gave up the occupation after a short trial. As a child she was an insatiable and omnivorous reader of every book and mag. she could obtain. From her Irish mother she inherited both wit and brilliancy and a keen sense of humour. Her first venture in the journalistic field was a series of letters descriptive of the Cotton Centennial in New Orleans, written for the Toronto Globe, the Memphis Appeal, etc. After this she became a mem. of the editorial staff of the Washington Post, but later returned to the Toronto Globe, where she wrote under the nom de plume of "Garth Grafton." After serving as parliamentary correspondent for the Montreal Star at Ottawa, 1888, she, in company with Miss Lily Lewis (now Mrs. Rood), went on a journey around the world, writing letters during her absence for a syndicate in the Am. and Can. press. Her book of travels, entitled "A Social Departure; or, How Orthodocia and I went Round the World by Ourselves," published 1890, gained her immediate notice. This was followed by "The American Girl in London" (published originally in the Ladies' Pictorial), and this, afterwards, in quick succession, by "A Daughter of To-day," "Vernon's Aunt," "The Simple Adventure of a Mem Sahib," "The Story of Sonny Sahib," and "His Honor and a Lady"—the three latter being stories of Anglo-Indian life. In 1896 she was a mem. of the staff of the Daily News, Calcutta, and was about to produce "The American Girl Abroad," being a sequel to "The American Girl in London." COTTON, Lt.-Col. William Henry, Can. Permanent Mil. force, is the eld. s. of the late Hy. Cotton, formerly Chief Clk., office of the Gov.-Genl.'s Secy., Ottawa, by Eleanor, his wife, 3rd dau. of the late David Ross, Q.C., Montreal. B. in Montreal, Jan. 7, 1848, he was ed. in Toronto and Quebec, and obtained a 1st class cert. from the Mil. Sch., Quebec. In the same year, Jan., 1865, he was gazetted Lieut. Quebec Garrison Arty. On the removal of the seat of Govt. to Ottawa, the same year, he was transferred to the Ottawa Brigade Gar. Arty., and was subsequently given a co. therein. On the organization of the Sch. of Arty., 1871, he was apptd. capt. of "A" Baty., Reg. C.A. He was promoted major by brevet, June, 1872, and lt.-col., June, 1877. In Aug., 1882, he succeeded Lt.-Col. Irwin, as Asst. Insp. of Arty., and Commandant Royal Sch. of Arty. In Aug., 1893, he was apptd. Deputy Adjt.-Genl. of Mil. Dist. No. 4, and in Nov., 1895, Insp. of Arty. for Ont. He was also in command of Mil. Dist. No. 3. Col. C. twice accompanied the Can. Wimbledon rifle team to Eng. In 1878 he won the second prize awarded by the Dom. Arty. Assn., for an essay on the organization, equipment, etc., of Arty. for the Dom. of Can. For a short period in 1897 he was acting Adj.-Genl. during the absence in Eng. of Col. Hon. M. Aylmer. COURTICE, Rev. Andrew Cory (Meth.), journalist, is the s. of Thomas Courtice, of Port Perry, Ont., by his wife, the only dau. of the late Andrew Cory, and was b. at Prince Albert, Ont., Oct. 17, 1856. Ed. at Toronto Univ. (B.A. and gold medal. in Phil., 1880), he pursued his Theol. studies at Victoria Univ., Cobourg (B.D., and Sandford gold medal., 1885), and was ordained to the ministry, 1885. His abilities as a pastor and preacher were speedily recognized, his services being sought by several large congregations. He occupied the pulpit of Parliament St. Ch., Toronto, and during his pastorate there impressed his influence for good on the community so signally that his removal to Dundas St., London, in 1886, was regretted by all classes and creeds. In London he easily took the lead, and when his term there ended, 1892, he was installed in the Dominion Square

Ch., Montreal, the pulpit of which had been occupied by not a few of the most distinguished of the Meth. fathers, such as Drs. Douglas, Antliff, Stafford, Rose, and Henderson. The interest he manifested in social questions, and the earnest outspokenness of his preaching in this field, attracted wide attention. Leaving Montreal, he accepted an appointment to the Sydenham St. Ch., Kingston, and remained there up to his election by the Meth. Conf. to the editorship of the Christian Guardian, the chief organ of the Ch., Sept. 18, 1894 (Vote: Rev. A. C. Courtice, 123; Rev. Dr. Dewart, 87). While at Kingston he was Presdt. of the Dist. Ministerial Assn. Mr. C. has won note as a literary worker, his contributions to the magazines of his Ch., to other periodicals, and to the general press, having a merit beyond the average. Among his recent papers is: "Some Problems in Current Journalism," the general basis of the paper being that the Kingdom of Heaven or the Kingship of Jesus should dominate the press as much and as truly as the platform or the pulpit. Mr. C. strongly favours prohibition of the liquor traffic, and was the chief spokesman of the delegation that waited on the Ottawa Govt. on the subject, June, 1897. He is a Senator of the Wesl. Coll., Montreal. He m. 1888, Ada Mary, dau. of S. K. Brown, Toronto. Politically, he is Ind.—80 Bedford Rd., Toronto, Ont.

COX, George, engraver, is the s. of the late Jas. Cox, formerly Sergt.-Maj. H. M.'s 24th Regt., and afterwards in the service of the Bank of B. N. A., by Mary Ann Pugh, his wife. B. in Montreal, Nov. 17, 1834, he was ed. at the High Sch. in that city, and adopted the trade of engraver and lithographer. Moving to Ottawa, 1855, he was elected to the City Council, 1882. He continued to hold a seat therein for many yrs., and was Chairman successively of all the important standing comtes. An unsuccessful candidate for the Mayoralty 1892, he was elected to that office, Jan., 1894, and sat until the close of his term. During his Mayoralty he created discussion over his desire to impose a tax upon bachelors, which, however, simply meant the enforcement of a clause in the Consolidated Assessment Act providing for the imposition of a poll tax in lieu of statute labour. Mr. C. was for some yrs. Presdt. of the Ottawa Lib.-Con. Assn. In religion, he is a Meth. He is also a Freemason and Oddfellow.—110 Lisgar St., Ottawa.

COX, Hon. George Albertus, Senator, capitalist, is of Eng. descent, his family having come to the U. S. from Eng., 1810. In 1818 they removed to Can., first taking up land in Prince Edward, and afterwards in Northumberland Co., Ont. He is the s. of Edward W. Cox, by his wife, Jane Tanner, and was b. at Colborne, Ont., May 7, 1840. Ed. there, he commenced life as an operator in the service of the Montreal Telegraph Co. After two yrs. spent in its office in his native town, he was sent, May, 1858, to take charge of its Peterboro' office. In Peterboro' he lived for 30 yrs., and he is still largely interested in its prosperity. He continues to exercise unabated interest in everything that contributes to the welfare of his old home, which now is one of the most prosperous and progressive towns in Ont., and he takes an active part in the direction of the Can. Gen. Electric Co., the Peterboro' Lock Manfg. Co., and other local organizations. The young agent speedily asserted his individuality, and took an active part in the municipal, educational and commercial interests of Peterboro'. For no less than 7 yrs. he was Mayor; 3 times he was successful in contested elections, and 4 times he was elected by acclamation. In 1871 Mr. C. stepped from the municipal into the political field, and contested the riding of West Peterborough with the late W. H. Scott for the Legislature. He won the fight, but the election was set aside, and in the following year he was defeated by Mr. Scott, by a majority of one. In 1887, Mr. C. contested the same riding for the Ho. of Commons, with Jas. Stevenson. He was again defeated, but the majority was only 16. Mr. C. soon became interested in enterprises of interest to the country at large, and in 1878 he became Presdt. of the Midland Ry. of Can., holding that position until 1884, when he resigned. During his term of office a great amalgamation took place; the Grand Junction, the Whitby and Port Perry, the Victoria and the Toronto and Nipissing Rys., all being consolidated, the system thus created being sold to the Grand Trunk. In 1881 he was one of the Howland syndicate that offered to build the C. P. Ry. In 1884 he became Presdt. of the Central Can. Loan and Savings Co. In 1885 he became a dir. of the Can. Bank of Commerce, in 1888 V.-P., and in 1890, Presdt. of that institution, and still retains this important position. He has been prominently identified with the Can. Life Assur. Co. since 1861, and is now on the directorate. In 1881 he became a dir. of the Western Fire and Marine Insurance Co., and upon the death of A. M. Smith, 1894, succeeded to the presidency of that Co., a position he still holds. He is also Presdt. of the Brit. Am. Fire and Marine Ins. Co. He was one of the first dirs. of the Toronto Genl. Trusts Co., organized in 1884, and still retains a position upon the directorate and executive comte. of that Co. He has to do with a large number of other institutions, including the projected James' Bay Ry., of which he is one of the chief promoters. He has lived in Toronto since 1888. Mr. C. is a strong temp. man, and an ardent supporter of the Meth. Ch. In conjunction with Rev. Dr. Potts, he is Bursar of Victoria Univ., in which institution he has established a gold medal in Nat. Science and a bursary in Theol. He is also Presdt. of the Ladies' Coll., Whitby, a mem. of the Council of the Toronto branch of the Evanl. Alliance, one of the founders of the Dom. Sanitarium, and a V.-P. of the Ont. Prohib. Alliance. Politically, a Lib., he was apptd. to the Senate of Can., by the Earl of Aberdeen, Nov., 1896. He m. 1862, Margt. He was elected a Fellow of the Royal Soc. of Can., 1897.—28 Hutchison St., Montreal.

COX, Palmer, author and artist, is the s. of Michael Cox, by his wife, Mary Miller, and was b. at Granby, P.Q., Apl. 28, 1840. Ed. at the Granby Acad., he subsequently resided in Springfield, Mass., and Lucknow, Ont., until 1863. At sch. he drew pictures instead of doing his arith. lesson. The fly-leaves of his books, the walls of his room, even the fences, as well as slate and paper, showed signs of his tell-tale pencil. When he became a man, although he still kept his love for drawing and books, he did not follow his inclination. Realizing the struggles to be met by artists or authors, and having a livelihood to make, he devoted himself to mercantile pursuits. After leaving Ont., he drifted to Cal., where an artist who saw his work advised him to place himself under instructors, and to seek a market for his drawings. From 1863 to 1875 he wrote stories for the periodicals in San Francisco, and drew cartoons, which were copied by the Eastern papers. Returning East, he settled in N. Y., where he follows artistic and literary pursuits. He has distinguished himself chiefly by illustrating his own writings with characteristic drawings, as shown in the "Brownie Stories," the first of which was written and published in St. Nicholas, 1881. The 5 published Brownie volumes are: "The Brownies, their Book;" "Another Brownie Book;" "The Brownies at Home;" "The Brownies Around the World;" "The Brownies Through the Union." Among other works by Mr. C. are: "Squibs of California" (1874), "Hans Von Pelter's Trip to Gotham" (1878), "How Columbus Found America" (do.), "That Stanley" (do.), "Comic Yarns" (1888), "Queer People," 3 vols. (do.), a cantata for children, called "The Brownies in Fairyland," and a spectacular play for the stage, called "Palmer Cox's Brownies." — 658 Broadway, New York.

COYNE, Arthur, soldier, is the young. s. of the late Thos. G. Coyne, and was b. in London, Ont., Mch. 21, 1866, and ed. there. He was for some yrs. a commercial traveller in Ont., but, abandoning that employment, he went to Honolulu to fill a position of trust, 1889. Having served as a non-com. offr. in the 32nd Huron Batt., V. M., in Can., his services as a mil. man were of some value to the authorities in Hawaii during the two recent rebellions in that country. During the outbreak of 1893, he was placed in command of a co. of the regular forces, and rendered excellent service. But it was in the rebellion of Jan., 1895, that he most distinguished himself. On that occasion he served at the head of an independent div. of the national army, and it was his arty. that shelled Diamond Head, put the rebels to flight, and thus put an end to the rebellion. He now holds the rank of 1st lieut. in Co. E. Honolulu Nat. Gds. He still claims Can. as his country, and will return at any time his services may be required to fight for her defence. COYNE, James Henry, Ont. public service, is the s. of the late Wm. Coyne, who was a resident of the Co. Elgin, Ont., from 1817, and was b. in that co., Oct. 3, 1849. Ed. at St. Thomas Grammar Sch., and at the Univ. of Toronto (B.A., and gold medal. in Mod. Languages, silver medal. in Classics and Prince's prizeman, 1870), he was called to the bar, 1874, passing first without an oral as a barrister and solicitor. He practised his profession at St. Thomas, and was, for some yrs., a partner of Colin Macdougall, Q.C. As a young man he, for a time, devoted himself to teaching, and he was Head Master of the Cornwall High School, 1871. He was Presdt. of the St. Thomas Reform Assn., and, in 1882, of the East Elgin Reform Assn., and unsuccessfully contested West Elgin for the Ont. Assembly, in the Lib. interest, g.e. 1886. In Jan., 1889, he was apptd. Regr. for Elgin, and, in 1892, Local Master of Titles for same co., including St. Thomas. These offices he still holds. In 1884 he was elected a Senator of Toronto Univ. Among other positions filled by him at various times, have been the Presidency (the first elected) of the Elgin Hist. and Scient. Inst., Presdt. of the St. Thomas St. Andrew's Soc., and first Presdt. of the Children's Aid Soc. He was also a mem. of the Central Comte., organized in connection with the Centennial Celebration of U. C., 1892. He is now a dir. of the Farmers' and Traders' Assur. Co., a trustee of the Elgin Law Library, a mem. of the Bd. of Management of Alma Coll., and was elected Presdt. of the Pioneer and Hist. Soc., Ont., 1897. Besides various papers read before the Can. Inst. and other literary and scientific bodies, he is the author of "The Country of the Neutrals, from Champlain to Talbot" (St. Thomas, 1895). In religion, he is a Meth. He m. Matilda, 3rd daughter of the late John Geo. Bowes, formerly M.P.P. and Mayor of Toronto. A Lib. in politics, he also believes that every public question should be looked at from the standpoint of the interests of Can. as a nation.—St. Thomas, Ont.

CRAIG, John, horticulturist, was b. in Lakefield, Co. Argenteuil, P.Q., 1864. He received his first impressions in horticulture on the experimental farm of the late Chas. Gibb, at Abbotsford. After completing his public sch. course he attended the High Sch., Montreal, and, later, became secy. and asst. to Mr. Gibb. At that gentleman's suggestion he became a student at the Iowa Agricul. Coll. in horticulture and economic botany. He remained there 3 yrs., and was awarded a diploma, 1887. During the last year of his course there he was asst. to Prof. Budd in the branches of hybridizing, propagating and testing varieties. On the organization of the Iowa Experiment Station, he was apptd. asst. to the dir., having special charge of the dept. of Horticulture. While there he was sent on a botanical expedition for the purpose of making a collection of the wild and cultivated grasses. In the pursuit of this work he made an extended tour through Dakota, Montana, Washington, Oregon, Utah and Colorado. In Jan. 1890, he was apptd. Horticulturist of the Govt. Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa. Among some of the more immediate lines of work which he pursues at Ottawa are: (1) Testing fruits for the North; (2) crossing and developing new varieties; (3) systematic study of the methods of propagation; (4) fungous diseases, and the best way to destroy them. Mr. C. is Presdt. of the Ottawa Horticultural Soc., an hon. mem. of the Fruit Growers' Assns. of Ont., Que., N. S. and B. C.; a mem. of the Am. Assn. for the Advance. of Science, a V.-P. of the Am. Forestry Assn., a V.-P. of the Am. Pomological Soc., and a V.-P. for Can. of the World's Horticultural Soc. In religion, he is a Meth.—Ottawa, Ont.

CRAIG, Thomas Dixon, legislator, is the s. of the late Wm. Craig. B. in London, Eng., Nov. 20, 1842, he accompanied his parents to Can. when an infant. He was ed. at the Port Hope Grammar Sch. and at Toronto Univ., where he won a scholarship and graduated B.A. and gold med. in Methaph. and Ethics, 1864. Entering the firm of Wm. Craig & Son, wool pullers and leather mftrs., Port Hope, he afterwards, in 1868, removed to Toronto, and was for 14 yrs. engaged in the wholesale leather business in that city. Returned for East Durham to the Ont. Assembly in the Con. interest at the g e. 1886, he remained a mem. of that body up to Dom. g. e. 1891, when he resigned, and was elected to the Ho. of Commons for the same constituency. He was re-elected at the g. e. 1896. As a politician he has throughout maintained an independent position in reference to certain questions, more especially in connection with French schs. in Ont., the dual language question, prohibition of the liquor traffic, and the Man. sch. question. While in the Ont. Legislature, he introduced a motion on the subject of French schs. in the Province, which caused the Mowat Govt. to appoint a comn. of enquiry in the premises. In Sept., 1896, he moved a resolution in the Ho. of Commons prohibiting the sale of liquor within the precincts of that House. In religious belief, he is a Bapt. He m 1865, Annie, dau. of Jas. Gervern, Toronto.—Port Hope, Ont.

CRAIK, Robert, M.D., is descended from an old Scottish border family, and was b. in Montreal, Apr. 22, 1829, his parents having come to Can. from Edinburgh, Scot, 1818. He received his earlier education at a public sch., conducted by John Bruce, afterwards Govt. Inspr. of Schls., P.Q. He obtained his professional education at McGill Univ., Montreal, beginning 1850, and graduating, with the highest honours of his year, 1854. From the Univ., Dr. C. went directly to the Montreal Genl. Hospital, as House Surg., among his first experiences being his attendance upon the large number of patients admitted with Asiatic cholera during the epidemic of that year. He had the satisfaction of knowing that although hundreds of patients were received into the Hospital, suffering from Asiatic cholera, with the usual large percentage of deaths, the disease was not allowed to spread in a single instance, to any of the other patients or inmates. In 1856, his official connection with McGill Univ. as a teacher began, when he was made Demonstrator of Anatomy with entire charge of Practical Anatomy, then a separate dept. with a single demonstrator; a position which he retained until 1860. In 1859 he also became Curator of the Museum. In 1860 he resigned the House Surgeoncy of the Hospital, and was made a mem. of its Med. Bd., beginning at the same time the private practice of his profession. In the same year he became Prof. of Clinical Surgery, continuing in that chair until 1867, making a name for himself in the resection of joints, and as a successful ovariotomist, at a time when success in such operations was a rare event in this country. In 1866, owing to the illness of Prof. Sutherland, Dr. C. was asked to undertake, at a few weeks' notice, the work of the chair of Chemistry, a task which, though arduous, he was able to carry through with success; and finding the teaching of chemistry more to his taste than that of surgery, he was apptd. to the chair of Chemistry, on the permanent retirement of Dr. Sutherland, in 1867, continuing in it until 1879. In 1869, in addition to his other duties, he became Regr. of the Faculty, the onerous work of which office he continued to perform until relieved by Prof. Osler, 1877. In 1875 also he succeeded the late Prof. G. W. Campbell as Treas. of the Faculty. In 1879, Dr. C. resigned the chair of Chemistry, becoming Emeritus Prof., but continuing his duties as Treas., and his active interest in all the affairs of the Faculty, including its representation on the Provl. Med. Bd., and in other ways. Dr. C. became Dean of the Faculty in 1889, after the death of the late Dean, the much lamented Dr. R. Palmer Howard, and has continued in that office up to the present time. In the same year he also became Prof. of Hygiene and Public Health, and was named by the Quebec Govt. a mem. of its Provl. Bd. of Health. During his administration as Dean many and important changes have occurred in the Faculty, and its progress has been phenomenal. A chair of Path. has been created, and a prof. brought from Eng. to fill it. The med. buildings have been practically doubled in size, and equipped in a manner second to none on the Am. continent. The length of the session has been increased to nine calendar months; the fees from the students have been increased and consolidated; the number of professors and teachers has been nearly doubled, and, thanks to the munificence of Sir D. A. Smith, the late John H. R. Molson, and other friends of the Faculty, endowments amounting in the aggregate to upwards of $184,000 have been added to its capital. During the same period also the Royal Victoria Hospital has been erected and opened for the reception of patients; and the Montreal Genl. Hospital has been remodelled and practically rebuilt. With all of these changes Dr. C. has been more or less actively identified, and, notwithstanding the increased tax upon the students both in time and money, the gratifying result is to be seen in the great increase in their number, from 233, in 1889, to 414, in 1896. In 1896 he was apptd. Consulting Physician to the Royal Victoria Hospital. In 1895 his Univ. conferred upon Dr. C. the hon. degree of LL.D., for the following reasons, as taken from the records of the Univ.: "Because of his long connection with the Univ. as an eminently successful teacher, his distinguished position as a leader in the med. profession in this city and this Province, his valuable services in the interest of public health, and the prominent part he has taken in advancing med. education, especially in this Univ. and this Province for a long term of years." Dr. C. has not been a voluminous writer on med. subjects. He is better known as a teacher and lecturer, and by his addresses at coll. and hospital openings and other semi-public occasions. His style is described as forcible and clear rather than fluent, and when thoroughly in earnest in advocating a cause or a reform, he rarely fails of success. His graduation thesis, written in 1854, while he was still an undergraduate, attracted much attention, and was published in extenso in the Sept. number of the Montreal Med. Chronicle of that year. In it he was, so far as known, the first writer to claim for the class of infectious diseases an origin in a specific cell or germ for each disease, using convincing arguments in support of his opinion, predicting with confidence the early discovery of these specific germs, and pointing out the direction in which the search would probably be successful. The now universally accepted germ theory of infectious diseases has so completely verified these predictions, that his forecasts of 42 yrs. ago seem almost like prophetic inspirations. In his busy life, and more particularly during the last 20 yrs., he has found time to be an enthusiastic farmer, fox-hunter and breeder of fine stock. His fine herd of Polled Angus cattle has never been excelled in this country, and won many prizes at the World's Fair, Chicago, 1893. Thoroughbred horses of his breeding have been among the best in Can. He has won more than one Queen's Plate, and the Hunt Cup of 1887, and other trophies, are familiar objects in his dining-room. "Craikstone," his well-known country house and farm, is on the northern outskirts of the city and within a half-hour's ride of his town residence. Dr. C. m. 1856, Alice, eld. dau. of the late Alex. Symmers, of Dublin, Irel , Solicitor in Chancery. (She d. without leaving issue, Feb., 1874.)—887 Sherbrooke St., Montreal; St. James's Club, do.

CRANKSHAW, James, barrister and legislator, is the s. of Wm. Crankshaw, of Manchester, Eng., by his wife, Mary Ann Farrell. B. in Manchester, July 20, 1844, he was ed. at St. Andrew's and Mayfield schs., in his native city. He passed the preliminary law exam. before the Eng. Law Soc., and had a practical experience in civil and criminal cases, in gathering and marshalling facts and preparing briefs for counsel in many important assize cases in the Lancashire div. of the northern circuit. Coming to Can., 1876, he followed the law course at McGill Univ. (B.C.L., with honours, 1882), and was called to the bar, 1883. He has since practised successfully in Montreal. He acted as returning offr. at the Provl. g. e. 1892, was apptd. R. O., under the Dom. E. F. A. for St. Lawrence div., Montreal, 1894, and a reviser of electoral lists for Montreal, by the Provl. Govt., 1897. Mr. C. became a certificated teacher of Isaac Pitman's system of shorthand, 1878, and from that time to 1881 taught the system at the Mechs.' Inst., Montreal. In 1883 he helped to introduce a system of exams. of law reporters in the Montreal Civil Cts., and passed the first of these exams. himself, at a test speed of 165 words per minute. He is the author of an annotated edition of "The Criminal Code of Canada, 1892, and The Canada Evidence Act, 1893" (Mont., 1894), and of "A Practical Guide to Police Magistrates and Justices of the Peace" (do., 1895), both of which have been commended by the legal and general press. In 1896 he was recommended for appt. as a Q. C. by the Tupper Govt. A Lib.-Con. in politics, he is a mem. of the Junior Con. Club and of the Macdonald Club, Montreal, and has been V.-P. of the latter. He is also a mem. of the Can. Order of Foresters, of the A.O.U.W., the Sons of Eng. Ben. Assn., the Select Knights of Can., the Knights of Pythias, and holds high rank in the Masonic order. He has been twice married.—37 Shuter St., Montreal.

CRAWFORD, Rev. Angus, (Presb.), educationist, is the s. of the late Angus Crawford, of Hamilton, Northumberland, Ont., by his wife, Isabella Lawrie, and was b. at Cobourg, Ont., June 5, 1850. Ed. at Toronto Univ. (B.A. and silver medal in Nat. Science, 1874; M.A., 1884), he studied Theol. at the Epis. Semy., Philadelphia, and at Princeton Semy., N.J., and became asst. at the Memorial Chapel, Philadelphia. Ordained, 1877, he was apptd. the same year rector of Mount Holly, N.J., and became, subsequently, Prof. of Hebrew, Oriental Learning and Apologetics in the Epis. Semy., Fairfax, Va., a position he still retains. He m. Miss Brown, of Mount Holly, N.J.—1343 21st St., N. W., Washington, D.C.

CRAWFORD, Rev. Edward Patrick (Ch. of Eng.), is the eld. surviving s. of the late Hon. George Crawford, of Brockville, Ont., a senator of the Dom. of Can., by his wife, Caroline, dau. of Adiel Sherwood, (U. E. L. descent). B. at Brockville, July 27, 1846, he was ed. at the Brockville Grammar Sch., at U. C. Coll., and at the Univ. of Toronto (B.A., 1866; M.A., 1870). Ordained deacon, 1869, and priest, 1870, by Archbp. Lewis, his first charge was the mission of Hillier and Wellington, Ont., and he was subsequently rector of Hawkesbury, 1870-75; rector of Trinity Ch., Brockville (which he established), 1875-89, and rector of the Ch. of the Ascension, Hamilton, 1889-92. Since then he has been rector of St. Luke's Cath., Halifax, N.S. He declined a call to Winnipeg, 1883. Mr. C., while at Brockville, was Chairman of the High Sch. Bd. He was apptd. chaplain to the Bp. of Ont., 1885, and commissary in Ont., for the Bp. of Algoma, in the same year. He was originally intended for the army, and while at the Univ. served with the Queen's Own, during the first Fenian troubles and was present at Ridgeway, 1866. He was nominated as a candidate for the Bishopric of Algoma, 1896. Although a mem. of a Con. family, he favours the political Ind. of Can. He m. Jan., 1871, Annie, 4th dau. of the late Dr. Jas. A. CRAWFORD, John, capitalist, is the s. of the late Walter Crawford, Ballievey House, Banbridge, Co. Down, Irel., and was b. there, 1814. Coming to Can., 1829, he commenced his business career as book-keeper in the house of Jones, Murray & Co., Quebec. Subsequently, he entered the service of Gillespie, Moffatt & Co., Montreal, and was afterwards for some yrs. paying teller in the City Bank. More recently his time has been almost wholly given to the management of his private business interests. He is a large stockholder in the Bank of Montreal, and in other Can. financial institutions, is a dir. of the Montreal Gas Co., a trustee of the Montreal Turnpike Trust, and has been V.-P. of Molson's Bank, and Presdt. of the Montreal Street Ry. Co. Mr. C. has also sat in the Municipal Council. He was for some considerable time Master of the Montreal Fox Hounds. Politically, a Con. all his lifetime, he yet broke away from party affiliations at the Dom. g. e. 1896, and gave the weight of his influence to Mr. Laurier—principally on the ground that the Dom., under Con. rule, was fast drifting into a public expenditure totally incompatible with its growth and resources, aggravated by the natural concomitants, extravagance and corruption. Mr. C. is opposed to a promiscuous European immigration. He would encourage only farmers of a good type, giving them judicious land grants in Man. and the West, on favourable conditions. He entertains a strong objection to the proposed yearly subsidy to secure a 20-knot Atlantic mail service. He m. 1st, Miss Molson, of Montreal (she d.); and 2nd, the young. sister of the Rev. Canon Ellegood. In religious faith, he is a mem. of the Ch. of Eng., and has served as a del. to the Ch. Synod.—Verdun House, near Montreal, P.Q.; St. James's Club, Montreal.

CREED, Herbert Clifford, educationist, is the 6th s. of the late Geo. J. Creed, a native of Faversham, Kent, Eng., who was formerly a clk. in the R. E. Dept., at Halifax, N.S., by Susan, dau. of the late John Wellner, B. at Halifax, Sept. 23, 1843, he was ed. at the High Sch., in his native place, at Dalhousie Coll., and at the Univ. of Acadia Coll. (B.A., 1865; M.A., 1869). While carrying on his studies, he was teacher of French in Horton Acad., and at the Ladies' Semy., Wolfville. Subsequently, having chosen the profession of teaching, he was apptd., 1869, Head Master of the Co. Acad., Sydney, C.B., where he remained 4 yrs. Afterwards he was Principal of Yarmouth Semy., 1869-72; and do., Eng. High Sch., Fredericton, 1872-73. In 1874 he was apptd. Instructor in Math. in the Provl. Normal Sch., Fredericton, a position he still occupies. Concurrently, he has been called to other prominent positions connected with his profession. He was during several yrs. one of the exams. at his Alma Mater, and for a considerable period a mem. of the Bd. of Governors of Acadia Coll. He was also, for some yrs., a Senator, and Secy. of the Senate, and from 1877 to 1892, Secy. of the Educational Inst., N.B. Mr. C. is a mem. of the Mang. Comte. of the Fredericton Inst. for the Deaf and Dumb, and an Exam. for the Med. Council, N. B. In religion, a Bapt., he has filled the offices of Secy., V.-P. and Presdt. of the Bapt. Convention of the Maritime Provinces. He is also a dir. of the Maritime Bapt. Pub. Co. Mr. C. has written largely for the press, often anonymously, on educational topics, the temp. question, matters of Christian doctrine and practice, etc.; and has also prepared a variety of matter for school texts and other books. He has taken an active part in the work of fraternal orders and societies, and has reached the highest offices and rewards in their gift to bestow—Freemasonry, Oddfellowship, Temp., United Workmen, and Forestry, being all included in the list. In Forestry especially, his services have marked him out for special honour at the hands of his brethren. For 5 yrs. he was the head of the order (H.C.R.) in N.B.; he was Supreme Vice-C.R. for 2 yrs., and he finally received the Grand Cross of Merit at the close of his official career. CREELMAN, James, newspaper correspondent and litterateur, is the s. of the late Matthew Creelman, for many yrs. an officer of the Steam Inspection Assur. Co., Montreal. B. in Montreal, 1858, he ran away from home when 12 yrs. of age. He started to walk to N. Y., a feat he successfully accomplished by virtue of a ride now and then on a ry. train. Attracting the attention of the Rev. Dr. Muhlenberg, he obtained employment in the office of Church and State, then the official organ of the Prot. Ep. Ch. in Am. He learned the business of a printer thoroughly in various establishments, finally drifting into the office of the Brooklyn Eagle, where he met Thos. Kinsella, who encouraged him to write, and to whom he submitted his first poem. He next undertook a course in Theol. in Dr. Talmage's lay theological coll., but not with any intention of ascending the pulpit. In 1878 he went on the New York Herald as a reporter. In the winter, 1878, Capt. Paul Boyton arrived in N. Y. with his famous life-saving suit, then a much doubted novelty. C. was assigned by the paper to test the efficacy of the suit, and one night he and Boyton donned the life-saving armour, and jumping into the river at the Battery allowed themselves to drift down into the bay. The night was very cold and the river full of ice, so that when the swimmers wished to reach the shore they found themselves unable to do so. Mr. C. wrote the account of this night's adventure and the publication created a veritable sensation, and made Boyton's life-saving suit famous. As a consequence of this C., later, as special correspondent for the same paper, accompanied Boyton on his well-known trip from Oil City, Pa., through the Alleghany, Ohio and Mississippi rivers to the Gulf of Mexico. In 1879, Mr. C. was sent to Montreal to accompany Prof. C. H. Grimley in the first ascension of Page's iron air-ship. The aeronauts nearly lost their lives in this adventure. The ship burst and dragged its occupants for many miles before they were rescued. Mr. C. escaped with a broken arm and a few painful bruises, but Grimley was more seriously injured. After this Mr. C. was called on to investigate the death of Gen. Custer, and inteviewed Sitting Bull and all the fighting chiefs of that day. He also was sent to write up the Hatfield-McCoy feud, and was frequently shot at by the Hatfields, who refused to allow him to approach their rendezvous, compelling him to sleep in the woods or where he could. Called to Paris, 1889, and thence sent to London to assume the Mang.-Editorship of the London edition of the New York Herald, he afterwards occupied positions of trust on the Paris Herald, and was in charge there for several yrs. In the course of his employment in the foreign offices of the paper, Mr. C. was sent to Rome, where he obtained an interview with the Pope, and also an exclusive interview with H. M. Stanley on the latter's return from the Emin Bey trip. He visited Louis Kossuth at Turin, and explained his aims and mode of life. He was sent to write up the reception of Ericsson's body in the harbour of Stockholm, and to Russia, to investigate the so-called persecution of the Jews. He visited Count Tolstoi at Yasnia Poliania, in the heart of Russia, and wrote an account of the famous Russian's life-work. Mr. C. severed his connection with the Herald, Nov., 1893, and went to Eng. to found and manage the Brit. ed. of the Cosmopolitan Mag. He remained there, however, but a few months, and on his return accepted an offer to proceed to Japan as war correspondent for the N. Y. World in Corea, China and Japan. He served throughout the struggle, being the only Am. correspondent at the front. At one time he was taken prisoner by the Japanese, but was liberated by Eng. intervention. After his return to Am., he was sent to Cuba, at the outbreak of the rebellion in that country, but being expelled from the island, saw little of the struggle there. More recently he has been in Greece and Turkey. While in Paris, 1891, he m. Miss Buel, of Ohio, a noted beauty.—Press Club, New York.

CREIGHTON, David, Dom. civil service, was b. in Glasgow, Scot., of Irish parentage, Apl. 1, 1843. Coming to Can., with his parents, 1855, he was ed. in this country. He was long engaged in journalism, having been ed. and prop. of the Owen Sound Times from 1864 up to his final retirement from that field of labour, Jan. 1, 1896. In 1887 he was entrusted by the late Sir John Macdonald with the task of forming a stock co. for the purpose of publishing a daily official organ in Toronto, the result being The Empire, the first number of which appeared Dec. 27, 1887. This paper continued to be published until the arrangement, in Feb., 1895, by which it and The Mail both ceased publication that a new paper, The Mail and Empire, might take its place. Always Con. in politics, Mr. C. sat in that interest for North Grey, in the Ont. Assembly, from Oct., 1875 up to the g. e. 1890, when he was defeated by Mr. Cleland, the Reform candidate. He was apptd. Asst. Receiver-Genl. at Toronto, May 10, 1895. Mr. C. is a mem. of the Ch. of Eng., and m. Oct., 1873, Miss Jane Elizabeth Kramer.—Spadina Road, Toronto; Albany Club.

CROIL, James, author, journalist and administrator, is the 3rd s. of the late James Croil, a W. I. merchant in Glasgow, Scot., and was b. in that city, Sept. 4, 1821. Ed. at the New Acad., Edinburgh; at the Grange Semy., Sunderland, and at Glasgow Univ., he, after 2 years' apprenticeship to a farmer, came to Can., 1841, and some yrs. later purchased the historic Chrysler's farm, Williamsburgh, Ont., the scene of the famous battle of 1813. Here he followed a farming life for 23 yrs. At a somewhat critical period in its history, Mr. C. accepted an appt. as Genl. Agent for the Ch. of Scot. in Can., and entered on the duties of that office, 1865, visiting during that year and part of 1866, the 120 congregations of the Ch., imparting to them sound advice, and receiving from them a fund of valuable information, subsequently published in the form of a historical and statistical report. In order to the better prosecution of the work, Mr. C., in 1869, sold his farm, removed with his family to Montreal, and was regularly installed in "The Church Agent's Office," which, from that time became as well the office of publication of The Presbyterian, a monthly ch. mag., dating from 1848, and of which Mr. C. was apptd. ed., 1872. In 1876, the four several newspaper organs of the Presb. Ch. were united and merged into one, named The Presbyterian Record, of which Mr. C. was apptd., by the Genl. Assembly, the first Managing Ed. In 1891, when he had reached the plenitude of yrs. indicated by three score and ten, he relinquished this dept. of his work, handing over to his successor in office, a dispatch list of 46,000 monthly, by far the most extensive circulation of any denominational mag. in Am. In the meantime, work and responsibility of another kind had been increasing upon him. To other duties were added the secretariat of the Church's Temporalities Fund and of the Ministers' Widows' and Orphans' Fund, involving the management and administration of large sums of money. For a short time he was a dir. of the ill-fated Consolidated Bank. Mr. C. served as Supdt. of St. Paul's Sunday Sch., Montreal, and as Presdt. of the Sabbath Sch. Assn. of Montreal, each 7 yrs.; for a similar period he represented in this country (in which he was ordained to an eldership half a century ago) the Scottish Provident Inst. of Edinburgh. His services to the Presb. Ch. have been acknowledged in a variety of forms. He was a del. to the Genl. Assembly of the Ch. of Scot., 1875; to the same, and to the Genl. Assembly of the Free Ch. of Scot., 1879; to the Genl. Assembly of the Presb. Ch. in the United States of Am., and that of the United Presb. Ch. in the U. S., 1876; to the Pan-Presb. Council, Edinburgh, 1877, at Philadelphia, 1880, and at Belfast, 1884; at the Genl. Conf. of the Evangel. Alliance at Copenhagen the same year; to the Raikes Centenary Sabbath Sch. Convention, London, 1880; and at different times to the Ang. and Meth. Churches of Can. Mr. C. has travelled extensively in Europe and Am., and is regarded as a man of keen observation and reflection. Besides numerous contributions to mission. publications in the U. S. and elsewhere, he is the author of "Lectures on Agriculture" (1855); "Dundas, a Sketch of Canadian History" (1861); "Historical and Statistical Report of the Church of Scotland in Can." (1867); "Life of Alexander Mathieson, D.D." (1870); "Story of the Kirk in the Maritime Provinces" (1875); "The Missionary Problem" (1883); "The Noble Army of Martyrs" (1894). C. was apptd. Sol.-Gen. in the ministry of Sir John Thompson, and continued to hold that office after the accession to the premiership of Sir Mackenzie Bowell. On the occasion of his appt. His Lordship was congratulated by the press without distinction of party, both on public and personal grounds. In acknowledgment of "his indefatigable efforts to promote the interests of his constituents," he was presented, in 1890, chiefly by citizens of Montreal, with a purse of $7,000. On the organization of a Law Faculty in connection with the Univ. of Ottawa, 1892, Mr. C. was apptd. to one of the legal chairs and elected Vice-Dean. He is also a mem. of the Senate of that Univ., and Presdt. of the Alumni Assn. In addition to winning distinction as an orator, His Lordship has won a high rank as a lecturer, and his address on the "Life and Labours of Sir John Thompson," before the Cath. Summer Sch., at Plattsburgh, N.Y., July, 1896, was considered an able and eloquent tribute to the memory of one of the Dominion's greatest statesmen. Though a fervent Cath., Judge C. yields to none in breadth of sympathy and generous desire for the union of all denominations for the best and noblest objects. In replying to an address from the ladies of St. Ann's, Montreal, after his elevation to the bench, he said, "That as a public man, it had been his constant aim to bring about a union of hearts and minds amongst all creeds and classes," and he "was satisfied that if we desired to have a prosperous country, with a happy and contented people, we could only secure those blessings by all creeds and classes uniting together for one common end—the advancement and welfare of Canada and the Empire." In Aug., 1896, he was elected a del. to the Irish Race Convention, which met in Dublin during the ensuing month. He has been Presdt. of St. Patrick's Soc., Montreal, and was until his elevation to the bench, one of the dirs. of the True Witness Publish. Co. It is known that he wields a facile pen, and has contributed largely to the mag. and newspaper press on legal, historical, and other subjects. Among offices that he filled before entering public life may be mentioned that of Secy. to the Crown for the consolidation of the Genl. Statutes of Quebec, and that of Fire Comnr. for the city and dist. of Montreal. By the Irish community of Montreal he is regarded as one who has stood the test of devotion to their common fatherland, but it is to Can. that he has given his best service, and by his fellow-Canadians, without distinction of origin or creed, he is held in the highest esteem and honour. He m. 1865, Mary Elizabeth, young. dau. of the late Patrick Brennan, Montreal. His 3rd s., Francis Joseph Curran, after graduating at Manhattan Univ., N.Y., and McGill Univ., Montreal, has been called to the bar of his native Province.—109 Hutchison St., Montreal.

"No constituency in Canada has ever had a representative who gave up more of his time, his talent and his energy to the promotion of its interests than did Mr. Curran during the thirteen years he has enjoyed the confidence of the electors . . . . His genial kindly nature, his large-heartedness, his conspicuous liberality of mind, absolutely free from every trace of bigotry, and his splendid oratorical powers, caused him to be in constant requisition wherever men were gathered together in the promotion of worthy objects, for the discussion of public affairs or the advancement of the material and social welfare of the country."—Gazette

CURRIE, George Graham, poet and journalist, is the s. of F. P. Currie, a native of Scot., by his wife Ellen Hanna, a native of Irel. B. in the E. T., June 6, 1867, he was ed. at the High Sch., Montreal. After holding a clerkship in the service of the Grand Trunk Ry. for 5 yrs., he went to B. C., and became connected with the press of that Province. He is now part prop. of the Columbia Commercial Coll., Vancouver. In 1893, he published a volume of verse entitled, "How I once Felt: Songs of Love and Travel," which has been spoken of as being full of promise. Mr. C. has travelled extensively on the North Am. continent. In 1891, he paddled from Juneau, Alaska to Skeena River, B.C., in a dug-out canoe. He is Treas. of the Vancouver Liberal Assn., and believes in free trade, compulsory education, free immigration, woman suffrage and universal franchise. He hopes some day to see Can. a nation. CURRIE, Rev. John (Presb.), educationist, was b. at Tatamagouche, N.S., Dec. 22, 1828. His father, who occupied the position of teacher in the Grammar Sch. at Tatamagouche, for about 40 yrs., was a native of Dumfriesshire, Scot. His mother was a dau. of Thos. Waugh, who also was an emigrant from Dumfriesshire. Dr. C. was ed. at the Grammar Sch. of his native place, and at the West River Semy., Pictou, N.S., an institution under the management of the Presb. Ch. of N. S. In connection with this ch., he entered upon the study of Theol., 1851, receiving part of his professional training in the institution at Pictou, and part in Edinburgh, in the United Presb. Hall, the Free Ch. Coll., and the Edinburgh Univ. He was licensed to preach, July, 1856, and, after several mths.' work in the home mission field, was, in the year following, settled as pastor over the 2nd Presb. cong. of Maitland and Noel, Co. of Hants. Here he laboured for upwards of 14 yrs. In July, 1871, he was apptd. Prof. of Hebrew and Old Testament Lit. in the Presb. Coll., Halifax, where he still labours. The work now assigned the chair he occupies is Hebrew and Old Testament Exegesis. The local press has published all the lectures delivered by Mr. C. at the opening of the Coll. sessions. Articles from his pen have appeared in several of the leading Am. periodicals. An article on the Value of the Study of Hebrew to theol. students and ministers was published in an extra of Dr. Harper's periodical The Hebrew Student, and at the time, attracted considerable attention. Dr. C. has also given some assistance in the perfecting of a valuable edition of the Hebrew Bible published in Eng., and in the correction of a popular Hebrew Grammar and Reader. More recently he was a mem. of an Advisory Comte. in connection with the editorial staff of Funk & Wagnall's "Standard Dictionary of the Eng. Language." He has always taken a warm interest in educational matters, having been a teacher in the public schs. for 8 yrs. For several years he has been a mem. of the Bd. of Exam. for Teachers' Licenses for N. S., and also one of the Matriculation Exams. apptd. by the Prov. Med. Bd. In 1885 Queen's Univ., Kingston, conferred upon him the degree of D.D., "in recognition of his scholarly attainments and his work as a professor." Dr. C. has been twice married, 1stly, 1859, to the only dau. of the late David Frieze, Maitland, N.S.; and, 2ndly, 1871, to the 2nd dau. of the late Capt. Wm. Douglas, same place.—3 Bland St., Halifax, N.S.

CURRIE, John Zebulon, M.D., is the s. of Thos. Gilbert and Patience Currie, and is descended on both sides from U. E. L. families. B. at Keswick, N.B., Jan. 3, 1847, he was ed. at the local schs., and took a teacher's certificate at the Provl. Normal Sch. Subsequently, he attended the Bapt. Semy., Fredericton, and the Univ. of N. B. (B.A., with honours in Eng. Lang. and Lit., 1890; B.Sc., 1890; Ph.D., 1895). Studying Med. at Harvard Univ. (M.D., 1873), he was admitted a Fellow of the Mass. Med. Soc., the same year, and completed his professional ed. at the Univ. of Edin. and the Coll. of P. and S., in that city. At the Univ. he was awarded the first medal in Midwifery and Diseases of Women and Children, having attained the highest standard taken in those branches up to that time. Dr. C. practised successfully at Fredericton from 1874 up to his removal to Cambridge, Mass., 1893. He was Regr. of the Council of P. and S. of N. B. from its first organization, 1881 to 1893; was apptd. Coroner, 1882; Surgeon of 71st Batt. York Co. V. M., 1883; Chief Health Offr. and Secy. of Provl. Bd. of Health, 1887. In 1891 he was selected by the N. B. Govt. to represent the Province at the Intern. Congress of Hygiene and Dermography held in London, Eng. He has contributed largely to the Med. press. Dr. C. takes no part in politics. He is a mem. of the Bapt. Ch., and was m. June, 1877, to Helen M., dau. of the late Harris S. Estey, Fredericton.—907 Massachusetts Ave., Cambridge, Mass; Colonial Club, do.

CURRIE, Rev. Walter Thomas (Cong.), was b. in Toronto, and received his ed. at McGill Coll. (B.A., 1885). Ordained to the ministry, 1885, he was the first mission. sent out to Africa by the Can. Cong. Foreign Miss. Soc. In Sept., 1888, he established the mission station at Cisambra, Bihe, West Central Africa. Here he remained alone until 1889, when he was joined by the Rev. Wilberforce Lee. The mission has a sch. for young people, which is well attended, and there is a large attendance at the preaching services on Sunday. Cisambra is in Portuguese territory, and a military force having been sent thither to punish the authors of an alleged rebellion, Mr. C. acted as arbitrator, and secured peace, which raised him in the estimation of the natives, with whom he has since had great influence. His letters, descriptive of his explorations and journeys, have been published in book form (Mont., 1888). He m. 1st, 1885, Miss Clara Wilkes, a niece of the late Rev. Dr. Wilkes, of Montreal (she d. in Africa, 1886); and 2ndly, 1894, Miss Amy Johnson, of Brandon, Man. — Cisambra, Bihe, Angola, West Central Africa.

CURZON, Mrs. Sarah Anne, author, was b. near Birmingham, Eng., 1833, and with the exception of three or four yrs. spent at a girl's sch., at Birmingham, received the usual education given at ladies' schs., taking languages and music from private tutors. In addition, she owes much intellectual aid to her parents. M. 1858, to Robt. Curzon, of Norfolk (now deceased), she came with him to Can., 1862, and has since resided in Toronto. In early yrs. she wrote little stories and hymns for the home circle, and sent various competitive pieces, in prose and verse, to the popular family periodicals of the day. On the founding of the Can. Monthly, by Prof. Goldwin Smith, 1872, her attention was drawn to Can. Literature, and she contributed to that mag. several papers of a simple character, as also a little verse. Later, becoming deeply interested in the status of woman, she took up the question of a woman's right to all Coll. and Univ. privileges in Arts, Science and Med., and as a mem. of the then Toronto Woman's Literary Club, contributed industriously to the discussions thereon in the daily press. She was also a strong advocate of Woman Suffrage, writing in support of it in Can., Eng. and Am. newspapers, and editing a woman's page on the same lines in the Canada Citizen (Toronto). For two yrs. she was sub.-ed. of that paper. Not finding it convenient to assume regular press duties, Mrs. C.'s literary work has continued in its old form of occasional contributions of fiction, essay and verse to periodicals of high standing published in Can., among them being The Week, The Dom. Illustrated, Grip, The Evang. Churchman, The Can. Mag. Her pen, however, has always been at the service of the public, and she has consequently done a good deal of unclassified writing. In 1887, she brought out "Laura Secord, the Heroine of 1812," a drama, illustrating a striking episode in Can. history. This book aroused a very general feeling of interest in all the events of the campaign of 1812-14, and led to the formation of several historical societies and organizations having for their object the prosecution of original research and investigation. Since 1887, the greater part of her contributions to Can. literature has been on historical subjects, to which have been added translations into Eng. from Le Moine, Sulte, and other well known writers in the Province of Quebec. Mrs. C. has written pamphlets and papers for the Lundy's Lane Hist. Soc., and she has read papers before the York Pioneer and Hist. Soc., and before the National Council of Women, presided over by the Countess of Aberdeen. She is an hon. mem. of the two societies first named and of the Woman's Art Assn. of Can., and in 1895, was elected Presdt. of the Woman's Can. His. Soc. A mem. of the Ch. of Eng., she is in politics, a Lib.-Con. DARTNELL, Major John George, retired officer, is the s. of the late Dr. George Russell Dartnell, Depty. Inspr.-Genl. of Army Hospitals, and formerly Surg. of the 1st Royals. B. in London, Ont., 1838, he entered the army as ensign 86th Regt., 1855, and was subsequently Adjt. of the regt. and served with it with the Central India Field Force, 1857. He was present at the storm and capture of Chundaree, and led the only successful attack on the fortress of Jhansi (severely wounded, mentioned in dispatches, medal with clasp and bt. o Major). Subsequently, he served in the Bhootan expedition as A.D.C. to Major.-Genl. Tombs, and was present at the recapture of Dewangiri. He retired from the army, 1864, and in 1874 became Major-Comdt. of the Natal volunteers and mounted police forces. He led the left flanking force of Lord Chelmford's column from Isandhlwna, and is mentioned by name in Rider Haggard's novel "The Witches' Head." In 1881 he received from H. M. the decoration of a C.M.G.—Natal.

DARVEAU, Charles, Q.C., is the s. of Joseph Darveau by his wife, Madeline Pageot, and was b. at St. Ambroise de la jeune Lorette, P.Q., Feb. 9, 1847. Ed at the Quebec Semy. and at Laval Univ., he was called to the bar, 1871. He practised for some yrs. in partnership with I. N. Belleau, and afterwards with C. A. Lemay, and was created a Q.C., by the Marquis of Lansdowne, 1887. Mr. D. has occasionally been attached to the newspaper press, and he still writes on political topics. He has held the presidency of various benevolent socs., including the C. M. B. A., Foresters, etc., and he is now V.-P. of the Assn. Conservatrice de Levis. He was an unsuccessful candidate for Levis in the Con. interest, Dom. g. e. 1887. In religious faith, a R. C., he m. 1st, 1875, Mdlle. Marie Louise Delisle, (she d.); and 2ndly, 1882, Mdlle. R. E. DAVID, Laurent Olivier, author and journalist, is the s. of the late Major Stanislas David, Sault au Recollet, P.Q., by his wife, Elizabeth Tremblay. B. at Sault au Recollet, Mch. 24, 1840, he was ed. at the Coll. of Ste. Thérèse, and was called to the bar, 1864. While a student he assisted in founding Le Colonisateur newspaper, to which he was a contributor. After his admission to the bar, he became the law partner of Mr. Mousseau, afterwards Premier of Quebec and a Judge. In 1870, in conjunction with Messrs. Mousseau and Desbarats, he established L'Opinion Publique, an illustrated weekly. Of this paper he was the chief ed. He retired from this position owing to his disapproval of the course taken by his associates in reference to the Can. Pac. Ry. transaction. In 1874, he joined Mr. Beausoleil, M.P., in founding Le Bien Public, which enjoyed a prosperous existence up to the time of his advocacy of the principle of protection, and his entering on a crusade against the Cath. clergy for their interference in political elections. Owing to the combined influences of the Lib. party and the Ch., the paper succumbed. After this, he became a translator to the Ho. of Commons at Ottawa, being apptd. thereto by the Mackenzie Govt. On Sir John Macdonald's return to power, 1878, he offered to continue Mr. D. in his official position, but that gentleman declined, preferring to return to his law practice in Montreal. At the same time he published a weekly paper called La Tribune. Mr. D. commenced political life as a Con., but left that party to join L'Union Nationale, an organization of young men pledged to oppose the Confederation of the Provinces. Later, he became a regular mem. of the Lib. party under Dorion, Holton, and Laflamme, and was in full accord with their policy on all questions, save that of protection to native industries, to which he has always been favourable. For many yrs. he has been a personal friend and follower of the present Prime Minister, Sir W. Laurier, and it is believed that he enjoys the confidence of that statesman in an especial degree. Mr. D. unsuccessfully contested Hochelaga, for the Legislature, at the g. els. of 1867 and 1875, and for the Commons, at the g. e. 1878. He stood also for the Ho. of Commons in Montreal East at the g. e. 1891. He was elected to the Legislature for the last-named constituency (defeating Atty.-Genl. Taillon) at the g. e. 1886, and sat throughout the Parlt. Declining renomination in 1890, because he could not accept absolutely the policy of the late Mr. Mercier, he has since remained out of public life. While a mem. of the Legislature he was instrumental in introducing measures for the protection of the wages and furniture of the workingmen, and for the reduction of law costs. In 1888 he was apptd a del. from the Assembly to the French-Can. National Convention, at Nashua, N. H. In May, 1892, he was elected City Clerk of Montreal, a position he still retains. Mr. D. has done much to foster and strengthen the national spirit in the Province of Quebec. He was Presdt. of the St. Jean Baptiste Soc., Montreal, 1887-8, and laboured for over 12 yrs. towards securing the creation of the national building which it now possesses, and of establishing in connection therewith courses of public lectures for the instruction of the French-Can. people. His published works include: "Biographies et Portraits" (1876), "Les Héros de Chateauguay" (1883), "Les Patriotes de 1837-38" (1884), "Mes Contemporains" (1894), "Les deux Papineau" (1896), "Le Clergé Canadien: sa mission et son œuvre" (do.). In the last-named work the author took strong ground against certain of the R. C. clergy in the Province of Quebec for undue intervention in political matters. The book, though approved by many eminent theologians, was, nevertheless, condemned by the Congregation of the Index at Rome. He is a Fellow of the Royal Soc. of Can. In religion, he is a R. C. He m. 1st, 1868, Miss Albina Chenet (she d. July, 1887); and 2nd, 1892, Miss Ludivine Garceau.—43 Cherrier St., Montreal.

DAVIDSON John, educationist, is the s. of Wm. Davidson, produce broker, Leith, Scot., and was b. in Edinburgh, 1869. He was ed. at the Royal High Sch., Edinburgh, and at Edinburgh Univ., where in 1890 he graduated with 1st class honours in Phil; was Rhind Sch. in Phil. 1890; and Vans Dunlop Sch. in Ethics 1891; Dickson Travelling Sch. 1897; Lord Rector's prizeman, 1891; Danl. Stewart's prizeman in Pol. Economy, 1890; and London Edinburgh Univ. Club essayist, 1891. Thereafter, he studied at the Univ. of Berlin Constitutional Law under Prof. Hubler and Phil. under Prof. Paulsen (Ph.D., 1897). He was apptd. Alumni Prof. of Phil. and Pol. Economy in Univ. of N. B., 1891, a position he still fills. He has published in Annals of Am. Acad. of Social and Pol. Science: "The growth of the French-Canadian Race in America" (1896). This monograph contains statistics of great interest, showing a study of the French-Can. population of the U. S. as well as of Can.. The writer observes that in spite of the high birth-rate, the French-Can. family averages little larger than the English-Can., owing to the great infant mortality caused probably by careless feeding of children in summer. Prof. D's. conclusion from various census reports is that the French-Can. population has doubled itself every 27 yrs. He m. 1895, Helen, daughter of T. Watt, Edinburgh.—Fredericton, N.B.

DAVIDSON, Rev. John Cheyne (Ch. of Eng.), is the s. of the late Rev. Canon Davidson, of Colborne, Ont., by his wife, Susanna Ferrar, dau. of Capt. Cheyne, R.N., and was b. at Newboro', Ont., 1861. DAVIDSON, Leonidas Heber, Q.C., is the 5th s. of the late Rev. John C. Davidson, for many yrs. Ang. rector of Cowansville and Sweetsburgh, P.Q., by his wife, Ann Elizabeth Burrows. B. in Toronto, July 3, 1842, he was ed. by his father and at the St. John's and Cowansville High schs. He commenced his coll. course at Lennoxville, proceeding afterward to McGill Univ., Montreal (B.A., 1863; B.C.L., 1864; M.A., 1867; D.C.L., 1887), and was called to the bar, 1864. Following the practice of his profession in Montreal, he has now attained a foremost position at the bar in that city. He was one of the first counsel from the Quebec bar to appear before the Supreme Ct., Ottawa, after its organization, and he has personally, and without the aid of Eng. counsel, appeared before and conducted appeals to H. M.'s Privy Counsel in Eng. He is especially regarded as an authority upon Ch. or Canon Law, and has delivered lectures thereon in the Mont. Theol. Coll. He was created a Q. C., by the Earl of Derby, 1887. He received the hon. degree of D.C.L. from Lennoxville, 1884. He was apptd. Prof. of Commercial Law in his Alma Mater, 1881, and in 1896 was chosen to succeed Dr. Trenholme as Dean of the Law Faculty. This office he resigned 1897. He became widely known in Can. as one of the leaders in the agitation against the passing of the Jesuits' Estates Bill, 1889, and was Chairman of the Montreal Citizens' Comte. formed in connection therewith. He was apptd. a mem. of the Montreal Sch. Comn., 1882. He was one of the originators of the Citizens' League, and of the Good Govt. Assn. of Montreal, and has taken a leading part generally towards securing political and municipal reform in his adopted city. Among other institutions with which he is now connected are the Prot. Hospital for the Insane, of which he is a dir., and the Mont. Genl. Hospital, of which he is a life gov. He is probably the most active lay mem. of the Ch. of Eng. within the Dom. He was ed. and prop. of the Church Guardian, 1884-95, and was Lay Secy. to the Provl. Synod of Can., 1886-97. He now holds the office of Ch. DAVIES, Acton, who enjoys the distinction of being the youngest dramatic critic in N. Y., is the eld. s. of the late Lieut. E. Whitacre Davies, Royal Can. Rifles, and was b. at St. John's, P.Q., 1870. Ed. at the High Sch., in his native place, he, when 17 yrs. of age, left there for N. Y. in search of employment. Obtaining a position under Mitchell, Vance & Co., he devoted his spare time to writing short stories. One of these stories, "Little Tot's Message," was accepted by Current Literature. On the strength of this story Mr. D. obtained a position on the reportorial staff of the N. Y. Evening Sun. After 3 yrs. of general work, he was promoted to the position of dramatic ed., which he still holds. In addition to his dramatic criticisms, Mr. D. writes a daily bulletin on theatrical affairs, which is one of the most popular features of The Evening Sun, and one of the most widely copied columns in the country. Among the most successful of his short stories have been: "Dimple and Dompling," "Flip-Flop, "Sawed Off—A Tragedy in Inches," "What Mrs. Johnnie Did," and a Newfoundland Tale, "In God's Own Country." A French-Canadian story from his pen, called "The Return of Jean Baptiste," and a novel, "The Grand Finale," are to appear very shortly. —"Evening Sun" Office, New York.

DAVIES, Hon. Sir Louis Henry, Q.C., statesman, is the s. of the late Hon. Benj. Davies, formerly Colonial Secy. of P. E. I., by his wife, Kezia Attwood Watts, and is of Huguenot descent. B. in Charlottetown, May 4, 1845, he was ed. at the Central Acad. and at Prince of Wales Coll., Charlottetown. He completed his professional education at the Inner Temple, London, and was called to the bar, 1866, thereafter practising in his native city, where he speedily won a foremost place among his professional brethren. He was apptd. a Q. C., 1880, and was elected a mem. of the Ex. Comte. of the Can. Bar Assn., 1896. Mr. D. was the leading counsel for the tenantry before the P. E. I. Land Comn., 1875-76, presided over by the late Rt. Hon. H. C. E. Childers, which successfully settled the land question of the Province, and he was also employed as one of the Brit. counsel before the Intern. Fisheries Comn. apptd. under the Treaty of Washington, that met at Halifax, 1877, and, with the other counsel associated with him, received the thanks of H. M.'s Govt. for his services on that occasion. He entered public life, as a mem. of the Local Assembly, 1872, remaining a mem. of that body up to 1879, when he was defeated. During the major portion of this period he was leader of the Opposition. In Sept., 1876, he became Premier and Atty.-Genl. While in office he passed the Free Sch. Act, which has done so much for education in P. E. I., and besides effecting many reforms in the public service, placed the Province in a good position financially. Returned to the Ho. of Commons, in the Lib. interest, at the g. e. 1882, for Queen's, P.E.I., he has since continued to hold his seat therein, and after his appt. to the Laurier cabinet, as Mr. of Marine and Fisheries, July 13, 1896, was re-elected by acclamation. Besides other positions of a similar character closely associated with financial and industrial undertakings now held by him, he is Presdt. of the Merchants' Bank of P. E. I. He is also Presdt. of the Charlottetown Club. He was elected Presdt. of the Maritime Provinces Lib. Assn., and to him was entrusted almost the whole work of organization on behalf of his party in that section of the Dom. prior to the Lib. triumph of 1896. Since his appt. to office he has undertaken two political missions, one in 1896, to Washington, in reference to reciprocal trade; and the other in 1897, to London, in connection with the Behring sea seal controversy, the question of the control of the internal fisheries of Can., and the Belgian and German trade treaties. In 1897 he was, on the completion of the 60th year of H. M.'s reign, apptd. a Knight Commander of the Distinguished Order of St. Michael and St. George. Sir Louis is a mem. of the Ch. of Eng. He m. DAVIN, Nicholas Flood, Q.C., journalist and legislator, is the s. of the late N. F. Davin, M.D., by his wife Eliza, youngest dau. of Richard Lane, of Bally Scanlan, Irel. B. at Kilfinane, Co. Limerick, Jan. 13, 1843, he was ed. by private tuition, at Queen's Coll., Cork, and at a coll. affiliated to the London Univ. Thereafter, he was called to the bar at the Middle Temple, London, 1868. His connection with journalism began as a reporter in the gallery of the Ho. of Commons. He served afterwards as war correspondent for the Irish Times and the London Standard during the Franco-German war, and was wounded at the siege of Montmedy. Being thrown from his horse while hunting in Eng., he came to Can., July, 1872, on sick leave and without any intention of staying. Growing fond of the country, he accepted an offer to join the staff of the Toronto Globe as leader writer on European, literary and social questions. After he became interested in politics he left the Globe, and devoted a whole year to lecturing in various portions of the Dom. He then joined the staff of the Toronto Mail, the chief organ in Can. of the Con. party. He was called to the Ont. bar, 1874, and subsequently to the N.-W. bar, and was created a Q. C. by the Earl of Derby, 1890. As a barrister he conducted an enquiry into certain irregularities existing in the management of the Normal Sch., Toronto, 1876; defended Bennett for the murder of Hon. Geo. Brown, 1880; and defended Macdonald also for murder, securing a verdict of "manslaughter," 1894. Mr. D. took part in the "N. P." campaign of 1876-77-78, and was Sir John Macdonald's candidate in Haldimand at the ensuing g. e. After the Con. triumph, 1878, he was sent to Washington by the new admn., to enquire into and report on the system of Indian schs. in the U. S., and he afterwards went to Man. to take evidence on the best locations for such schs. in that Province. In 1880 he was apptd. Secy. of the Royal Comn. respecting the C. P. Ry., and, in 1884, Secy. of the Royal Comn. on Chinese immigration. Mr. D. first went to the N.-W., 1882, on a visit. He liked the country, and determined to settle there. In Mch. of the following year, he established the Leader at Regina, the first newspaper ever issued in Assiniboia. The Leader became a power in the land, and remained under Mr. D.'s control for many yrs. Mr. D. has sat for West Assiniboia in the Ho. of Commons since the granting of representation at Ottawa to the Territories, 1887. He has throughout laboured strenuously for the promotion of a vigorous immigration policy, the adoption of "Tariff Reform," the encouragement of a national sentiment, scientific protection, and a free court for talent. In May, 1895, he moved a resolution declaring that the principle of voting for members of the Commons should be extended to women possessing the qualifications which now entitle men to the electoral franchise (Vote, 47 to 101). He is one of the most scholarly men in Parlt., being not only a master of the Eng. language, but also well acquainted with Hebrew, Greek, Latin, German, and French. He has sometimes addressed the House in French. It was he who bestowed the nickname "Cabinet of Antiques," on the Bowell Admn. In 1897 he was chosen Presdt. of the Lib.-Con. Assn. for the N.W.T. In the same year he represented Can. at the Queen's Diamond Jubilee celebration, Boston, Mass. Of his literary works, not including his public lectures, the best known are: "The Irishman in Canada," "Eos, an Epic of the Dawn" (the first purely literary work published in the N.-W.), "Culture and Practical Power" (which Mr. Gladstone pronounced "a blow struck for Civilization"), "The Fair Grit," "British vs. American Civilization," "Ireland and the Empire," and "The Earl of Beaconsfield." He is a mem. of the Ch. of Eng., and m. July, 1859, Eliza Jane, 2nd dau. of Jas. Reid, Ottawa —Regina, N. W. T.; Albany Club, Toronto.

DAWSON, George Mercer, geologist, dir. of the Can. Geol. Survey, is the eldest surviving s. of Sir J. W. Dawson (q.v.), and was b. in Pictou, N.S., Aug. 1, 1849. He received his early education in Montreal, where he studied in McGill Univ. as a partial student. In 1869 he entered the Royal Sch. of Mines, London, taking its full course of study, extending over 3 yrs., and passed as an associate, being first in his class, and taking the Edward Forbes medal and prize in Palæont. and Natural History. He had previously taken the Duke of Cornwall's scholarship in his second year. Returning to Can., he was engaged for a year in mining surveys in N. S., and in lecturing in Morrin Coll., Quebec. In 1873 he was apptd. Geologist and Botanist to H. M.'s North American Boundary Comn., engaged in fixing the boundary line from the Lake of the Woods to the Rocky Mts. In this capacity he served for 2 yrs., and prepared an elaborate report, with plates and maps, on the Geol. and Resources of the Country in the vicinity of the 49th parallel. In connection with this work he also prepared a report on the Lignite Tertiary Formation, a memoir on the Superficial Deposits of the Great Interior Plains of Am., and papers on the Locust Visitation, on the Fresh-water Sponges of Can., and on the Fluctuations of the Great Am. Lakes. On the termination of his labours on the boundary survey, he was apptd., July, 1875, to the staff of the Geol. Survey of the Dom. He became Asst. Dir. July, 1883, and Dir. and Depty. Head of the Dept. of the Geol. Survey, Jan. 1, 1895. While attending the Sch. of Mines, he devoted special attention to Geol. and Palæont., under the tuition of Ramsay, Huxley and Etheridge; and to Chemistry and Metal., in the laboratories of Frankland and Percy. His work on the Geol. Survey has been chiefly in B. C. and the N. W. T., and in the discharge of his official duty he has explored a large portion of the western country, including a boat journey of 1,300 miles, with one portage of 50 miles, from the basin of the Liard River to that of the Yukon. One of the most important of his public services was in connection with the Behring Sea arbitration. As one of the Brit. Comnrs., he spent the summer of 1892 in the Behring Sea region, for the purpose of inquiring into the conditions and facts of seal life. The report of the Comnrs. constituted the case of Her Majesty's Govt. on this branch of the subject, and was of great service. For his services on this occasion he received the thanks of H. E. the Gov.-Genl. in Council, and the C.M.G. from Her Majesty. In addition to his official reports, he is the author of a large number of notes and papers on geol., geograph, and ethnol. subjects, of which a list is given in the "Bibliography of the Royal Soc. of Can." He received the degree of LL.D. from Queen's Univ., 1890, and from McGill Univ., 1891. In the same year he was awarded the Bigsby gold medal by the London Geol. Soc., for his services to the science of geology, and he was elected a Fellow of the Royal Society. In 1893 he was elected Presdt. of the Royal Soc. of Can.; in 1894 he was elected a corr. mem. of the Zoological Soc. of London; in 1895, a Fellow of the Am. Assn. for the Advanc. of Science; in 1896 he was apptd. by the Council of the Brit. Assn. Presdt. of the Geol. Sec. for the Toronto meeting of the assn.; and, in 1897, he was awarded the yearly gold medal of the Royal Geograph. Soc. for his work as a whole. He is unm. — 28 Victoria Chambers, Ottawa; Rideau Club.

DAWSON, Sir John William, educationist, geologist and naturalist, is the s. of the late Jas. Dawson, of Pictou, N.S., and was b. at that place, Oct. 13, 1820. At the age of 12 yrs. the instinct for science, inherited from his father, had begun to assert itself, and he began making a collection of the fossil plants of the N. S. coal formation. His education was begun at Pictou Acad. and completed at the Univ. of Edinburgh. After a winter spent at the latter institution, he accompanied Sir Charles Lyell on his tour through N. S., finished his collegiate course in 1846, and returned home, having already contributed something of importance to the geol. knowledge of his province. In 1850 he was apptd Supt. of Education for N. S., an office which he held for 3 yrs. He had already made himself prominent by the publication of many papers, reports and lectures, on a variety of subjects, characterized by original and valuable research. From this time he became chiefly distinguished in his own province as an indefatigable promoter of educational progress, and a founder of educational institutions. He took an active part in the establishment of a Normal Sch. in N. S., and in the regulation of the affairs of the Univ. of N. B. About 1852 he re-examined in company with Sir Chas. Lyell the Joggins section, and visited the Albertite deposits at Hillsborough, N.B. He published after his trip papers on the "Structures in Coal" and the "Mode of Accumulation of Coal." A few yrs. after this, McGill Univ. was looking for a head, and Dr. D. was secured as Principal and Prof. of Natural History. He took up his task in 1855, and saw the institution grow slowly but surely, from small beginnings to its present important position as a Univ. among the great seats of learning in Am. and Europe. It has been stated that when he took charge, the Coll. management was at the lowest. The Arts and Law courses were highly unsatisfactory, but in a short time there was a great change for the better. Enterprising and influential men of means aided him in his efforts, with the result already described. At the time of his appt. as Principal of McGill, one of the great drawbacks to the success of the Univ. was the want of efficient and superior schs. to prepare pupils for matriculation. To meet this, he secured, in 1857, the establishment of the McGill Normal Sch., for the training of Prot. sch. teachers. He became Principal of the sch., and laboured in that position with success for 13 yrs. He also succeeded in 1858 in establishing a Sch. of Civil Engineering. Later, this branch of science was placed on a more comprehensive basis as the Dept. of Practical and Applied Science in the Univ. His reputation in the scientific world rests mainly on his geol. investigations and discoveries, more especially in relation to the carboniferous and post-pliocene formations, to fossil plants and the fossils of the Laurentian rocks. On these subjects he has written a number of memoirs, to be found in the proceedings of the various learned socs., in scientific journals, and in official reports to Govt. He is the author of a number of standard works, covering a large field of scientific investigation and elucidation. In 1841 he contributed to the Wernerian Soc. of Edinburgh his first scientific paper, on the species of field-mice found in N. S. In 1843 he communicated a paper on the rocks of Eastern N. S. to the Geol. Soc. of London; followed in 1844 by another paper on the newer coal formation. In 1845, he published a paper on the coal formation plants of N. S., and explored the Londonderry mines. During the winter of 1846-7, while studying in Edinburgh, he contributed papers to the Royal Soc. of that city on the "Occurrence of Gypsum" and on the "Boulder Formation," and an article to Jameson's Edinburgh Phil. Journal on the "Renewal of Forests Destroyed by Fire." The most important of his other memoirs are: "On the Triassic Red Sandstone of N. S. and P. E. I.," "On the Colouring Matters of Red Sandstone," and on "The Metamorphic Rocks of N. S." It was during his trip to the Joggins with Sir Chas. Lyell that the remains of Dendrerpeton Acadianum and Pupa vetusta were found, the former the first reptile found in the coal formation, and the latter the first known palæozoic land snail. These were followed by other discoveries of the first carboniferous millipede. During the summer of 1858 he made a tour of Lake Superior, and made an elaborate report on the copper regions of Georgian Bay and Maimanse, in which he discussed the geol. relations of the then little known copper-bearing rocks of the north shore of Lake Superior, and the origin of deposits of native copper. About 1860, he enlarged and revised his book on "Acadian Geology," which is a complete account up to date of the geol. formation of the maritime provinces of the Dom. A second edition, published in 1868, and illustrated, still remains a standard work in geol. for this part of the Dom. Some 3 yrs. later appeared "Archaia, or Studies of Creation in Genesis," in which the author shows himself to be not only an accurate scientist, but a profound and reverent student of the Bible. This work was afterward re-written and modernized, and published in 1877, under the title of "The Origin of the World." In 1863 he published "Air Breathers of the Coal Period"—the collected result of many years' study devoted to the fossil reptiles and other land animals of the coal of N. S. A year later he discovered the now celebrated "Eozoon Canadense"—the only animal remains in the Laurentian rocks, which had hitherto been considered azoic. In 1865 Dr. D. lectured before the Brit. Assn. at Birmingham; and in 1870 before the Royal Inst. and Geol. Soc. In the latter year appeared "Hand-Book of Canadian Zoology"; and in 1872 "Notes on the Post-Pliocene of Canada," which raised the number of species of known post-pliocene fossils from 30 to over 200. In the meantime he had been continually occupied in the management of his Univ. and of the Prot. Normal Sch., both requiring his constant attention and the best of his labour, not only as a principal, but as a lecturer. In 1870 he withdrew from his active duties in the Normal Sch., still, however, remaining chairman of its managing comte. His later works have been of a general and comprehensive character and very valuable. "The Story of Earth and Man" is a popular view of the whole of the geol. ages; "Science of the Bible" and "The Dawn of Life," an illustrated work on Eozoon and other ancient fossils, "The Chain of Life," "The Origin of the World," "Salient Points in the Science of the Earth," "Science in Bible Lands," "The Meeting Place of Geology and History," "The Historical Deluge," "Eden Lost and Won," and "Ethics of Primeval Life," are all of them profound and interesting works, open to the general reader as much as to the scientist. In 1881 he was awarded the Lyell medal of the Geol. Soc., London, for original geol. researches. On the formation of the Royal Soc. of Can., 1882, he was selected by the Marquis of Lorne to be its first Presdt. In the same yr. he was elected Presdt. of the Am. Assn. for the Advan. of Science, and became Presdt. of the Brit Assn., 1886. In 1893 he was elected Presdt. of the Am. Geol. Soc. In special acknowledgment of his eminent services to science and education he was created a C.M.G., 1881, and was made a Knight Bach., 1884. Sir Wm. is a Fellow of the Royal Soc., a Fellow of the London Geol. Soc., a Fellow of the Royal Soc. of Edinburgh, an LL.D. of Edinburgh Univ., an LL.D. of McGill Univ., a D.C.L. of Lennoxville Univ., and a D.L. of Columbia Coll., N.Y. He retired from the office of Principal of McGill Univ., July 31, 1893, and was thereupon apptd. Emeritus Principal and prof. and governor's Fellow as well as hon. curator of the Peter Redpath Museum, and given a handsome allowance for his lifetime. Sir Wm. m. Mch., 1847, Margt. A. Y., dau. of G. Mercer, of Edinburgh. In Mch., 1897, the golden wedding of Sir Wm. and Lady D. was celebrated in Montreal, on which occasion they were made the recipients of several addresses of congratulation, accompanied by souvenirs of the interesting event. —293 University St., Montreal.

"To him Canada owes much more than can be expressed."—Can. Gazette.

"He has been for more than a third of a century recognized by all competent judges as one of the few great masters of that wonderful science which seeks to read the handwriting of God on the face of the rocks. There was a considerable period of time when Prof. Dawson's special distinction among geologists was partly derived from his maintenance of a religious view of his science rather than of the rationalistic or agnostic view which found favour in well-known quarters. The eminent Can. geologist has always contended that geology rightly understood and the Bible rightly interpreted do not conflict."—Boston Advertiser.

DAWSON, Samuel Edward, Dom. public service, is the 2nd s. of the late Rev. Benj. Dawson, a native of P. E. I., who came to Montreal, 1847, where, towards the close of of his life, he took holy orders, and was ordained a deacon in the Ref. Ep. Ch., by his wife, Miss Gardner, of Halifax. B. in Halifax, June 1, 1833, he was ed. at McCulloch's sch., in that city, and commenced his business career in partnership with his father, trading as B. Dawson & Son, booksellers and stationers, Montreal. The firm name, after the retirement of his father, became Dawson Bros., Mr. S. E. D. being the senior partner in association with one of his bros. Mr. D. was one of the founders of the Dom. Bank Note Co., 1879, and one of the promoters of the Montreal News Co., 1880. Apptd. a mem. of the Bd. of Prot. Sch. Comnrs., Montreal, 1878, he became also a member of the Bd. of Arts and Manufactures, P.Q., and was subsequently for some yrs. Presdt. of that body. He was likewise Secy. to the Art Assn. He was one of the earliest contributors to the Can. Monthly. He has written also on literary and historical subjects for the Montreal Gazette, the Montreal Star, the Toronto Week, and other journals. Of separate works from his pen, the most important are: "A Study of Lord Tennyson's Poem, 'The Princess'" (2nd ed. 1884), which W. D. LeSueur has pronounced the best and most appreciative study of the poem that has anywhere appeared; and two monographs on the voyages of the Cabots and the Land-Fall of 1497, which were read before the Royal Soc. of Can., of which body he was elected a Fellow, 1893. He received the hon. degree of Lit.D. from Laval Univ., 1890; and was apptd. Queen's Printer and Controller of Stationery of Can., Nov. 7, 1891. This office he still fills. In 1881 he was apptd. a del. to Washington on the subject of Intern. copyright. Dr. D. is a mem. of the Ang. Ch. DAWSON, William Bell, C.E., is the s. of Sir J. W. Dawson (q.v.). B. in Montreal, May 2, 1854, he was ed. at McGill Univ. (B.A., with honours in Nat. Science and Logan gold med., 1874; M.A., 1879), he also studied Engineering there (B.A.Sc., with cert. of special merit, 1875; Ma.E., 1880). In Nov., 1875, he was admitted to the Ecole des Ponts et Chaussees, Paris, and passed as the first of his class, 1878. In the same year he was admitted a P. L. S., and in 1879 he was elected an associate mem. of the Inst. of C. E., obtaining also a "Miller Scholarship" from that body, for an essay on the Paroy Reservoir and on the Canal de l'Est. In 1882 he became an exam. in the Faculty of Applied Science in his Alma Mater. Mr. D. has been employed in a professional capacity on the Intercol. Ry., the Louisburg Ry., the Occidental Ry. and the Can. Pac. Ry. He was asst. engr. under Walter Shanly in making preliminary surveys in connection with the projected South Shore Ry. and Tunnel Co. In 1881 he conducted a topograp. survey of a portion of the gold field in N. S., and, later, was in the employment of the Dom. Bridge Co. His most important work for the C. P. Ry. was in connection with the arbitration between the Co. and the Dom. Govt. relative to the quality of construction of the western sections of the Ry. in B. C. This occupied the greater part of 3 yrs., and required a thorough investigation of the methods of construction in a mountain country, and also the examination of the Northern Pacific and other western roads for comparison with the sections in dispute. Subsequently among other work, he organized a testing laboratory for the co. Apptd. an Asst. Engr. in the Marine Dept., Ottawa, Sept., 1894, he has since been engaged in conducting a tidal survey in the Gulf of St. Lawrence. He m. 1883, Florence Jane Mary, eld. dau. of Asst. Comy.-Genl. DAY, Forshaw, R.C.A., educationist, was b. in London, Eng., Nov. 7, 1837. Ed. at Dublin, Irel., he studied Art under the auspices of the Royal Dublin Soc., and, subsequently, at Gore House, South Kensington, London. Coming to Can., 1862, he gave instruction in Art in Halifax, and was for some yrs. draughtsman of the first-class at H. M.'s Naval Yard. Apptd. Prof. of Freehand Drawing and Painting in the R. M. Coll., Kingston, Mch. 14, 1879, he remained in that position up to June, 1897. On the formation of the Royal Can. Acad. of Arts, 1880, he was apptd. an Academician by the Marquis of Lorne. His diploma picture was a "Scene on the Nouvelle River, N.B." His specialty is landscape and figure subjects, and he paints both in water-colours and oils. Among his best-known works are: "The Grand Pré" and "Louisburg, C.B.," both exhibited in Paris, bringing him prominently into notice. He has exhibited in most of the Intern. Exhns.—Philadelphia Centennial, Paris, Col. and Ind., and Chicago Exposition. Ernest Hecht, the eminent French critic, published in Paris a very favourable notice of his exhibit at the latter place. Mr. D. was originally intended to be an architect, having studied Architecture and Design under Ferguson, of the Royal Dublin Soc., which enabled him to take the position of Draughtsman in the Dept. of Engineering and Architectural Works of the Navy, at Halifax, N.S. DENISON, Lt.-Col. George Taylor, Ont. public service, comes of a family which has won a high place in the annals of Can. His greatgrandfather, Capt. John Denison, of the 2nd West York Regt., Eng., was one of the pioneers of Toronto, where he settled in 1796. His grandfather, Lt.-Col. Geo. Taylor Denison, served as a volunteer officer in the war of 1812, and in the rebellion of 1837 commanded a volunteer cavalry troop, which he had himself organized, and which is now known as the Gov.-Genl's. Body Guard. He was also prominent in city politics, being a mem. of the first City Council. He m. the only child of Capt. Richard Lippincott, a U. E. Loyalist officer from New Jersey, and by this marriage he had a s., b. at Bellevue, Toronto, 1816. This s., the father of the subject of this sketch—also Geo. Taylor Denison—though a lawyer by profession, gave his chief energies to the Can. volunteer service. In 1838 he was apptd. lieut. in the Body Guards, then commanded by his father, and in 1846 he obtained command of the troop. He may be regarded as the father of Toronto's militia, since he organized cavalry, artillery, and rifles. The Queen's Own was one of the corps raised by him. Like his father, he was also prominent in civic affairs, and was for a long time ald. for St. Patrick's Ward. The subject of this sketch was b. in Toronto, Aug. 31, 1839. He was ed. at U. C. Coll., and graduated LL.B. at Toronto Univ., 1861. Called to the bar the same year, he practised his profession in his native city, being for some yrs. in partnership with his bro., the late Lt.-Col. F. C. Denison, C.M.G., M.P. Elected to the city council, he sat therein as ald. for St. Patrick's Ward, 1865-67, when he declined re-election. In 1872, and again in 1873, he was sent to Eng. by the Govt. of Ont. as a special Comnr. in behalf of immigration. In 1877 he was apptd. Police Magistrate for the city of Toronto, an office he still retains. His military service commenced 1855, he being then gazetted cornet in the Gov.-Genl's. Body Guard. He became capt. of his troop, Apl. 22, 1857, was promoted maj., 1862, and lt.-col., 1866. Lt.-Col. D. holds a 1st class Cavalry certificate. He was on active service during the Fenian raid, 1866, and commanded the outposts on the Niagara river, under Col. (now F. M. Lord) Wolseley, in the autumn of that year. He was again on active service during the N.-W. rebellion, 1885 (mentioned in despatches and medal). He has been a frequent contributor to the newspaper and periodical press on subjects of national and military importance, and has likewise appeared on the lecture platform in advocacy of Canada's rights and of the preservation of the unity of the Empire. He has published separately: "The National Defences; or, Observations on the Best Defensive Force for Canada" (1861); "Canada, is She Prepared for War?" (do.); "A Review of the Militia Policy of the Present Administration" (1863); "Manual of Outpost Duties" (1866); "The Fenian Raid at Fort Erie" (do.); "Cavalry Charges at Sedan" (1872); "A Visit to Genl. R. E. Lee" (do.); "Modern Cavalry" (Lon., 1868; in German, 1869; in Russian, 1872; in Hungarian, 1881); "Canada and Her Relations to the Empire" (Reprinted from the West. Rev., 1895). In 1877 he won the first prize offered by the Emperor of Russia for the best "History of Cavalry." On this occasion he proceeded to St. Petersburg, where he remained for two months, and was presented to the Emperor and Empress. The work was published in London the same year, and in Russian and German later, and is now being translated into Japanese by order of the Minister of War of Japan. This achievement was very highly regarded, not alone by Canadians, but by British subjects everywhere. To mark his sense of the author's pluck and ability, the Marquis of Dufferin, at that time Gov.-Genl. of Can., presented him with a medal suitably inscribed. Among the most important of his public lectures and addresses have been the following: "The Importance of Maintaining the Unity of the Empire" (delivered before the Imp. and Fed. League, Lon., 1890); "The United Empire Loyalists" (1891); "The Opening of the War of 1812" (do.); "National Spirit: its Influence upon Nations" (do.). Lt.-Col. D. has been connected with a large number of national, mil. and patriotic societies in his native country. He was one of the founders of the "Canada First" party, an organization that did much to shape the destinies of the great North-West, as well as of the Dom. at large. Later, he assisted at the birth of the Hist. Soc. of Ont., and is an hon. mem. of the Women's Can. Hist. Soc. He is also Presdt. of the Dom. Cav. Assn., and has been Presdt. of the Can. Mil. Inst. On the formation of the Royal Soc. of Can., 1882, he was selected by its founder, the Marquis of Lorne, to be a mem. of the sec. on Eng. Literature and History, and he was subsequently elected Presdt. thereof. In 1894 he was apptd. a mem. of the Bd. of Trustees of U. C. Coll. In 1893 he was elected Presdt. of the Impl. Federation League in Can., and in the fall of that year the Council of the parent League dissolved. At the next annual meeting of the Can. Branch at Ottawa, Col. D., the Presdt., and a deputation of the League were apptd. to proceed to Eng. in 1894, to urge the reorganization of the League. The mission was very successful. On the 20th July, 1894, the deputation met a number of friends of the cause, Sir John Lubbock in the chair, and the conf. decided upon the constitution of a revived League, under the name of the Brit. Empire League. It is now a powerful organization, with the Duke of Devonshire as Presdt., the Lord Mayor of Lon., the Gov. of the Bank of Eng., the Dukes of Fife and Rutland, Lords Dufferin, Jersey, Onslow and Brassey, the Rt. Hon. A. G. Balfour and Sidney Buxton as V.-Ps. The Can. branch last year adopted the name of the Brit. Empire League in Can., and Col. D. was elected Presdt. In 1895 the Govt. of the day paid him the compliment of requesting him to unveil the monument erected in commemoration of the battle of Lundy's Lane, 1814. Col. D. is a mem. of the Ch. of Eng. He has been twice m.: 1st, Jan., 1863, to Caroline, dau. of the late Oliver J. Macklem, Chippewa, Ont. (she died Feb., 1885); and 2nd, Dec., 1887, to Helen, young. dau. of the late Jas. Mair, Perth. Politically, he was b. a Con., but, dissatisfied with the conduct of the Govt. at the time of the first Red River rebellion, following the principles of the Can. First party, he left the Con. body, contested Algoma in the Reform interest in 1872 for the Ho. of Commons, and was defeated by the late Hon. J. B. Robinson, by a majority of 80 votes. He has never been a party man, but always a Can. First man; and in 1891, when the Reform party were coquetting with the U. S. in trade matters, he was vehemently opposed to Com. Union, and advocated with intense earnestness the tightening of the bonds with the Empire by a system of Imperial preferential tariffs. In the last election, 1896, as both parties stood on equally loyal platforms, he was neutral and took no part.—Heydon Villa, Toronto ; National Club.

DERICK, Miss Carrie M., educationist, is a native of Clarenceville, P.Q., where she received her early education. She subsequently entered McGill Univ., and is conceded to have attained "the first place in the Univ." as a student. On graduating, 1890, she won the Logan gold medal for Nat. Science, with an average of 94 per cent. throughout—the highest average taken in the Univ. in that year, or perhaps, in any other. Thereafter, notwithstanding many offers of employment from large educational institutions elsewhere, Miss D. remained in Montreal, where, in addition to being on the teaching staff of Trafalgar Inst., she is Demonstrator in Botany in her Alma Mater. She is an active mem. of the Montreal Women's Club, and has lectured before it on "The Ethics of Labour," and other subjects. She is also Secy. of the Montreal branch of the Am. Folk Lore Soc., and V.-P. of the McGill Univ. Graduates' Soc.—Montreal.

DES BRISAY, Mather Byles, retired Co. Ct. Judge, of Huguenot descent, is the s. of the late Thos. DESJARDINS, Hon. Alphonse, statesman, was b. at Terrebonne, P.Q., May 6, 1841, and belongs to a family long settled in the country. Ed. at Masson Coll., Terrebonne, and at Nicolet Coll., he was called to the bar, 1862, and practised his profession in Montreal. In 1868 he gave up law for journalism. After serving on the editorial staff of L'Ordre for some yrs., he became chief ed. and one of the dirs. of Le Nouveau Monde, and while occupying that position was created a Knight of the Order of Pius IX., in acknowledgment of his services to the Ch. of R. He took an active part in organizing the Papal Zouaves sent by the Province of Quebec to the assistance of the Holy Father, 1868. He was also one of the framers of the "Programme Catholique," 1871. A Con. in politics, he sat for Hochelaga in the Ho. of Commons, in that interest, 1878-92, when he was called to the Senate. He was Mayor of Montreal, 1893, and in that capacity received the dels. attending the annual convention of the Christian Endeavour Soc. held that year in Montreal. In the same year he refused to give official recognition to the officers of the Italian warship Etna. He entered Sir Mackenzie Bowell's Govt., as Mr. of Militia, Jan. 15, 1896, and in Mch. of that year was one of the official dels. sent to Winnipeg respecting the Man. Sch. question. On the formation of Sir Charles Tupper's Admn., May 1, 1896, he took office under him as Mr. of Public Works, and retired with his leader and colleagues after their defeat at the polls same year, he being himself defeated as a candidate for Richelieu. Cath. Sch. Comnrs., Montreal. In religion, he is a R. C.; and m. a dau. of the late Sheriff Le Blanc — 788 St. Denis St., Montreal.

DE SOLA, Rev. Meldola (Jewish), is the eld. s. of the late Rev. Abraham de Sola, LL.D., Montreal, in his lifetime one of the most scholarly exponents of orthodox Judaism in Am., and was b. in Montreal, May 22, 1853. He early displayed a love for Hebrew and Theol. studies, which were prosecuted under the direction of his father. Following commercial pursuits for a few yrs., his father's failing health redirected his attention to the work of the ministry, and from 1876 to 1882, he officiated regularly as voluntary lay assist. at the Spanish and Portuguese synagogue, Montreal, the senior Jewish cong., by nearly a century, in that city. Here his father had ministered for a lengthened period, and upon his death, June, 1882, the cong. urged the son to accept the vacant charge. He acceded to their wishes, and thus became the first Jewish min. of Can. birth. In his opening sermon the new pastor expressed in the most explicit manner his determination to uphold the principles of orthodox Judaism, and his subsequent career has proved the sincerity of his words. He is recognized as the leader of the orthodox majority of the community, and as a steadfast opponent of innovation and reform, so-called. In 1885 a number of Am. reform mins. held a convention at Pittsburg for the purpose of defining the principles of reformed Judaism. His sermon upon the occasion led a portion of the ordinary press to denounce his opinions as "Ingersollism with a vengeance," but he is content to take as his motto, "Delenda est Carthago," and he never misses an opportunity of attacking the reform movement. Mr. de S. has frequently preached in N. Y. and in London. During his last visit to Eng. he was invited by the Chief Rabbi to occupy his pulpit, and his sermon then delivered created a most favourable impression. Another sermon, in N. Y., was subsequently published in pamphlet form, and its copious notes and references were declared by the Jewish press in Eng. to be a valuable contribution to the history of Jewish reform in Am. He has often been subjected to bitter attack, both in the U. S. and in Eng., but he seems quite indifferent to his assailants. Having a cause to plead, he pleads it apparently without fear or favour. He has received several calls to positions that would be more remunerative to him, but he has so far steadfastly refused to leave his father's old cong. While he assumed his present position for the purpose of protecting the cong. against the inroads of radicalism, his pulpit work has been by no means confined to this one line of duty, and many of his sermons upon other subjects have been given to the public in separate form. Nor have his synagogue labours been limited to the pulpit. An accomplished musician, he has instructed the cong. choir for more than 20 yrs., and, under his guidance the numerous responses are sung by the cong. and choir. He m. 1887, Katie, dau. of the Rev. I. Samuel, senior min. of the Bayswater Synagogue, London, Eng. Mrs. de S. has established a useful soc. in connection with the cong. free sch., and has organized a series of free entertainments for the poor. She is V.-P. of the Montreal branch of the National Council of Women of Can., and Presdt. of the Montreal Soc. of the National Council of Jewish Women.—65 Victoria St., Montreal.

DE SOYRES, Rev. John (Ch. of Eng.), is the s. of Rev. Francis de Soyres (Ch. of Eng.), and is of Huguenot descent. B. at Bilbrook, Somersetshire, Eng., Apl. 26, 1849, he was ed. at Brighton Coll. and at Caius' Coll., Cambridge, where he obtained the mem.'s prize, 1870, 2nd class Law Tripos, 1872, and Hulsean prize, 1877. He graduated B.A., 1876, and M.A., 1879. He is also a mem. of the Soc. of the Inner Temple. Ordained 1877, he held an asst. rectorship in Eng., and was apptd. select preacher at Cambridge, 1855, and Hulsean divinity lecturer of the same Univ., 1886. He was also one of the first univ. extension lecturers in Eng., 1875-76, preached at Westminster Abbey and at St. Paul's Cath., and held the chair of History at Queen's Coll., London, 1881-87. He was apptd. to his present charge, rector of St. Mark's, St. John, N.B., 1888. He has published "The Montanists and the Primitive Church" (1878), "Pascal's Provl. Letters" (edited, 1881; 2nd ed., 1890), "Word-book of Eng. History" and "Christian Reunion" (1888). While at Cambridge, Mr. de S. was elected Presdt. of the Union Debating Soc., and was afterwards Chaplain to the Embassy at St. Petersburg.—105 Union St., St. John, N.B.

DESSAULLES, George Casimir, bank president and legislator, is the s. of the late Hon. Jean Dessaulles, M.L.C., Seigneur of St. Hyacinthe, by Rosalie, sister of the Hon. L. J. Papineau, the famous patriot of '37. The family, paternally, is of Swiss origin. B. at St. Hyacinthe, P.Q., Sept. 29, 1827, he was ed. at the Coll. in his native city, and while a young man, read for the bar. Elected to the city council, he became afterwards Mayor of St. Hyacinthe, a position which he has continued to fill, with but slight interruption, for a period of 25 yrs. He is also Presdt. of La Banque de St. Hyacinthe, to which office he was elected 1878; a sch. commr., and Presdt. of a local manufacturing co. A Lib. in politics, like his bro., the late Hon. L. A. Dessaulles, M.L.C., he has been frequently invited to enter public life, but always declined until the Provincial g. e. 1897, when he stood for St. Hyacinthe, and was elected by a majority of 840 over his Con. opponent. He has also held the Presidency of the St. Jean Bap. Soc. Mr. D. is a R. C. in religion. He m. 1st, 1857, Emilie, 3rd dau. of the late Mr. Justice D. Mondelet (she d. 1864); and 2nd, 1869, Frances Louise, dau. of the late D. S. Leman, M.D., Buckingham, P.Q.—St. Hyacinthe, P.Q.

DEVILLE, Edouard Gaston, Can. civil service, was b. at La Charité sur Loire Nievre, France, Feb. 21, 1849. Ed. at the Naval Sch., Brest, he served for several yrs. in the French navy, retiring therefrom on his arrival in Can., 1874. While in the navy he had charge of extensive hydrographical surveys in the South Sea Islands, in Peru and other countries. Mr. B. entered the public service, Quebec, 1873, as a scientific explorer and Inspr. of Surveys. He was commissioned a P. L. S. and a Dom. Topographical Surveyor, 1878. Apptd. Inspr. of Dom. Land Surveys, 1881, he became Chief Inspr. of Surveys, 1882, and Surveyor-Genl. of Dom. Lands, Jan. 1, 1885. He is a mem. of the Royal Soc. of Can. and of the Royal Astron. Soc. of Eng., and has published several scientific papers. He is Chairman of the Bd. of Examiners of D. L. Surveyors. Is also a gov. of St. Luke's Hospital, Ottawa. A mem. of the R. C. DEWART, Rev. Edward Hartley (Meth.), author, was b. in the Co. Cavan, Irel., 1828, and is of mingled Scotch and Eng. origin. When 6 yrs. of age he accompanied his parents to this country, the family settling in the Co. Peterborough, Ont. Ed. at the local schs., he subsequently attended the Provl. Normal Sch., Toronto, and became a sch. teacher. Called to the work of the Meth. ministry, 1851, he commenced his pastoral duties on the St. Thomas circuit as a junior preacher, and was ordained, 1855. His first station was Dundas, and he subsequently laboured successively at St. Andrews, Odelltown, Montreal (West), St. John's, Collingwood (Elm St.), and Ingersoll. In 1869

he was chosen ed. of the Christian Guardian, the principal organ of the Meth. Ch. in Can., and continued to hold that position up to Sept., 1894. Since then he has occupied a superannuated relation. Throughout his long career Dr. D. (he received the degree of D.D. from Victoria Univ., 1879) has rendered important and valuable services to his Ch. and country. In 1873 he was elected, in conjunction with the late Rev. Dr. Nelles, to arrange with the parent conf. in Eng. terms of settlement arising from the union of the Wesl. Meth., New Connexion and chs. of the Eastern Brit. Am., Conf. In 1881 he was a mem. of the great Ecumenical Meth. Conf. in London, and also of a similar conf. held in Washington, 1891. He advocated a new hymn book, and took a leading part in compiling and editing the same, his poetical taste being of especial value. He has always been an ardent prohibitionist, and in 1880 was elected Presdt. of the Ont. branch of the Dom. Alliance. He is still a mem. of the Ex. Comte. of that body. Two yrs. afterwards he became Presdt. of the Toronto Conf. In 1889 he was chosen Presdt. of the Can. Press. Assn. He strongly advocated Meth. Union in the Guardian, and though dissenting from some provisions in the basis, has heartily and loyally laboured to make the union a success. Believing that the cause of higher education in the Meth. Ch. and throughout the country would be benefited by the federation of Victoria Univ. with the Univ. of Toronto, he strongly advocated that union, in season and out of season. His first literary attempt of importance was an essay against the use of tobacco by Christians, which won for him a gold watch against a number of competitors. He has at different periods published volumes and pamphlets, some of which are: "The True Church," "Broken Reeds," "Way Marks," "Priestly Pretensions Disproved," "Spurious Catholicity," "The Development of Doctrine," "Jesus the Messiah," "Storm Signals," "Misleading Lights," and "Living Epistles." He edited a volume entitled, "Selections from Canadian Poets," and, subsequently, published "Songs of Life," being a collection of original verse. Dr. D. is one of the regents of Victoria Univ., an hon. mem. of the Can. Temp. League, and V.-P. of the Ontario Ladies' Coll., Whitby. Politically, he is a Lib. and a McCarthyite. DEWDNEY, His Honour the Hon. Edgar, Lieut.-Governor of British Columbia, was b. in Devonshire, Eng., 1835, and ed. there. Coming to B. C. 1859, to practise his profession of Civil Engr., he was at once employed by Mr. (afterwards Sir) Jas. Douglas, the Gov. of the colony, and by Col. Moody, R.E., to take charge of the survey party selected to lay out the town of New Westminster. For many yrs. subsequent to the completion of this work, he was employed in a professional capacity, devoting much of his time to the exploration of those portions of the Province which were at that time comparatively little known. Almost from the time of his arrival he took an active interest in public affairs; he became a leader among the people, and in 1869, without his knowledge or solicitation, was elected to the Legislature. In 1872, after the entry of the Province into the Dom., he was returned to the Ho. of Commons. He sat there as a supporter of Sir John Macdonald, being one of his "Old Guard" during the 5 yrs. he was in opposition, up to 1879. In the early part of that year he was apptd. Indian Comnr. for the N.W.T. In Dec., 1881, he was apptd. Lt.-Gov. of the North-West, and held the office conjointly with that of Indian Comnr. until called to the Cabinet, as Mr. of the Interior and Supdt. of Indian Affairs, in succession to the late Hon. Thos. White, Aug. 3, 1888. It was during his stay in the N. W. T. that the Riel Rebellion, 1885, occurred, and it has been stated by one or more of his biographers that his personal influence over certain of the Indian tribes, at that momentous period, held them in check and made them strong allies of the Federal Govt. After Sir John Macdonald's death, he was continued in office under Sir John Abbott, up to Oct. 16, 1892, when he retired from the Cabinet. In Nov. following, he was apptd. Lt.-Gov. of B. C., a position he still fills. He is V.-P. for B. C. of the Brit. Empire League. He is a mem. of the Ch. of Eng.; and m. (B.A., with honours in Mental and Moral Phil., 1874; M.A., 1882), he pursued his theol. studies at Princeton, N.J., graduating 1877, and was ordained the same year. Called to the cong. of Richmond and Windsor Mills, P.Q., he remained there until he accepted his present charge over Stanley St. Ch., Montreal, 1886. He was elected Presdt. of the Prot. Ministerial Assn., Montreal, 1894, and Presdt. Montreal branch of the Evangel. Alliance, 1896. He m. 1889, Elsie Gordon, eld. dau. of Rev. Geo. Coull, M.A., Montreal.— 16 Stanley St., Montreal.

DICKEY, Hon. Robert Barry, Q.C., Senator, is the s. of the late Robt. McGowan Dickey, a native of the north of Irel., by his wife, Eleanor Chapman, from Yorkshire, Eng. B. at Amherst, N.S., Nov. 10, 1811, he was ed. at Truro Grammar Sch. and at Windsor Acad., N.S., and was called to the bar both in N. S. and N. B., 1834. He practised his profession at Amherst (but is now retired), was made Judge of Probate for Co. Cumberland, and was created a Q. C. 1863. A Con. politically, he was called to the Leg. Council, N. S., Jan. 1858, and sat in that body until the accomplishment of Confederation, 1867, when he was apptd. to the Senate of Can., by royal proclamation. Mr. D. served as a del. from the Govt. of N. S. to the Colonial office, London, in 1858, and again in 1865, respecting the Intercol. Ry. He was also a del. to the Charlottetown and to the Quebec Confs. on Confederation, 1864. He declined to subscribe to the Quebec resolutions, on the ground that the financial terms were inadequate to the Maritime Provinces, owing to insufficient subsidies. When this objection was partly removed by the substantial additional subsidies conceded at the London Conf., 1866, he voted in the Legislature for Confederation, trusting to get "better terms" afterwards, which were granted in 1869. He yielded a general support to the Con. party while in office, but has occasionally opposed their measures when he could not conscientiously approve of them, his objections being upheld by subsequent events. In religion, he is a mem. of the Ch. of Eng. He m. Oct. 1844, Mary Blair, dau. of the late Hon. Alex. Stewart, C.B., Judge of the Admiralty, Halifax (she d. Apl., 1895).—Amherst, N.S.

DICKEY, Hon. Arthur Rupert, statesman, is the 2nd s. of Hon. R. B Dickey, senator, (q.v.). B. at Amherst, N. S., Aug. 18, 1854, he was ed. at the Coll. Sch., Windsor, N.S., and at the Univ. of Toronto (B.A., 1875), and was called to the bar of N. S., 1878. He practised at Amherst, in partnership with the present Justice Townshend, and was returned to the Ho. of Commons for Cumberland, on the resignation of Sir Chas. Tupper, July, 1888. He continued to hold that constituency in the Con. interest up to the g. e. 1896, when he was defeated (Vote: H. J. Logan, L., 3462; Hon. A. R. Dickey, C., 3307). Mr. D. is a V.-P. of the Dom. Prohibitory Alliance, and when in Parlt. identified himself closely with that movement, moving a resolution in that behalf, 1891. He became Secy. of State, under Sir Mackenzie Bowell, Dec. 21, 1894; was transferred to the Dept. of Militia and Defence, Mch. 26, 1895; and to the Dept. of Justice, Jan. 15, 1896, continuing head of the latter dept. under Sir Chas. Tupper, until the retirement of the Conservatives from power, 1896. He was one of the "nest of traitors," so-called by Sir Mackenzie Bowell, Jan. 1896, and later in that year as a mem. of the Govt. was apptd. a del. to Winnipeg on the Man. Sch. question. As Mr. of Justice he prepared and introduced the remedial measure on the Sch. question, which was debated at such length during the 6th Session of the 7th Parlt. Mr. D. was created a Q. C. by the Earl of Derby, 1890, and was called to the Ont. bar, 1896. In 1895 he was elected a Senator of Toronto Univ. He is Presdt. of the Can. Electric Co., and was one of the promoters of the New Eng. and N. S. Navigation Co., 1891. In 1896 he embarked largely in lumber property. In religion, he is an Ang. He m. DICKEY, Samuel, educator and temp. advocate, was b. in the Co. Oxford, Ont., June 6, 1851, his parents being Wm. Dickie and Jane McNab, both from Scot. In 1858 the family removed to Lansing, Mich., and there in the public schs. young D. secured the groundwork of his education, afterwards entering Albion Coll. (M.S., 1872). For 4 yrs. he was Supt. of the City Schs. at Hastings, Mich., and from 1877 to 1888 was Prof. of Astron. and Physics at his Alma Mater. He attained great popularity as a teacher, and had a strong hold on all students whose privilege it was to listen to his instruction. When in 1872 he reached his majority, and a choice of political affiliations was to be made, he was compelled by the resolution incorporated as the 16th plank of the Rep. platform of that year, to side with the Prohibitionists, with which party he has since voted on all national and state issues. During the session of the National Prohibition Convention held in Pittsburg, 1884, he occupied the chair, and, in 1886, he was the Prohibition candidate for Gov. in Michigan, polling a third more votes than were polled by St. John as Presidential candidate 2 yrs. previous. In 1887 he managed the campaign on the question of placing an amendment in the Michigan Constitution prohibiting the manufacture and sale of liquor in the State. His conduct of that campaign fixed the eyes of the Prohibition party of the U. S. upon him, and they showed their high appreciation of his ability by electing him Chairman of the National Comte. of the party to succeed John B. Finch, at the Convention held in Chicago, Nov., 1887. For 5 yrs. he had his headquarters in the city of New York, but in 1893 removed them to Albion. Mr. D. m. Dec., 1872, Mary, dau. of Hon. Wm. H. Brockway, Albion.—Albion, Mich, U.S.A.

May 23, 1843, he was ed. at Sydney and at Sackville, N.B., and was called to the bar, 1865. He was Regr. of the Ct. of Probate, Cape Breton, 1867-72, when apptd. Judge of Probate of said co. He resigned this appt., Oct., 1879, to contest Cape Breton for the Ho. of Commons. He was returned for that constituency, g. e. 1882, and sat therefor, in the Con. interest, till the close of the Parlt., 1887. He was created a Q. C., by the Marquis of Lorne, 1880, and was apptd. Co. Ct. Judge for Dist. No. 7, N. S., June 21, 1888. His Honour is a mem. of the Ch. of Eng., and m. Dec., 1879, Laura Isabel, 2nd dau. of Blowers Archibald, Sydney Mines. —Sydney, N.S.

DOHERTY, Hon. Charles Joseph, judge and jurist, is the s. of Hon. Marcus Doherty (q.v.). B. in Montreal, May 11, 1855, he was ed. at St. Mary's (Jesuit) Coll., where he graduated, 1873. Following the law course at McGill Univ. (B.C.L., and Elizabeth Torrance gold medal., 1876; D.C.L., 1893), he was called to the bar, 1877, and during his professional career was engaged in many important cases. He conducted successfully the defence of J. P. Whelan in the McNamee libel case; was counsel for Mr. Lynam in the sensational proceedings brought by Alfred Perry for the release of Rose Lynam from the Longue Pointe Asylum; represented the Post in the libel suit brought against it by the Montreal Amateur Athletic Assn.; acted as counsel in the proceedings for prohibition against the Royal Comn., and in connection with the statute labour and water tax litigations displayed great ability as an expert in municipal law. Mr. D. appeared also before the Privy Council in London. He was one of the lawyers for the Soc. of Jesus in its libel suit against the Toronto Mail. Elected a mem. of the Council of the Montreal bar, he was created a Q. C. by the Earl of Derby, 1887. Subsequently, on the reorganization of the McGill Law Sch., he was called to the chair of Civil Law in that body. In connection with McGill, he was also Presdt. of the Univ. Lit. Soc. A devoted Irishman, he was for several yrs. Presdt. of the Montreal branch of the Irish National League, and has lectured "On the duty of Irishmen to the land of their birth and of their adoption." In 1883 he was chosen a mem. of the Royal Comn. apptd. to investigate the working of the Cath. and Prot. Sch. Bds. of Montreal. He formerly held a comn. as capt. in the 65th Batt. V. M., and served with that corps throughout the rebellion in the N.W.T., 1885 (medal). He received the hon. degree of LL.D. from the Univ. of Ottawa, 1895. A Con. in politics, he unsuccessfully contested Montreal West, in that interest, g. e. 1881, and Montreal Centre, g. e. 1886, for the legislature. He was raised to the Bench as a Puisne Judge S. C., P. Q., Oct. 19, 1891. In Oct., 1894, he delivered judgment in the cause célèbre of the Canada Revue Pub. Co. against Archbp. Fabre, of Montreal. This case was an action brought by the proprietors of a newspaper against the R. C. Archbp. of Montreal for the recovery of damages caused by the issue of a circular forbidding the mems. of the Ch. to read or support the plaintiffs' newspaper under pain of deprivation of the sacraments. Of Judge D.'s judgment dismissing the action—which has since been confirmed by the Ct. of Review—the Legal News (Mch. 15, 1895) said: "This case is an interesting and important addition to the jurisprudence on the subject of religious denominations in this province.... Mr. Justice Doherty's treatment of the question is extremely able, and applying but one, though not an unimportant, test to the judgment, it may be said that there is not a single position taken by the learned judge in laying down the principles of law which serve as the basis of the decision, to which an enlightened mem. of any religious denomination, be he Roman Catholic or Anglican, Presbyterian or Methodist, Congregationalist or Jew, can reasonably take exception.....The absolute equality before the law of all religious denominations in this province, is clearly recognized throughout the judgment, and their right to maintain discipline among their members is distinctly asserted. The limitations are that the rules must be consistent with the law of the land, and that the tribunal or duly constituted authority of the body must not act in an unfair or malicious manner. .. It may be added, that the authorities cited by the Court are exceedingly apposite, and show that the decision is in harmony with English jurisprudence." His Lordship was apptd. a del. to the Irish National Convention, Dublin, 1896. He is a mem. of the Ch. of R., and m. 1888, Catherine Lucy, dau. of Edmund Barnard, Q.C., Montreal.—232 Stanley St., Montreal; St. James's Club.

DOHERTY, Hon. Marcus, retired judge, is the s. of the late Thos. Doherty, by his wife, Bridget McClosky, and was b. at Dungivin, Derry, Irel., 1818. Ed. at Hamilton's Grammar Sch., Dungivin, at the Coll. St. Hyacinthe, and at the Univ. of Vermont (B.A., 1842; M.A., 1845), he was called to the bar, 1848, and enjoyed for many yrs. an extensive practice in Montreal. He became Bâtonnier of the Montreal bar, 1872, and was created a Q. C., by Lord Dufferin, the same year. He was a Comnr. 1862, to enquire into certain charges brought against the then Clerk of the Crown, Montreal, and was upon two occasions an unsuccessful candidate for the Mayoralty of Montreal. Apptd. a Puisne Judge of the S. C., P. Q., Sept. 22, 1873, he afterwards served as an Asst. Judge of the Queen's Bh., and retired with a pension, 1891. In religious faith, he is a R. C. DONLY, Hal Beauregard, journalist, is the s. of A. J. Donly, a native of Irel. and Regr. of the Co. Norfolk, Ont. B. at Simcoe, Ont., Jan. 4, 1862, he was ed. in the Public and Grammar Schs. of that place. He entered his father's newspaper office, May, 1879, and has since devoted himself to journalism. In 1881 he succeeded his father as ed. and prop. of The Norfolk Reformer, and remains in that position. Mr. D. is on the magistracy, and has held and still holds a variety of local offices. He is a mem. of the Bd. of Education and Secy.-Treas. of the Bd. of Trade. He is also an office-bearer of the Can. Press. Assn., and of the Can. Wheelman's Assn. A Lib. in politics, he has been Secy. of the North Norfolk Reform Assn. since 1884. His opinions on political and national questions, apart from the excessive savagery of feeling therein displayed towards the Irish, are embodied in Prof. Goldwin Smith's three books: "Can. and the Canadian Question," "Outline His. of the U. S.," and "Political and Other Essays." Mr. D. looks forward to Anglo Saxon reunion as the most glorious hope of the future, and the healing of the Saxon schism on this continent as the first step to it. He m. D'ORSONNENS, Lt. Col. Louis Gustave Count d'Odet, Can. permanent mil. force, belongs to an old Swiss patrician family, the first mem. of which to come to Can. was his grandfather, Prothais d'Odet d'Orsonnens, who served as a capt. in Meuron's regt., during the war of 1812. He is the eld. s. of the late Dr. T. E. d'Odet d'Orsonnens, Dean of the Med. Faculty Victoria Univ. in Montreal, and a Knight of the Roman order of St. Gregory, and was b. at L'Assomption, P.Q., Apl. 17, 1842. He was ed. for the army, but afterwards studied law, and was called to the bar, 1863. His connection with the Can. V. M. service commenced with his appt. as ensign in the 1st Batt. Prince of Wales Rifles, Nov. 17, 1859. Subsequently, he commanded the 2nd troop of Cavalry. In 1865, he joined the Can. Chasseurs, and, in the following year, served on the Niagara frontier; was promoted capt., 1867; major, 1868; lt.-col., 1869. He was apptd. brig.-maj. Jan. 3, 1868; and took the temporary command 6th Mil. Dist., 1871. In 1883 Col. d'O. was sent to Eng. by the Can. Govt. to study the organization of H. M.'s regular army, and on his return in Dec., was apptd. Commandant, Royal Sch. of Infy., then established at St. John's, P.Q. He was apptd. Dep. Adgt.-Genl. No. 6, Mil. Dist., June 20, 1889; retired 1897. He is a mem. of the R. C. Ch., and claims to have been the first to suggest the sending of mil. aid to the Pope from Can. His titles to nobility were recognized by Pius IX., who also conferred upon him the title of count. He is the author of a pamphlet, "Considérations sur l'organisation militaire de la Confederation Canadienne" (1874), and is a V.-P. of the Quebec Rifle Assn. DOUGALL, John Redpath, journalist, is the eld. s. of the late John Dougall, a native of Paisley, Scot., who founded the Montreal Witness, 1846, by his wife, Elizabeth, eld. dau. of John Redpath, and was b. in Montreal. Ed. at the High Sch., Montreal, and at McGill Univ.

(B.A., 1860; M.A., 1867,) where he is also senior representative Fellow in Arts, he acquired his business training under his father, and succeeded him in the management of the Montreal Daily and Weekly Witness, on the departure of the latter for N. Y., 1870. He was for some time a business partner of his father, and is still a mem. of the firm of John Dougall & Son, though now the sole owner and publisher of the Witness. "Perhaps," says the Ottawa Journal, "one hardly goes too far in saying that no other newspaper in this country, even it may be on this continent, has been conducted from the beginning with more resolute honesty, independence, and desire to be just and right than the Montreal Witness. The success of the paper is an evidence of the fact, that character counts for success in journalism. The paper has always refused advertisements of theatres, hotels, operas, lotteries, doubtful medical schemes, and other announcements which usually pay well. In its career it has been excommunicated, or at least placed under the ban, by the R. C. Ch. Most dangerous of all, there has been in competition in Montreal with the Witness for 25 yrs. another evening journal, probably as shrewd and well managed a newspaper enterprise as there is in Can. Nevertheless, the Witness has prospered steadily, nor is it too much to say that the mainspring of its prosperity has been public confidence in its motives and character." Like his father, Mr. D. has been prominently identified with the Temp. cause, and has been for several yrs. the V.-P. for Quebec of the Dom. Alliance and Presdt. of the Quebec branch of the Dom. Alliance. He was also a mem. of the business Comte. of the National Prohibition Convention, 1894. He is a V.-P. of the Montreal branch of the Evangel. Alliance, a gov. of the Montreal Dispensary, and is closely connected with other local socs. and institutions, including the Citizen's League, organized for the promotion of good govt. in the administration of municipal affairs. Mr. D., politically, is an Ind. Lib.; in religious belief, a Cong., and, in 1895, succeeded the late Rev. Dr. Cornish as Presdt. of the Bd. of Dirs. of the Cong. Coll., Montreal. DOUGALL, Miss Lily, author, sister of the preceding, was b. at Ivy Cottage, Upper Drummond St., Montreal. She spent her childhood in Montreal, and her girlhood in N.Y. Of late yrs. she has travelled much, living occasionally at Edinburgh, in Scot., or in Derbyshire and other portions of Eng. When at Cheltenham, 1888, she met Miss M. S. Earp, of Melbourne, Derbyshire, who has since helped her in her literary work. Can. usually furnishes the background for her tales. Of these the best known are: "Beggars All" (1891), "What Necessity Knows" (1893), "The Mermaid; a Love Tale" (1895), "The Zeist Geist" (do.), "A Question of Faith" (do.), and "The Madonna of a Day" (1896). The latter appeared originally in Temple Bar. All her books have been well received by the press and public, and she may be now regarded as one of the popular novelists of the day. "Beggars All" has been pronounced by the Academy as the most startlingly original story that has been published within recent yrs. "The Mermaid" is said to take rank with Crockett's "Lilac Sunbonnet," while "The Madonna of a Day" is said to be unequalled as a picture of the "New Woman,"—67 Braid Road, Edinburgh, Scot.

DOUGHTY, Arthur George, poet and essayist, was b. at Maidenhead, Eng., Mch. 22, 1860, and ed. at Lord Eldon Sch., London, at New Inn Hall, Oxford, and at Dickinson Coll., Carlisle (M.A., 1890). He was at one time, with a view of entering the Ch., associated with All Hallows' Mission, Southwark, London, S.E., under the Rev. Geo. Berkeley and the Sisters of St. John Baptist, Clewes. Since his residence in Montreal he has been engaged in literary work, especially in musical and dramatic criticism, besides contributing occasional short stories and poems to the local press. He published, 1887, a shorthand version of Tennyson's "In Memoriam," and in 1889 an elaborate edition of the "Idylls of the King," in shorthand, illustrated with 7 original drawings by H. Sandham, R.C.A. This work was sold for $10 per copy, and obtained a silver medal at Jamaica, 1891. In 1893 he published, through the Chiswick Press, London, a volume entitled, "Tennyson, his Life and Works," containing a biographical sketch, an analysis of "In Memoriam," the "Idylls of the King," and "The Foresters," together with a short review of the "Death of Œnone. In 1894 he wrote the libretto of the comic opera "Bonnie Prince Charlie," the music of which was composed by R. F. Liebich, and produced at the Queen's Theatre, Montreal, May 26, 1894, 8 performances being given. In June, 1894, he published, through the Chiswick Press, a volume of simple verse entitled, "Rose Leaves," and in 1896 he published, beautifully illustrated, "The Song Story of Francesco and Beatrice." He has also published several songs in conjunction with M. Liebich, the latest being a lullaby in honour of the birth of a son to the Duke of York, June 23, 1894. It may be added, that the lines on Sir John Macdonald, read on the occasion of the unveiling of the Montreal monument to that statesman, June 6, 1895, were written by Mr. D. He has 3 new works now ready for the press, one of which is a history of Vancouver, B.C. He is a Fellow of the Royal Col. Inst., a mem. of the Ch of Eng., and m. DOUGLAS, Surgeon-Col. Campbell Mellis, V.C., an eld. bro. of the preceding, was b. at Grosse Isle, below Quebec, 1841. Ed. at the High Sch. in that city, he pursued his med. studies at the Univ. of Edinburgh (M.D., 1861) and became a licentiate Royal Coll. of Sur., Edin., the same year. Entering the army as asst. surg., Oct. 1, 1862, he was promoted surg. Mch. 1, 1873, surg.-maj., Apl. 28, 1876, and retired from the service on half pay, Oct. 1, 1882. Returning to Can., he practised his profession for some yrs. at Lakefield, Ont., where his wife (Eleanor Anne, dau. of the late Col. J. Burmester, R.E.) d. Feb., 1894. Dr. D. was decorated with the Victoria Cross, together with four privates of the 24th Regt., under the circumstances detailed in "Hart's Army List": "For the very gallant and daring manner in which, on the 7th May, 1867, they risked their lives in manning a boat and proceeding through a dangerous reef to the rescue of some of their comrades, who formed part of an expedition which had been sent to the island of little Andaman, by order of the chief Comnr. of Brit. Burmah, with the view of ascertaining the fate of the commander and 7 of the crew of the ship Assam Valley, who had landed there, and were supposed to have been murdered by the natives. The officer who commanded the troops on the occasion reports: 'About an hour later in the day, Dr. Douglas, 2nd Batt. 24th Regt., and the 4 privates referred to, gallantly manning the second gig, made their way through the surf almost to the shore, but finding their boat was half filled with water, they retired. A second attempt made by Dr. Douglas and party proved successful, 5 of us being safely passed through the surf to the boats outside. A third and last trip got the whole of the party left on shore safe to the boats.' It is stated that Dr. Douglas accomplished these trips through the surf to the shore by no ordinary exertion. He stood in the bows of the boat and worked her in an intrepid and seamanlike manner, cool to a degree, as if what he was then doing was an ordinary act of every-day life. The 4 privates behaved in an equally cool and collected manner, rowing through the roughest surf, when the slightest hesitation or want of pluck on the part of any one of them, would have been attended by the gravest results. It is reported that 17 officers and men were thus saved from what must otherwise have been a fearful risk, if not certainty of death." Dr. D. holds also the silver medal of the Royal Humane Soc., and the cross of the Order of Knights Templar of Jerusalem.—Quay Wall, Berwick-on-Tweed, Eng.

DOWLING, The Rt. Rev. Thomas Joseph, Bishop of Hamilton (R.C.), was b. in the Co. Limerick, Irel., Feb. 28, 1840, and came to Can., 1851. Ed. in Hamilton, at St.

Michael's Coll., Toronto, where he subsequently taught classes, he completed his theol. course in the Grand Semy., Montreal. Ordained to the priesthood, Aug., 1864, he became parish priest at Paris, Ont., where he remained for 22 yrs. Here the young priest took upon himself the burden of a great undertaking. The ch. in Paris was unfinished, its completion having been delayed by serious financial difficulties. He visited Chicago and the oil districts of Penn., lectured and collected funds, and in two yrs. by these efforts and by the aid of his cong. and friends, the debt of the ch. was paid off. The ch. has since been enlarged and decorated at an expense of $20,000. It was dedicated Feb. 6, 1881, and on the same day Mr. D. was apptd. V.-G. of the diocese of Hamilton. In 1883 he was apptd. admr. of that diocese, holding the office until the appt. of Bp. Carbery, and on the death of Bp. Jamot, he was apptd. Bp. of Peterboro', the late Archbp. Lynch performing the ceremony of consecration in Hamilton, May 1, 1887. Among the other incidents of his career, it may be mentioned that in 1877 he purchased the property on which stands the Paris Separate Sch. and residence for the Sisters of St. Joseph, and in 1880 he was instrumental in the building of St. Patrick's Ch., Galt. He accompanied the Can. Pilgrims to Rome, 1877, assisted at the Golden Jubilee of Pope Pius IX., and presented that dignitary with an offering on behalf of the clergy and laity of the diocese of Hamilton. On the death of Bp. Carbery, he was transferred to the bishopric of Hamilton, Jan. 11, 1889. In 1893, he visited Rome a second time, assisted at the Golden Jubilee of Leo XIII., and had an interview with the Holy Father. He afterward visited Egypt, Greece and the Holy Land. DRUMMOND, Andrew, retired bank official, is the s. of the late Geo. Drummond, a contractor and mem. of the city council, Edinburgh, Scot., by his wife, Margt. Pringle. B. in Edinburgh, Feb. 13, 1811, he was ed. at Edinburgh Univ., and came to Can., 1834. Two yrs. afterwards he accepted a position as clk. in the Commercial Bank, Kingston. In 1843 he was apptd. Mang. of the branch at Bytown (Ottawa). In 1846 he retired from this position, and was apptd. Mangr. of the Bank of Montreal, at the same place. He was subsequently mangr. of this institution at Kingston and London, respectively, and in 1866 returned to Ottawa. He continued as mangr. there (the seat of Govt. having been removed thither in the previous year) up to 1885, when he retired from the service of the bank with a pension. On the occasion of his retirement he was presented, by leading citizens of Ottawa, with an address enclosed in a casket of oxidized silver. Mr. D., in religious belief, is a Presb., and he has been an elder in the Ch. ever since 1839. He was formerly a trustee and Treas. of Queen's Univ., Kingston. He m. July, 1838, Margt. DRUMMOND, Andrew Thomas, financial agent, s. of the preceding, was b. at Kingston, Ont., July 18, 1843. He was ed. at Queen's Coll. Sch., and at Queen's Univ. in that city, and after being twice elected a Fellow graduated B.A., 1860. Later, he took the degree of LL.B. at the same institution, and was called to the Ont. bar, without an oral exam., 1865. He practised for some yrs. in Kingston, but increasing deafness compelled him to withdraw from the legal profession. He has since entered mercantile life, devoting himself more particularly to finance and rys. He is one of the trustees of Queen's Univ., and V.-P. of the Trafalgar Inst., Montreal for the higher education of women. He is also a dir. of the Montreal and Western Land Co., and of the Kingston, Smith's Falls and Ottawa Ry., and was for many yrs. a dir. of the Man. and North-Western Ry. and N.-W. Nav. Co., all of which he was chiefly instrumental in founding. Mr. D. has found many ways of contributing to the public advantage. He was one of those who initiated the forest protection movement, and was Secy. of the first Forestry Congress, and contributed various articles on the subject to the "Forestry Congress Reports," and to various other publications. He was one of the chief movers in securing Govt. interference and supervision of geogr. nomenclature, and he was the chief mover in the action taken by the different Bds. of Trade in regard to postal changes as regards Govt. insurance of registered letters, improvements in the parcel post, etc. His miscellaneous contributions to the press would fill several volumes. They have appeared mainly in the Can. Naturalist, the Can. Monthly, "The Brit. Assn. Reports," the Queen's Quarterly, in the Record of Science, and in Nature. Politically, Ind.; in religion, he is a Presb., and took part in the struggle for Presb. union, 1875. He received the hon. degree of LL.D. from his Alma Mater, 1896. He m. Aug., 1881, Florence C., dau. of W. R. Wonham, of Montreal.—265 University St., Montreal.

DRUMMOND, Hon. George Alexander, Senator, bro. of Andrew D., was b. in Edinburgh, Scot., 1829. He was ed. at Edinburgh High Sch. and Univ., and came to Can., 1854, for the purpose of assuming the practical and technical management of the extensive sugar refinery then established in Montreal by the late John Redpath. The enterprise was a successful venture from the first, but had to be closed down in 1874, owing to the tariff changes of the Mackenzie govt. Before resuming operations in 1879—in which year Mr. D. founded the Can. Sugar Refining Co., of which he became Presdt.,—he spent 5 yrs. abroad in travel, study and recreation. He became a dir. of the Bank of Montreal, 1882, and has been V.-P. of that institution since 1887. He joined the Montreal Bd. of Trade, 1884, was V.-P. that and the following year, and Presdt., 1886-88. Owing to his efforts the port of Montreal was freed from the burden contracted by the deepening of the St. Lawrence channel. He became, also, Presdt. of the co. owning and developing the coal and iron mines at Londonderry, N.S., and is connected with various other commercial and industrial enterprises. A lover of art, he is Presdt. of the Art Assn., of Montreal, and owns one of the finest galleries of paintings on the continent. He was elected Presdt. of the Can. Golf Assn., 1895, and became one of the provisional trustees of the Victoria Order of Nurses, 1897. A Con. in politics, he unsuccessfully contested Montreal West for the Ho. of Commons with the late Hon. John Young, g. e. 1872, and was called to the Senate of Can., by the Marquis of Lorne, 1880. He was one of the originators of the Citizens' League, Montreal, founded some years ago for co-operation with the civic authorities towards securing the municipal well-being of the city. Mr. D. is a mem. of the Presb. Ch., and has been twice m., 1st, 1857, to Helen, dau. of the late John Redpath (she d.); and 2ndly, 1884, to Grace Julia, relict of the late Geo. Hamilton, and dau. of the late A. Davidson Parker, Montreal. Some yrs. ago Mr. D. founded the Home for Incurables, Montreal, which was opened 1894, under the charge of the sisters of St. Margaret. Mrs. D. bestowed much thought and care to the preparation of the interior portion of this institution. She has been closely connected with various other benevolent undertakings, is a dir. of the Women's Hist. Soc., and was the first Presdt. of the Montreal branch of the Women's National Council of Can., presided over by the Countess of Aberdeen. In Upward and Onward, Oct., 1896, the Countess of Aberdeen pays this tribute to Mrs. D.: "Amongst the many able women in Canada who are inspiring their sisters, there is none who comes before Mrs. George Drummond, wife of Senator Drummond, of Montreal. She has been the President of the Montreal Local Council from its foundation, and her voice is ever eagerly listened to both in the national and local councils. She unites with a most distinguished presence and great personal charm gifts of rare eloquence and the power of clothing her thoughts in most expressive language. She has read much, and her conclusions are the result of long and earnest reasoning, and yet she is possessed with burning enthusiasm for all that is true, and just and beautiful, and a consuming hatred for unrighteousness in every form. But with all these endowments she is most essentially first and foremost a home woman, and one who will never lend the weight of her influence to any movement which will tend to make women forget or minimize their first and holiest duties. No wonder, then, that the Canadian Council ever hang with eagerness on her words."—874 Sherbrooke St., Montreal; St. James's Club, do; Rideau Club, Ottawa; Reform Club, London, Eng.; Manhattan Club, N.Y.

DRUMMOND, George Edward, merchant and manufacturer, was b. in Irel., and ed. in Montreal. He founded, 1881, in conjunction with Jas. T. McCall, the well-known firm of Drummond, McCall & Co., iron and steel merchants, and founders of the Montreal Car Wheel Co, the Can. Iron Furnace Co., and the Drummond-McCall Pipe Foundry Co. He is V.-P. of the Mining Assn. of Quebec, and 1st V.-P. of the Manufacturers' Assn. of Can. Mr. D. is regarded as a high authority on the iron industry of Can., and has written for Hardware and Metal and other journals on the subject. A mem. of the Ch. of Eng., he is also Secy. of the Robt. Jones Convalescent Hospital, and V.-P. of the Ch. Home, Montreal, He is likewise a gov. of the Montreal Genl. Hospital. Politically, he is a protectionist, and supports the Con. party on commercial grounds, although formerly in sympathy with the Lib. party. He is strongly in favour of Brit. connection, but with the right to make our own commercial treaties and appoint our commercial agents abroad. He m. DRUMMOND, Rev. Lewis Henry (R. C.), is the s. of the late Hon. L. T. Drummond, formerly Judge of the Ct. of Queen's Bench, P. Q., by Elmire, dau. of Hon. P. D. Debartzch. B. in Montreal, Oct. 19, 1848, he was ed. in that city at the Coll. Sch., and at St. Mary's (Jesuit) Coll., graduating at the latter at the head of his class. He studied Surveying and Geol., 1865-68, and then entered the Jesuit Order. He taught Classics in St. Mary's Coll., 1870-72; spent a year in France to recruit his health; studied philosophy, etc., at Woodstock Coll., Md., 1873-76; taught in the Jesuit Coll. of St. Francis Xavier, N. Y., and St. John's, Fordham, 1876-80; spent several yrs. in Eng.; and was ordained priest, Sept. 23, 1883. Father D. first went to Man., 1885, and up to 1890, during which time he taught Rhetoric and Phil. at St. Boniface Coll., he was a mem. of the Bd. of Studies and of the Council of the Univ. of Man. He was rector of St. Mary's Coll., and of the Gesu Ch., Montreal, 1890-92, resigning then only on account of ill-health. In 1891 he was elected Presdt. of the Mang. Council of Montreal Night Schs., which Council was composed of representative Prot. and Cath. clergymen and laymen. In 1892 he returned to Man., where he resumed his Coll. duties, and seat on the Bd. and Council of Man. Univ. Father D. enjoys a high reputation in the Cath. Ch. for learning and eloquence. He has both lectured and preached in many parts of Eng., in Irel., in N. Y., and throughout the U. S. and Can. He was on the staff of The Month (London), 1881-84; has contributed sonnets to mags. and newspapers, and has written two coll. plays: "The Conversion of Ireland" (1871), and "Moise en Egypte" (1872). Among his published lectures and writings are: "The Catholic Element in the Can. North-West" (1887), "True and False Ideals in Education" (1888), "The Jesuits" (1889), "Controversy on the Constitution of the Jesuits between Dr. Littledale and Father Drummond" (1889). He is of opinion that "No man is a true Can. who is unfair to Catholics and French-Canadians. The typical Can. is fully in touch with the French element, and just to all nationalities. We Canadians ought to be the fairest and most enlightened people in the world. Near enough to Europe to have its culture and depth, near enough to the U. S. to share their activity and breadth, we have all the advantages of political union with an Imperial race and yet none of the insularity of that race. The two greatest nations of modern times, France and Eng., have contributed to mould our national character into a rare combination of cheerfulness and gravity, of urbanity and power, of intellect and will."—St. Boniface, Man.

DRUMMOND, William Henry, M.D., is the s. of the late Geo. Drummond, an offr. in the Royal Irish Constabulary, by his wife, Elizabeth Morris Soden, and was b. at Currawn House, Co. Leitrim, Irel., Apl. 13, 1854. Ed. at Mohill, Co. Leitrim, and at Montreal High Sch., he studied Med. at Bishop's Coll., Lennoxville, graduating 1884, and has been for some yrs. in general practice in Montreal, holding at the same time the chair of Med. Jurisprudence in the Med. Faculty of Bishop's Coll. Dr. D. has a tendency to literature, and likewise takes considerable interest in fish culture, and the propagation and preservation of game. He is V.-P. of the Laurentian Club and Presdt. of the St. Maurice Club, both being fish and game assns., and is also Presdt. of the Montreal Kennel Club. He is best known, however, to the general public by his contributions to dialect poetry, "The Papineau Gun," and the "Wreck of the Julie Plante," having attained an immense success and popularity all over Can. and in the U. S. as well, and are now included in every standard collection of Am. humorous verse. For the Queen's Diamond Jubilee he wrote "The Habitant's Jubilee Ode," and he wrote also for Albani a song, "Le Grand Seigneur," which was sung by that artist during her last Am. tour. Dr. D. has also written some satirical Eng. verse, which indicates exceptional talent. He has quite recently prepared a new poem of considerable length in the French-Can. patois, which his friends pronounce the author's best. It is likely a complete edition of his poems will be published before long. He m. Apl., 1894, May Isabel, only dau. of Dr. O. C. He has earned the highest distinction as a math., both in his professional capacity and as an author. His works, apart from papers contributed to the "Trans. of the Roy. Soc. of Can." (of which he is a Fellow), include: "Elements of Geometrical Optics" (1868), "Junior Algebra" (1882), "Geometry of the point, line, and circle in the plane" (1889), "Principles of Elementary Algebra" (1893), and "Elements of Synthetic Solid Geometry" (1893). Prof. D is also ed. of the Math. Dept. of the Can. Educational Monthly. He has never taken an active part in politics, but nevertheless, believes in free trade and direct taxation. In religion, a Meth., he m. Miss Amelia Ann Macginnis, a descendant of Irish parents who settled in Watertown, N.Y., three generations ago.—University Place, Kingston, Ont.

DURAND, Miss Laura B., journalist, is one of the younger of the Can. writers. The dept. entitled "Books and Authors" in the Saturday issue of the Toronto Globe is in her hands, and she also edits the children's page, and writes special articles in the Globe, the latter under the pen name "Pharos." Of her Miss Sandford writes (Godey's Mag.): "She has a well balanced mind, a fine critical faculty and aptitude for analysis, and a sympathy of the imagination that enables her to take the view point of the author whose work she is considering." — 237 Huron St., Toronto.

DURIEU, The Rt. Rev. Paul, R. C. bishop, was b. at St. Pal-de-mons, diocese du Puy, France, Dec. 3, 1830. Ed. at the Manistroe Semy., he studied Theol. at Marseilles, and was ordained to the priesthood, 1854. Coming to Can., the same year, as a mem. of the Cong. of Oblats, he laboured for many yrs. as a mission. in B. C. He was apptd. V.-G., 1868, and titular Bishop of Marcopolis (as asst. to Mgr. d'Herbomez, of B. C.), June, 1875. In Sept., 1890, he was apptd. first Bp. of New Westminster, having jurisdiction over the whole of B. C., with the exception of Vancouver Island. St. Peter's Cath., St. Louis Coll., an acad. for girls, St. Mary's Hospital, and many other institutions and chs. in his diocese owe their existence largely to his Lordship's efforts.—New Westminster, B.C.

DUSTAN, Rev. John Francis (Presb.), was b. in Glasgow, Scot., Mch. 13, 1856. Ed. at Dalhousie Coll., Halifax, he studied Theol. at Princeton, N.J., and at Edinburgh Univ., and was ordained to the ministry, 1884. Inducted as pastor of St. Paul's, Truro, N.S., he accepted a call to Knox Ch., Brandon, Man., 1887, and in the following year, went to St. John's, Bridgewater, N.S. In 1891 he was apptd. to his present charge over Grove Ch., Halifax.—Grove Church Manse, Halifax, N.S.

DU VERNET, Rev. Frederick Herbert (Ch. of Eng.), is of Huguenot descent, and is the s. of the late Rev. Canon DuVernet, of Montreal, by his wife Frances Eliza, sister of Canon Ellegood, same city. B. at Hemmingford, P.Q., he was ed. at King's Coll., Windsor, N.S., at Toronto Univ., and at Wycliffe Coll., Toronto, and ordained to the ministry by the Bp. of Montreal, 1883. For two yrs. he was mission preacher to the diocese of Montreal. He has also been Secy.-Treas., and is now Editorial Secy., of the Can. branch of the Ch. Mission. Soc. of Eng., has conducted parochial missions in the principal cities and towns of Can., from St. John, N.B. to Vancouver, B.C., some of the missions lasting for 15 days. Mr. D. was one of the first to take the degree of B.D. under the Bd. of Exams. apptd. by the Provl. Synod of Can., the degree being conferred by Archbp. Lewis, 1893. He has been a mem. of the Editorial Comte. of Parish and Home since its formation. Is ed. of the Can. Church Missionary Gleaner. He was apptd. Prof. of Practical Theol. in Wycliffe Coll., Toronto, 1885, and was elected Presdt. of Wycliffe Coll. Alumni Assn., Oct., 1895. Apptd. rector of St. John's Ch., Toronto Junction, May, 1895. He m. 1885, Miss Stella Yates, Kingston.—Toronto Junction.

DWIGHT, Harvey Prentice, telegraph supdt., was b. of New Eng. parentage, at Belleville, Jefferson Co., N.Y., Dec. 23, 1828. Ed. in Oswego Co., he left home at 14, and obtained employment in a country store. Here he learned telegraphy, and coming to Can., 1847, secured a position as an operator in the service of the Montreal Telegraph Co. He was first stationed in Montreal under O. S. Wood. In 1850, he was removed to Toronto, where through the whole of that year he was the sole operator. As the business increased in Western Can., Mr. D. became Western Supdt. In 1881, when the Montreal and Dom. Telegraph Cos. were merged in the Great Northwestern Telegraph Co., Mr. D. was apptd. Genl. Mangr., and in 1892 he was apptd. Presdt. of the combined cos. Under his direction lines have been built in every portion of the country, where the roads made it at all practicable to establish them. At the present time, as we have observed elsewhere, Can. stands second to no country in the world with regard to the cheapness and efficiency of its telegraph system. This fact is due in a great measure, if not wholly, to the farsightedness and executive ability of Mr. Dwight and Mr. Hosmer. But Mr. D. has not confined his business abilities exclusively to the telegraphic system. He has taken a very active part in a number of other important enterprises, and is one of the best known men in Can. The Great Northwestern Telegraph Co. now controls over 2000 offices and over 40,000 miles of wires, extending over the Provinces of Ont., Que., N. B. and Man., as well as portions of the States of Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont and N. Y. During the N.-W. rebellion, 1885, he rendered signal service to the Govt., which was duly acknowledged in Parlt. by the Mr. of Militia. Mr. D. was one of the dirs. of the Midland Ry. Co. of Can., and he now is, in addition to his other positions, a V.-P. of the Can. Mining Trust Co., V.-P. of the Can. Genl. Electric Co. and Presdt. of the Birkbeck Invest. Co., of Toronto. He is a mem. of the Ch. of Eng., and has been twice married, 1st, to Miss Sarah Hutchinson, Port Robinson, Ont. (she d.); and 2ndly, to Mary Margt., dau. of Wm. Helliwell, Toronto. His s., Clarence P. Dwight, is the author of a popular book of adventure: "Life in the North-West Mounted Police and Other Sketches" (1892).—107 St. George St., Toronto.

DYMOND, Alfred Hutchinson, Ont. public service, was b. at Croydon, Surrey, Eng., Aug. 21, 1827, and ed. there. Early in life he was engaged in commercial pursuits, which he relinquished in order to advocate the abolition of the Death Punishment, with which movement he was long identified. He became the secy. and representative of the soc. formed to carry out this object, and in that capacity lectured in many of the principal towns and cities of Gt. Brit., and, besides writing several pamphlets on the question, was the author of a book entitled, "The Law on its Trial; or, Recollections of the Death Penalty." He joined the Morning Star (Lond.), 1857, becoming ultimately genl. mangr. of that paper, which position he resigned shortly before its amalgamation with the Daily News, in order to come to Can. He arrived here Oct., 1869, and from that time till Oct., 1878, was one of the eds. and political writers of the Toronto Daily Globe. Mr. D. was also closely identified with the union and emancipation movement in Eng. during the Am. civil war. He sat in the Ho. of Commons for North York, in the Lib. interest, from g. e. 1874 to g. e. 1878, when defeated. While in Parlt. he took an active part both in the debates and the work of comtes. He assisted materially in the adoption of the Can. Temp., or "Scott," Act, introduced a bill giving defendants in criminal cases the privilege of being witnesses in their own behalf, which is now the law, and successfully carried another measure applying the principle to trials for common assault. In 1880 he was apptd. a mem. of the Ont. Agricultural Comn., and as Ex. Comnr. compiled the very voluminous report of the evidence taken by it. In the following year he was apptd. Principal of the Ont. Inst. for the Education of the Blind, which he now fills. A mem. of the Ang.

Ch., he has been for yrs. a del. to the Genl. and Provl. Synods, in which bodies he is frequently heard. He has strongly advocated the use of the laity in connection with the work and services of the ch., and is chairman of the Huron Lay Workers' Assn. As a public man he advocates a lib. extension of the franchise; the limitation of import duties to purposes of revenue, as opposed to protection; a prohibitory liquor law; the abolition of death punishments; and a most lib. immigration policy. He m. June, 1852, Helen Susannah, dau. of John Henderson, London, Eng. (she d. 1896).—Brantford, Ont.

DYMOND, Allan Malcolm, barrister, s. of the preceding, was b. at Brixton, Surrey, Eng., Sept. 25, 1864. Coming to Can. with his parents, Oct., 1869, he was ed. at U. C. Coll., studied law with the Hon. Ed. Blake, and subsequently with the Hon. A. S. Hardy, and was called to the bar, 1885. He practised his profession in Toronto until Apl., 1889, when he was apptd. Law Secy. to the Govt., and since 1870 has been Law Clk. to the Legislature. He compiled a municipal index and alphabetical digest of the statutory provisions in Ont. affecting municipalities, and has assisted in various other legal publications. He is a mem. of the Ch. of Eng., and has served as a del. to the Provl. and Genl. Synods. In politics a Lib., he favours the single tax, maintenance of Brit. connection, and reforms in prison system and in educational methods, and is opposed to capital punishment. He m. EATON, Adoniram Judson, educationist, is the s. of Thos. W. Eaton, Annapolis, N.S., and was b. there, 1850. Ed. at Acadia Univ. (B.A., 1873; M.A., 1877), he took a post-graduate course at Harvard Univ. (B.A., 1876), and at Yale and Leipzig (Ph.D., 1885). Mr. E. was Head Master of Amherst Acad., 1877-79, and, subsequently, Principal of Woonsocket High Sch., Providence, R.I. He was apptd. associate Prof. of Classics in McGill Univ., his present position, 1886. He was elected a mem. of the Am. Oriental Soc., 1886, and of the Am. Philol. Assn., 1894. He took a leading part in the formation of the Dom. Educational Assn., and has edited several text-books for coll. and sch. use, and been a frequent contributor to educational journals, both in the U. S. and the Dom. He m. EATON, Rev. Arthur Wentworth Hamilton (Epis.), author, was b. at Kentville, N.S., and is the s. of the late Wm. Eaton, a gentleman well known in connection with the educational system of N. S., and as holding many public positions, by his wife, Anna Augusta Willoughby Hamilton, a descendant of a well known mil. branch of the famous Scottish Hamiltons. Mr. E. was ed. at first under his father's direction, and afterwards in the U. S., where the greater part of his active life has been spent. He graduated from Harvard Univ., in the class of 1880, and after a thorough course of theol. study, during which he was much engaged in literary work, he was admitted, June 1884, to deacon's orders in the Prot. Ep. Ch., by Bp. Knickerbocker, of Indiana, in whose diocese he had previously done 6 months of clerical duty. Ordained to the diaconate, he returned to Mass , and for the summer took charge of St. Paul's Ch., Stockbridge, the rector being absent in Europe. From Stockbridge he went to N. Y. city, was apptd. rector's asst. to the Rev. Dr. Rylance, at old St. Mark's-in-the-Bowery, and in Apl., 1885, at Christ Ch., 5th Av., received priest's orders from the Rt. Rev. H. C. Potter, D.D., Bp. of N. Y. Late in the spring he accepted a call to a new parish at Chestnut Hill, Mass., the most exclusive suburb of Boston, and in this position remained for over a year, when, being unable longer to endure the Boston climate, he returned to N. Y., where he gave himself energetically to literary work, taking Sunday duty, however, constantly, in important parishes in or near the city. About this time a new impulse was given, chiefly by Harvard Coll., to the teaching of Eng. in preparatory schs., and Mr. E., who had always had much enthusiasm for Eng. study, and who had already become known as a writer, was requested by Dr. A. H. Cutler, the head of the most important private sch. in N. Y., to take charge, in advanced Eng., of the boys in his sch. who were about to enter the various colleges, especially Harvard. So successful has Mr. E. been in this work, and so strongly attached has he become to the sch., that he has continued his connection with it to the present time, gradually assuming the direction of the whole Eng. dept., which he has quite re-organized. In Ch. work he likewise continues to be deeply interested ; his ability as a preacher is freely recognized, his sermons being said to show much of the poet's penetration of character and life, as well as insight into the truth at the heart of all dogma. Much of Mr. E.'s most laborious and most lasting work has been done in the field of literature. From the outset of his career he has written much for newspapers and periodicals, and long before any published volume of his had been given to the world, he had been known as the author of prose articles and poems of merit. A careful student of religion, having thought deeply from his boyhood, it is not strange that his first published book should be a volume of connected theol. essays. This book, known as "The Heart of the Creeds; Historical Religion in the Light of Modern Thought," was first published, 1888, and at once gave the author a foremost place among the young religious thinkers of the country. From such men in the Ep. Ch. as the late Bp. Phillips Brooks it received high commendation, and it now ranks as a standard book in Broad Ch. popular theol. The Eng. of the book was regarded as especially fine, and was praised unstintedly by literary critics like E. C. Stedman. Mr. E.'s second published work was a volume of poems, entitled "Acadian Legends and Lyrics," which showed a wide range of poetical feeling, and a fine control of musical speech. The book contains some legendary poems of interest, and many beautiful lyrics, and has had a steady sale. This volume, which first appeared, 1889, was followed, 1890, by a little book on letter writing; in 1891, by a valuable historical work, known as "The Church of England in Nova Scotia, and the Tory Clergy of the Revolution," and in 1892, by a volume of short stories, "Tales of a Garrison Town," collaborated with C. L. Betts (q.v.). Mr. E.'s poems have gone into several anthologies, like "Poets of the Great Dominion," "Younger American Poets," and "Poems of Wild Life." In his introduction to "Younger American Poets," Douglas Sladen says : "Eaton, I think, has been the most happy of the Canadians in treating their national legends. There are few writers in the U. S. who equal him in this respect. This volume, "Acadian Legends and Lyrics," though only recently issued, is one of the best yet produced by a Canadian, with a fine Longfellow-like vein running through it." Mr. E.'s name is to be found in Stedman's "Library of American Literature," though only in a subordinate way. A sketch of his life is there given, and he is represented by one or two of his poems. The reason for his not occupying a more prominent place is that he is a Can. by birth, and that, although most of his life has been spent, and all his work done, in the U. S., Can. literature claims him. A great deal of his leisure time has been spent by Mr. E. on local history and genealogy. In the field of family history he has been known as one of the most patient and accurate students in the U. S., and in this dept. he has published much, both in book form and in periodicals. He has been a mem. of both the New Eng. and N. Y. Genealogical Societies, and at one time he held the honorary office in the N. Y. Soc. of "Registrar of Pedigrees." In private life Mr. E. is favourably known. He has unusual personal magnetism, and his life in N. Y., and indeed his whole life, has been singularly rich in friendships. In the social and literary world of N. Y. he holds a prominent place; with many of the leading Am. authors he is on terms of close friendship, and his acquaintance in the ministry of his Ch. is naturally very large. He has never m. It is understood that he has now in preparation, among other literary works, a "History of the People of Nova Scotia."—20 East 50th St., New York.

EATON, Brenton Halliburton, was b. at Cornwallis, N.S., Aug. 8, 1837, and ed. at Acadia Coll. (B.A., 1859; M.A., 1862). Called to the bar, 1864, he has since practised his profession at Halifax, and was created a Q. C., by the Marquis of Lansdowne, 1884. In 1885 he was apptd. R. O. for Co. of Halifax under the E. F. EATON, Rev. Charles Aubrey (Bapt.), is descended from the old Eaton family which has lived in Mass, since 1640, and in N. S. since 1755. B. at Lakeville, Co. Cumberland, N.S., Mch. 29, 1868, he was ed. in the local schs., and at Acadia Univ. (B.A., 1890; M.A., 1893). He pursued his theol. studies at Newton Theol. Inst., and began to preach at the age of 18. He has preached in every large city in Eastern Can and throughout New Eng. Mr. E. was ordained pastor of the 1st Bapt. Ch., Natick, Mass., June, 1893. He spent the summer of 1894 in Europe, and the summer of 1895, preaching in London, Eng. At the age of 22 he was called to lecture and write in Boston in the historical struggle for unsectarian schs. In Sept., 1895, he was called to Toronto to succeed Chancellor Wallace, as pastor of Bloor St. Bapt. Ch. While at coll., he was ed. of the Univ. paper; since then he has been a frequent contributor to the press, a series of articles from his pen for a Boston paper descriptive of his visit to Eng., drawing much favourable comment. In Toronto he has lectured on a variety of topics, including "Our Kith and Kin beyond the Sea," "The Reign of the Common People," and "Can. Independence." While in Eng., 1896, he wrote for the Toronto Globe a series of letters describing the present aspect of affairs in the Mother Country. He was one of the founders and first Presdt. of the New Eng. EBY, Rev. Charles Samuel (Meth.), is the s. of Jonas Eby, of Waldensian blood, by his wife, Hannah Fessant, a native of Eng. B. at Goderich, Ont., Nov. 4, 1845, he was ed. at the Guelph High Sch., at Victoria Univ., Cobourg (B.A., 1871), and at Halle, Germany. Entering the ministry, 1867, he was ordained, 1871, and from that time until 1876 was engaged in German mission work. Proceeding to Japan in the latter year as head of the Can. Meth. mission, he successfully established a conf. in connection with Can. Methodism in that country and secured the erection of a Central Tabernacle at Tokio, for the services of the mission, which is acknowledged to be the largest and finest Prot. Ch. in Japan. While in that country, he also lectured in their language to the educated youth of the capital, wrote pamphlets, and edited for 2 yrs. the Chrysanthemum Mag. Returning to Can., invalided, 1894, he accepted a call to Homer St. Meth. Ch., Vancouver, B.C., in succession to the Rev. Coverdale Watson, May, 1896, where he still is. He received the hon. degree of D.D. from his Alma Mater, 1886. While in Germany he ed. and published for a short period a German paper called The Evangelist. Among his published works are: "The Eastern Pioneer of Western Civilization, and the Recognition Her Efforts Receive," "Methodism and the Missionary Problem," "Christianity and Civilization," "Christianity and Humanity—a Course of Lectures Delivered in Tokyo." EDDY, Ezra Butler, manufacturer, is the s. of the late Saml. Eddy, whose ancestors came originally from Scot., by his wife, Clarissa Eastman, a direct descendant of Miles Standish. B. on his father's farm near Bristol, Vt., U.S., Aug. 22, 1827, he was ed. at the Dist. Sch., and commenced his business career in N. Y. city. Removing to Burlington, Vt., he embarked in the manufacture of friction matches, 1851. In 1854, he came to Hull, P.Q., where he erected extensive shops and warehouses and became the largest manufacturer of matches in the Brit. Provinces. In 1856, he added to his business the manufacture of woodenware, and more recently (1892) the manufacture of paper. His combined establishment is now among the very largest and most flourishing in the world, and furnishes employment to over 2000 hands. In 1886, Mr. E. found it desirable to form a joint-stock co., since when the various branches of his business have been carried on under the name of "The E. B. Eddy Co.," of which organization he is the Presdt. Mr. E. sat for Ottawa Co. in the Legislature, 1871-75, when he was defeated by Dr. Duhamel. EDGAR, Hon. James David, statesman, is the only s. of the late James Edgar, of Lennoxville, P.Q., by Grace, his wife, dau. of the Rev. David Fleming, M.A., Min. of Carriden, Linlithgowshire, Scot. He represents the elder branch of the Edgars of Keithock, Forfarshire, one of whose mems., James Edgar, was for 50 yrs. private secy. to Prince Charlie's father, the Chevalier, known by the Jacobites as King James III. Secy. Edgar's acts of devotion and constancy to his royal master are matters of history. Mr. E. has in his possession a large collection of priceless heirlooms, consisting of portraits and miniatures of the Stuarts, and a gold snuff box, the gifts of the Chevalier, a locket containing Prince Charlie's hair, two brace of pistols and the ribbon of the garter worn by the Prince in the rising of 1745, and all given by him or by his bro., the Cardinal Duke of York, to their father's faithful secy. (See "The Scottish House of Edgar," edited by a Comte. of the Grampian Club, London, 1873.) B. at Hatley, P.Q., Aug. 10, 1841, he received his ed. at Lennoxville and at the city of Quebec. Moving West, he read with Rev. G. D. Mackenzie, at Georgetown, for a year, and then studied law under the late Hon. John Hillyard Cameron, Q.C., and was called to the bar 1864. He practised in Toronto in partnership with the present Chief-Justice of Can., Sir Henry Strong, and afterward with the late Fred. Fenton, Co. Atty. At present, he is head of the law firm of Edgar and Malone. He was created a Q.C. by the Ont. Govt., 1890. While a young man, he served as legal ed. of the Toronto Globe and of the Montreal Trade Review—he also published an annotated edition of the Insolvent Act, 1864, with decisions—as well as several other law publications, and wrote on general questions for the public press. He was early elected Presdt. of the Ont. Literary Soc., an assn. which included in its membership the flower and promise of western Can. manhood. A Lib. politically, he was nominated in that interest to stand for the representation of Monck, in the Prov. Legislature, at the g. e. 1871, and was defeated by 4 votes. In the following year he was returned for the same constituency to the Ho. of Commons and sat in that body until the close of the Parlt. At his first session he was apptd. chief Lib. "Whip," and it was he who marshalled the hosts of the opposition during the political crisis of 1873-74, culminating in the downfall of Sir John Macdonald's first Dom. cabinet. At the ensuing general elections he met with defeat on going back for re-election—but although out of Parlt. he was not allowed to remain idle. He was offered and accepted a political mission to B. C. in connection with the question of the construction of the Can. Pac. Ry., and acquitted himself, as history records, "with rare diplomatic skill." Defeated again in Monck, at the g. e. 1882, by a majority of 1, he remained out of Parlt. until Aug., 1884, when at a bye-election he was returned for West Ontario by acclamation. At this time he had been for some yrs. on the directorate of the Toronto Globe, the principal organ of the Reform party in Can., and was one of its leader writers. He was also an effective organizer for his party, both under Mr. Blake and Sir W. Laurier, and no doubt much of its success at the polls in 1896, was due to his counsel and efforts. At the meeting of the new Parlt., Aug. 19, 1896, he was proposed as Speaker of the Commons, and elected by acclamation. On Mch. 24, 1897, he was sworn of the Queen's Privy Council, together with the preceding speaker, Peter White. As a legislator Mr. E. has had to do with a number of questions of the first importance, chief among which may be mentioned Can. Copyright, the discussion on which was opened by him in 1885. He introduced the question again 1886, moving on that occasion that an address be presented to the Queen embodying a statement of the grievances of the local publishers, and it was principally owing to his continued efforts and agitation that the Can. Copyright Act was finally brought in and passed 1889. In 1894 he took up the question of Intern. Arbitration with a view of securing a permanent state of peace in the great Eng.-speaking world. His speech on this occasion was regarded as "one of the most eloquent and suggestive ever heard in Parliament," and led at once to the adoption by acclamation of the resolution prepared by him. As a party man, he acted with Mr. Tarte, in the session of 1891, in conducting the Connolly-McGreevy investigation. Afterward he was given charge of the impeachment of Sir Adolphe Caron, and also of the prosecution of the charges against Mr. Turcotte, M.P. In the discussion of the trade question he took an active part in exposing the operations of the cotton combine. In addition to his other literary efforts, he has published a volume of poems: "This Canada of Ours and Other Poems," (Toronto, 1893), and has been declared by Frechette to be "a poet of exceptional merit who captivates by his elevation of thought, charm of expression and faultless good taste." In 1897 he was elected a Fellow of the Royal Soc. of Can. Mr. E. is a mem. of the Ch. of Eng. He m. Sept., 1865, Matilda, 2nd dau. of the late Thos. G. Ridout, formerly cashier of the Bank of Upper Canada. Mrs. E., who is an active mem. of the Women's Can. Historical Assn. and is V.-P. of the U. E. Loyalist Assn., has gained distinction in the literary field as the author of "Ten Years of Upper Canada in Peace and War, 1805-1815," (Toronto, 1895), a volume that has received and earned the special commendation of Mr. Gladstone and of the principal Eng. and Can. reviews. Mr. E. has a family of 5 sons and 3 daughters. The eldest, James Frederic, is a mem. of his father's law firm; the second son, Pelham, has devoted himself to the study of Eng. literature, and after winning the highest honours in Toronto Univ., has taken his degree of Ph.D. at Johns Hopkins Univ., Baltimore, having carried off both a scholarship and a fellowship in his course. In July, 1897, he was apptd. lecturer in French in Victoria Univ. Maud C., the eldest dau., graduated from the Toronto Univ. at the head of her class in 1896, having also taken the Governor-General's medal in Moderns.—Speaker's Chambers, Ottawa; Huron St., Toronto; "The Pines," Lake Simcoe, Ont.; Toronto Club; Rideau Club.

EDWARDS, William, Ontario civil service, was b. at Brister, Norfolk, Eng., May 4, 1818, and ed. there. Coming to Can., 1836, he has resided in Toronto since Jan., 1837. For 22 yrs. of his life he was engaged in manufacturing and commercial pursuits, and he was for 5 yrs. a mem. of Toronto city council. Of other positions filled by him, it may be mentioned that he was during 30 consecutive yrs. elected to the Secretaryship and intermediate positions up to the Presidency of the Toronto Mech. Inst.; for 10 yrs. he was Secy.-Treas. and ed. of the published journal of the Bd. of Arts and Manufactures, U. C.; for 14 yrs. he was Secy.-Treas. of the Toronto Elec. Dist. Soc.; for 15 yrs. he was Secy. of the Arts and Manufactures Dept. of the Provl. Assn.'s annual exhn.; for 19 yrs. he was Secy.-Treas. of the Ont. Assn. of Mech. Insts., and he filled several official positions in the old Richmond St. Meth. Ch., of which he was for 40 yrs. a mem. While a mem. of the city council he was charged with the duty of revising, consolidating and printing the civic by-laws, 1866. His connection with the Ont. public service dates from Jan., 1868, he being then apptd., on the organization of the Dept. of Public Works, to be Secy. of the Dept.—a position he still fills. One of the first duties entrusted to him was the preparation of an Act for submission to the Legislature, having reference to the several societies existing under the Agricul. and Arts Act. Under the new Act were incorporated the Bureau and the Bd. of Agriculture, the Provl. Exhn. Assn., the Co. and Township Agricul. and Hort. Societies, the Artists, Entomological, Fruit Growers', Dairyman's and Poultry Assns., and the Mech. Insts. He likewise took an active part in the efforts resulting in the establishment of the Sch. of Tech. (now the Sch. of Practical Science), and for sustaining it as a separate institution. In addition to his other official duties, he was, from 1869 to 1873, Secy. of Immigration, and, in the latter year, was apptd., under the Great Seal, Chief Comnr. of Immigration for the United Kingdom, to investigate and report upon the system existing in the Mother Country. EDWARDS, William Cameron, lumber manufacturer and legislator, is the s. of the late Wm. Edwards, a native of Portsmouth, Eng., who came to Can., about 1820, settling in the Tp. of Clarence, Co. Russell, Ont., by his wife, Martha Ann Cameron, a native of Fort William, Scot. B. in Clarence, May 7, 1844, he was ed. at the Ottawa Grammar Sch., and when quite young, entered the lumber business at Thurso, P.Q. In 1868 he commenced business on his own account, subsequently establishing the firm of W. C. Edwards & Co., whose saw-mills at Rockland and at New Edinburgh, on the Ottawa river, are now among the most extensive and prosperous in the whole Dom. The combined establishments employ many hundreds of men, and the total yearly output in sawn lumber from them is estimated at 65,000,000 to 70,000,000 ft. He is a dir. of the Trusts Corporation, of Toronto, and was one of the promoters of the Temiscamingue Steamboat Co., and of the Can. Lumber Co. Mr. E. also takes a practical interest in agriculture and stock farming. He has been for many yrs. Presdt. of the Russell Agricul. Soc., and as owner of one of the largest stock farms in the Ottawa Valley, has secured a greater number of prizes for improved breeds of cattle than any other exhibitor in Central Can. In religion, he is a Bapt. Politically, he is a Lib., in every sense of the word, and believes in "equal rights and equal liberties in all things," and "in such legislation as will be of the greatest benefit to the greatest number." He was an unsuccessful candidate for the representation of Russell in the Ho. of Commons g. e. 1882, but was returned g. e. 1887, and has since then held the seat by largely increased majorities at each succeeding g. e. He is also a mem. of the Council Eastern Ont. Lib. Assn. He m. Jan., 1885, Catherine M., eld. dau. of the late Wm. Wilson, of Cumberland, Ont. EGAN, The Very Rev. John Joseph (R.C.), was b. in Co. Clare, Irel., Mch. 19, 1847. Ed. in the Diocesan Coll., Ennis, Irel., and at St. Michael's Coll., Toronto, he pursued his Theol. studies at the Grand Semy., Montreal. Ordained to the priesthood, 1873, he became parish priest at Caledon, was apptd. rector of St. Paul's, Toronto, 1880, and later, of Thornhill. In 1893 he assumed the duties connected with his present charge, as Dean of Barrie. "A man of enlightened capacity," he has been elected by his fellow-citizens to the directorate of the Barrie Coll. Inst., and of the Mech. Inst. He is also known as the author of "What do the Jesuits Teach?" and as a frequent contributor to the national and religious press. In 1877 he visited Rome, with the famous Irish Can. pilgrimage of that year, and was accorded an audience with Pope Pius IX.—The Presbytery, Barrie, Ont.

ELGIN AND KINCARDINE, The Right Honourable VICTOR ALEXANDER BRUCE, Earl of, Governor-General of India, is the eld. s. of Jas., 8th Earl of Elgin and Kincardine, the eminent diplomatist and statesman, who was Gov.-Genl. of Can., 1847-54, by his 2nd wife, Lady Mary Louisa, eld. surviving dau. of John George, 1st Earl of Durham. B. at "Monklands," near Montreal, May 16, 1849, he was ed. at Oxford (M.A., 1877), and succeeded his father as 9th Earl of Elgin and 13th Earl of Kincardine, Nov. 20, 1863. His Lordship held office as Treas. of H. M.'s Household and 1st Comnr. of Works, 1886, and was apptd. to the Governor-Generalship of India, succeeding the Marquis of Lansdowne therein, Oct., 1893. He is Lord-Lieut. of Fife, and had the freedom of the royal burgh of Dunfermline conferred upon him, just previous to his departure for the seat of his Govt. ELLEGOOD, Rev. Jacob (Ch. of Eng.), was b. at Fredericton, N.B., 1823, and ed. at King's Coll., in that city (B.A., 1849), and in Eng. Ordained deacon, 1848, and priest in the following year, by Bp. Fulford, Montreal, he has laboured in the same field ever since. Appointed. asst. at Christ Ch. Cath., Notre Dame St., 1849, he was almost immediately placed in charge of St. Anne's Chapel, Griffintown, remaining there during the prevalence of the ship-fever in that place, and also, subsequently, during the fire, which destroyed nearly the whole of that portion of Montreal, including his ch. Rebuilding upon the old site, Mr. E. may be said to have been the founder of that parish, as well as of several others in the same mission, including that of which the fine Ch. of St. James the Apostle, with its rectory and sch.-house (all of which buildings were erected through his efforts), is now the centre. Of the Ch. of St. James the Apostle he has been the rector for many yrs. He was apptd. a canon of Christ Ch. Cath., 1872, and is Chaplain to the 3rd Batt. V. M. Victoria Rifles of Can. He m. 1849, the sister of the late Fennings Taylor, Ottawa (she d. 1868).—2559 St. Catherine St., Montreal.

ELLIOT, Major Henry George, is the eld. s. of the late Maj. J. F. Elliot, for many yrs. Collector of Customs, Windsor, Ont., and was b. at Perth, Ont., Dec. 25, 1826. Removing to Western Can., 1835, he went to Eng., 1845, and was admitted a cadet on H. M. S. Excellent, at Portsmouth. In 1847 he received his commission as 2nd lt. in the Rl. Marine Lt. Infy. Proceeding to the Crimea, he served as adjt. to the 1st Batt. during the siege and fall of Sebastopol, 1854-55, at the battle of Balaklava and at the surrender of Kinbourn. He was present at the bombardment of Odessa, Apl. 22; commanded companies of H. M. S. Albion and Vesuvius on Sept. 25 and 26, 1854, when they were employed in removing wounded Russians from the battle-field of the Alma, and covered the embarkation of the unarmed parties on the latter day when they were obliged to retire in consequence of the advance of a strong force of the enemy's cavalry. For his conduct on this occasion he received the thanks of Sir S. Lushington (medal with clasp, 5th class of the Medjidie and Turkish medal). Promoted capt., 1859, and major, 1870, he retired from the army in the latter year on full pay, and went to the Diamond Fields in South Africa. In 1877 he received the appnt. of Chief Magistrate of Tembuland, Cape of Good Hope, and, during the Basuto war, 1879, acted as Major-Commdt. of the Tembu levies (medal and C.M.G.). More recently, in 1894, he was entrusted by the govt. with a mission to the Pondo chiefs, and through his pacific measures secured the annexation of Pondoland. Major Elliot has been twice m., 1st, 1865, to Miss Emily Frances Drummond (she d. 1877); and 2nd, 1879, to Miss Emily Claridge Gardner.—Umtata, Tembuland, Cape of Good Hope.

ELLIOTT, David Hugh, cattle exporter, was b. in Kingston, Ont., Nov. 7, 1858, and is the s. of John Elliott, of that city. As a young man he was associated with Fred. Lingham, of Belleville, Ont., as an exporter to Europe of Can. cattle, and he subsequently operated in the Baltimore and Chicago markets. He established himself in Liverpool, Eng., 1886, and has now built up a business on his own account, whose "turn-over" amounts to over £1,000,000 stg. per annum, his wages account aggregates £10,000 per annum, his dues account with the Mersey Dock and Harbour Bd., £10,000, while his annual payment to the Woodside Ferry for ferriage, is not less than £1,000. Mr. E.'s transactions are principally in live-stock, and are conducted on a commission. At the present moment he may be considered the largest operator in his line in the trans-atlantic trade. In addition to the cattle trade, Mr. E. has established a large business in Am. and Can. horses, which he carries on at his repository, Prescot Road, Stanley, near Liverpool, where he has accommodation for 500 horses, with all the necessary appurtenances. He also represents the Swift Beef Co., of Chicago, in Liverpool. He is a dir. of the Liverpool Cold Storage and Ice Co. Ltd., and it may be stated in connection herewith that it was through his instrumentality that the depot of the Liverpool Pure Ice Co., which had previously existed at Canning Dock, was transferred to Williamson Square, Liverpool, and there converted into an enormous cold storage concern, capable of accommodating 150,000 carcases of mutton, and of turning out 50 tons of ice per day. Mr. E. was elected to the Birkenhead Town Council, Nov. 1895.—17 James St., Liverpool, Eng.; Shore Road, Birkenhead, Eng. (branch).

ELLIOTT, His Honour Edward, Co. Ct. Judge, is the s. of the late John Elliott, who emigrated to Can. from Irel., 1818, by his wife, Rebecca Taylor. B. in North Elmsley, Co. Lanark, Ont., June 29, 1844, he was ed. at the public and Grammar schs., Perth, and was called to the bar, 1869. He practised his profession in Perth, and in 1882 was called to the Man. bar. For some yrs. a mem. of the town council, he was afterwards elected Mayor of Perth. Mr. E. was also for some time a mem. of the Bd. of Education and became chairman thereof. In 1879, and again in 1882, he was an unsuccessful candidate in the Con. interest for the representation of South Lanark in the Legislature. He was apptd. Junior Judge for the Co. Middlesex, Sept. 25, 1893, and R.O. under the E. F. A. for the city of London, May 21, 1894. ELLIOTT, James Rupert, public writer, is of Eng. and Am. loyalist origin, and was b. in Clarence, Annapolis Co., N.S., Apl. 30, 1844. Ed. there, he entered commerce and served for 5 yrs. in the Annapolis Municipal Council. As a writer, besides publishing "The Trade Relations of the Farmers of N. S." (St. John, 1887), a pamphlet directed against commercial union, he has contributed to Putnam's "Questions of the Day Series," an essay on American farms (1889). He has now ready for the press a work on the social problems of the times. Mr. E., who since the Pacific scandal, has been an Ind. Lib. in politics, is a free trader in principle and in favour of direct taxation. He also advocates the political enfranchisement of women. He has been a prominent advocate of prohibition upon the platform and in the press. He m. Miss Mary Hutcheson Betts, Supdt. of Franchise in the W.C.T.U. —Lawrencetown, N.S.

ELLIOTT, Rev. John Henry (Cong.), is the s. of Wm. Elliott, farmer, and was b. in Trafalgar, Halton, Ont., Mch. 4, 1853. Ed. at Brampton High Sch., his early yrs. were spent on the farm. At 18, he entered upon a business life in Chicago, but soon became interested in Bible study, and, in conjunction with S. R. Briggs, published in 1877, "Notes and Suggestions for Bible Readings," one of the earliest books of its kind, and which has had an enormous sale. Since then, he has produced several other works of a similar character, including "Outline Bible Studies and Bible Readings." "Suggestive Teaching Outlines for Workers' Training Classes," "The Workers' Weapon," etc. It was also, in 1877, that Mr. E. was apptd. Genl. Secy. of the Y.M.C.A., beginning in Augusta, Ga., with a salary of $500, and advancing to $2,400. After a most successful experience, he resigned this position, 1893, to take up work with Mr. Moody, as an evangelist, in connection with the World's Fair meetings; and, in Mch., 1894, he was ordained to the Cong. ministry. He still conducts evangelistic services wherever desired, and is everywhere regarded as an instructive and interesting exponent of Christian truths. It was at his instigation that the Act was passed by the State Legislature, Georgia, excluding the sale of vicious literature from trains and bookstores. Mr. E. m. ELLIOTT, Thomas, contractor, is the s. of John Elliott, contractor, a native of Yorkshire, Eng., by his wife, Sarah Presho, a native of Irel. B. at Brantford, Ont., Dec. 1850, he was ed. at the public schs., and thereafter devoted himself to contracting. Either as supt. or builder he has had charge of some important works, including the erection of the new Post-office and the Central Prison, Toronto, and the construction of the B. W. and L. E. Ry.—the latter an undertaking originally promoted by him. Mr. E. has held various local offices. He has been census comnr., sch. trustee, ald., and is now Mayor of Brantford. Of the Sons of Eng. he was elected Supreme Grand Presdt., 1893. A Con., politically, he was for some yrs. V.-P. and afterwards Presdt. of the Brantford Con. Assn. He is a firm believer in Imperial Federation. He m. Nov. 1874, Ida Jane, dau. of M. D. Baldwin.—Brantford, Ont.

ELLIS, Alexander George, temperance reformer, is the 2nd s. of Alex. Ellis, of Elgin, Scot., but was b. in Kingstown, Irel., May 9, 1851. Ed. in Monkstown Sch., near Dublin, he resided there until he was 28, when he entered the dry goods business in Belfast. He came to Can., 1886. He has been identified principally with the temp. movement, and has been a very successful organizer for the I.O.G.T., of which he is a grand electorial supdt. for P.Q. He founded the Temp. Volunteers Soc., and afterwards established The Temp. Volunteer, an independent monthly devoted to the cause of tempt., of which he is the ed. Mr. E. has held also important offices in the Can. Order of Foresters and in the Orange order, and, in June, 1894, organized "The Irish Prot. Assn. of Can." in Montreal. A fluent platform speaker, he is ever ready to give his services in behalf of any beneficent cause. Politically, a Con., he also believes that all men should be taxed in equal proportions, and that chs., schs. and religious establishments should be taxed as ordinary real estate. He likewise is in favour of compulsory education, and believes that every man should learn a trade and every man be taught the art of war, the same as in Germany. He m. ELLIS, John Valentine, journalist and legislator, is the s. of Michael and Margt. Ellis, both natives of Irel., and was b. in Halifax, N.S., 1835. After a common sch. education, he entered a publisher's house, and learned the printing business. In 1854 he went to Montreal, and in 1857 to St. John, where he became a newspaper reporter. Five yrs. later, he, with the late Christopher Armstrong, bought out the St. John Globe, of which he has ever since been the proprietor as well as ed. In 1882 he was elected to the Provl. Assembly as the representative of the city of St. John, and was re-elected in 1886. In the following year, when the g. e. to the Ho. of Commons took place, he resigned from the local House, in order to run as the Lib. candidate for the city. He was triumphantly returned, his election being regarded as a great victory, inasmuch as it was the first Federal success of the Liberals in St. John since the year 1874. In 1891 he again ran in the Lib. interest, but was defeated. Mr. E. has always taken a great interest in municipal and sch. affairs, as well as in Provl. and Dom. politics. For yrs. he was one of the sch. trustees of St. John. He is also a Freemason of high standing. For some yrs. he held the office of Postmaster of St. John. Reference having frequently been made to the contempt of court case in which Mr. E. figured, we subjoin an account of the circumstances taken from the Toronto Globe. "It will be remembered," says the Globe, "that after the

Dom. g. e. of 1887 trouble arose out the return of G. F. Baird, for Queen's, N.B. Mr. Baird had received 60 votes less than were polled for his opponent, yet the returning officer, on the plea that Mr. King, the Lib. candidate, had made his election deposit personally instead of through an agent, declared Mr. Baird elected. Nobody now defends the conduct of the official. He accepted Mr. King's candidature, he received his money, he held an election, but he did not discover until the polls were closed and Mr. King had scored a majority that there had been an informality, so far as the proceedings were concerned. When he found that Mr. King was elected, he assumed judicial powers, and returned, instead of the choice of the people, the minority candidate. The matter was discussed in Parlt., and eventually Mr. Baird resigned and secured re-election. But prior to this an appeal was taken to the courts by the Liberals, who sought a recount. When the co. judge was about to make the recount, Judge Tuck, of the Supreme Ct., issued, in conformity with an appeal made to him to that end, a writ of prohibition preventing the local judge from adding up the vote. There can be no doubt as to what the result of a recount would have been; the candidate who had received the majority of votes would have been declared elected. The action of Judge Tuck in issuing the writ led to loud protests, and among those who objected resolutely and strongly was Mr. E., in his newspaper. Proceedings were instituted against Mr. E. for contempt of court, exception being taken to such expressions as these: 'But it is not justice that is wanted, and therefore Judge Tuck intervenes.' 'The returning officer, who appears to be restrained by no moral considerations, and who appears to be incapable of judging between right and wrong, has selected Mr. Baird to sit in the Ho. of Commons of Can., although a majority of the electors rejected Mr. Baird.' 'Can partisan judges give it vitality by degrading the ermine in its interest?' 'But the assumption of power by officials, and the prostitution of judicial authority for the purposes of party, are sufficient to weaken the foundations of the strongest faith in freedom.' These extracts were made by Mr. E.'s opponents, and he contended that they did not in all cases represent the general tenor of the articles from which they were taken. It was contended on his behalf, also, that there was no contempt of court, inasmuch as in reality no action was pending, Mr. Baird having been confirmed in the possession of the seat in Parlt. to which Mr. King had been elected. Mr. E. was nevertheless condemned to pay, in addition to a fine of $200, all the costs of the suit, and to suffer imprisonment in the common jail for 30 days. An appeal to the Supreme Ct. at Ottawa on Mr. E.'s behalf having failed, the N. B. judges inflicted the severe penalties named. He spent the 30 days in prison, and on his release was accorded one of the most enthusiastic receptions on the part of the people of St. John, ever accorded to a public man in that Province. In addition, many friends and sympathizers subscribed to a fund for defraying the heavy expenses Mr. E. was condemned to pay." Mr. E. has held the Presidency of the Soc. for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals. In 1897 he received the hon. degree of LL.D. from N. B. Univ. For many yrs. he has favoured the annexation of Can. to the U. S. He is a pew-holder in the Ang. Ch.; and was m. 1864, to Mary Caroline, eld. dau. of the late Saml. Babbitt. Mrs. E. is much interested in all that pertains to the good of humanity, and her active co-operation in good works, as well as her marked ability, was the cause of her election not long since as a V.-P. of the Local Council of Women of St. John.—St. John, N.B.; Union Club, do.

EVERINGHAM, Rev. John E. (Chrs.), was b. at Keswick, Co. York, Ont., Oct. 7, 1861, and is the s. of an Englishman who came to Can. about 15 yrs. ago. He received his primary ed. in schs. in his native town, and afterward attended the Christian Biblical Inst., Stamfordville, N.Y., where he spent 4 yrs., the first year being preparatory to his regular theol. course. His first pastorate was in the Christian Ch., Newton, N.H., where he remained 4½ yrs. He also served in chs. at Rye, N.H., for 3 yrs., and Somerset, Mass., for 2 yrs., before appt. to his present charge, the Ch. of the Evangel, Brooklyn. The denomination to which he belongs had a very peculiar origin. At the start its ranks were formed from seceders from the Meth., Bapt., and Presb. chs., in different parts of Am., who got together in different parts of the continent, the existence of the one being absolutely unknown to the other. When the so-called O'Kelly secession from the Meth. Ch. took place, 1793, the seceders first took the name of Republican Meths., but afterward named themselves Christians, viewing the New Testament as their only code of doctrine and discipline. Mr. E. is now a principal figure in this denomination, and his talents and influence are widely felt. He is a prohibitionist in principle, and has spoken at mass meetings in behalf of the cause. He m. some yrs. ago Miss Florence Coleman, Portsmorth, N.H.—641 Leonard St., Brooklyn, N.Y.

EWAN, John Alexander, journalist, is the s. of Peter Ewan, by his wife, Margt. Stuart Smith. B. in Aberdeen, Scot., Feb. 15, 1854, he accompanied his parents to Can. at an early age, and completed his education in Toronto. He received his first lessons in the art of printing in the same city, having learned to "set type" in the Globe office. In 1879, he joined the reporting staff of that paper, and acted subsequently as its resident correspondent at Ottawa, the Federal capital. On leaving Ottawa, he became an editorial writer on the Toronto World. He is now on the editorial staff of his first love, the Globe, and is regarded everywhere as one of the ablest and most accomplished journalists employed on the Can. press. One example of his style of work was given in the exhaustive sketch of Sir John Thompson's career, which appeared in the Globe the morning after that statesman's death, Dec., 1894; another, in the brilliant series of letters, descriptive of the present condition of Quebec, written by him during the summer of 1894, while on a cycling tour in that Province. Mr. E. is known also as the author of a series of sketches of Can. public men written for the daily press, which have been frequently quoted from and referred to. Politically, he does not class himself with either party in Can. He is a journalist, and believes that the destiny of Can. is safe in the hands of Canadians, and they alone have the right to settle and shape it. He believes in democracy, but does not believe that all men are born equal, because they are not.

Their opportunities should be as equal as possible, but nature herself places her veto on equality of gifts, capacities and mental and moral values. He m. Miss L. O'Neil.—10 Victoria St., Toronto.

EWART, John Skirving, Q.C., is the s. of Thos. Ewart, barrister, Toronto, by his wife, Catherine Seaton Skirving, of Scot., and was b. in Toronto, Aug. 11, 1849. Ed. at U. C. Coll., he was called to the Ont. bar, 1871, and to the Man. bar, 1882. He was lecturer on real property, at Osgoode Hall, and an exam., 1876-81. He was the 1st Presdt. of the Osgoode Legal and Lit. Soc., Toronto, retaining office from 1876 to 1880. In 1884 he was created a Q. C., by the Marquis of Lansdowne, and in 1896 was elected a V.-P. of the Can. Bar Assn. Mr. E. is the author of Ewart's "Index to the Statutes," of which several editions have been printed; Ewart's "Manual of Costs" and, in conjunction with Chief Justice Taylor, of Man., of Taylor and Ewart's "Judicature Act" (1881). From 1883 to 1890, he ed. and published reports of cases before the Man. courts. He was brought into special prominence in connection with the litigation over the Man. sch. question, he having been retained to argue the case for the Catholic minority both at Ottawa and in London, and it has been said of him by one who knows, that the labour involved was with him one not merely of duty but of love. In addition to his regular professional work he warmly championed the cause of separate schs. with his pen in the reviews. In Jan., 1895, he published a work on the question, giving a history of the whole case up to that time. A Presb. in religion, he m. Sept., 1873, Jessie, dau. of Jas. Campbell, of Toronto.—Winnipeg, Man.

EWING, Samuel Hamilton, capitalist, was b. at Lisdillon House, Londonderry, Irel., May 10, 1834. Ed. there, he came to Can., 1845, and when old enough joined his father in the coffee and spice business, Montreal, the firm's name being S. Ewing & Son. Subsequently, on the retirement of his father, he was joined by his bro., A. S. Ewing, and the name of the firm altered to S. H. & A. S. Ewing. This firm still exists, although the senior partner has long since retired from active business. He has since devoted much of his attention to the numerous financial corporations and philanthropic institutions with which he is connected. Besides being an active mem. of the Bd. of Trade, he is on the directorate of the Montreal Cotton Co., the Dom. Cotton Mills, the Trent Valley Woollen Mills Co., the Can. Accident Co., the Montreal Gold and Silver Development Co., the Sun Life Assur. Co., and the Montreal Freehold Co. He is also Treas. of the Montreal Genl. Hospital, and, in 1895, was elected V.-P. of Molson's Bank. Politically, Mr. E. is a Con.; in religious belief, a Presb. He m. 1st., 1860, Miss Caroline Wilson Cheese, London, Eng. FABRE, Hon. Hector, Dom. public service, is the s. of the late E. R. Fabre, at one time Mayor of Montreal, by his wife, Luce Perreault, and was a bro. of the late Archbp. Fabre. B. in Montreal, Aug. 9, 1834, he was ed. at L'Assomption and St. Hyacinthe Colls., and at St. Sulpice Coll., Montreal, and studied law with his brother-in-law, the late Sir G. E. Cartier. Called to the bar, 1856, he subsequently gave himself to journalism, becoming ed. of L'Ordre (Montreal). He was afterwards (1863-6) ed. of Le Canadien (Quebec), and, in 1869, founded L'Evénement in that city. After being an unsuccessful candidate for the Ho. of Commons, 1873, he was called to the Senate by the Mackenzie admn., Feb. 5, 1875. Apptd. Resident Agent in Paris of the Govt. of Quebec, he became, 1882, likewise, Agent at Paris for the Dom. Govt., and thereupon resigned his seat in the Senate. Mr. F., since his stay in the French capital, has established a French-Can. newspaper there bearing the title, Paris-Canada. He has also founded La Soc Can. Française St. Jean Bap. de Paris. He was an hon. comnr. to the Col. and Indian Exhn., London, 1886, and, in the same year, was apptd. a C.M.G. by Her Majesty. He is also a Fellow of the Royal Soc. of Can. Among his published writings are "Esquisse Biographique sur Chev. de Lorimier" (1856), "Ecrivains Canadiens" (1865), "Confédération, Independence, Annextion" (1871), and "Chroniques" (1877). He m. FAIRBANKS, Miss Constance, is the eld. dau. of L. P. Fairbanks, by his wife, Ella de Wolfe, and was b. at Dartmouth, N.S., May 10, 1866. She is a granddau. of the late Hon. C. R. Fairbanks, Master of the Rolls and Judge of the Ct. of Vice-Admiralty, N.S., and comes from an ancestry as old as any in the country. Owing to delicate health she attended sch. irregularly until the age of 13, after which her education was completed at home. In 1887 she became secy. to C. F. Fraser, ed. of The Critic., and Supt. of the Sch. for the Blind, Halifax (q.v.). This position she filled acceptably for 3 yrs., during which period she contributed occasionally, both editorially and otherwise, to the columns of The Critic. When in May, 1890, Mr. F. required some one to take charge for a time, of the paper, he apptd. Miss F. asst. ed. As such she wrote the editorial articles, and fully sustained the high reputation of this well-known provincial journal abroad. In Apl., 1892, she retired from the position. Since then she has been a frequent contributor of poems and articles to The Week and other Can. periodicals, and in 1893, became assoc. ed. of the St. Johnsbury Caledonian. Miss F. was recently engaged in editing, in conjunction with H. Piers, the poems of the late Mrs. Wm. Lawson ("M. J. K. L."). This resulted in the production of a respectable volume of verse, aptly entitled "Frankincense and Myrrh," which met with a cordial reception from the friends of both the talented authoress and the editors. She will probably publish a small collection of her own poems in the near future. They are marked in general by strong feeling, a reflective mind and correct workmanship. —"The Grove," Dartmouth, N.S.

FAIRCHILD, George Moore, jr., a retired merchant, is of Scottish and Eng. extraction, and was b. in the city of Quebec, 1854. His parents having removed to N. Y. while he was yet a boy, his ed. was completed in the Univ. of N.Y. While engaged in commercial life his application and talents attracted the notice of local capitalists who placed him in the firm of Schoff, Fairchild & Co., to safeguard their interests. So successfully did he manage his share of the business, that at the early age of 36 he was enabled to retire with a handsome fortune. Since then he has lived in Quebec. During the most active period of his mercantile career, he found time, not only to cultivate a love of letters, but to contribute to the press. In addition to many articles upon passing events which have appeared from his pen in the Am. periodicals, he has published "Canadian Leaves" (1887); "Notes on Two Jesuit Manuscripts" (1887); "Oritani Souvenir" (1888); "A History of the Quebec Winter Carnival" (1894), and "Rod and Canoe; Rifle and Snow-shoe, in Quebec's Adirondacks" (1896). His library of Canadiana is probably one of the most complete in existence. Mr. F. was one of the founders of the Can. Club, N. Y., and its V.-P. for several yrs. He is an hon. mem. of several literary societies and organizations. He m. 1880, a granddau. of the late FAIRCLOUGH, George Herbert, organist and pianist, is the s. of Jas. Fairclough, of Hamilton, Ont., where he was b. Jan. 30, 1869. Ed. there at the Coll. Inst., and public schs., he afterwards studied for 2 yrs. at Toronto Univ., which he left to enter the Hoch Schule der Musik, at Berlin, Germany. At 13 he was organist of St. Mark's Ch., Hamilton, and at 16, organist of the Ch. of the Ascension, same city. While attending Toronto Univ., he was organist first of the Ch. of the Redeemer, and later, organist and choirmaster of All Saints' Ch. In 1890 he was offered and accepted the position of musical dir. of the Presb. Ladies' Coll., Ont., as well as organist and choirmaster of Zion Presb. Ch., Brantford. During his course at Berlin he studied pianoforte with Prof. von Petersen (pupil of Hans von Bulow and Franz Liszt); theory and composition with Profs. Reinhold, Succo, and Woldemar Bargiel, and studied the organ privately with Prof. C. E. Clemens, organist of the Eng. Ch., Berlin, and, occasionally, took the service at this ch. Mr. F., in 1894, published two songs in Berlin: "With all My Heart," and "To Possess Thee," which were popular. He also gave organ recitals in the Eng. Ch.—228 Market St., Hamilton, Ont.

FAIRCLOUGH, Henry Rushton, educationist, is the s. of Jas. Fairclough, of Hamilton, Ont., who belongs to an old Lancashire family, by his wife, Elizabeth Ewing, Liverpool. B. in the Co. Simcoe, Ont., July 15, 1862, he was ed. at the Coll. Inst., Hamilton, at Toronto Univ. (B.A., 1883; M.A., 1885) and at Johns Hopkins Univ., Baltimore, where he won a fellowship in Greek and took the degree of Ph.D. After graduation he was Fellow in Classics in Univ. Coll., Toronto, 1883-85, and was Asst. Master in Brockville High Sch., 1884-6. He was apptd. Lecturer in Greek in Univ. Coll., 1887, and while occupying this position was given 6 months' leave of absence to enable him to assist in the establishment of Whetham Coll., Vancouver. He was apptd. to his present position, Prof. of Greek in the Leland Stanford Junior Univ., Cal., 1893. Prof. F. is the author of "The Attitude of Greek Tragedians towards Nature" (Johns Hopkins Univ. dissertation), and has contributed to the proceedings of the Can. Inst., and of the Am. Philol. Assn., of both of which bodies he is a mem. He m. 1888, Frederica, young. dau. of J. A. Allen, of Alwington, Kingston, Ont., by his wife Charlotte, only dau. of the 4th Baron de Longueuil. FALCONBRIDGE, Hon. William Glenholme, judge and jurist, is the s. of the late John Kennedy Falconbridge, J.P., a native of the North of Irel., who came to Can., 1837, by his wife, Sarah Fralick, of Drummonville, Ont. B. at Drummondville, May 12, 1846, he received his preliminary training at the Barrie Grammar Sch. and at the Model Grammar Sch. for U. C., and matriculated with a general proficiency scholarship in the Univ. of Toronto, 1862. His course at the Univ. was one of rather unusual distinction, inasmuch as there was hardly any dept. in the curriculum in which he did not at some period obtain first-class honours. After winning coll. prizes and Univ. scholarships in each year, he graduated B.A., 1866, with the gold medal for Mod. Languages, and proceeded to the M.A. degree, 1871. On leaving the Univ. he filled for a year the chair of Mod. Languages in Yarmouth Semy., N.S., and returned to Toronto on being apptd. lecturer in Ital. and Spanish in Univ. Coll., which position he occupied for one year. In 1868 he commenced the study of law, and was called to the bar, 1871. During the whole of his career at the bar Mr. F. was a mem. of one of the largest and most eminent legal firms in Can.—that originally known under the name of Harrison, Osler & Moss—and the experience gained by him therein was of so wide a character as to add greatly to his natural qualifications for a seat on the bench. An exam. in the Univ. of Toronto for several yrs., Mr. F. became Regr. of the Univ., 1872. He resigned the office, 1881, and was immediately elected a Senator. He was re-elected a Senator, heading the poll, 1886, and was again elected, 1895. He resigned from the Bd., June, 1896, because he would not countenance the action of the Senate in conferring an hon. degree on Prof. Goldwin Smith. Mr. F. was elected a bencher of the Law Soc., 1885, and was, in the same year, created a Q. C. by the Marquis of Lansdowne. Apptd. a Judge of the Queen's Bh. div. of the Supreme Ct. of Judicature of Ont., Nov. 21, 1887, he was named a Comnr. for the revision of the Ont. Statutes, 1896. FANNIN, John, naturalist, was b. of Irish parentage, at Kemptville, Ont., July 27, 1839, and ed. there. As a naturalist he has had many opportunities of gaining knowledge. In 1862, he walked across the plains from Fort Garry to B C., crossing the Rocky Mts., via the Yellow Head Pass, and since his arrival in B. C. he has on several occasions undertaken exploring expeditions for the Govt. to outlying sections of the Province. He is the author of "A Check List of B. C. Birds," and was one of the contributors to "Big Game of North America," and to Montague Chamberlain's work on "Canadian Birds." Mr. F. was apptd. Curator of the Provl. Museum, B.C., 1886. He is also Curator and Librarian to the Nat. His. Soc. of B. C., and a mem. of the Ornithologists' Union of N. Y.—Victoria, B.C.

FARMER, Jones Hughes, educationist, is the s. of the late Thos. Farmer, an Englishman, who emigrated to Perth, Ont., 1845, by his wife, Mary Jones, of Welsh descent. B. at Perth, 1858, he was ed. at the public and high schs. there, and at Toronto Univ. (B.A. and gold med. in Classics, 1878). He taught as classical master in London Coll. Inst., 1879-81, and in Woodstock Coll., 1881-88, and was principal of the latter institution, 1888-89. After spending 2 yrs. in study at Louisville, Ky., under John A. Broadus, and in travel in Europe, he returned to Can. and was apptd. Prof. of New Testament and Patristic Greek in McMaster Univ., Toronto, a position he still fills. He has been at various times a mem. of the Senate of the McMaster Univ., and is now vice-chairman of the Bapt. Foreign Miss. Bd. of Ont. and Quebec. His literary work has been confined to occasional articles, chiefly along educational and religious lines, written for the Ed. Journal, McMaster Monthly and other magazines. Politically, he is somewhat radical. He favours everything making for real brotherhood and true freedom; and believes in free trade and direct taxation—with strong leanings to single tax. Nationally, he will support and uphold whatever binds Anglo-Saxondom together, as a mighty means for blessing the whole race. Prof. F. m. FARR, Charles Cobbold, merchant and pioneer, is the s. of the late Rev. John Lee Farr (Ch. of Eng.), by his wife, Emily Caroline Cobbold. B. at Frostenden, Suffolk, Eng., May 29, 1851, he was ed. at Haileybury Coll., and came to Can., 1871. After an adventurous life in the Muskoka and lumber regions he drifted to Temiscamingue, where at first he was employed on the boundary survey. Later, he entered the service of the H. B. Co., and for 9 yrs. had charge of their post on the Kippewa. While in that position he commenced the study of Indian languages and customs, as the result of which he has written and published many entertaining stories and papers in relation thereto. Subsequently, he was agent for the co. at Fort Temiscamingue for 6 yrs., contemporaneously with the initiative movement of French-Can. colonization. During this time he conceived the plan of establishing a larger colony of settlers on the Ont. side of the lake, and became an active advocate of the construction of the Nipissing and James Bay Ry. After leaving the H. B. Co.'s employ, he gave much of his time to colonization, and was authorized by the Ont. Govt. to prepare a pamphlet descriptive of the territory; he likewise secured the survey and opening up of townships, and founded the town of Haileybury. He wrote frequently for the newspaper press, and in this and other ways aroused the attention of the outside world to the vast fields for agricultural and industrial development lying in the far North of Ont., the result being that there is now a population of over 2,000 in the parishes surrounding Haileybury. With all this work, Mr. F. has not entirely neglected the claims of science and literature, as he hopes to be able to prove before long. He is a mem. of the Ch. of Eng., and m. FARRER, Edward, journalist, was b. near Castlebar, Mayo, Irel., 1850, and received his ed. at Stoneyhurst, Eng., and at the Jesuit Coll., Rome. Originally intended for the priesthood, he abandoned that calling in favour of that of journalism. Coming to Can., 1870, he was apptd. to the ed. staff of the Daily Telegraph, Toronto, with which he remained until the establishment of the Mail, by the Con. party, 1872, when he joined that paper in a similar capacity. Later, in 1874, he accepted a position from the Mackenzie Govt., as Immigration Agt. in Irel., but returning to Am. some time after, became foreign ed. of the N. Y. World. From 1882 till late in 1884, he was ed. in chief of the Mail. He then went to Winnipeg where he successfully conducted the Times and the Sun, and on leaving that city was presented with an address from the citizens, accompanied by a purse of $500. It was while he was last employed on the Mail, that that paper entered on "a crusade against Jesuitism, Cath. domination, the Federal ministry and the influence of the hierarchy in Quebec, so skilfully conceived, so vigorously conducted, and so craftily fed, that in the course of 4 or 5 weeks the whole Province of Ont. was worked into fervid excitement." (Vide Mont. Gazette.) He was subsequently on the staff of the Toronto Globe, but retired from active journalism in Can. July, 1892, maintaining his conviction "that political union with the U. S. is the manifest destiny of Can." Later, Mr. F. lived at Washington, and in Apl., 1896, appeared before a sub-comte. of the U. S. Ho. of Representatives and gave, what purported to be, the views of the Lib. party, on the question of reciprocity.—Toronto, Ont.

FENETY, George Edward, journalist, was b. at Halifax, N.S., 1812, and commenced his newspaper career in the office of the Nova Scotian newspaper, 1829, then owned and conducted by Hon. Joseph Howe. In 1835 he went to N. Y., and, subsequently, became asso. ed. and later, prop. of the Planters' Advocate, published at Donaldsville, on the Mississippi. The climate proving unfavourable to him, he sold out, and went to St. John, N.B., where, in 1839, he founded the Commercial News, the first tri-weekly and penny paper started in the Maritime Provinces. This journal he conducted up to 1863, when he was apptd. Queen's Printer for N. B., an office he continued to fill up to its abolition by Mr. Blair, July, 1895. Mr. F. is the author of "The Lady and the Dressmaker; or, a Peep at Fashionable Folly" (1842); of "Political Notes and Observations" (1867); "An Address on Civic Matters" (1886); "Imperial Federation" (to which he was opposed, 1888), and of "Random Recollections of the Hon. Joseph Howe," the latter recently published. His "Political Notes," brought down to 1860, have appeared in the newspaper press. FIELD, Cornelius James, M.E., belongs to an old New Eng. family. He is the s. of C. R. Field, formerly of Montreal, by his wife Sarah E., dau. of the late Jas. Henry, of the same city. B. in Chicago, Ill., 1862, he came to Montreal, 1876, where he entered mercantile life, and m. 1888, Miss Agnes M. Craven. Applying himself to a course of engineering, he graduated as a mech. engr. at the Stevens Inst. of Tech., Hoboken, N.Y., 1886, and at once went into active practice in N. Y. city. He was Chief Engr. of the Edison United Mfg. Co., 1887-89; Genl. Mangr. and Chief Engr. of the Edison Ill. Co., 1889-90, and Presdt. and Chief Engr. of the Field Eng. Co., 1890-95. At the same time he gave his professional services to various Street Ry. Cos., and designed and built some of the most extensive engineering works in that line in the U. S. He is now Consulting and Constructing Engr. for Electric Ry. Central Stations. A mem. of the Am. Soc. Mech. Eng., of the Am. Inst. of Elec. Eng., of the Am. Soc. of Naval Eng., of the

Soc. of Naval Architects and Marine Eng., and of the Am. St. Ry. Assn., he has written a number of papers for the information of those bodies, some of which have been printed for standard reference. Mr. F. is also known in the yachting world. Politically, he is a Republican.—Havemeyer Building, New York.

FIELDING, Hon. William Stevens, statesman, is of Eng. descent, and was b. in Halifax, N.S., Nov. 24, 1848. Ed. there, he left sch. at 16 yrs. of age to enter the business office of the Morning Chronicle, which some three months before had been converted from a tri-weekly to a daily paper. Those were stirring times in N. S., and Joseph Howe, William Annand and many other distinguished Nova Scotians were contributors to the editorial pages of the Chronicle. The young employee was not slow in catching the spirit of the times and in plunging into the work of the paper. Newspaper staffs were not so large then as they have since become, nor were depts. so specified, and Mr. F. was soon immersed in newspaper work of almost every description. Within less than 3 yrs. from his entry into the business office, and while he was still in his teens, his first editorial was written. That was during the heat of the Confederation movement, and Mr. F.'s sympathies were strong with the Anti-confederation party, led by Hon. Joseph Howe. Gradually the young hand developed into the experienced ed. The most varied tasks fell to his lot; frequently in one day he would cover the local work, do the work of the shipping dept., act as proof-reader, and, these duties discharged, proceed to write the day's editorials. Thoroughness marked his work in everything, and no small amount of the extensive and minute knowledge of the political conditions of the Province, which has been such a source of strength to him as Premier, was gained in his newspaper work. For 20 yrs. he remained on the Chronicle, and for 14 yrs. he was the N. S. correspondent of the Toronto Globe. At the Provl. g. e. 1882, he stood for Halifax Co., and was elected. On the resignation of the Holmes-Thompson Govt., July, 1882, a convention of the Lib. party tendered him the positions of Premier and Provl. Secy. and Treasurer, but these honours were declined. Thus early had his ability as a debater, his mental clearness and his energy carried him to the front. Shortly afterwards he entered the Admn. of Mr. Pipes. In May, 1884, he resigned his seat therein, owing largely to his inability to attend to both editorial and departmental duties. Two months later Mr. Pipes himself retired, and Mr. F. was requested by the Lieut.-Gov. to form a new cabinet. He complied, and formed the Admn. which remained in office for so long a time; he himself assumed the Provl. Secretaryship, which carried with it the duties of the financial admn. of the Province. On the formation of the new Lib. Admn. at Ottawa, July, 1896, Mr. F. was apptd. to the office of Mr. of Finance therein, and was elected to the Ho. of Commons for Shelburne and Queen's. During the session of 1897, he introduced a new tariff policy for the Dom., the most striking feature in which was the granting of preferential trade arrangements to Gt. Brit. He was one of the vice-chairmen of the Ottawa Reform Convention, June, 1893, and was elected a V.-P. of the Maritime Provinces Lib. Assn., Nov., 1895. He has been Presdt. of the St. George's Soc. of Halifax for some yrs. Mr. F. is a mem. of the Ch. of Eng., and m. Sept., 1876, Hester, dau. of Thos. A. Rankine, of St. John, N.B.—Metcalfe St., Ottawa; Halifax, N.S.; Halifax Club; City Club; Rideau Club.

"Mr. F.'s success as a politician may be attributed in large measure to his unbending integrity; not a single charge can be brought against him that would in any way reflect on his private or public character, or on his management of Provincial affairs.' —Globe.

"How has he achieved his singular success? By the possession of personal characteristics which almost inevitably ensure success. Emerson says that the world belongs to the energetic, and the career of the present Min. of Finance is a striking instance of what can be accomplished by an energetic man with a resolute determination to do all his work thoroughly."—Our Monthly.

"An able man, an efficient administrator and a capital platform speaker, Mr. Fielding is never known to resort to the arts of the demagogue or the small tricks of the ward politician. He despises such methods, and acts upon the principle that if a policy or any course of action is worth adopting, it must be done fairly, openly and above board."—Herald.

FIELDS, John Charles, educationist, is of Scotch-Irish origin, and was b. in Hamilton, Ont., May 14, 1863. Ed. at the Hamilton High Sch. and at Toronto Univ. (B.A., and gold medal. in Math., 1884), he continued his studies at Johns Hopkins Univ., Baltimore, where he gained a fellowship and took the degree of Ph.D., 1887. Two yrs. afterwards, he became Prof. of Math. in Allegheny Coll., Meadville, Pa. In 1896 he was engaged in travel, and in Math. studies in Europe. Prof. F. has published Math. works in the U. S. and in Germany. He is a mem. of the Am. Math. Soc., and of the Soc. Math. de France. Unm.—Meadville, Pa.

FILIATREAULT, Aristide, journalist, was b. at Ste. Thérèse de Blainville, P.Q., 1851. Ed. at the Coll. there, he learned the trade of a printer in the office of Le Pays, Montreal. From 1870 to 1875 he travelled extensively in the neighbouring provinces and the U. S., and on his return to Montreal edited Le Canada, and founded the Album Musical. Subsequently, in 1889, he founded the Canada Revue. In this paper appeared a series of articles commenting liberally upon the immoralities of one Father Guyhot, a priest in Montreal, in consequence of which the late Archbp. Fabre, after first admonishing the publishers, issued a mandement, Nov., 1892, prohibiting all the faithful, under pain of refusal of the sacraments, to read "that dangerous and unhealthy sheet." The result of this order was to destroy the circulation of the Revue, and to ruin it as a business enterprise. An action was brought against the Archbp., with damages laid at a large amount, to test the powers of the episcopacy in relation to the press, and, in Oct., 1894, judgment was rendered by Mr. Justice Doherty of the Superior Ct., P. Q. (q.v.), in favour of Archbp. Fabre. The Revue subsequently suspended publication, and has not since been issued. Mr. F. was also the publisher of a brochure, "Les Ruines Cléricales" (Mont., 1893), which was declared heretical from the pulpits of the R. C. Ch. in Montreal. He is now (1897) ed. of the Reveil. Politically, he is an advanced Lib. He was a mem. of the Chenier Monument Comte., 1895.—157 Sanguinet St., Montreal.

FILIATREAULT, Rev. Telesphore (R. C.), was b. at Iberville, P.Q., Nov. 9, 1852. Ed. at the Montreal Coll., he became, on the completion of his studies, a prof. in that institution. He was ordained Apl. 26, 1886. Joining the Order of Jesuits, Feb. 13, 1875, he studied Classics and Phil. in France, and Theol. in the Coll. of the Immaculate Conception, Montreal, of which institution he was afterwards rector. He was apptd. Superior-Genl. of the Jesuit Mission in Can., succeeding the Rev. F. X. Renaud in that office, Jan. 3, 1896.—St. Mary's College, Montreal.

FILLITER, Capt. Clavell Freeland, late H. M.'s Bedfordshire Regt., is the s. of the late Geo. Filliter, formerly of Dorsetshire, Eng., by his wife, Mary Anna Sisson. B. in Thurlow, near Belleville, Ont., Jan. 19, 1847, he was ed. at the Belleville Grammar Sch., at U. C. Coll., and at Bishop's Coll., Lennoxville. After having served with the V. M. during the Fenian troubles, he was gazetted ensign, 2nd W. I. Regt., Oct. 28, 1871, and served with it in Demerara, Brit. Guiana, Africa, and the W. I. He was promoted capt., Sept., 1877, and Feb., 1879, exchanged into the Royal Inniskilling

Fusiliers, and, later, into the Bedfordshire regt. He was for a time Adjt. of the Rangoon Volunteers. Capt. F., previous to his retirement from the army, Dec., 1887, had seen much active service and had filled many important posts. He was apptd. special comnr. for raising native levies for the Ashanti expedition, Oct., 1873; asst. cantonment magte., Rangoon, Sept. 1885; and a 1st-class magte., with summary powers, Oct., 1886. His war services include the Ashanti war, 1873-74, during which he was present at the engagements at Escabio (wounded), Assanchi, Amoaful, and Becquah, (medal with clasp). He served also with the Burmah expeditionary force, 1885 (medal with clasp and thanked in general orders). Con. in politics; in religion, he is a mem. of the Ch. of Eng. FITZPATRICK, Hon. Charles, Q.C., statesman, is the 3rd s. of the late John Fitzpatrick, of Quebec, lumber merchant, by his wife, — Connolly. B. in Quebec, Dec. 19, 1853, he was ed. at St. Anne's Coll., at the Quebec Semy., and at Laval Univ. (B.A., 1873). He likewise followed the law course at the last-named institution (B.C.L., and Gov.-Genl. med., 1876), and was called to the bar the same year. Practising his profession in his native city, he was apptd. Crown Prosecutor for the Dist., 1879, and again, 1887. He became one of the leaders of the Quebec bar, and was employed as counsel for the U. S. Govt. in the Eno Extradition case, and for the Belgian Govt., in the Canon Bernard case. He also defended Madame Boutel, in the Murray Bay poisoning case. In 1885, he was chief counsel for Louis Riel, tried for high treason and executed at Regina. In Oct., 1892, he defended the late Hon. H. Mercier and Ernest Pacaud in the prosecutions following the fall of the Mercier Admn., and, later, he defended the late Hon. Thos. McGreevy, M.P., and the Connolly's before the Privileges and Election Comte., at Ottawa. He was created a Q. C. 1893, and was called to the Ont. bar, 1896. In 1897 he represented the Dom. Govt. before the Privy Council, Eng., in the Fisheries' case. An Irish Cath., he was for some yrs. Presdt. of the Quebec branch of the Irish National League, and while holding that office, presided at the meeting held by Wm. O'Brien, M.P., at Quebec, 1887, at which Lord Lansdowne was denounced as an Irish landlord. A Lib. in politics, Mr. F. sat for Quebec Co., in the Quebec Assembly, in that interest, from the g. e. 1890 to the Dom. g. e. 1896, when he resigned and was returned for the same constituency to the Ho. of Commons. On the formation of Sir W. Laurier's Admn., July, 1896, he was apptd. Sol.-Gen. therein. FLANNERY, Rev. William (R. C.), was b. at Nenagh, Co. Tipperary, Irel., Jan. 9, 1830, and received his ed. at the Coll. of Annonay, France. In Sept., 1852, he accompanied the Rev. Fathers Soulerin and Vincent to Toronto, and was ordained to the priesthood by the late Bp. de Charbonnell, of Toronto, in May of the following year. He became one of the founders of St. Michael's Coll., and of St. Basil's Ch., Toronto. After 7 years' occupation of the chair of Rhetoric in the Coll., he went to his native country for recuperation of health, and on his return took charge of Streetsville parish, in Toronto diocese. In 1867, after the consecration of Bp. Walsh, he accompanied that prelate to his new see, London, Ont., and afterwards became parish priest of Amherstburgh and St. Thomas successively. In the latter parish he celebrated two silver jubilees, one on the 22 May, 1878, the 25th anniversary of his ordination, at which Bp. Walsh, of London, and Bp. Crinnon, of Hamilton, with 25 priests were present; the other in 1895, when he was honoured with addresses and presentations from Catholics and Protestants in recognition of 25 years' hard work and service in that parish, where he built 5 schs., a convent and a beautiful ch., and left all, with other improvements, free of debt. In June, 1892, he received the degree of D.D. from the faculty of Georgetown Univ., Washington, D.C. Dr. F. has been for a long time connected editorially with the Catholic Record, of London and the Catholic Register, of Toronto, which latter journal he helped very materially to build up and establish. His literary productions in prose and poetry would form a very handsome and interesting volume, were he ambitious enough to covet the honours of authorship. The controversial engagements in which he did active service to his Ch. on Papal supremacy, Defence of the Jesuits, Ch. Tolerance and other absorbing topics, would prove a work of much interest and instruction to the general reader, as well as to all mems. of his own denomination.—R. C. Presbytery, St. Thomas, Ont.

FLECK, Rev. James (Presb.), comes from old Covenanter stock, being the s. of Jas. Fleck, merchant, of Co. Antrim, Irel., by his wife A. J. McCullough. He was b. at the foot of Slemish, where St. Patrick kept his sheep, Feb. 14, 1844, and received his ed. at Ballymena, at the Royal Acad. Inst., Belfast, at Queen's Coll., and at the Genl. Assembly's Coll., Belfast (B.A., 1866.) Mr. F. was ordained minister of the 2nd Armagh Presb. Ch., Mch. 31, 1869. He was the last minister to be ordained before Mr. Gladstone's disendowment bill took effect, and, consequently, he was the last clergyman to receive the Royal bounty in Irel. He ministered for 5 yrs. in Irel., when he was sent to Am. on a collecting tour. Although invited to preach on trial in several places, he steadily refused, but his visit was not without its effect, and two yrs. afterwards (1876) he accepted a call to Knox Ch., Montreal, and was inducted in June of that year. During his pastorate there the ch. has increased its usefulness in Christian work to a remarkable extent, has trebled its membership and there has been erected a handsome and commodious new ch., with 1,200 sittings, and sch. and class rooms for 1000 scholars. In 1896 he was elected Moderator of the Presb. Synod of Montreal and Ottawa. Mr. F. is the author of occasional contributions to the religious press. He m. June, 1884, K. A., dau. of W. D. FLEMING, Robert John, Assessment Comnr., was b. in Toronto, Nov. 23, 1854, and is the s. of the late Wm. Fleming, of that city, by his wife, Jane Cauldwell. Receiving a business education, he entered into partnership with T. W. Elliott as a coal and wood merchant, but is now and has been for yrs. past, a real estate broker. Commencing Jan., 1886, he served 4 yrs. as an ald. in Toronto. He was first elected Mayor of that city, Jan., 1892, defeating E. B. Osler, now M.P., by 361 votes. The following year he was re-elected by a majority of 3200 votes over E. E. Sheppard, the opposition candidate. An unsuccessful candidate for the same office in 1894 and 1895, being defeated on one of these occasions by only 48 votes, he was again returned in 1896, by a majority of 1800 votes, over Ald. John Shaw, believed to be the strongest man in the city council. Mr. F. has throughout taken an active part in favour of temp., and has been officially connected with its various organizations. In 1887 he reduced the number of hotel licenses in Toronto from 293 to 200. He has carried on for yrs. the largest temp. meetings held in the Dom., these being conducted by him every Sunday afternoon in the Horticultural Pavilion. As Mayor, he had the law changed so that police officers could dismiss for first and second offences men arrested for drunkenness. He presided over the National Prohibition Convention held in Montreal, 1894, and was elected Presdt. of the Dom. Prohibitory Alliance, 1895. He is now Treas. of the Ont. Prohibitory Alliance and V.-P. of the Dom. Alliance. Being the son of poor parents, and having worked his own way up the ladder of life, he has naturally sympathized with the working classes. In consonance with this feeling he had a law passed guaranteeing to all labourers employed upon municipal works 15 cents an hour, and providing also that mechanics be paid union rates of wages. Summing up the results of his administration during his first term of office, the Toronto Telegram declared that Mayor F. "was able to accomplish more for civic reform with bad councils than all his predecessors were able to achieve in 10 yrs., with better councils." FLEMING, Sir Sandford (C.E.), is the s. of the late Andrew Greig Fleming, by his wife, Elizabeth Arnot. B. at Kirkcaldy, Fifeshire, Scot., Jan. 7, 1827, he was ed. there, and studied surveying and engineering at the same place. Coming to Can., 1845, he joined the engineering staff of the Northern Ry., and in 1857, was apptd. Chief Engr. of that road. Subsequently, he was in partnership with Messrs. Ridout & Schreiber. In 1863, he was chosen by the people of the Red River settlement (now included in the Province of Man.) to proceed to Eng. for the purpose of urging the Imp. authorities to open ry. communication between Red River and Eastern Can. On his return from this mission, he was apptd. by the govts. of Can., N. S. and N. B., in conjunction with H. M.'s Govt., to conduct a survey for the first link in a ry. which would extend from the Atlantic to the Pacific within Brit. territory. Of this road—the Intercolonial—he was Chief Engr. during its construction. Meanwhile he had been apptd., in 1871, eng.-in-chief to carry on the Pac. Ry. surveys. In 1872, he headed an expedition, whose results are embodied in Principal Grant's book, "Ocean to Ocean," which proceeded for the most part along the general route of the projected ry. While engaged on the Intercolonial, and in the exploring operations between Ottawa and B. C. for the Pacific Ry., Mr. F. carried on, at his own expense, an examination of Newfoundland, to ascertain the possibility of establishing a ry. service across that island. After the engr. employed by him had reported satisfactorily, Mr. F. was charged by the local govt. to conduct a ry. survey from St. John's to St. George's Bay. The outcome is the road now being completed by the Messrs. Reid. In 1880, owing to political exigencies, he retired from the service of the Dom. Govt. At that date the transcontinental surveys had established the practicability of the Pacific Ry., and the means of overcoming the formidable barriers imposed by nature had been determined. Construction of the work was being proceeded with at both ends and between Lake Superior and the heart of Manitoba, in all ranging over some 2000 miles, 600 miles were nearly completed. Since then he has devoted himself to special branches of science and literature. In 1880, he was elected for a term of 3 yrs. Chancellor of Queen's Univ. At the end of each successive term he was re-elected, and he still occupies the chancellor's chair. Among the subjects which have specially engaged his study and attention is that of universal or Cosmic time. The first steps in this regard were taken by him, 1878-79, in communicating to the Can. Inst., Toronto (of which body he was one of the founders), two papers, one on "Time Reckoning," and the other on the "Selection of a Prime Meridian to be Common to all Nations, in Connection with Time Reckoning." The great object was stated to be to make Greenwich the standard for the whole world. The Council of the Can. Inst., in publishing a fasciculus on the subject in 1885, made honourable mention of Mr. F., concluding in these words: "His efforts have contributed in no small degree to the adoption of an initial meridian common to all nations, and that he has unquestionably been the initiator and principal agent in the movement for reform in time-reckoning and in the establishment of the universal day. The Inst. cannot, perhaps, better express the debt of gratitude which the civilized world owes to Mr. S. F. in this connection than by quoting from the accompanying paper from the pen of the distinguished Astronomer Royal of Russia, M. Otto Struve: 'It is,' he writes, 'through Mr. Fleming's indefatigable personal labours and writings that influential individuals and scientific societies and institutes in Am. and Europe have been won over to the cause." In 1879, Mr. F. submitted to the Can. Govt. a scheme for spanning the Pacific Ocean by electric cable, which in connection with the overland telegraph would complete the electric girdle of the globe, and bring Gt. Brit., Can., Australia, New Zealand, India and South Africa into unbroken telegraph touch of each other without passing over foreign soil. Since that date he has continually advocated the establishment of the work, and has written much on the subject. The proceedings of the Colonial Confs., of 1887 and 1894, give his views and arguments at length, and show how much the discussion hinged upon them. This important national work is seemingly in a fair way of becoming an accomplished fact, and if ever its history be written, Mr. F.'s name must take a prominent place. He is the author of a large number of reports and papers on purely professional subjects. He has also written and published: "The Intercolonial; a Historical Sketch" (1876); "Short Sunday Service for Travellers," a compilation (1877); "Daily Prayers for Busy Households" (1879); "Uniform Standard Time" (1881); "A Cable Across the Pacific" (1882); "The Prime Meridian Question" (1884); "England and Canada; Old to New Westminster" (1884); "Expeditions to the Pacific" (1889); "Parliamentary vs. Party Government" (1891); "An Appeal to the Canadian Institute on the Rectification of Parliament" (1892). In recognition of his public services, he was created a Companion of the order of St. Michael and St. George, 1877, and was promoted to be a Knight Commander of the same order, on the completion of the 60th year of Her Majesty's reign, 1897. In 1881, he represented the Can. Inst. and the Am. Meteorol. Soc. at the Intern. Geog. Congress held at Venice. In 1882, he was presented with the freedom of the Kircaldy burghs; in 1884, he represented the Dom. at the Intern. Prime Meridian Conf. at Washington. For his services on this occasion an expression of the high appreciation of Her Majesty's govt. was communicated to him through the then cabinet ministers. In the same year he received the hon. degree of LL.D. from St. Andrew's Univ., and in 1887, he received the same degree from Columbia Coll., N.Y.; in 1886, he was awarded the confederation medal by the Gov.-Genl. in Council, as an acknowledgment of his eminent services as an engr.; in 1887, he represented Can. (jointly with the late Sir Alex. Campbell) at the Colonial Conf. in London; in 1888, he was elected Presdt. of the Royal Soc. of Can. (of which body he was chosen a Fellow by the Marquis of Lorne on its first organization); in 1893, he proceeded on a special mission to Australia and Eng. in reference to the Pacific cable; in 1894, he was one of the representatives of Can. at the Colonial Conf. at Ottawa (a gathering first suggested by him); in the same year he was sent by the Can. Govt. as a special comnr. to Hawaii; and in 1896, he attended on behalf of the Dom. the Imp. Pacific Cable Conf. held in London. Sir Sandford F. was elected a mem. of the Inst. of C. E., London, also a mem. of the Am. Soc. of C. E., 1872, He is also a Fellow of the Geol. Soc., of the Victoria Inst., the Royal Historical Soc., and of the Royal Geog. Soc., an hon. mem. of the Can. Inst., of the Geog. Soc., Quebec, of the Hamilton Assn., of St. Andrew's Soc., Toronto, of the Royal Geog. Soc. of Australia, and of the Imp. Geog. Soc. of Vienna. He was for some yrs. A journalist by prof., he established the Island Argus, Nov., 1869, which he owned and edited for 11 yrs. During this time, he gained celebrity as a lecturer on social, moral and literary subjects, "Six Weeks on Wheels," "Random Slings at Giant Wrongs," "Uncrowned Heroism," "Life Among the Hills," being among the titles of his lectures. Apptd. to the magistracy, 1878, he was twice elected Ald. of Charlottetown, and in 1879-80 held the office of Queen's Printer. Removing to South Dakota, 1883, he was elected to the Territorial Legislature for the 13th Dist., 1887, by a majority of 2600, and re-elected, 1889, by a majority almost as large. On the admission of the Territory into the Union of States, 1890, he was elected Lt.-Gov. and first Presdt. of the Senate, by a majority of nearly 32,000. In Nov., 1893, he removed to Salem, Oregon, where he assumed the editorship of the Daily Independent. In Feb., 1894, he purchased the plant of the Oregon Independent, and is now ed. and proprietor of both papers, taking an ind. position in politics. He has just completed a series of articles showing Lord Bacon to be the author of Shakespeare's plays, and an essay pleading for the red man, the latter of which is to be republished by the Dept. of Indian Affairs at Washington. Early in life Mr. F. was a Lib. in politics, but in 1870, he became an advocate of Confederation and joined the Lib.-Con. party. While in Can. he advocated the abolition of imprisonment for debt, the building of the Island Ry., and the construction of the Can. Pac. Ry. In the U. S., he has always been a Republican, but does not believe in a high protective tariff, and favours free coinage of silver, a larger issue of legal tender money, the abolition of the Senate, and Govt. control of rys., telegraphs and telephones. FLETCHER, Lt.-Col. John, late Can. mil. service, is the s. of the late Archd. Fletcher, of Glenorchy, Argyleshire, Scot., who came to Can. 1823. B. in Greenock, Scot., May 23, 1815, he was ed. under the late John Bruce, Montreal, and entered mercantile life. As a young man he rendered conspicuous service to Montreal, by organizing a hook and ladder co., before a fire dept. was instituted. He afterwards joined the regular fire brigade, and was apptd. capt. therein, 1845. Col. F.'s mil. service dates from 1837-38, and he is now probably the senior officer on the list of those who have at any time served in the active mil. force in Can. He was apptd. lieut. and adjt. 1847; and capt., 1850. In 1855, under the new militia bill, he raised one of the two rifle cos. allotted to Montreal and was made capt. In the following year he became instructor of musketry and drill for L. C., and was promoted maj. He joined H. M.'s 100th Regt. on its formation, 1858, as a lieut., and remained 4 yrs. with that corps. Returning to Can., he joined the 5th Batt., being gazetted major. In Nov., the same year, he was apptd. FORTIN, Thomas, advocate and legislator, is a native of St. François, Beauce, P.Q., where his family has long been settled. Ed. at the local schs., and afterwards by private tuition in Quebec and Montreal, he graduated LL.L., avec grand distinction at Laval Univ., and was called to the bar, 1882. Subsequently, he graduated B.C.L., at McGill Univ., and, in 1889, was apptd. to the chair of Civil and Municipal Law in that institution. As a Lib., he unsuccessfully contested Laval for the Legislature, g. e. 1890. He was returned to the Ho. of Commons for the same constituency at the g. e. 1896, and sits as a supporter of Sir W. Laurier. Mr. F. is a mem. of the R. C. Ch. He practises his profession in Montreal in partnership with Mr. Laurendeau.—91 St. James' St., Montreal; Ste. Rose, P.Q.

FOSTER, Hon. George Eulas, statesman, is the s. of the late John Foster, of Apohaqui, N.B. (U.E.L. descent). B. in Co. Carleton, N.B., Sept. 3, 1847, he was ed. in the common and superior schs. of Kings Co. (whither his parents had removed in his infancy). As a boy, he served in a country store, and at 18 entered the Univ. of N.B., matriculating at the head of his class and winning the King's Co. scholarship. During his first year he won the Douglas gold medal for an Eng. essay and likewise a prize in Nat. Science. In 1868 he took his degree of B.A., thereafter devoting himself to the work of teaching—first in the Grand Falls Gram. Sch. He subsequently held the following positions: Principal of the Sch., Fredericton Junction; Principal of the Baptist Semy., Fredericton; Principal of the Ladies' High Sch., Fredericton; and in 1871 he was apptd. Prof. of Classics and History in his Alma Mater. He gave up his professorship temporarily, and spent some time in Edinburgh and Heidelberg further prosecuting his studies. In 1873 he returned to N. B., and resumed his duties in the Univ. He resigned 1879, and entered upon an extensive lecturing tour in the U. S. and Can., during which he spoke chiefly on the subject of Temp. and Prohibition. In 1885 he received from Acadia Coll. the hon. degree of D.C.L., and in 1894 the degree of LL.D., from the Univ. of N. B. Turning his attention to politics, he successfully contested King's Co. for the Ho. of Commons, in the Lib.-Con. interest, at the g. e. 1882, defeating Lt.-Col. Domville, the former mem., by a majority of 71. His first speech in Parlt. added greatly to his reputation as a public speaker, and presaged his early promotion to the cabinet. As Mr. of Marine and Fisheries in Sir John Macdonald's Govt. (to which office he was apptd. Dec. 10, 1885), he had to prepare the Can. side of the case in regard to the Deep Sea Fisheries for the joint comn. that sat at Washington in 1888, resulting in the Chamberlain-Bayard Treaty. This duty he is said to have performed with great care and thoroughness. In May, 1888, he succeeded Sir Chas. Tupper, as Mr. of Finance, an office he continued to hold under Sir John Abbott, Sir John Thompson, Sir Mackenzie Bowell and Sir Chas. Tupper, up to the retirement of the Con. party from power, July, 1896. He was Govt. leader in the Ho. of Commons during the Session of 1895, and was one of the "Nest of Traitors," so called by the Premier, who retired from the Bowell Govt. for a few days in Jan., 1896. Mr. F. visited the W. I. in connection with trade interests in 1889, and in 1892 and 1894 visited Eng. regarding the finances of the Dom., on the latter occasion negotiating a loan of $11,250,000. In 1891 he moved for the appt. of a Royal Comn. on the Liquor Traffic; in June, 1895, he was the orator of the day at the unveiling of the Macdonald monument in Montreal. He continued to sit for King's up to the close of the 7th Parlt., 1896, when he retired from that constituency, and at the ensuing g. e. was returned for York. He claims to be a thorough Can., and a firm believer in the future greatness of the Dom. He advocated the construction of the C. P. Ry., believing that it would be a powerful force in the development and unification of the Dom. He also favours the idea of an Imp. Federation of the Brit. Dominions, in which each country, while perfectly free to manage its own domestic affairs, shall be leagued with all the others in a community of trade and defence. Mr. F. is a mem. of the Advisory Bd. of the Lib. Con. Assn. of Can. He was elected Presdt. of the Columbia Gold Fields Development Co., 1896; Presdt. of the Bi-metallic Mining Development Co. of Ont., and Presdt. of the Merchants' Fire Ins. Co., 1897. In religious faith, he is a Bapt. He m. May, 1889, Addie, eldest dau. of the late Milton Davies, of Hamilton, Ont., who was first m. to D. B. Chisholm, barrister and ex-M.P., and from whom she was divorced, 1889. Mrs. F. is noted throughout the Dom. for her interest in social reforms and other good works. FOSTER, Samuel Willard, railway presdt., is the s. of the late Dr. Stephen S. Foster, an early settler in the E. T., who represented Shefford in the Can. Parlt., 1841-47. B. in Shefford, 1832, he was ed. at the Shefford Acad., at Concord, Mass., and at the Univ. of Vermont. He studied law under H. B. Terrill and the late Judge Sicotte, and, after his call to the bar, practised for a considerable period in the dist. of St. Francis. For 8 yrs., up to Aug., 1877, he was Dist. Magte. and Judge of the Sessions for the Dist. of Bedford. Mr. F. is known chiefly, however, as a railway organizer and promoter. He took an active part in securing the construction of the Stanstead, Shefford and Chambly Ry., and, at a later period, in association with his bro., the late H. S. Foster, did much to promote the construction of the South Eastern Ry. He also obtained a charter for the Montreal and Champlain Junction Ry., for a branch extending from the Victoria bridge to the international boundary line. At present he is a dir. of the Beauharnois Ry. and of the Montreal and Champlain Junction Ry., Presdt. and Mang. Dir. of the Orford Mountain Ry., and Presdt. of the U. S. and Can. Ry. FOUCHER, Auguste Achille, M.D., is the s. of François Foucher, J.P., by his wife, Odile Durocher. B. at Joliette, he was ed. at the local coll., and graduated from the Montreal Sch. of Med., 1879. Proceeding to Europe, he took a special course in diseases affecting the eye, ear, nose and throat, and, while there, was apptd. Prof. of Ophthal. and Otol. in the new branch of Laval Univ. established in Montreal. Returning to Can., 1881, he took an active part in the foundation of Notre Dame Hospital, Montreal, and became Surgeon Oculist and Aurist to that institution. This position he still retains. He is also a life gov. of the hospital. Dr. F. was elected Presdt. of the Med. Soc. of Montreal, 1886. Later, he was elected a mem. of La Soc. Française Dipthtalmol. de Paris and of La Soc. Franc. d'Hygiene. In 1893 he was apptd. hon. chairman to the section on Otol. at the Pan-Am. Congress held that year at Washington. Besides being a regular contributor to the Union Med. du Can. for 16 yrs., he has written largely for Am. technical periodicals. He published, 1894, an exhaustive treatise on diseases of the eye, ear and throat. In religious faith, he is a R. C.; politically, a Con., but he takes no active part in public affairs. FOTHERINGHAM, Rev. Thomas Francis (Presb.), is the s. of Thos. Fotheringham, by his wife, Frances S. Flaws, both natives of Orkney, Scot. B. in Hamilton, Ont., Apl. 6, 1847, he was ed. at the Central Sch. there, at U. C. Coll., and at Toronto Univ. (B.A., 1871; M.A., 1872). He studied Theol. at Knox Coll., taking a post-graduate year at the United Presb. Hall, Edinburgh, and at the Univ. of Leipsic. Ordained to the ministry, July 21, 1875, he was placed in charge of Norwood and Hastings, Ont., and was for a brief period lecturer in Apologetics at Queen's Coll., Kingston. Later, he removed to Santa Monica, Davisville, Colton and San Bernardino, Cal., but returning to Can., was inducted into his present charge over St. John Presb. Ch., St. John, N.B., Jan., 1883. Mr. F. is Convener of the Presb. Genl. Assembly's Comte. on Sabbath Schs., and has done much to bring the work under its charge to its present advanced state. He has taken a prominent part in furthering the Christian Endeavour movement, but is best and most widely known in connection with the introduction of the "Boys' Brigade" into Can. It was he who organized the first co. of this body established in the Dom. (May 3, 1889), and he has since been the means of having cos. established in various other portions of Can. He is capt. of his own co., Presdt. of the St. John Batt., and was Brigade Presdt. for Can. until Lord Aberdeen accepted that position. Mr. F. is a Lib. in politics. He has been twice m., 1st, Sept. 9, 1875, to Miss Annie R. FRASER, John A., R.C.A., was b. in London, Eng., 1838, and is the s. of the late John Fraser ("Cousin Sandy") a writer who in the sixties, by his caustic, but never unfair or cruel verse, put many a prominent but delinquent Can. politician "in purgatory." As a young man he entered upon the full study of art, and with such success, that before he was 20, he was in the receipt of a respectable income from portrait painting. Owing to his father's failure in business, the family emigrated to Can., and in 1860, Mr. F. found himself compelled to enter the employ of Wm. Notman, Photographer to the Queen, Montreal. His advent in that city was coincident with the formation of the Montreal Art Assn. Later, he assisted in the formation of the Soc. of Can. Artists, which was the first genuinely artistic organization incorporated in Can. In 1868, he removed to Toronto, as resident partner in the Notman & Fraser business; and in 1873, along with a few coadjutors, organized the Ont. Soc. of Artists, of which he was the 1st V.-P. In 1880, on the establishment of the Royal Can. Acad. of Art, he was apptd. by its founder, the Marquis of Lorne, a charter mem. In 1883, severing his connection with photography, he went to Chicago, and subsequently to Boston. In 1886, the present Lord Mount Stephen, for whom he had executed some commissions, furnished him with transportation facilities over the newly-constructed C. P. Ry. He spent the whole summer painting over the Rocky Mountain div., and the result of his labours was a series of pictures, which were exhibited in London, N. Y., and Boston, attracting much public notice and eliciting generally unstinted praise from the press. His contributions to the art display in the Ind. and Col. Exhn., London, drew from the Prof. of Painting to the Royal Acad., in his published report, this statement: "Indeed, in many respects he may be said to be the founder of a new sch. of landscape painting." This was written in recognition of the fact noticed and commented on by other authorities, that in the absence of any congenial models for imitation in Can., breaking away instinctively from the old conventions through close and eager and earnest observation of the truths of nature in her varying moods, he had really, though unconsciously, anticipated that art movement which through procedure from deliberate choice by abler men on exactly the same lines that from sheer necessity he had followed, has subsequent to the remarks of the prof. above quoted, produced the greatest art sensation of modern times under the name of "Impressionism," or the "Impressionistic School." In 1888, Mr. F. went to Europe, worked altogether in the open air in Scot. and Eng., and one of his pictures received the unusual honour of being hung on the line at the Royal Acad. Exhn., 1889. On his return—in consequence of a disorder contracted through working in all weathers out of doors—to the U. S., he took up his residence in N. Y., where he has enjoyed a fair share of success; his works and personality having received fair and instant recognition from his brother artists. He has been elected a mem. of the Bd. of Control of the most successful art organization, "The

Am. Water-Colour Soc.," and a mem. of the Comtes. of Management of the Salmagundi and N. Y. Water-Colour Clubs. In 1891, the only year in which he submitted any works for its acceptance, the Salon, in the Champs Elysées, Paris, hung the full number accorded to any exhibitor. The place of honour, viz., the centre of the line, was filled by "Mauvais Temps," which the great French critic, M. Lejendre, pronounced "strongly original," while another of his pictures, "Au Cœur d'Ecosse," was hung on a separate panel in the best room devoted to Aquarelles—the celebrated "Friedland, 1807," by Meissonier, was placed in exactly the same position at a subsequent exhn.—and all the critics complimented his pictures highly. In 1893, the Internl. jury at the World's Columbian Expn. awarded him the only medal for water-colours given to Can.; subsequently the Cotton States Expn. gave him the medal for water-colours; and in 1894 the Montreal Art Assn. water. colour prize was given to him. Among those who to-day are prominent in the art of Am., and were for yrs. his private pupils, are Horatio Walker, N.A.D., Hy. Sandham, R.C.A., and Wm. Lewis Fraser; and in his public capacity as a teacher in the Ont. Sch. of Art, it was his good fortune for some time to direct the earlier studies of G. A. Reid, R.C.A., Ernest E. Seton Thompson and others whose unusual talents have secured recognition and distinction. During the last two years, though ill-health has seriously interfered with Mr. F's. efforts, he is not without hope that he may yet produce better representative work than any he has hitherto done.—156 East 92nd St., New York.

FULLER, William Henry, essayist and playwright, was b. of English parentage at Ramsgate, Eng., and was ed. there. After spending some yrs. in a banking institution in India, he came to Can. in the early seventies, and entered the service of the Ontario Bank. Retiring therefrom he devoted himself to mining, and subsequently turned his attention to dramatic authorship. Several of his plays have been produced on the Am. stage, but he is chiefly known to Canadians as the author of a clever local burlesque: "H. M. S. Parliament," which had a remarkably successful run during two seasons in the principal cities of the Dom. Of essays and brochures he has written not a few: "Flapdoodle," "The Unspecific Scandal," "Ye Ballad of Lyttel John A.," "Mr. Sprouts—his Opinions," and "A Dream of Pure Politicians," being some of those which attracted most attention by their witty and keen criticisms of the follies and weaknesses of the day. These productions, though bristling with keen sarcasm, are remarkable for the entire absence of acerbity or offensiveness, and this peculiarity, so rare in this class of writing, evoked the unstinted commendation of the Earl of Dufferin, than whom there could be no higher authority. Mr. F. was a frequent contributor to the Can. Illustrated News, and to several other periodicals both in Can. and the U. S. GAUDAUR, Jacob Gill, champion oarsman, of French descent, is the s. of Francis Gaudaur, of Orillia, by his wife Jessie Gill. He was b. on the Atherly side of the Narrows, the strait which unites Lakes Couchiching and Simcoe, Ont., Apl. 4, 1858, and from his earliest yrs. had a strong fancy for aquatic sports. G.'s first year in a shell was in 1879, when he rowed at Prescott, London and Sarnia in exhn. races. His first shell race was with McKen, on Toronto Bay, in the same year, and he won it easily. He rowed third at Barrie, Hanlan and Riley dead-heating. In 1881, July 1, at Ottawa, he won a race from Ross, Hosmer, Ten Eyck and Riley. At Pullman, Ill., June 23, 1883, G. was beaten by Teemer in the consolation race in 20.14. At Lake Minnetonka, on Aug. 4, he finished behind Hanlan, Lee, Hosmer, and Hamm. In 1884, at Boston, July 4, he won the 3-mile single sculls in 21.50 and the working boat event in 22.20. On Oct. 26 G. (5 secs. in 3 miles) rowed a dead heat with Teemer. On Nov. 2 he won in 20.24 at Creve Cœur Lake, Mo. The ups and downs of the Can. sculler continued in 1885. He won the 3-mile single sculls race at Boston, July 4, in 20.30, and on the same day, with Hosmer as partner, captured the double sculls. On May 25 he rowed second to Teemer at New Orleans in 20.01½, and won the double with Hosmer. On June 13 he defeated Hosmer at a regatta at Moline, Ill., and on the 18th defeated Teemer at Pittsburg, where Hosmer again sat with him in the winning double sculls boat. G.'s first championship race in the doubles with Hosmer for partner was disastrous. Courtney and Conley beat them over a 3-mile course at Pleasure Island, near Albany, N.Y., for $5.000 and the title, in 17.57½. On Oct. 30, the same year, G. beat Al. Hamm (5 secs.) for $1,000, 3 miles with turn, in 21.15. Perhaps 1886 was the most important year of his life. On June 12 he won the championship of Am. and $2,000 over a 3-mile course with turn from Teemer, at Pullman, Ill., in 21.20. Again on June 26 he made the best 3-mile record up to that time, 19.54. at White Bear Lake, Minn., beating Teemer and Hamm. On Sept. 18 occurred the famous race with Wm. Beach, of Australia, for the world's championship and $5,000 on the Thames, London, Eng. G. was beaten over a 4½-mile course in 22.29 by a short half boat length. Rowing men who saw the contest said it was the greatest that had ever taken place in the history of the sport. On May 30, 1887, he won $5,000 and defended the championship from Hanlan in 19.32, making a new record. In July, at Pullman, Hanlan won the title, finishing outside the flags in the darkness. Teemer beat Hanlan on Aug. 13, and G. was unsuccessful in his effort to win the title from the McKeesporter on Oct. 28 at Lake Maranacook, Me. Teemer's time was 20.28⅘ for the 3 miles with a turn. From this time G.'s engagements became very numerous, and only his important races are given from 1888 to 1896. In 1888, Aug. 3, he and McKay, of Halifax, defeated Teemer and Hamm for the double-sculling championship and $5,000, 3 miles with turn, in 19.25, at Saratoga Lake. Later on in the same year the late Wm. O'Connor beat G. at Sturgeon Point, Ont., in a regatta. This was O'Connor's first brush with him. On March 3, 1889, Wm. O'Connor defeated G. on San Francisco Bay in a 3-mile race, in 19.45. On Sept. 13 the latter beat Teemer at McKeesport, but the stakes were afterwards drawn, the American claiming a foul and refusing to row. In 1890, at the Duluth regatta, July 21-26, G. made his third record, 19.31, in winning the single scull race against Teemer, Hanlan, Hosmer and others. McKay and he won the doubles, and his crew also captured the 4-oared race at the same regatta. In 1891 Hanlan and O'Connor defeated G. and McKay for the double scull world's championship at Burlington Beach, on Aug. 8, 3 miles with turn, in 18.26½. In 1892, Chas. Stephenson, the New Zealand champion, was beaten easily on Aug. 13 by G. at Orillia, over the regular 3-mile course, from the wharf to Lehman's Point and return. On Sept. 5 he and G. H. Hosmer won the double sculling championship from Hanlan and O'Connor at Charlotte, N.Y. Again at Orillia, Oct. 15, the same result took place, the 3 miles being covered by the winners in 18.30. G.'s brilliant victories at Austin, Texas, in June, 1893, are still fresh in the public mind. He won the 3-mile with turn single scull event in 19.06 his fourth record, defeating Peterson, Stanbury, the world's champion, Hanlan, Teemer, Rogers and Ten Eyck. Hosmer and he won the doubles by 20 lengths in 18.03½, the fastest time yet recorded for the 3 miles with turn. In Nov., 1895, G. competed at the intern. regatta in Austin, Texas. His first appearance was with his bro. in the double scull race at 3 miles. The Gs. were beaten by Teemer and Haines. The time was 18.21, which equalled the world's record for the distance. On Nov. 5, Teemer beat G. in a half-mile dash. On Nov. 7 G. won the championship of the world, the Richard K. Fox trophy and $1,500, beating Rogers, Bubear and Haines. The same day, together with his bro. and Teemer and Rogers, G. competed in a 4-oared race with Bubear, Barry, Haines and Wingate. The Eng. crew won the race, which was a 3-mile one, in 17.20½, a world's record for the distance. G. also won several minor events. In 1896 he competed at the internl. regatta at Halifax. He likewise appeared with the Can.-Am. 4-oar crew, which succeeded in defeating Bubear's Eng. crew. His last great victory occurred, Sept. 7, 1896, when he won the single scull race for the championship of the world, on the Thames, from Jas. H. Stanbury, the course being from Putney to Mortlake, 4 miles. G.'s time was 23.01 ; and Stanbury's, 23.46. In Dec., the same year, he issued a challenge offering to row any man in the world, in Am., in June, 1897, for the championship and a stake of $2,500 or $5,000 a side, and in Jan., 1897, he was challenged by Hanlan to row for the world's championship and $1000 a side, either in Am. or Eng. waters. G. weighs about 175 pounds, and he is 6 ft. high. — Orillia, Ont.

GEOFFRION, Hon. Christophe Alphonse, Q.C., statesman, is the s. of the late Felix Geoffrion, of Varennes, P.Q., by his wife Catherine Brodeur, and was b. at Varennes, Nov. 23, 1843. Ed. at the Coll., St. Hyacinthe, he graduated B.C.L. at McGill Univ., 1868 (D.C.L. in course, 1891), having 2 yrs. previously been called to the bar. He practised for many yrs. in Montreal in partnership with the late Sir A. A. Dorion (afterwards Chief-Justice), and with the latter's bro., the late Mr. Wilfred (afterwards Justice) Dorion, and was created a Q. C. by the Provl. Govt., 1879, and, by the Marquis of Lansdowne, 1887. He is now head of the the firm of Geoffrion, Dorion & Allan, and takes front rank among his professional brethren. Of his career at the bar the Globe speaks as follows: "During his professional career he has been connected with many important cases, and it is safe to say that he is the trusted repository of more business and political secrets than any other man in Montreal. For example, he was Mr. Tarte'slegal adviser in the famous Connolly-McGreevy investigation in 1891, and it was largely owing to his skill in connecting threads of evidence and in marshalling his facts that the details of those swindles were exposed. He represented the Mercier Govt. in London when the banks appealed to the Privy Council against the tax on commercial corporations imposed by the preceding Con. Govt., and as a result of his argument the Act was declared constitutional. Notwithstanding his strong Lib. proclivities, he was chosen by the late Archbp. of Montreal to defend him in the action for damages which was brought by the Can. Revue because Mgr. Fabre, in the exercise of his Episcopal functions, considered it necessary to forbid the faithful to read that journal. He was legal adviser of the Banque du Peuple at the time of its suspension, and there can be no doubt that he subsequently pulled the directors out of a very bad hole." He was elected Bâton- nier of the bar of Montreal, 1885-86, and is Prof. of the Law of Contracts in McGill Univ. His portrait as a past Bâtonnier has been painted for the Bar Library, Montreal. He is a life gov. of Notre Dame Hospital, Montreal, and has been V.-P. of the Inst. Canadien. Politically, a Lib., he entered the Ho. of Commons, Apl., 1895, for Verchères, to fill a vacancy created by the death of his bro., the Hon. Felix Geoffrion, P.C., the previous mem. Returned for Chambly and Verchères (defeating Hon. L. O. Taillon) g. e. 1896, he was called to the P. C. by Sir W. Laurier, Aug. 21, 1896, and sits in the Govt. without portfolio. A R. Coll., he studied law with the late Warren Rock, Q.C., and afterwards with the late Richard Miller, Q.C., and was called to the bar, 1869. He commenced the practice of his profession in London, Ont., and is now at the head of the firm of Gibbons, Mulhern & Harper of that city. Created a Q. C. by the Ont. Govt., 1891, he was elected Presdt. of the Middlesex Bar Assn., 1897. He is also Presdt. of the London and Western Trusts Co., and Presdt. of the London Philharmonic Soc. A Reformer in politics, he has served as Presdt. of the city of London Lib. Assn. He is a mem. of the Meth. Ch., and m. 1876, Elizabeth Campbell, dau. of Hugh Craig, Montreal. —London, Ont.

GIBSON, Alexander, lumber and cotton manufacturer, was b. at St. Andrews, N.B., of Irish parents, May, 1819. Commencing life a poor boy, he found employment in the lumber regions of his native province. Advancing step by step, as a successful man of business, he became lessee of what was then the finest and fastest mill in the province. It was situated at Lepreaux, and was owned by the late Wm. K. Reynolds, St. John, N.B. Subsequently, about 1864, he acquired the lumber establishment of Rankine Ferguson & Co., on the Nashwaak, about 2 miles from Fredericton, which had fallen into decay. He at once began a series of improvements which have since excited the wonder and admiration of every visitor. The place is now called Marysville, and was so named by Mr. G. Here Mr. G. has established saw mills for large and small lumber, cotton mills, brickyards, tanneries, etc. In addition, he employs in the woods some 1000 men with 1200 horses for the purpose of getting out lumber. He is an extensive shipper to Europe, the lumber thus exported amounting to 150,000 ft. annually and over. Locally he is known as the "King of the Nashwaak." Within the past 2 yrs., by the purchase of property at Blackville, he has extended his lumber operations to the Miramichi, and began the development of a new business in that region. His cotton mill at Marysville is regarded as the largest in Can., and employs 700 hands. Mr. G. has likewise acquired fame in other fields. While attending to his regular business, he found time, some yrs. ago, to build the Northwestern Ry., running across the country to the Miramichi, and in its course opening up immense tracts of valuable timber lands, and promoting settlement everywhere. This road he still owns. He was also instrumental in securing the construction of the N. B. Ry. to Edmunston. In 1880, he was one of the syndicate, with Sir W. P. Howland, that offered to construct the Can. Pac. Ry. Mr. G. is regarded as one of the wealthiest men in Can. In 1897, owing to the great increase in his business, which made it impossible for one man to attend properly to all its complicated details, his large properties passed into the hands of a co., of which he is Presdt. and Mangr. Politically, he is now a Con., though previous to the Dom. g. e. 1896, he was a very pronounced Lib. In religion, he is a Meth., and has contributed largely to ch. objects. He is an hon. V.-P. of the Boys' Brigade in Can.—Maryville, N.B.

Gibson, farmer, Tp. of Toronto, who came to Can. from Glammis, Forfarshire, Scot., 1827, by his wife, Mary Sinclair, whose family belonged to the Tp. of Nelson, Co. Halton. B. in the Tp. of Toronto, Jan. 1, 1842, he was ed. at the Central Sch., Hamilton, and at Toronto Univ., taking his degree at the latter institution in 1863, when he won the Prince's prize, the silver medals in Classics and Mod. Languages, and the prize in Oriental languages He was called to the bar, 1867, and having entered the Law course of Toronto Univ., he obtained the degree of LL.B. there, together with the gold medal, 1869; he subsequently became Exam. in the Faculty of Law for the years 1871 and 1872. He commenced the practice of his profession in Hamilton, where he took a leading place at the bar. At present he is head of the firm of Gibson, Osborne & O'Reilly. In 1890 he was apptd. a Q. C. by the Ont. Govt. For many yrs. he was a mem. of the Hamilton Bd. of Education, being chairman for 2 terms. He was elected a mem, of the Senate of Toronto Univ. in 1873, and was re-elected in 1878 and 1883. For 5 yrs. he was Presdt. of the Hamilton Art Sch., an institution he was instrumental in founding. He was an active mem. of the militia from 1860 until Nov., 1895, when he resigned the command of the 13th Batt., with which regt. he served as a lieut. at Ridgeway, 1866. As a marksman Lt.-Col. G. had a very high reputation, having been a mem, of the Can. Wimbledon teams in 1874, 1875 and 1879, winning the Prince of Wales' Prize (a badge and £100) in 1879. In 1881 he commanded the team which defeated the Brit. team in the competition for the Rajah of Kolapore's cup. He was also a mem. of the Can. long-range teams at Creedmoor in 1876 and 1880. For 3 yrs. he was Presdt. of the Ont. Rifle Assn., and he has likewise been Presdt. of the Can. Mil. Rifle League, and since 1893 has been Presdt. of the Dom. Rifle Assn. He is also Presdt. of the Can. Mil. Inst., and of the Can. branch of the Red Cross Soc. In recognition of his zealous efforts in promoting and encouraging rifle shooting in the force he was permitted, on retiring from the 13th Batt., to retain his rank in the active mil. as hon. lt.-col. of the 13th. In 1890 and 1891 he was Presdt. of the Hamilton St. Andrew's Soc. He was elected Deputy Grand Master of the Masonic Grand Lodge of Can., 1890, and has also occupied the position of Grand Master. Col. G. was first returned to the Local Legislature for Hamilton at the g. e. 1879, and was re-elected in 1883 and 1886. He entered the Govt. as Provl. Secy. in 1889, being returned by acclamation. In 1890 he was defeated, but his opponent being unseated, he was again elected in 1891, as also at the Provl. elections of 1894. In July, 1896, he succeeded Mr. Hardy, the present Premier, as Comnr. of Crown Lands, and in the same year was apptd. a Comnr. for the Revision of the Ont. Statutes. He is an hon, A.D.C. to H. E. the Gov.-Genl., and in 1897 was selected by the Mil. Dept. to proceed to Eng. in connection with the celebration of the Queen's Diamond Jubilee. As a young man he was Secy. of the Hamilton Reform Assn., and throughout his political career he has been prominently identified with that party. His legislation, since he has been in office, includes the Act of 1890 amending the Liquor License Law, which provides for "local option," abolishing vessel licenses, increasing the age of minors from 16 to 18 yrs., and rendering it necessary that a petition signed by a majority of the voters of a polling subdivision must necessarily accompany an application for a new license in such polling subdivision; the reorganization of the Ont. insur. system, making the registration of all insur. cos. and friendly socs. doing business in the Province compulsory, and only possible on the bona fide standing and objects of such cos. or socs. being set out to the satisfaction of the Inspector of Ins. and Regr. of Friendly Socs.; the appt. of a Game and Fish Comn. to enquire into the whole subject of our game and fish resources, with a view to their better preservation and propagation, and the subsequent passage of a strenuous measure of game protection administered under a permanent comn., with the aid of game wardens and deputy wardens; the introduction of a well considered and progressive system of dealing with neglected or dependent children. Under Mr. Gibson's Act of 1892, entitled "An Act for the Prevention of Cruelty to and Better Protection of Children," a Prov. Supt. has been appointed, many Children's Aid Socs. have been formed throughout the Province, and ample machinery provided for rescuing children who from neglect, evil surroundings, or ill-treatment, are liable to drift into criminality or vagrancy, and for placing them in proper homes, where they will be under the surveillance of visiting committees, and, amid wholesome surroundings, may develop into good and useful citizens. This Act has been highly eulogized by Chancellor Boyd, Hon. G. W. Allan and Dr. E. A. Meredith, the latter gentleman pronouncing it one of the most beneficent and enlightened statutes to be found in the laws of any country. Lt.-Col. G. is a mem. of the Presb. Ch. GIRDWOOD, Gilbert Prout, M.D., is the s. of the late G. F. Girdwood, M.D., London, Eng., by his wife, Susan Sophia, dau. of the Rev. Thos. Bazeley, Rector of Lavenham, Suffolk, and chaplain to H. R. H. the Duke of Gloucester. B. in London, Oct. 22, 1832, he obtained his early ed. at a private sch., afterwards entering Univ. Coll. and St. George's Sch. of Med. He was admitted a mem. of the R. C. S., Eng., 1854, and, in the same year, was gazetted asst. surg. H. M.'s Grenadier Gds. He accompanied the 1st Batt. to Can. at the time of the Trent affair, 1862, and on its return to Eng., 1864, retired from the army, in order to take up his permanent residence in Montreal. He served for some yrs. as surg. of the Victoria Rifles, Montreal, and went with that corps to the front during the Fenian troubles. Dr. G. is a mem. of the Coll. of P. and S., P.Q., a mem. of the Brit. and Am. Assns. for the Advance. of Science, a mem. of the Soc. of Public Analysts, of the Chemical Soc., Soc. of Chemical Industry, and a Fellow of the Chemical Inst. of Great Britain. He was apptd. Prof. of Practical Chemistry, McGill Univ., 1872, and of Chemistry 1879, a chair he still fills. On the organization of the Royal Soc. of Can., by the Marquis of Lorne, 1882, he was apptd. one of the original Fellows of that body. In 1892 he was elected Presdt. of the Microscopical Soc. He is a dir. of the Accident Ins. Co. of N. Am., Montreal. He holds high rank in the Masonic fraternity, and is a mem. of the Ch. of Eng. Dr. G. m. 1862, Fanny Merriman, dau. of the late Thos. E. Blackwell, C.E.—82 University St., Montreal.

GIROUARD, Hon. Désiré, judge and jurist, is the s. of Jérémie Girouard, of St. Timothée, P.Q., by his wife, Hyppolite Picard, and was b. at St. Timothée, July 7, 1836. The family is descended from Antoine Girouard, a native of Mont-Luçon, Bourbonnois, France (1696), who became private secy. to Governor de Ramezay, of Montreal, 1720. Ed. at Montreal Coll., he studied law under the late Edward Carter, Q.C., at the same time following the law course at McGill Univ., where he obtained the first prize 3 yrs. consecutively (B.C.L., 1860; D.C.L., 1874). Called to the bar, 1860, he practised his profession in Montreal, becoming at first the partner of his former principal, Mr. Carter. He was afterwards associated in business at various times with Mr. Robidoux, Judge Dugas, Judge Coursol, Judge Wurtele, Judge DeLorimier, Mr. McGibbon, Q.C.; Mr. G. G. Foster, Mr. Martin and his s., Desiré H. Girouard. Mr. G. speedily came to the front, and ran a distinguished career at the bar. Known as the author of "Essai sur les Lettres de change et Billets Promissoires," which work had been highly commended by Chief-Justice Sir L. H. Lafontaine, Sir J. J. C. Abbott, and leading experts, he at once took a commanding position, especially in commercial cases. He was created a Q. C. by the Marquis of Lorne, 1880. Among the many important causes in which he was retained were: Ashley Hibbart vs. the Can. Rubber Co.; Seguin de la Salle vs. Bergevin; Voyer vs. Richer; Viger vs. Belliveau; Wilson vs. Demers; the Hotel Dieu vs. the Council of Agricul., on which occasion Mr. G. was retained by both the Comnr. of Agricul. and Sir H. G. Joly, then leader of the Quebec Opposition. In the famous Grange-Benning breach of promise case, he was for the defence. The above were all private cases. He was also retained in the following, which were of a more public character viz: The Lachine Canal case; Jette vs. McNaughton; the Jacques Cartier election case; the Raft case; the St. Anne's ballot box case; the Grinnell customs case; the Monde-Trudel libel case; the Berthiaume-Minerve case; the Laflamme-Mail libel case; the Queen vs. The Montreal Building Assn.; the Telegraph case; the Commercial Corporation tax cases (where Mr. G. acted as counsel with Mr. Lacoste, now Sir Alexandre); the Internl. Ry. cases; the Lottery case (where Mr. G. acted as counsel for Mr Geoffrion, Q.C.); the Montreal Ch. Warden election case; the Insur. cases with the Richelieu and Ont. Nav. Co.; the Montreal Court Ho. case; and the Provl. Arbitration cases. Mr. G. entered political life as the candidate of Sir Geo. Cartier, for Jacques Cartier, at the Dom. g. e. 1872, but was defeated by his opponent, the late Hon. R. Laflamme, Q.C., by 48 votes. He was again defeated on presenting himself in Beauharnois at the g. e. 1874. Returning to Jacques Cartier in 1876, when he was defeated by 28 votes, and again 1878, he won the seat on an appeal to the courts, by a majority of 2, his real majority, as afterwards shown, being over 200. Mr. G. continued to represent Jacques Cartier up to the close of his Parliamentary career, 1896, being re-elected at every recurring g. e. He especially distinguished himself in connection with the Deceased Wife's Sister Bill, which he introduced 2 sessions and finally carried, after a prolonged debate and the most strenuous opposition, 1882. Although one of the staunchest supporters of the Con. Govt., he took a leading part in the movement against the execution of Riel, on the ground of insanity, and with 16 other French Con. mem. constituted for a time a separate group of the party known as the "Bolters." His letter, published Nov., 1885, in answer to the defence of the Govt. by Sir Alex. Campbell, was widely circulated and noticed. He was Chairman of the Standing Comte. on Privileges and Elections, and in that capacity presided in the Langevin-McGreevy case, 1891, at 104 sittings of the comte. No exception was taken to any of his numerous decisions in this lengthy case, and on the presentation of the report of the comte. to the Ho., Mr. G. was complimented by leading mems. of the Opposition for the impartial spirit evinced by him throughout. Besides his work on Bills of Exchange (1860), Mr. G. wrote an essay on the Insolvent Act of 1864, and "Considérations sur les lois civiles du mariage" (1868). He was a contributor to La Rev. Can., to La Rev. Critique (which he conducted with the late W. H. Kerr, Q.C.), to La Rev. de Droit Intern., and to La Minerve. As a student he lectured successfully before L'Inst. Can. Français and the Cabinet de Lec. Paroissial. His most important contributions to Can. literature (and in acknowledgment of which he was presented with the Confederation Medal by the Earl of Aberdeen), were made during recent yrs. As the result of long and patient research in the ancient archives of the country, he began, 1889, the publication of a series of essays dealing with the earlier history of some portions of the dist. of Montreal. These were largely translated from the French, and were embodied in a handsome volume which was given to the public in the year of the World's Fair, 1893, under the title of "Lake St. Louis, Old and New, Illustrated, and Cavalier de la Salle." Of this work it has been said that "more light is thrown upon the history of the early settlement of Montreal Island, the first inhabitants of the dist., and the Indian wars of the period than had previously been afforded by any Eng. or French-speaking historian." Since its appearance he has published "Les Anciens Postes du Lac Saint Louis." Mr. G. was raised to the bench as a Judge of the Supreme Ct. of Can., Sept. 28, 1895. In religion he is a R. C. He m. 1st, 1862, Marie Matilde, dau. of the late John Pratt, Montreal (she d., 1863); 2nd, 1865, Essie, dau. of Dr. Joseph Cranwill, of Ballynamoney, Irel. (she d., 1879); and 3rd, 1881, Edith Bertha, young. dau. of Dr. John Beaty, Cobourg. Ont.—398 Wilbrod St., Ottawa; "Quatre Vents," Dorval, P.Q.

GIROUARD, Desiré Howard, advocate, is the 3rd s. of the preceding by his 2nd wife, Miss Cranwill. B. in Montreal, Apl. 2, 1869, he was ed. at the Coll. of Nicolet and at Laval Univ. (B.A., 1887), and graduated B.C.L., with honours, at McGill Univ., 1890. Called to the bar in the following year, he entered his father's law firm, and on the latter's elevation to the bench, remained with the other partners, the firm name now being Foster, Martin & Girouard. Of marked literary tastes, he gave material assistance to his father in his literary labours, he being joint author with him in 1890 of a new edition of his work on bills of exchange, and, in 1893, translating from the French his monumental work, "Lake St. Louis, Old and New, and Cavalier de La Salle." In Oct., 1895, he declined the Con.

nomination for the representation of Jacques Cartier in the Ho. of Commons. He is a R. C. in religion, and m. Nov., 1894, Virginia, dau. the late Col. Wm. Chambliss, late U. S. Army. — 351 Olivier Ave., Westmount, Montreal.

GIROUARD, Lieut. Edouard Percy Cranwill, R.E., bro. of the preceding, was b. in Montreal, May 26, 1867. Ed. by private tuition, and at the Semy., Three Rivers, he passed into the Royal Mil. Coll., Kingston, Sept., 1882. Graduating 1886, he was employed for 2 yrs. on the surveys and construction branch of the engineering staff of the Can. Pac. Ry. Apptd. 2nd lieut. R. E., July 28, 1888, he became traffic mangr. Royal Arsenal Rys., Woolwich, July 1, 1890; and was promoted lieut., July 28, 1891. Lieut. G. was one of the dels. apptd. to the Intern. Ry. Congress, 1895. He is the author of a paper on engineering, 1891, outlining a scheme for the protection of the coast of Eng., to which special attention was directed by Col. Boxall in an article in the Fortnightly Review, 1895. In 1896, he joined the Dongola Expedn. force under Maj.-Genl. Sir H. H. Kitchener, as Dir. of Rys. and was in charge of the ry. batt. during the campaign, holding the rank of Bimbashi or Maj. in the Egyptian army, (mentioned in despatches, and decorated with the D. S. O.) Unm.—Care Cox & Co., London, Eng.

GLASHAN, John Cadenhead, educationist, is the s. of Thos. Glashan, M.A., M.D., by Frances Stuart, his wife, and was b. in Ellon, Aberdeenshire, Scot., 1844. Coming to Can. with his parents, 1853, he was ed. at the public schs. and at Toronto Univ., and after obtaining a 1st class teachers' cert. at the Provl. Normal Sch., Toronto, became a public sch. teacher in the Co. of Peel. He was afterwards 1st asst. in the Provl. Model Sch., Toronto, 1864; Inspr. of Schs. in Middlesex, 1871; Inspr. of Public Schs., city of Ottawa, 1876; which latter position he still retains, and was apptd. a mem. of the Bd. of C. S. Exams., Ottawa, Oct., 1895. Mr. G. is V.-P. of the Toronto Univ. Graduates' Club, Ottawa, and he was elected Presdt. of the St. Andrew's Soc., Ottawa, 1895. He has been a contributor to the Phil. Mag., the Quart. Journ. of Math., and the Am. Journ. of Math., and has published an arithmetic for public schs., an advanced Arithmetic for High Schs., and is joint author with Prof. G. A. Wentworth and Dr. J. A. McLellan of a treatise on algebraic analysis. Of late yrs., Mr. G. has turned his attention chiefly to the history of mathematics, and has collected what is undoubtedly the finest private mathematical library in Can. A Presb. in religion, he m. 1868, Anne, dau. of Thos. Churcher, London, Ont.—444 MacLaren St., Ottawa.

GLASS, Chester, barrister, is the s. of the Hon. David Glass, Q.C. (q.v.), and was b. at London, Ont. Ed. at Hellmuth Coll. and at Toronto Univ., he was called to the Ont. bar, 1878, and to the bar of Man., 1882, and while at Winnipeg enjoyed a large and lucrative practice. Mr. G. was the successful counsel for the appellant in the well-known case of Atty.-Genl. vs. Fonseca, argued at Ottawa before the Supreme Ct. of Can., where various complicated questions affecting titles to land in Man. were finally settled. In 1879 and 1880 Mr. G. made a tour of the world, and on his return published: "The World, Round It and Over It." The book had a wide sale, both in its first and second editions, and was criticized very favourably by the Can., Eng. and Am. press. The N. Y. Herald pronounced him "a keen and intelligent observer and a pleasant writer." During his tour he visited nearly every country in the globe, and his broad-minded and ready impressions of men and things are embodied in the volume referred to. In 1889 he removed to the city of Spokane, where he now resides, practising his profession, and where he has large property and railway interests. He m. June, 1883, Beatrice Claus, dau. of J. J. Kingsmill, Q.C., formerly Co. Ct. Judge of Bruce, Ont.—Spokane, Wash., U.S.A.

GLASS, Hon. David, Q.C., is the 2nd s. of the late Saml. Glass, who came to Can., 1819. His ancestors came from Scot. to the north of Irel., and settled at Loch Glass, 1607. B. in the Tp. of Westminster, Ont., July 1, 1840, he was ed. at the London Grammar Sch., and with James Thompson, the well-known classical teacher. He was called to the bar, 1864, and practised for some yrs. in London, Ont., where his firm conducted an extensive and varied business. He defended Jones in the Delaware murder trial; Thos. Coyle, in the Nissouri murder case; and Smith in the Sombra murder trial, at Sarnia. He also defended Wilson, in the celebrated arson trial, at Windsor, Ont. Mr. G. entered the London City Council, 1855, remaining as ald. until 1858, when he was elected to the Mayoralty by a unanimous vote. At the end of his term of office he was presented by the corporation with a silver tea service. He was subsequently twice elected to the Mayoralty by a vote of the people. He also filled the office of Police Magistrate and Judge of the Recorder's Court at London, and was Depty. Judge of the Co. of Middlesex. Created a Q. C. by the Ont. Govt., 1876, he was elected a bencher of the Law Soc. of Ont., 1880. Removing to Winnipeg, 1882, he was called to the bar of Man., May, 1882, and was soon after apptd. Solicitor for the City of Winnipeg, in which city he enjoyed a large and lucrative practice in partnership with his son, Chester Glass. In 1872, he was elected in the Con. interest, to the Ho. of Commons, for East Middlesex, and sat in that house during the ensuing Parlt. In Oct., 1873, he, with 13 other supporters, opposed Sir John Macdonald's Govt. on what was known as the "Pacific Railway Scandal." His speech in the House on that occasion was reported in pamphlet form, and had a very wide circulation everywhere. There was no invective against the Govt. in his remarks, but an argument upon the constitutional questions before the Ho. The great speech of Sir Donald Smith soon followed, and the Govt. resigned on Nov. 5, 1873. In 1886 Mr. G. was elected for St. Clements, in Man., and soon after, by a unanimous vote, was chosen Speaker of the Legislative Assembly, which office he filled to the end of the Parlt. While occupying the dual position of city solicitor and Speaker of the Assembly, he had an attack of muscular rheumatism. His doctors advised a discontinuance of sedentary employment. For 2 succeeding yrs. he spent most of the time on the salt water, and became completely restored to robust health. In 1889 he visited the Paris Expsn., and in 1890 and 1891, passed a large part of his time in N. Y. and Boston, and the neighbouring seaport towns. He has made a special study of the world's expositions, since the first one held in Hyde Park, London, 1851, under the auspices of the late Prince Consort. In 1853 he attended the World's Fair at N. Y., and in 1876 the World's Fair at Philadelphia, and the Paris Expsn. in 1889. He attended the Chicago Expsn., 1893, on 2 different occasions, in order to make a special study thereof. He is at present preparing a book for publication on the subject of these several expositions. Mr. G. always had a fondness for travel. When he was 20 yrs. of age he visited the W. I. Islands, and with others crossed Mexico on horseback from the Atlantic to the Pacific Oceans, a long halt being made at the mining camps of Zacatacas. He was struck with the similarity of the mountainous dist. in B. C. to those of Zacatacas in Mexico. But the Kaslo and Slocan mining dist. of B. C. are much richer and more extensive; the ore there yielding over $100 per ton. During 1894 he went over B. C., north, south, east and west. He is of opinion that this Province, with its wealth in minerals, timbers, fisheries and other resources, is destined to be the key-stone in the great arch of Brit. Am., and that the distinguished men connected with the Can. Pac. Ry., the ry. itself, and its excellent management, constitute the most important feature in the whole Colonial Empire. In 1864, after an interview with Presdt. Lincoln, at Washington, Mr. G. gave his impressions of that great man in the London Free Press, and afterwards presided at a mass meeting at London, to give expression to the public abhorrence of his assasination. In 1860 he joined the Masonic order, and soon after became master of his mother lodge and mem. of the Grand Lodge of Can., but his chief field of Masonic research has been in the Scottish Rite, where he has taken 32°, and has visited some of the finest lodges in the world. In 1893, at the Chicago World's Fair, he was one who attended the World's Congress of Masonry at the Masonic Temple. In 1880, Mr. G. took an active part in obtaining funds for the relief of distress in Irel. He delivered a lecture at Chatham, subject, "Rothschild, King of Gold." The proceeds, one hundred pounds sterling, were the same night cabled to Dublin. On that occasion Mr. G. was entertained at dinner by the corporation and other leading men of that city. He is also a warm advocate of Imp. Federation. He is now living at Rossland, though his P. O. address is Winnipeg, where he is Presdt. of the Delaware Mining and Milling Co. A mem. of the Ang. Ch., he m. Dec., 1852, Sarah, 2nd dau. of the late Hy. Dalton.—Winnipeg, Man.

GLEN, Francis Wayland, ex-legislator, of Scotch descent, is the s. of Hon. E. M. K. Glen, of Rochester, N.Y. B. at Albany, N.Y., he was ed. at Rochester, and in 1863, m. there the dau. of the late Joseph Hall, founder of the Joseph Hall Ag. Implement Works, Oshawa, Ont. Coming to Can. after his marriage, he assumed the management of the Hall shops and works. Politically, a Lib., he was returned in that interest to the Ho. of Commons, for South Ontario, at the g. e. 1878, and continued to hold the seat up to the close of the 5th Parlt., 1887. Afterwards he returned to the U. S., where he has written frequently for the N. Y. Advertiser, the N. Y. Sun and other papers, favouring the entry of Can. into the Am. Union. It is believed that he also inspired, or endeavoured to inspire, legislation to that end, in the U. S. Congress. In Mch., 1895, he announced the forthcoming publication of "The History of the Admn. of Sir John A. Macdonald and his successors, from 1870 to 1895;" and in Aug., 1896, he published an open letter addressed to "The True Liberals of Can.," containing certain serious allegations against some of the Con. leaders of the Dom.—*Brooklyn, N. GLOBENSKY, Charles Auguste Maximilian, is the s. of the late Lt.-Col. Maximilian Globensky, an officer in the Voltigeurs Canadiens, who served under De Salaberry during the war of 1812, and was present at Chateauguay (medals), and is of Polish descent. B. at St. Eustache, P.Q. (where his grandfather had settled), 1830, he was ed at the Coll. at Ste. Thérèse, and at the Montreal (St. Sulpice) Coll., and has devoted himself to a life of study and research. He is Seigneur of St. Eustache and Mille Isles, and has been Mayor of St. Eustache and Presdt. of the Co. Agricul. Soc. Besides other works, he is the author of "La Rébellion de 1837 à St. Eustache, Precede d'un exposé de la situation politique du Bas Canada depuis la cession" (1883). Politically, a Con., he was elected in that interest to the Ho. of Commons for Two Mountains, Feb. 27, 1875, but resigned the following year. In 1888, he was created a knight of the Royal Order of Melusine. In religion, a R. C., he m. 1854, Virginie

GLOVER, Terrot Reaveley, educationist, is the only s. of the Rev. Richard Glover, D.D. (lately Presdt. of the Bapt. Union of Eng.), and is of Scotch extraction. B. in Bristol, Eng., 1869, he was ed. at the Bristol Grammar Sch., where he won an open scholarship, and in 1888, went into residence at St. John's Coll., Cambridge. Here he lived until his appt. as Prof. of Latin in Queen's Univ., Kingston, Aug., 1896. The list of his univ. achievements includes the following: Foundation scholarship, St. John's Coll., Dec., 1887; hon. mention for the Porson prize, 1889; Sir Wm. Browne's medal for a Greek epigram, 1890, and again in 1891; hon. mention for the Waddington Univ. scholarship, 1891; Porson prize, 1891; 1st class 1st div. classical tripos, part 1, 1891; 1st Chancellor's medal for classical learning, 1892; 1st class (with special distinction in history) classical tripos, part II., 1892; fellowship at St. John's Coll., Nov., 1892. After his election to his fellowship, he continuously taught and lectured in Cambridge, his pupils being with few exceptions, candidates for classical honours. He acted 4 times as exam. in Classics for his Coll., and in 1895, he examined in Greek and Roman History for the local examinations syndicate. Prof. G. is now preparing at the request of the syndics of the Univ. Press, an edition of Demosthenes' Olynthiac speeches. In religion, a Bapt., he m. 1897, Alice, 2nd dau. of Harry Few, Cambridge. —212 King St., Kingston Ont.

GOAD, Charles Edward, C.E., was b. and ed. in London, Eng., and is an associate in arts of Oxford Univ. Devoting himself to engineering, he was engaged in the construction of the Toronto, Grey and Bruce Ry., 1869-73, and on the Montreal Northern Col. Ry., from Montreal to Ottawa (now a portion of the C. P. Ry. system), 1873-75. In 1876 he was apptd. Chief Engr. of the Halifax and Cape Breton Ry. Mr. G. was admitted a mem. of the Am. Soc. of C. E., 1881, and of the Can. Soc. of C. E., 1888. He is also a Fellow of the Stat. Soc., London (F.S.S.), a mem. of the London, Eng., Chamber of Commerce, and a life Fellow of the Imp. Inst. In 1882 he founded Insurance Society, now called The Ins. and Financial Chronicle (Montreal), but his chief work has consisted in establishing a series of insur. surveys of cities in Can., the Brit. Isles, the West Indies and South Africa, which have been found of great service and utility to those interested. In Mar., 1896, he read a paper on the subject before the Insur. Inst. of Irel. GOFORTH, Rev. Jonathan (Presb.), is the s. of Francis Goforth, a native of Yorkshire, Eng., by his wife, Jane Bates, from the N. of Irel., and was b. near Thorndale, Ont., Feb. 11, 1859. Ed. at the Grammar Sch., London, Ont., he, while quite young, passed through a deep spiritual experience, which resulted in his consecration to the ministry. After graduating at Knox Coll., 1887, his attention was directed to foreign missions. Mainly through his influence the subject engaged the consideration of the Alumni of Knox Coll., who, at the conclusion of his course there, decided to support him in the China Mission field, which they have continued to do since his appt. thereto, Jan., 1888. The site of Mr. G.'s mission is North Honan, and since his arrival he has laboured there with the most successful results. He is described as evincing courage, discretion and untiring energy, in the prosecution of his work, and is ably seconded by his wife, the youngest dau. of J. Bell-Smith, the well-known artist, of Toronto. Before leaving Can., Mr. G. visited many of the Presb. congs. in Ont., and did much in the way of stirring up an interest in the work undertaken by him and others. His addresses were said to have bristled with facts and to have been delivered with an enthusiasm that profoundly moved his audiences.—North Honan, China.

GOGGIN, David James, educationist, was b. at Durham, Ont., Nov. 24, 1849, and after receiving a good public sch. education and obtaining a 1st class cert., he for a time followed the vocation of a teacher. He was successively asst. in the Whitby High Sch., and Principal of the Millbrook and Port Hope schs. He matriculated at Univ. Coll., Toronto, and, later, having been apptd. Principal of the Man. Normal Sch., entered the Univ. of Man. (B.A., 1887 ; M.A., 1890). In the following year Victoria Univ. granted him the ad eund. degree of M.A. In 1893 he was offered and accepted the office of Instructor of Teachers' Insts. in the N.W.T., with entire charge of the educational system of the Territories. While in Man. he was a mem. of the Council of Man. Univ., a mem. of the Council of St. John's Coll., a mem. of the Advisory Bd. of Education, an examr. for the Univ. and the Dept. of Education, and Presdt. of the Provl. Teachers' Assn. GOODWIN, George A., C.E., was b. in Montreal, 1854. Leaving Can. at an early age, he was ed. at Paris, London and Manchester. After a 5 years' apprenticeship he gained a Whitworth scholarship, 1875, valued at £100 per annum, and tenable for 3 yrs., besides carrying off other prizes each yr. in his other exams. One of his first professional engagements was under Sir John Fowler, Bart., where he filled the important position of Chief Insp. for all work sent to New South Wales, for whose Govt. Sir J. F. was consulting engr. He was next employed with Hon. F. Cadogan, London, and the Prince de Sagan of France, to carry out a series of experiments, in the application of superheated steam to locomotives, which was done on the G. E. Ry. After that he was busy with cold-air refrigerating machinery, the first cold storage chambers at the Victoria docks being built and fitted under his immediate supervision, as also the fitting up of several steamers with similar plant. In 1881 he started business as a consulting and supervising engr., which he has carried on up to date in Eng. and on the continent with equal success. Among the important works of which he has had charge have been the construction of the Eveleigh running sheds, a building with a semi-circular rib roof of 100 ft. span, and the Eveleigh workshop with a hip roof of 50 ft. span, 150 ft. long, besides numerous ry. and road bridges. A most responsible undertaking was one for the Govt. of New South Wales, which included the ironwork for the immense abattoirs at Sydney, sewage aqueducts made of wrought iron 6 ft. in diameter, with bridges for carrying them, and machinery for a cable traction station. While in Australia he constructed a 720 foot suspension bridge for a private co. He also superintended the rolling stock for the Smyrna and Cassaba Ry., winding and hoisting engines, and air compressors, with regulating valves for the Transvaal, being a patent of his own, and having for its object an automatic gear to relieve the engine of all work without stopping it or varying its speed. He likewise acted as consulting engr. for 2 cos. and one of his notable achievements was the fitting up of steamers for carrying frozen meat from Australia and the Falkland Islands to Eng., the Selembria for the service from the Falklands, being the largest carrier at that time, having a capacity of 1,000 tons, equal to 30,000 carcasses, with 4 cold air machines, each of 70,000 cubic ft. capacity. Among his other extensive undertakings were the designing of a sea pier for the eastern shores of Asiatic Russia, drawing plans for an extensive installation of hydraulic power in one of the chief cities in the U. S., and the superintendence of the major portion of the superstructure of the Liverpool overhead ry. Mr. G. practises as a technical expert in engineering law suits, and has had the scientific conduct of several important cases. He is the author of a paper on the "Relative Merits of Working Hoisting Machinery by Steam, Water and Electricity," which was prepared for the Chicago Engineering Congress, 1893. On 2 occasions he has acted as hon. exam. in engineering and practical electrical work for the Crystal Palace Sch. of Engineering. He is a mem. of the Inst. of C. E., and in 1894 was elected Presdt. of the Soc. of Engrs. (Eng.).—Victoria Mansions, London, Eng.

He received his primary education at the local common sch., and began the study of Chemistry and Physics in Mount Allison Coll. He won the alumni math. scholarship on entering this coll. After studying for 2 yrs. he passed the matriculation of London Univ., "next to eighth" in honours, and won at the same time (June, 1887) the Gilchrist scholarship. After spending 3 yrs. at the Univ. of Edin., in 1880, he went to Heidelberg, Germany, and spent the academical year, 1880-81, in the univ. there. He studied Chemistry, theoretically and practically, under Prof. Bunsen, and Mineral. under Prof. Rosenbusch. Returning to London, 1881, he graduated Bachelor of Science with honours in Chemistry and Experimental Physics. He was then apptd. Demonstrator and Lecturer on Chemistry in Univ. Coll. Bristol. During the winter, 1881-82, he carried on original investigations, the results of which were embodied in a thesis for the Doctorate of Science (Edin). After serving for a short period as Prof. of Chemistry and Physics at Mount Allison, in 1883, he was apptd. Prof. of Chemistry and Mineral. in Queen's Univ., Kingston. In 1893 he was apptd. to his present position, Dir. of the Sch. of Mining, Kingston. Dr. G., in addition to many papers contributed to the scientific press, is the author of a "Text-book of Chemistry" (1887), and of a pamphlet on "Chemical Laws" (1893). He was elected a Fellow of the Royal Soc. of Can., 1890. He is a mem. of the Meth. Ch., and was m. 1885, to Christina Murray, dau. of Rev. Wm. Murray.—Kingston, Ont.

GOSSELIN, Rev. Auguste Honoré (R. C.), historian and biographer, is the s. of Joseph Gosselin, by his wife, Angele Labrie, a near relative of the late Dr. J. Labrie, M.P.P. B. at St. Charles de Bellechasse, P.Q., Dec. 29, 1843, he was ed. at the Quebec Semy. and at Laval Univ. (B.A., and Prince of Wales gold med., 1863; D.L., 1890). Ordained priest, 1866, he became Chancellor of Quebec Diocese, and was afterwards vicar at the Basilica. Apptd. curé of Ste. Jeanne de Neuville (Pont Rouge), 1869, he displayed such ability and activity in ch. work as to merit the special commendation of his ecclesiastical superiors. In 1886, at the request of Archbp. Taschereau, he undertook the preparation of the work published by him in 1890: "Vie de Mgr. de Laval, premier évêque de Québec et apôtre du Canada," 2 vols. in 8vo., pp. 1375, a work whose great merit was at once acknowledged by his receiving the hon. degree of Docteur es Lettres from Laval Univ., and by his election to the Royal Soc. of Can. Mr. G. became curé of St. Ferrèol, 1887, but, in 1893, gave up parochial work, to devote himself entirely to literature. He has on two occasions visited Europe, on the first occasion penetrating to Egypt and the Holy Land. His other publications include: "Tablettes Chronol. et Alphab. des Principaux Evènements de l'histoire du Can." (1887), "Les Normands du Can." (1892-1894), an account of the sacerdotal jubilee of Card. Taschereau (1892), a sketch of the life of Dr. Jacques Labrie (1893), "Observations apropos du P. le Jeune et de M. de Queylus" (1896), as well as various contributions to Le Can. Français (Quebec); La Rev. Can. (Mont.); La Rev. Cath. de Normandie. His election to the Can. Royal Soc. was synchronous with his election as a corr. mem. of the Soc. of Antiq. of Normandy, and of the Soc. of Agriculture, Sciences, Arts and Belles-Lettres of the Dept. of l'Eure. In 1897 he received the hon. degree of LL.D. from the Univ. of Ottawa.—St. Charles de Bellechasse, P.Q.

GOULD, Joseph, art critic, Montreal, was for some yrs. engaged in business in Montreal, at the head of the firm of Gould & Hill, pianoforte dealers. Although known as a writer and lecturer on music and art culture generally, his talents in this respect were not fully displayed until the publication of Arcadia in 1892, a fortnightly paper devoted to music, art and letters, of which he was ed. and prop. This paper was regarded as being in advance of the general culture of the mass of the Can. people, and for this reason was not as well supported as it should have been. It had for contributors many of the best writers and critics in the Provinces. Since it ceased publication, 1893, Mr. G. has written for other journals. He is a prominent office-bearer of the Handel and Haydn Soc. of Montreal, and otherwise seeks to promote a love for music. He has twice served as chairman of the Bd. of Exams. of the Royal Coll. of Music. In 1895, in acknowledgment of "signal services" rendered by him to the Montreal Art Assn., he was unanimously elected a life mem. of that body.—105 Mackay St., Montreal.

GOW, John Milne, author, was b. of Scotch parentage, at Perth, Scot., June 16, 1844, and was ed. at Dalhousie Coll., Halifax. He became a sch. teacher, 1864, and since then has been engaged in journalism. He is the author of "Cape Breton Illustrated" (1893), a work marked by ability and the strong personality of the writer. Encouraged by the success of this publication, he is now preparing another historical work: "The Puritan in Old and New England." He has occasionally entered the lecture field.—Lower La Have, N.S.

GOWAN, Hon. James Robert, statesman, is the only s. of the late Hy. Hatton Gowan, for many yrs. Depty. Clk. of the Crown and Pleas, Dist. of Simcoe, by Elizabeth Burkitt, his wife. B. at Cahore, Co. Wexford, Irel., Dec. 22, 1815, he received his early ed. in that country, and in 1832 accompanied his parents to Can. His first public act was in 1837, while a law student in Toronto, serving as a volunteer during the Rebellion. He was present in the fight with the rebels at "Gallows Hill," and was, in 1838, apptd. Lieut. 4th North York Regt. of Militia. In 1839, after his call to the bar, he entered into partnership with the Hon. J. E. Small, Sol.-Genl. of Can., with whom he had studied, and practised with him for 4 yrs., when he was apptd. Judge of the Dist. of Simcoe, Jan. 17, 1843, under the Baldwin-Lafontaine Govt. Few public men have as large a record of varied and honourable service to the State as Senator G., his services dating from the year of H. M.'s accession to the throne, and ever since he has held H. M.'s commissions and has been usefully employed in various ways. Now, at the age of 82, a Senator of Can., he remains in active service in the Dom. Parlt. During the long period of 60 yrs. he has been a continuous worker. When apptd. to the judicial office he was the youngest judge holding H. M.'s commission. His actual service on the bench was 41 yrs.; but after his retirement (Nov., 1883) upon his appt. to the Senate (Jan., 1885) he was elected to the position of Chairman of the Specl. Comte. on Divorce, the duties of which are judicial in character, and he was for some 10 sessions engaged in that work, so, it may be said, his judicial experience covers over half a century. His other services have been varied and continuous, eliciting frequent recognition and approval from the Govt., the bar, and educational and municipal authorities; and numerous addresses and testimonials were presented to him, bearing testimony to his services by those competent to form an opinion of his work. Besides the duties proper of the judicial office he held so long, his outside voluntary services, at the instance of Govt., were numerous and covered a variety of subjects, for the most part connected with legal improvements, e.g., the framing of Genl. Rules for the Div. Cts.; the settling of a tariff of fees for the profession and officers of all the Cts. in Ont. in co-operation with the judges of the Cts. of Q. B. and C. P.; the framing of rules of procedure, etc., under the enactment assimilating the law of Probate and Admn. to that of Eng. He was an active worker, in conjunction with Sir Henry Strong, C.J., Mr. Justice Gwynne and Mr. Justice Patterson, of the Supreme Ct., under a special comn. of enquiry into the constitution and jurisdiction of the several Cts. of law and equity in Ont., with a view to "the fusion of law and equity." In the several consolidations and revisions of the statute law of the country he took an active part, as, the consolidation of the statute law of U. C. from 32 Geo. III. to 22 Vic.; the statute law of Can. to 1859; in the Ont. Consolidation of 1877; in the preparation of the Criminal Law Consolidation Acts of 1869, introduced by Sir John A. Macdonald; and he was also consulted by and co-operated with Sir John Thompson in the important work of the Criminal Code for Can., 1892. In 1862 he was apptd. and acted as the judicial referee in the determination of long-standing differences between the Govt. of Can. and the contractors for the erection of the Parliamentary Buildings at Ottawa, and in 1873 was one of the 3 judges in the Royal Commission empowered to investigate charges against cabinet ministers in connection with the C. P. R. contract. He was for over 30 yrs., from time to time, employed in the confidential work of parliamentary and other drafting under successive Govts., at the instance of the Hon. Robert Baldwin, Sir W. B. Richards, the Hon. Sandfield Macdonald, the Right Hon. Sir John A. Macdonald, and other law officers of the Crown, and his voluntary aid therein was in after yrs. duly acknowledged by those for whom he acted. In 1869 he was apptd. by the Govt. Chairman of the Bd. of Judges in Ont., and held the office till 1888. In the cause of education he has been a continuous worker for some 60 yrs. as Trustee of the Barrie Grammar Sch., from 1843 to 1893. In 1844 he was apptd. Chairman of the Bd. of Public Instruction for the Dist., and held that position till 1871, when the system was changed. In 1871 he was elected Chairman of the Barrie High Sch. Bd., and in 1881 Chairman of the Coll. Inst. Bd., holding that position by yearly election till his resignation, 1892. In 1855 he founded the first law periodical in U. C. in conjunction with the Hon. Jas. Patton, yet in prosperous existence, and for yrs. was the chief contributor to the columns of that journal. In 1893 he was admitted a mem. of King's Inn, Dublin, and called to the Irish bar. In 1893 the Queen conferred upon him the rank of Companion of the most distinguished order of St. Michael and St. George, in recognition of his valuable services in the Dom. of Can. He is a Q. C. of Can., an LL.D. of Queen's Univ., Can., a Fellow of the Imp. Inst., and a V.-P. of the Can. Branch of the St. John's Ambulance Assn. The hon. gentleman is a dir. of the Can. GOWAN, Rev. Herbert Henry (Ch. of Eng.), was b. at Runham, Gt. Yarmouth, Eng., May 29, 1864, and ed. at the Priory Sch., Gt. Yarmouth, and at St. Augustine's Coll., Canterbury. He studied with the intention of proceeding to India for mission. work, especially devoting himself to Oriental languages, and became proficient in Sanscrit and Arabic, and took 1st class in the Oxford and Cambridge exams. for Holy Orders, 1886, leading the list of successful competitors in several subjects, including Hebrew. His health breaking down, he was forbidden to proceed to India, and in July, 1886, he went out to Honolulu, H.I., where he was ordained, Dec., 1886. Apptd. curate of the Cath., Honolulu, he subsequently commenced a Ch. of Eng. mission among the Chinese, which proved very successful. During his stay he became proficient in the Chinese language. He returned to Eng., 1890, became curate of Gt. Yarmouth, and worked as deputation for the Soc. for the Prop. of the Gospel. Proceeding to B. C., 1892, he was apptd. curate at the Cath., New Westminster. He subsequently formed the new parish of St. Barnabas, in that city, and in May, 1894, received the Crown appt. of Chaplain to the B. C. Penitentiary. Resigning these positions in 1896, he accepted the charge of the parish of Holy Trinity, Seattle, Olympia, Wash., where he has since been. Mr. G. has published "Temperantia," a volume of essays (1891), "The Paradise of the Pacific (1892), and "The Kingdom of Man," a volume of sermons (1893). He was Presdt., 1893-6, of the Royal City Art and Scien. Assn. (New Westminster), and gave some of his leisure time while in B. C. to the exploration of Indian mounds and to the botany of the Province. He was elected a F.R.G.S., 1895. He m. 1892, Anne Kate, dau. of G. E. Green, Gt. Yarmouth.—Seattle, Oly., Wash.

GRACE, John D., journalist, was b., of Irish parentage, in the village of Panmure, Ont., 1865. Ed. there, he learned the printing business at Carleton Place, and, for some time, was an editorial contributor to the Herald, published at that place. As an Irish Catholic, he from the first espoused the cause of Home Rule in the mother-country, and he has since never been backward in expressing his views, on this question. Coming to Ottawa, he joined the local press, and, in Nov., 1888, assisted by Father Whelan, Principal MacCabe, Frank McDougal, Geo. O'Keefe and others, founded United Canada, as an organ "to assist in the exposition, advocacy, sustainment and defence of Cath. principles and teachings, besides being an auxiliary of the Cath. hierarchy of Irel., in the cause of Irish legislative Ind." In 1890 he purchased the paper, which he has since continued to edit, assisted by several local clergymen. Mr. G. has manifested considerable independence in his treatment of such questions as the introduction of the ballot in separate sch. elections, the hierarchy and many of the clergy favouring open voting, while he and other laymen advocated a law which has since been passed, leaving the use of the ballot optional with the ratepayers whenever desired. For some yrs. he was Presdt. of the Ottawa St. Patrick's Literary Assn. —Russell House, Ottawa.

GRAHAM, Rev. Edward (Presb.) is the s. of Alex. Graham, by his wife, Margt. McEwen, both natives of Argyleshire, Scot., and latterly residents of Montreal. B. near Montreal, Apl., 1838, he was ed. at the High Sch. there, at McGill Univ., and at Knox Coll., Toronto (from which latter institution he received the degree of D.D., 1895). He also followed a special course in Higher Math., Chemistry and the Oriental Languages, at Toronto Univ. Dr. G. was licensed as a min., 1861, and was settled first in the co. of Waterloo, Ont., where he was also Supt. of Schs. Removing to the U. S., 1869, he was settled successively at Milwaukee and at Alameda and Santa Barbara, Cal. Since 1881, he has been stationed at Chico, in the latter State. Here he has been Moderator of the Synod, and for many yrs. a dir. of the San Francisco Theol. Semy. He was elected to the Presidency of the institution, 1894. Dr. G. has contributed to a great variety of journals and periodicals, and is the author of memorial and anniversary sermons and addresses, published at times of national interest. He m. GRAHAM, Henry, Dom. civil service, is a s. of Robt. and Emma E. Graham, and was b. in Shropshire, Eng., May 6, 1840. Ed. at Fredericton, he became a mem. of the Town and Co. Council, and was afterwards Mayor of St. Stephen and Warden of Charlotte. A Lib.-Con. in politics, he was apptd. Collr. of Customs at St. Stephen, Sept. 10, 1891. This office he still holds. He m. Sarah E., dau. of M. Colter, of Fredericton.—St. Stephen, N.B.; Union Club, St. John, N.B.

GRAHAM, Hugh, journalist and newspaper proprietor, is the s. of W. R. Graham, a Scottish landowner in Huntingdon, P.Q., and was b. at Athelstan, in that co., July 18, 1848. Ed. at the Huntingdon Acad., he served his apprenticeship in newspaper work under his uncle, the late E. H. Parsons, an old-time journalist, who published The Commercial Advertiser and afterwards The Evening Telegram in Montreal. On the discontinuance of the last-named paper, on which he had been engaged, Mr. G. became for a time Secy.-Treas. of the Gazette Printing Co. Later, in Jan., 1869, he, together with the late G. T. Lanigan ("Allid") and Marshall Scott (q.v.), commenced the publication of The Evening Star, a one cent daily, which, after yrs. of patient struggle, is now the best paying newspaper property in Can., with an average daily circulation of 45,500, and with a circulation for its weekly edition of over 87,000, the whole yielding the proprietor an average income of $45,000 a year. The full control of the Star soon passed entirely into Mr. G.'s hands, and from that time the paper's progress became more rapid and it began to acquire strong friends and a constituency of its own. In the early days most of his time was spent in promoting the commercial side of the venture, but his control of editorial policy and the news department has always been close and constant. He has devoted his whole life to the paper, and has made it what it is to-day, without the influence of any political party, without any sustained policy, and without being tied to fixed opinions on subject or question. In 1895 he established in connection with his paper The Star Almanac and Can. Year Book, which, while it lasted, well sustained the reputation of his establishment. Mr. G. was one of the founders of the Good Govt. Assn. of Montreal, and has done not a little in the cause of municipal and political reform. He is also a

dir. of the Soc. for the Protection of Women and Children, of the Can. Soc. for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, and is a leader in other organizations of a humane and benevolent character. In Jan., 1897, he started a fund for the relief of the famine stricken inhabitants of India, and succeeded in collecting over $71,000 in Can. for that purpose. His name has been sometimes mentioned in connection with a Senatorship. He is a mem. of the Presb. Ch., and m. Mch., 1892, Miss Annie Beekman Hamilton, formerly of Montreal.—918 Sherbrooke St., Montreal; St. James's Club.

GRAHAM, James Elliott, M.D., is the s. of Joseph and Anne Brown Graham, of the Gore, Toronto, and was b. at the family homestead, "Richview," June 12, 1847. He received his ed., preliminary to his Univ. course, at Weston Grammar sch. and U. C. Coll. In 1869 he was granted the degree of M.B. by Toronto Univ., being gold and star med. of that year, and the following year he took the degree of M.D. In 1869 he was apptd. resident physician in the Brooklyn City Hospital, which post he filled for one year, when he was apptd. surgeon without rank in the Prussian army, a position which he held throughout the Franco-Prussian war. After pursuing a post-graduate course of med. studies in Vienna, Austria, also in London, Eng., where he obtained the diploma of L.R.C.P., he returned to Toronto to commence practice, in 1872. He m. July 15, 1873, Mary Jane, 2nd dau. of the Hon. J. C. Aikins, Senator. In Aug., 1887, he was apptd. Prof. of Clinical Med. and Medical Path., and lecturer on Dermatol. in his Alma Mater, and, in 1892, succeeded Dr. Wright as Prof. of Med. Dr. G. was Presdt. of the Dom. Med. Assn. in 1887, of the Am. Dermatol. Assn., 1889, and is one of the original mems. of the Assn. of Am. Physicians. In 1893 he was made a mem. of the Royal Coll. of Physicians, London, and in 1895 was a second time elected a Senator of the Univ. of Toronto. In religious belief, he is a Meth.; politically, he is a Lib. Con.—134 Bloor St. E., Toronto; Toronto Club.

GRAHAM, John Hamilton, educationist and author, was b. at Overton, near Johnstone, Renfrewshire, Scot., Nov. 5, 1826, and belongs to an ancient Highland Scottish family. Ed. at the local parish sch., and at Johnstone Acad., he was about to enter Glasgow Univ., when compelled to accompany his family to Am. They settled in Orleans Co., Vt., where he continued his studies in the Academies of Croftsbury, St. Johnsbury and Derby, afterwards attending the Grammar Sch. and Univ. of Providence, R.I. Devoting himself to teaching, he became first Principal of Barton Acad., and was subsequently Principal of Northfield Institution. While in Vt., in addition to his other work, he conducted some of the earliest State Teachers' Insts., and co-operated in the work of founding the State Normal Schs. In 1858, out of several other calls, he accepted that to Richmond, P.Q., to become Master of the Grammar Sch., and Prof. of Math. in St. Francis Coll., there. He was transferred afterwards to the chair of Classics and Eng. Literature in the last-named institution, and became, at a later period, Principal of the same, a position he retained till 1872. Mr. G.'s term of service at the Coll. was particularly notable for his strict discipline and the thorough instruction received under him by a large number of young men from all parts of Ont. and Quebec, and from some portions of the U. S., as well. He was elected Presdt. of the St. Francis Teachers' Assn., and afterwards of the Provl. Assn. of Prot. Sch. Teachers, which latter body was founded at his instance. While occupying these positions he did much for the preservation of Prot. educational interests in P.Q., in concert with the late Sir A. T. Galt and others. After resigning his appt. at Richmond, he declined the Principalship of a western univ., and has since devoted himself to literary work and private teaching. Besides several brochures on educational matters, he is the author of a sch. arithmetic and of "The Outlines of the History of Freemasonry in the Province of Quebec" (1892). An enthusiastic Freemason, he aided materially in the formation of the Grand Lodge of Quebec, and was elected its first Grand Master, a position he occupied for 9 yrs. He was likewise elected first Grand Principal of the Grand Chapter of Royal Arch Masons in that Province. Subsequently, he obtained the necessary concessions from the Prince of Wales for the constitutional establishment of the Sovereign Great Priory of Knights Templar for the Dom., and he did like service for the establishment of the Sovereign Grand Body for the Dom. of the Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite of Freemasonry. He received the hon. degree of M.A. from the Univs. of Vermont and McGill Coll., and that of LL.D. from Norwich Univ., Vt. He is an adherent of the Presb. Ch., and a widower. Politically, a Lib., he unsuccessfully contested Richmond and Wolfe for the Ho. of Commons in that interest g. e. 1872.—Richmond, P.Q.

GRAHAM, Robert Archibald, railway manager and contractor, was b. at St. Catharines, Ont., July 19, 1857. Ed. there he entered the railway service 1877, becoming afterwards a contractor on the Esquimalt and Nan. Ry., B.C., and on the Caronado Ry., Southern Cal. In 1888 he went to Chili, South Am., where he was engaged in the building of railroads for the govt. there. In 1890-91 he built the Coos Bay, Roseburg and Eastern Ry., and has been genl. mangr. of this co. since its organization. In 1891-92 he built also the San Quintin Ry., Mexico.—Marshfield, Ore., U.S.A.

GRAHAM, Hon. Wallace, judge and jurist, is the s. of David Graham, by his wife, Mary Elizabeth Bigelow, and was b. at Antigonish, N.S., Jan. 15, 1848. Ed. at Acadia Coll. (B.A., 1867), he was called to the bar, 1871, and practised in Halifax, where he was a partner of (1) Robt. L. Weatherbe; (2) John S. D. Thompson and Chas. H. Tupper; and (3) of R. L. Borden and William F. Parker. He was created a Q.C. by the Marquis of Lorne, 1881, and was apptd. law agent in N. S. for the Mr. of Justice of Can., the same year. Subsequently, he was counsel for the Dom. Govt. in the prosecution of the Am. fishing vessel David J. Adams, and other cases, for violation of the fishery laws. In 1887-88 he was associate counsel with the late Sir John Thompson at Washington, in preparing the Brit. case presented to the Fishery Comn. which framed the Washington treaty of 1888, afterwards rejected by the Senate. He was a Comnr., with others, to consolidate and revise the Statutes of Can., 1883, was Presdt. for one year of the N. S. Bar Soc., and was apptd. a Judge of the Supreme Ct. of N. S., and Judge in Equity in that Ct., Sept. 24, 1889. His Lordship is one of the govs. of Dalhousie Coll., Halifax. In religious belief he is a Bapt. He m. GRANT, Capt. Charles Ward, H.M.'s York and Lancaster Regt., is the s. of Lt.-Col. Thos. Hunter Grant, formerly a well known and influential resident of the city of Quebec, and now residing in Eng., and was b. in Quebec, 1868. Ed. at King Edward's Sch., Worcestershire, Eng., at the Univ. of Cambridge, Eng., and at the French Coll., Brussels, he passed through the Sch. of Musketry at Hythe, through the Riding Sch. of the Royal Horse Arty., Aldershot, and through the Sch. of Instruction of the Grenadier Gds., receiving a cert. from each, and, in 1886, was gazetted to the York and Lancaster Regt., being promoted capt., Apl. 3, 1891. In 1894 he was apptd. to a command in the military constabulary at Accra, West coast of Africa. Unm. A thorough Britisher, he is a firm believer in Can. loyalty and patriotism, and strongly supports the unity of the Empire.—St. George's Club, Hanover Sq., London, Eng.; care National Bank of Scotland, do.

GRANT, The Very Rev. George Monro (Presb.), author and educationist, bro. of Rev. C. M. G., was b. at the Albion Mines, N.S., Dec. 22, 1835. Ed. at Pictou Acad. and at the West River Semy. of the Presb. Ch., he received a bursary in 1853, that entitled him to a course at the Univ. of Glasgow. His career there was distinguished by exceptional brilliancy. He was first in Classics, Moral Phil. and Chemistry, and carried off the Lord Rector's prize of 30 guineas for the best essay on Hindoo Lit. and Phil. Ordained to the ministry Nov., 1860, he returned to his native province, and in the following year was apptd. a mission. in Co. Pictou. Not long afterwards he was sent to Georgetown, P.E.I. In May, 1863, he accepted a call to the pastorate of St. Mathew's Ch., Halifax, where he remained for 14 yrs. While in Halifax he was a dir. of Dalhousie Coll., a trustee of the Theol. Semy., a mem. of various comtes. of Presb. and Synod, and chairman, secy. or mem. of many benevolent socs. He was also a zealous advocate of union in the Presb. Ch., and when that event was consummated he, as Moderator of the Kirk Synod, subscribed the articles in its name. In 1872 he accompanied the present Sir Sandford Fleming in his celebrated journey overland to B. C., as the result of which he published, 1873, "Ocean to Ocean," a work which has passed through several editions, and is still read with interest by young and old. This was the commencement of a line of authorship which he has since often followed. In 1877, he became Principal of Queen's Coll., Kingston, receiving in the same year the degree of D.D., from his Alma Mater. Owing to the withdrawal of the Govt. grant from the Univ., soon after Confederation, the finances of that institution were in a depressed state at the date of Dr. G.'s election. He at once set to work to raise an endowment fund, and succeeded in collecting the sum of $150,000, to which he has added at different times since, $250,000. His duties as Principal include the financial supervision of the Coll., the arrangement of the courses of instruction in all the faculties, in addition to his labours as Primarius Prof. of Theol. He belongs to the Lib. sch. of thought in the Presb. Ch., the meaning of which is that while he adheres to the cardinal doctrines of the Gospel, he desires to give the utmost freedom to individual thought and opinion within the limits of the fundamental basis of the Ch. He hopes to see further triumphs of the principles of union, taking the form of a federation of the great Prot. Chs. Politically, his sympathies are with causes and principles, and not with parties. He gave his support in N. S. to those who advocated and carried free schs. and the Confederation of the Provinces into a united Can. Sinçe that date he has supported every movement looking to the cultivation of Can. sentiment, the extension of trade on British lines, and the promotion of closer relations between the colonies and the mother land. In addition to "Ocean to Ocean," Dr. G. has published "New Year Sermons" (1865-66); "Reformers of the 19th Century," a lecture (1867); "Our Five Foreign Missions" (1887); "Advantages of Imperial Federation" (1889); "Our National Objects and Aims" (1890); "The Religions of the World in Relation to Christianity" (1894); and "The Religions of the World" (1895). He has also edited "Picturesque Canada" (1882), the handsomest and best illustrated book that has ever been issued from the Can. press, and has written frequently for Eng., Am., and Can. mags. In 1888, he went on a journey around the world, lecturing in Australia and other places by the way. In 1889 he was elected Moderator of the Genl. Assembly of the Presb. Ch. in Can.; in the same year he was elected Presdt. of the Imp. Federation League, Kingston. In 1891, he was elected Presdt. of the Royal Soc. of Can., and in 1894, he was elected Presdt. of the St. Andrew's Soc., Kingston, to which office he was re-elected in 1895-96. He is also an hon. V.-P., under the Earl of Aberdeen, of the Boys' Brigade in Can., and hon. Chaplain, 47th Batt., V. M. He has been apptd. a del. to every meeting of the Pan. Presb. Council, since the great meeting which was held in Philadelphia. He received the hon. degree of LL.D., from Dalhousie Univ., Halifax, 1892. He m. 1872, Jessie, dau. of Wm. After graduation he removed to Ottawa, where he speedily took the lead in his profession, a position he has maintained throughout. On the removal there of the seat of govt., 1865, he was apptd. physician to the then Gov.-Genl., Viscount Monck, and he has likewise been physician to each and every of his successors in office up to the present time, including the Marquis of Lorne and the Princess Louise. He has been repeatedly elected to the Med. Council of Ont., and was elected Presdt., 1868. Later, he was elected Presdt. of the Can. Med. Assn. Dr. G. was a mem. of the Intern. Med. Congress at Philadelphia, 1876, and was elected a V.-P. of that body in the dept. of surgery. He is an hon. mem. of the Am. Acad. of Med., an hon. mem. of the Brit. Med. Assn., a Fellow of the Geol. Soc., a Fellow of the Royal Soc. of Can., and a corr. mem. of the Assn. dei Benemeriti Italiani of Palermo, and was awarded a gold medal by that body in recognition of his standing in med. science. He has been V.-P. of the National League, V.-P. of the Med. Congress of the World, Washington, 1887, Presdt. of the Ottawa Valley Graduates' Assn. of McGill Univ., Presdt. of the Ottawa Art Assn., and Presdt. of the Lit. and Scientific Soc. of Ottawa. More than once he has declined nomination to the Mayoralty of Ottawa. At present he is a dir. of the Brit. Empire Finance Corporation, and a trustee of Queen's Univ. He was one of the founders of St. Luke's Hospital, Ottawa, 1897. His contributions to med. periodical literature, including the Can. Lancet, the Can. Med. Journal and the Brit. Med. Journal, and Med. Times and Gazette, London, have been numerous and important. He sat for Russell in the Ho. of Commons, 1867-74, when defeated, and for Ottawa city in same chamber, 1893-96. While in Parlt. he introduced the original Bill providing for the construction of the Can. Pac. Ry. He was also one of the earliest advocates for the acquisition of B. C. and the N. W. T., and moved in the direction of securing the organization of a med. dept. in connection with the V. M. service of Can,, and for the holding of a Dom. Sanitary Exposn. in the interest of Can. In religious faith, an adherent of the Presb. Ch.; politically, he is a Con. In acknowledgment of his professional services and scientific attainments, he was created a K.C.M.G. by Her Majesty, 1887. Sir James G. favours the establishment of a marine Biological Station for Can., as well as a National Museum at Ottawa, and a central registration at the capital for all Can. graduates in med., doing away with the conflicting provl. licensing system of the present day. GRAY, Major Henry Alfred, C.E., was b. at Edgbaston, near Birmingham, Eng., Nov. 21, 1843, and is the s. of Edmund A. Gray, for many yrs. a prominent educationist connected with the Ang. Ch.; and also an artist of considerable repute, whose paintings were exhibited by the Soc. of Arts, of which he was a mem. He gave his son his first lesson in Math. Drawing. The ancestors of the family, on the father's side, are Scottish. The paternal grandfather was attached to the Brit. Embassy at Moscow, Russia, for a number of yrs. Ed. under Dr. Chas. Baker, at Doncaster, Yorkshire, and, at Saltley Coll., near Birmingham, Mr. G. was intended for the Ang. ministry, but not finding in himself a vocation therefor, he entered the service of the Midland Ry. of Eng., where he served as a student engr., etc., under the late Sir Jas. Allport. In 1863 he terminated his connection with the ry., having passed the necessary exam. for the Royal Engrs., and proceeded to Bombay, India, on special service. He was afterwards stationed in the W. I., 1864-66; came to Can. in 1886, joined the Engineering staff on Exploratory Surveys of the Interc. Ry., and acted on surveys and location till 1871, as asst. engr. In 1871 he was apptd. by the commissioners, engr. in charge of the construction of the N. S. sec. of the Ry. In 1873, upon the completion of the road, he was apptd. upon the staff of the Public Works Dept. of Can. as engr. of permanent way on the Interc. Ry., and held this charge until 1875. From 1875 to 1878 he was Chief Engr. of the Cape Breton Co.'s Rys., completing the narrow gauge line from Sydney to Louisburg; was also Consulting Engr. for the Londonderry Iron and Steel Works, N.S.; engr. in charge of the Western Co.'s Ry. construction in N. S., and City Engr. of Dartmouth, N. S. designing and laying out the proposed water works and other improvements for that city. He was apptd. to the Public Works Dept. of Can., under Sir Chas. Tupper, 1878, and transferred to the dept., under Sir H. L. Langevin, 1879. From 1879 to 1886 he was in charge of Western Ont. (Lake Dist.), residing at Stratford, where, as a citizen, he was the first Presdt. of the Art Sch. and mem. of the High Sch. Bd. as well as the Separate Sch. Bd. In 1886 he was called to Ottawa and apptd. Asst. Chief Engr. of the Dept. of Public Works, and during 1886-87, examined and reported upon the Rideau River floods and proposed canal; also, the saw-dust obstructions in the Ottawa River, giving evidence on the same before a Comte. of the Senate. In 1887, he was admitted a mem. of the Can. Soc. of C. E., having been one of the most active workers in promoting the establishment of this Soc. From 1888 to 1889, he was Resident Supdt. Engr., Public Works of Can., Maritime Provinces. In 1889, he was recalled to take charge of the Dist. of Western Ont. In 1890, as a mark of his high professional standing, he was nominated, by the late Sir Jas. Allport, and admitted to the full membership of the Inst. of Civil Engrs., London, Eng. Major G. designed and built the large coll. at Memramcook, N.B., and several chs. and convents in towns where he was stationed from time to time, and a splendid gothic ch. at Truro, N.S., is also his work. In 1886, he became a Freemason of the Scottish Rite, and held the chair, as master, till he became a R. C., 1887. In addition to holding other offices, Major G. is a mem. of the St. Vincent de Paul Soc., and is a chancellor and an active mem. of the C.M.B.A. He takes much interest in the cause of education. GREENWAY, Hon. Thomas, statesman, is the eld. s. of the late Thos. Greenway, by his wife, Elizabeth Heard. B. in Cornwall, Eng., Mch. 25, 1838, he came to Can. with his parents, 1844, and received his education in the Pub. Schs. of the Tp. of Stephen, Co. Huron, Ont., where his father had taken up land. He was afterwards a general merchant at Centralia. Elected reeve of the tp., 1867, he served in that capacity for 10 yrs. Turning his attention to politics, he was, on two occasions, an unsuccessful candidate for the representation of South Huron in the Ho. of Commons. On the sitting mem. being unseated, he was elected for the riding, Feb., 1875, by acclamation, and went to Ottawa as an Ind. He sat there until the close of the 3rd Parlt., 1878, when he declined renomination. In the same year he removed to Man., where he purchased a farm of 800 acres, which he has since cultivated successfully. At the g. e. 1879, he was returned by acclamation to the Legislature for the constituency of Mountain, and has been re-elected at every succeeding appeal to the people. In 1887 he became leader of the Lib. Opposition in the Assembly, and on the resignation of the Harrison Govt., Jan., 1888, was entrusted with the formation of a new admn. He has been in office ever since. In his address to the electors, not long before his assumption of office, he foreshadowed the policy which would govern him in office, viz.: (1) firm stand for provl. rights; (2) most determined and continued opposition to monopoly; (3) increassed subsidy and acquisition of public lands, or securing an equivalent to place us relatively in the same position as other provinces of the Dom.; (4) use of every legitimate influence to remove the excessive burdens laid upon the people by way of contribution to the Dom. Exchequer; (5) utmost liberality in dealing with those who are willing to undertake construction of rys.; (6) immediate acquisition of our school lands, proceeds of which shall form funds for the promotion of education; (7) most rigid economy and careful supervision in expenditure of public money; (8) extension of boundaries of the province, when we are in a position to overtake our present responsibilities upon such terms as will be advantageous. His legislation, as leader of the Man. Govt., includes the following measures: "An Act respecting the Northern Pac. and Man. Ry. Co.," "An Act respecting an Institution for the Education and Instruction of Deaf and Dumb," "An Act providing for the Incorporation of Butter and Cheese Manuf. Assns.," "An Act providing for a Home for Incurables and Asylum in Brandon," "An Act providing for the Extension of the Can. Pac. Ry. to the Souris Coal Fields," "An Act providing that the Eng. GRENFELL, Wilfrid T., physician, who has had so much to do with the Labrador Deep-Sea mission, is described by one who knew him well as "a skilled and able surgeon, and as having been well-known at Oxford and in London as a hardy athlete." He was profoundly interested in mission work, and the sea had for him that magical attraction which, a few centuries ago, emptied nearly every little cove and fishing hamlet in Cornwall and Devon of its heartiest men, and carried them over the high seas to the ends of the earth. Dr. G. was the first med. man to go to the fishermen, and he has lived 12 yrs. among them, first in the German Ocean, and afterwards on the Labrador coast. He came first to Labrador, 1892, in the mission ship Albert. His report led to her return in 1893. With assistance obtained in Newfoundland, Can. and Eng., two hospitals, fully equipped, were erected, one at Battle Harbour and one at Indian Harbour, much farther north. A doctor and trained nurse were placed in charge of each. The Albert cruised along the coast during the fishing season, Dr. G. ministering to the sick and relieving the poor with donations of clothing, and in some cases, of food. The severe cases were carried to the hospitals. No less than 2493 cases up to 1894 were treated. In that year Sir D. A. Smith presented to the Mission a steam yacht 80 ft. long, to be employed in visiting the different fishing stations in charge of Dr. G. More recently (1897) a lady resident of Toronto has presented a second launch to the mission. Dr. G. has written his experiences in "The Vikings of To-day: or, Life and Medical Work among the Fishermen of Labrador" (1895).

GRENIER, Amédée Léonidas Wolfred, Q.C., is the s. of the late Jerome Grenier, wholesale dry goods merchant, Montreal, by his wife, M. Perrault. B. in Montreal, Oct. 12, 1840, he was ed. at St. Mary's (Jesuit) Coll., graduated B.C.L. at McGill Univ., 1863, and was called to the bar the same year. Since then he has been in active practice in all the local courts, and also in the Supreme Ct., at Ottawa. For 16 yrs. he was the business partner of Hon. J. J. C. (now Mr. Justice) Curran. He was created a Q. C. by the Earl of Derby, 1889. An old-time Con., he fought in years past under the banner of Sir G. E. Cartier. At present he agrees with the general policy of the Con. party, but he has not hesitated to act independently in reference to certain matters and transactions which he could not conscientiously uphold, and also in reference to certain men in the party whom he considered unworthy of a place therein. GRIER, Edmund Wyly, painter, was b. in Melbourne, Australia, Nov. 26, 1862, and is the s. of Chas. Grier, L.R.C.P. He came to Can.,

1876, and was ed. at U. C. Coll. In 1879, he went to London, Eng. to study under Legros at the Slade Sch. of Art. He spent the year 1882 in Can., but from the winter of that year until 1886, he worked at Julian's, in Paris, and in the Scuola Libera, Rome. In Paris, his drawing gained high commendation from Robt. Fleury, the friend and adviser of Marie Bashkirtseff. He exhibited his first picture in the Royal Acad., 1886, and his fine picture of the Hon. Edward Blake in his robes as Chancellor of the Univ. of Toronto, exhibited 1895, is the sixth from Mr. G.'s brush which has gained admission at Burlington Ho. Mr. G. is a mem. of the Royal Can. Acad., his diploma picture, "Fifty Years Ago," being now in the National Gallery, Ottawa. Among the comns. entrusted to him at various times have been a full length portrait of Prof. Goldwin Smith, for the Bodleian Library, Oxford; a portrait of Chief Justice Sir W. R. Meredith, for the Ont. Law Soc.; full-lengths of Sir Allen McNab and J. Ross Robertson, for the Can. Masonic Assn.; and a full-length of the Hon. Edward Blake, for the Toronto Genl. Trusts Co., which was presented to the Ont. Legislature, 1897. His picture, "Bereft," was awarded a medal at the Paris Salon, 1890. He is Dir. of Fine Art at Havergal Hall, Toronto, and lectures occasionally for the Woman's Art Assn. During its existence, he wrote art notes for The Week. He was gazetted 2nd Lieut. GRIFFIN, Martin Joseph, Dom. public service, was b. in St. John's, Nfd., Aug. 7, 1847, and at an early age accompanied his parents to Halifax, N.S. Ed. at St. Mary's Coll., Halifax (B.A., 18—), he was called to the bar, with a 1st class cert., 1868, and practised his profession in Halifax. In 1873, he was chosen asst. to Hon. Jas. McDonald, Q.C., now Chief-Justice of N. S., in the preparation of his case as counsel for that Province, before the Halifax Fishery Comn. He wrote early for the press, and for some yrs. was connected with the Halifax Chronicle. In 1868, he became ed. of the Express, the local Con. organ, continuing in that position till 1874. In that year he unsuccessfully contested Halifax as one of the Con. candidates for a seat in the Legislature. From 1878 to 1879, he was Private Secy. to the Hon. Jas. McDonald at Ottawa, resigning to take the post of editorial representative of the Toronto Mail at the Federal capital. In 1880, he was selected Secy. of the Royal Comn. apptd. to enquire into the condition of the C. S. In Apl. of the following year, he was called to Toronto to occupy the chief editorial chair of the Mail, then the leading organ of the Con. party in Ont. On resigning that position, Aug., 1885, to take the parliamentary librarianship at Ottawa, which he has since held, he was entertained at dinner at the Albany Club and presented by the Mail staff with a service of plate. Mr. G. has contributed to nearly all the Can. mags. of his time, and has likewise written for Blackwood, Punch, The Forum, and other high class Eng. and Am. serials. He is known also as the writer of the entertaining series of articles devoted to literary criticism, which appear every Saturday in the Montreal Gazette, under the general heading, "At Dodsley's." GRIFFITH, John, actor, was b. in Hamilton, Ont., Sept. 5, 1868. Ed. at Springfield, Ill., to which city his father had removed, he subsequently studied law, but at 16 went upon the stage. He received his professional training under Messrs. D. P. Bowers and Danl. E. Bandmann. After playing under Edwin Booth and others, he essayed to appear as a "star." In 1895, he travelled at the head of a co. of his own, producing Sir Hy. Irving's versions of "The Bells," "Chatterton," the "Fool's Revenge," and "Faust," and was spoken of as "the greatest living Mephisto" on the Am. stage.

GRISDALE, The Right Rev. John, Ang. Bishop of Qu'Appelle, is the s. of Robt. and Alice Grisdale, and was b. at Bolton, Lancashire, Eng., June 25, 1845. Ed. at the Ch. Miss. Coll., London, he was ordained to the priesthood in St. Paul's Cath., by the Bp. of London, 1872. After taking deacon's orders, he went to India, and became a master in St. John's Coll., Agra, and afterwards asst. min. at the Old Ch., Calcutta. Returning to Eng., he was curate at Broomfield, near Chelmsford, 1872. In the following year he came to Man., since when he has held the following appts., viz.: incumbent of St. Andrew's and asst. financial secy. of the C. M. S. for Rupert's Land, 1873; incumbent of Holy Trinity, Winnipeg, 1874-76; incumbent of Christ Ch., do., 1876-82; Prof. of Systematic Theol., St. John's Coll., and canon in St. John's Cath., 1874-82; Dean of Rupert's Land and Prof. of Pastoral Theol., St. John's Coll., 1882-96. He was also Prolocutor of the Eccles. Province of Rupert's Land, and Depy.-Prolocutor of the Genl. Synod of Can. In Aug., 1896, he was elected by the Synod of Man. and the N. W. T. 3rd Bp. of Qu'Appelle, his consecration taking place the same month in Winnipeg. While in Man. he held many important positions in addition to those already mentioned, and led a most active and useful life. He has been a mem. of the Council of the Univ. of Man., from its inception, and an examr. in Eng. during the same period. He received the degree of B.D. from the Archbp. of Canterbury for special services, 1875; and is also a D.D. (Man. Univ.) and a D.C.L. (Trin. Coll., Toronto). In 1895 he was a del. from the Genl. Synod of Can. to the Genl. Convention of the Prot.-Epis. Ch. of the U. S., and in 1897 he attended the Lambeth Conf., London. Although a life-long Con., His Lordship does not favour protection, but would support instead modified tariff reform. As regards public education, he thinks morality should have a religious basis. He m. Nov., 1871, Miss Ann Chaplin, of Leicestershire. —Indian Head, N. W. T.

GYE, Madame Marie Louise Emma Cecile ALBANI-, vocallst, is the dau. of Joseph Lajeunesse, of the ancient family of St. Louis, by his wife, Mélina Mignault. Her grandmother, Rachel McCutcheon, came to Can. from N. Y. at an early age. B. at Chambly, P.Q., Sept. 27, 1847, she was ed. at an Eng. sch. at Plattsburg, N.Y., and at the Convent of the Sacred Heart, Sault au Récollet, P.Q., but her first musical training came from her father, who was himself a skilful musician. At the age of 7, Mdlle. Lajeunesse made her first appearance in public at the Mechanics' Hall, Montreal, under the auspices of several of the leading citizens of that city. At 15, she went to Saratoga Springs, where she was offered the position of organist by Vicar-Genl. Conroy, later Bp. of Albany, becoming also prof. of singing and the piano in the Sacred Heart Convent at Kellwood. There she laboured for 3 yrs., till by her own savings and those of her father, the help of the Bp., the proceeds of a concert and $300 presented to her by the ch.-wardens for services rendered, she left for Paris, for a more thorough instruction and cultivation of her voice than she could hope to receive in Am. At Paris, Mad. Lafitte introduced her to Prince Poniatowski, who advised her to go to Milan, with the view of studying under Lamperti, for Italian opera. Several yrs. of hard study followed, till at last, in 1870, she made her début at Messina, under the name of Albani. Immediately afterwards she sang at Malta, and then, in the winter of 1871-72, at the Theatre of La Pergola, Florence. Her crowning effort was in the "Mignon" of Ambroise Thomas, already condemned in 4 theatres in Italy, but which in Mad. Albani's hands obtained the complete success which all the parts identified with her have met with. When her fame was established in Italy, she appeared at the Royal Italian Opera in London, 1872, and since then has been a great favorite in Eng. In St. Petersburgh, Paris, Berlin, and most of the European capitals, as well as in the U. S., she has been received with equal enthusiasm, and she is to-day certainly one of the most popular singers in the world. In 1883, and thrice subsequently, she made a tour of the U. S. and Can., and in May, 1886, sang the ode written by Tennyson for the opening of the Col. and Ind. Exhn. in London. Her favourite opera is "Othello," and she is said to have learned the music in a fortnight. In 1895, she assumed the role of "Edith" in the new Eng. opera of "Harold," and in 1896, appeared in Wagner's "Tristan and Isolde." Mad. A. has sung frequently before the Queen and other crowned heads of Europe, and on the occasion of Queen Victoria's Jubilee, 1887, received a valuable gift from Her Majesty, consisting of a model in pure gold of the figure of victory, designed by the Countess Feodora Gleichen. A scroll across the figure bears the word, "Victoria," in precious stones. In Oct., 1890, after singing at Balmoral before the Queen and the Royal Family, Her Majesty was pleased to give Albani a further proof of her friendly interest and regard by presenting her with a valuable picture containing portraits of the whole of the Royal Family. The Emperor of Germany, not long afterwards, presented her with a gold curb bracelet, having a painted miniature of the young Kaiser in the centre, surrounded with rubies and brilliants. In 1897, she was awarded the gold Beethoven medal by the London Philharmonic Soc., as "a mark of appreciation by the Soc. of her exceptional genius and musical attainments, and of her generous and artistic nature." Besides singing in opera, Mad. A. has studied specially oratorio singing, and she is now acknowledged to be the first oratorio singer in Eng., and is engaged at all the principal festivals. She m. 1878, Ernest Gye, theatrical manager, and has one son, who is being educated for his mother's profession. It may be well to state here that the adoption by her of the stage name of Albani, had nothing to do with the city of Albany. It was the maestro Lamperti who suggested it at Milan: "You must have an Italian name," he said. "Why not take that of Albani? It is the name of an old and almost extinct family, the only surviving mem. being an aged Cardinal, and he is so pious and so much of a recluse that he will never hear of anything so worldly as grand opera; and beside, if he does hear of it, you will make the name so famous that he will be glad and proud of it." It was in this way that she assumed her well-known nom de theatre. Mad. A.'s father still lives at Chambly. She has also a bro., the Rev. Adélard Lajeunesse, who is curé at St. Calixte de Kilkenny, P.Q.—16 The Boltons, South Kensington, London, Eng.; Old Mar Lodge, Braemar, Scot.

GZOWSKI, Col. Sir Casimir Stanislaus, was b. in St. Petersburg, Russia, Mch., 1813. He is the s. of a Polish nobleman, Stanislaus, Count Gzowski, who was an officer of the Imp. Guard. Destined for a military career, he, at the age of 9, entered the Mil. Engineering Coll. at Kremnitz, where he remained until 1830. He there evinced a strong liking for engineering, and, on his graduation, received a commission in that branch of the service. When the Polish revolution against the rule of Constantine took place, young G. threw up all his prospects in the army, and took his place in the ranks of his fellow-patriots. He was present at the Polish triumph in Warsaw, and took part in the engagements which followed, being several times wounded, and having, on more than one occasion, narrow escapes from the hands of the Russian forces. When the final catastrophe occurred, at the battle of Boremel, Genl. Dwernecki, to whose div. Mr. G. was attached, surrendered, and the officers were imprisoned in the fortifications for several mths., being afterwards exiled to the U. S. The rank and file were allowed to depart. Mr. G. landed in N. Y., 1833, and there found himself at a considerable disadvantage on account of his ignorance of the Eng. language. He was, however, endowed with an indomitable will, and he set himself to the study of the Eng. tongue with the same resolution which has characterized him throughout his career. Being an excellent linguist, and having a thorough knowledge of French, Italian, and German, he gave lessons for several months, after which he went to Pittsfield, Mass., where he entered a law office. During this time he applied himself to a study of the Eng. language, and in 1837 he was admitted to the bar. He went to Penn., where, as a necessary preliminary to admission to the Supreme Ct., he took the oath of allegiance. He had, however, little inclination for the study of law, and, in 1841, he came to Toronto, where he obtained employment in the Dept. of Public Works. He was successively Supdg. Engr. of Roads and Harbours in Western Ont., 1842-48; Engr. of Harbour Works at Montreal, 1850-53; and Consulting Engr., ship channel improvement between Montreal and Quebec, 1850-53. At a later period he became Chief Engr. of the St. Lawrence and Atlantic Ry. Co. This position he resigned to form a partnership with the late Sir A. T. Galt, L. H. Holton and Sir David Macpherson, for the purpose of ry. construction. The firm had the contract for the building of the Grand Trunk Ry. between Toronto and Sarnia, besides some other important works. In 1870, he was apptd. a mem. of a comn. to enquire into and report upon the water commns. of the Dom. In the following year he became Engr. of the Internl. bridge across the Niagara, and he was also called upon to report on the enlargement of the Welland canal and on the Baie Verte canal scheme. Col. G. has always taken a deep interest in mil. affairs. He was Presdt. for some yrs. of the Dom. Rifle Assn., and was instrumental in sending the first Can. team to Wimbledon. He was made a lt.-col. in 1872, a full col. in 1879, and in the same year was apptd. an hon. A.D.C. to the Queen. In 1890, in recognition of "valuable services rendered to the Dom. of Can.," he was created a K.C.M.G. In Nov., 1896, he served as Administrator of the Govt. of Ont. Sir C. has never entered public life, though often pressed to do so. Politically, he inclines to Conservatism, and favours what is known as Imp. Federation. In religious faith, he is a mem. of the Ch. of Eng. He was the first Presdt. of the Soc. of Can. C. E., and he was also the first chairman of the Niagara Falls Park Comn. He was for some yrs. Presdt. of the Toronto Club; V.-P. of the Ont. Bank; and Presdt. of the London and Can. Loan and Agency Co. He is now Presdt. of the Corporation of Wycliffe Coll. He m. Oct., 1839, Miss Maria Beebe, dau. of an eminent Am. physician. Lady G. is a V.-P. of the Y.W.C.A., Toronto.—"The Hall," Toronto; Toronto Club.

HAGARTY, Hon. Sir John Hawkins, retired Judge, is the s. of Matthew Hagarty, for many yrs. Examr. of the Ct. of Prerogatives, Irel. B. in Dublin, Irel., Dec. 17, 1816, he was ed. at Trinity Coll., in that city, but while still an undergraduate abandoned his academic course and came to Can. He became a resident of Toronto, 1835, and was called to the bar there, 1840. He practised in partnership with the late John Crawford, Q.C., afterwards Lt.-Gov. of Ont., and took a high place in his profession. He was elected Presdt. of the St. Patrick's Soc., 1846, became an Ald., 1847, and was subsequently Presdt. of the Can. Inst. He was also for some time a mem. of the Law Faculty, Trinity Univ., Toronto, from which institution he received the hon. degree of D.C.L., 1855. Created a Q. C. by Lord Elgin, 1850, he was raised to the bench as a Puisne Judge of the Common Pleas, Feb. 5, 1856, and became a Judge of the Ct. of Queen's Bench, Mch. 19, 1862. He was apptd. Chief-Justice of the Common Pleas, Nov. 12, 1868, Chief-Justice of the Queen's Bench, Nov. 13, 1878, and Presdt. of the Ct. of Appeal and of the Supreme Ct. of Judicature, with the title of Chief-Justice of Ont., May 6, 1884. His Lordship served as Admr. of the Govt. of Ont., 1882, and after declining knighthood, 1887, accepted it on the occasion of the Queen's Diamond Jubilee, 1897. In his youth he contributed some beautiful poems to the Maple Leaf, Toronto. He is likewise the author of a pamphlet on Law Reform, and of "A Legend of Marathon," a poem, printed for private circulation, 1888. He retired from the Bench, Apl., 1897, and on that occasion was presented with an address from the Bench and Bar of Ont., expressing their appreciation of his long service in the Judiciary of the Province. B. near Port Hope, 1838, he entered the ry. service, 1887, since which time he has been: 1887 to 1888, Presdt. Colorado Midland Ry., having organized this co. and built the road from Colorado Springs across the Rocky Mts. to Aspen, Col.; 1888 to date, dir. of same road; 1890, built the Pecos Valley Ry. in New Mexico from Pecos City to Eddy, N.M., and is Presdt. and dir. of same; and, in 1894, he extended the road from Eddy to Roswell, N.M.—Colorado Springs, Col., U.S.

HAGGART, Hon. John Graham, politician, is the s. of the late John Haggart, a native of Breadalbane, Scot., who came to Can. in the twenties, and was afterwards a successful miller at Perth, Ont., by his wife, Isabella Graham, of the Isle of Skye. B. in Perth, Ont., Nov. 14, 1836, he was ed. in his native place, and early turned his attention to milling. Entering the town council, he became Mayor of Perth, and, in 1867, in 1869, and again in 1871, unsuccessfully attempted to secure a seat in the Provl. Legislature. On the appt. of the late Hon. Alex. Morris to be Chief-Justice of Man., 1872, Mr. H. was elected to succeed him as the representative of South Lanark in the Ho. of Commons, and has continued to hold that seat up to the present time (Vote: g. e. 1896, Haggart, C., 1939; Ferguson, I., 1560). He became Postmaster-Genl. in Sir John Macdonald's Govt., Aug. 6, 1888. He continued to hold that office under Sir John Abbott till Jan. 11, 1892, when he was transferred to the Dept. of Railways and Canals, and so remained under Sir John Thompson, Sir Mackenzie Bowell and Sir Chas. Tupper up to the retirement of the Con. party from power, July, 1896. After the elevation of Sir Mackenzie Bowell to the Senate, Dec., 1892, he assumed the leadership of the Ont. Cons. in the Ho. of Commons, and on the death of Sir John Thompson, Dec., 1894, his name was mentioned in connection with the Premiership, the Toronto Mail declaring, that "as between Mr. Bowell and Mr. Haggart, the latter would be the safer man for the party." He was one of the "nest of traitors," who was charged by his leader, Sir M. Bowell, with deserting him, Jan., 1896. While in charge of the Rys. and Canals he succeeded in running the Intercol. Ry. during the fiscal year, 1892 93, with a surplus over all expenses. He also completed the construction of the Sault Ste. Marie Canal, the last link in the chain of Can. canals connecting the great lakes with the St. Lawrence. After the Trent affair, 1861, he organized a co. of volunteers at Perth, of which he was apptd. capt. He was elected Chairman of the Ex. of the Lib.-Con. Union of Ont., Oct., 1896. "A young, earnest and intelligent man, who has done good service in the Ch."—Witness.

HAGUE, George, bank manager, belongs to an old Yorkshire family. In fact, in the profession by which he is generally known he had several predecessors. Three of his relatives, on the mother's side, were managers of the local bank in the manufacturing town where he was brought up. B. at Rotherham, Yorkshire, Eng., 1825, he was ed. at his native place, and commenced his business career in the office of the Sheffield Banking Co. Coming to Can., 1854, as the financial mangr. for a firm of ry. contractors, he, after 2 yrs., accepted the appt. of accountant at headquarters in the newly organized Bank of Toronto. Promoted mangr. of the Cobourg branch, 1860, he was recalled to Toronto, in 1863, to succeed the late Angus Cameron as cashier of the bank. While holding this office Mr. H. took an active part in all matters relating to the polity of banking, and, in co-operation with other bankers and with mems. of Parlt., offered an unflinching resistance to the proposal of the then Govt. to change the basis of the circulation of the banks. These exertions were crowned with success, the govt. scheme being withdrawn after being 2 sessions before Parlt. and another scheme introduced and carried in the nature of a compromise. Intending to devote his future yrs. entirely to religious and philanthropic work, he retired from the service of the Bank of Toronto at the end of the year 1876. Not long afterwards, the Merchants' Bank of Can., as the result of errors committed in connection with its management, found itself in a position of serious embarrassment. Mr. H. was urgently requested to take charge of the bank and extricate it from its difficulties. Abandoning his own inclinations, he did so, becoming genl. mangr. of the bank, 1877. After a thorough examination of the situation, he decided that the best course was to reduce the capital stock, which was impaired, and start afresh. This was done, and by constant attention and unremitting care on his part, along with the active co-operation of an able Bd. of Dirs., the institution was brought slowly forward, until it stands to-day in the forefront of Can. banking institutions. Notwithstanding his exacting official labours, Mr. H. has found time to serve his country in other directions. For many yrs. he has contributed extensively to the press on banking and financial subjects. He is the author of a lecture on "Modern Business" (1879), of a paper on "Banking," read before the Brit. Assn. (1884), of several papers read before the Am. Bankers' Assn. at various times, and of "Personal Reminiscences of the late E. H. King" (1896). Elected Presdt. of the Y.M.C.A., Montreal, he has served also as Chairman of the Cong. Coll. of B.N.A., and contributed largely to its building in Montreal. A dir. of the Soc. for the Protect. of Women and Children, he is also a dir. of the Prot. Hospital for the Insane, and of the Boys' Home, a gov. of the Ho. of Industry and Refuge, a gov. of the Robt. Jones Con. Hospital, a gov. of the Montreal Genl. Hospital, and a gov. of the Antiq. and Numis. Soc., a V.-P. of the U. C. Bible Soc., and a V.-P. of the Lord's Day Alliance. Mr. H. is also a dir. of the Guarantee Co. of North Am., and a gov. of McGill Univ. He was one of the founders of the Good Govt. Assn., Montreal, and was the first presdt. of that body. He likewise assisted in founding the Can. Bankers' Assn., and was elected its first presdt. He has been for some yrs. a gov. of the Diocesan Coll. of Montreal, and contributed $5,000 to its Endowment Fund, as part of a general movement towards its augmentation. Mr. H. for many yrs. has taken a very active interest in the Y.M.C.A. of Montreal, as he did formerly in Toronto, and in 1895 was largely instrumental by his contribution in procuring for the McGill Coll. branch of the Assn. the building it now owns opposite the Coll. grounds. In 1891 he was apptd. a mem. of the Comn. to examine the Civil Service, and being elected Chairman spent several mths., along with the other mems. of the Comn., in laborious investigations and examinations, the result of which is embodied in the exhaustive report presented by the Comn. in 1892. Mr. H. has never taken an active part in politics, beyond making strenuous efforts, along with other citizens, with the Legislature of Quebec, to keep the borrowing powers of the Corporation of Montreal within due bounds. In the larger matters of the Dom., his attitude may be fairly described as Lib.-Con. He m. 1852, the dau. of Joseph Cousins, a Sheffield manufacturer. She holds office as V.-P. of the Hervey Inst. for Orphan Children, and is Presdt. of the Industrial Rooms Assn.—"Rotherwood," Redpath St., Montreal.

HAGUE, John, author and journalist, is the s. of Geo. Hague, woollen and silk merchant, Rotherham, Eng., and was b. there, Mch. 3, 1829. Ed. at Rotherham Grammar Sch., and by private tuition under Dr. Moorhouse, now Bp. of Manchester, he became sub. mangr. in the banking firm of Wm. Jones & Co., Bilston, and in the Staffordshire Joint Stock Bk. Later, coming to Can., he was elected to the York Co. Council, Ont., and received the appt. of Secy. of the Interoceanic Ry. While in Toronto he became the founder and was the first Presdt. of the Toronto Philharmonic Soc. He is the author of "History of Bills of Exchange," "Lay Work in the Church," "A Century of Essays on Church History and Doctrine," and joint author of "Notes on Old Masters." He has also written largely on the subjects of Banking and Commerce for the Can. newspaper press, and rendered able service to the Con. party as the writer and compiler of campaign literature, "Ten Years of Lib. HAIGHT, Canniff, author, is the s. of the late S. R. Haight, a progressive farmer (U. E. L. descent). B. at Adolphustown, Ont., June 4, 1825, he was ed. at the Picton Grammar Sch., and at Victoria Coll., and subsequently studied Med. for a time under the late Dr. B. S. Cory. Circumstances drove him into business, and in 1850, he established himself as a druggist and bookseller at Picton. While there, he filled for yrs. the offices of Chairman of the Sch. Bd. and Presdt. of the Mech. Inst. He was also instrumental in establishing, 1842, the first country library which had an existence in the Province. Mr. H. has been a frequent contributor on historical and other subjects to the mags. and newspapers. He has published 2 works: "Country Life in Can. Fifty Years Ago, being the Personal Recollections and Reminiscences of a Sexagenarian" (1885), and "Here and There in the Home Land—England, Scotland and Ireland as seen by a Canadian" (1895). He is a Can. through and through; is proud of his country, its progress and institutions, and believes that if we hold on to what we possess and wisely conduct our public affairs, we shall in the not far distant future, take our place among the nations. HALIBURTON, Sir Arthur Laurence, late permanent Under-Secy. of War, Eng., is the young. s. of the late Hon. T. C. Haliburton ("Sam Slick"), formerly a Judge in N. S., and afterwards M.P. for Launceston in the Brit. Ho. of Commons, by his wife Louisa, only dau. of Capt. S. Neville, 19th Light Dragoons. B. at Windsor, N.S., Sept. 26, 1832, he was ed. at the Coll. Sch. there, and was called to the bar of his native Province, 1858. He entered the Commissariat service of the Brit. Army 1855, and became a Depty. Asst. Commy.-Genl., 1859. In 1870, he was transferred to the Civil Service at the War Office, as Asst. Dir. of Supplies and Transport, and, in 1878, became dir. thereof, replacing Sir W. H. Drake. In these two offices he rendered important services to the army in connection with the Ashantee and Zulu wars, and in 1880, in acknowledgment of these services, was created a C.B. He became Asst. Under-Secy. of State for War, 1888, and permt. Under-Secy. for War, 1895. He is a J. P. and D. L. for Co. London, and an hon. V.-P. of the U. E. L. Assn. He was created a K.C.B., 1885, and was promoted a G.C.B., on the occasion of the Queen's Diamond Jubilee, 1897. "The retirement of Sir Arthur H., the permanent head of the War Office," says a London paper, "is a matter of much regret. He has demonstrated that he is one of the ablest men who has ever occupied the post. The rules of retirement in the Civil Service are, however, well-nigh inexorable; and though they work hardly in individual cases, they are unquestionably of advantage to the service as a whole. Sir Arthur H. is as well known in society as in the Civil Service, and in the former there happily is no fixed age for retirement. Long may he enjoy the position of which human agencies are not likely to deprive him! The post which he vacates, and which Sir Arthur Knox is now to fill, is one of difficulty. When reforms are intended (and they were never more needed in the War Office than at the present moment) it is necessary for the Permanent Under-Secretary to persuade the chief of the department that is affected. This is no easy task; and it requires a man with some diplomatic capacity to reform and to secure easy working afterwards. Reforms give trouble and extra labour, and are necessarily unpopular with the departments on which extra labour is thrown. Herein lies the need for a clever and congenial permanent Under-Secretary of State." A mem. of the Ch. of Eng., he m. 1877, Mariana Emily, dau. of the late Leo Schuster, and widow of Sir W. D. HALIBURTON, Robert Grant, Q.C., littérateur and scientist, bro. of the preceding, was b. at Windsor, N.S., June 3, 1831. He received his education at King's Coll., Windsor. According to Presdt. McCawley, "he stood high, frequently highest, at all the terminal examinations, and graduated in honours above the men of his year." He took his M.A. degree, 1852, and received, in 1876, from the same univ., in recognition of his scientific researches, the hon. degree of D.C.L. After having been connected with the volunteers, he attained the rank of lt -col. in the militia, and was apptd., 1861, Col. A.D.C., to the Marquis of Normanby, then Lt.-Gov. of N. S. He was called to the bar, 1853. In 1854 he was offered a law partnership in the country and a safe Con. seat in the Ho. of Assembly, but in deference to the wishes of his father, declined entering public life in N. S. He enjoyed an extensive practice at Halifax. In 1860 he was leading counsel for the props. before the P. E. I. Land Comn., and, in 1875, served as a comnr., together with the Rt. Hon. H. C. E. Childers, M.P., and Dr. Jenkins, M.P.P., for the settlement of the troublesome question as to landlords and tenants in that colony. He was created a Q. C. by the N. S. Govt., 1876, and 2 yrs. afterwards received a similar distinction from the Dom. Govt. Removing to Ottawa, 1877, he acquired there a large practice in connection with the then newly organized Dom. Ct. of Appeal. The N. S. Inst. of Nat. Science, the Coal-Owners' Assn. and the Fruit Growers' Assn., of which latter he is a V.-P. for life, were founded by him. As a coal-owner he commenced an agitation, 1867, in favour of putting a duty on Am. coal, and of adopting towards the U. S. a "self-reliant policy" (afterwards known as the "National Policy" in Dom. politics). In 1868, at the request of the Finance Mr. he embodied his views in a pamphlet entitled: "Intercolonial Trade our only Safeguard against Disunion," which advocated the importance of securing new markets in the W. I. and South Am. This pamphlet was known as "McGee's legacy," as it was the subject of the last speech of that lamented statesman. The assassin who shot him an hour later was in the gallery of the Ho. of Commons during the delivery of the speech. In July, 1870, a casual remark made by H. E. Sir John Young, then Gov.-Genl., to Mr. H., gave the latter a clue to a profound cabinet secret—that the Red River expedition was to be withdrawn, and that an amnesty was to be declared. A timely telegram to the so-called "Twelve Apostles" of Toronto (afterwards the leaders of the "Canada First" party) enabled them to preserve the freedom of the great North-West (see Lt.-Col. Denison on Lord Wolseley, Can. Mag., Oct., 1895). For 14 yrs. no one but Mr. H. knew how that cabinet secret had been betrayed, or who had sent that timely warning; and Lord Lisgar (formerly Sir John Young) died in ignorance of the signal service he had rendered to the future of half a continent. In 1871 Mr. H. went to England and spent 5 yrs. there in connection with N. S. coal properties, in which he was interested. As there was much discussion there at that time about the Alabama Claims, he lectured in London on "The causes of the decline of the United States as a Maritime Power," which he pronounced to be "excessive taxation and a debased currency"; and he showed by statistics obtained by him at the Am. Legation, that the decline had increased at a uniform rate, and was greater when the Alabama was at the bottom of the sea than when she was afloat. The Standard published the lecture, and in the course of an editorial on it said: "This is a task which he has accomplished with eminent ability and signal success." In May, 1872, he published in the St. James' Mag. "The Dream of the United Empire Loyalists of 1776," a bitter exposure of the Disintegration policy of the Govt. which was quoted from by 2 out of the 4 speakers in "the Debate on the Colonies," on Mr. Macfie's motion. As an organ for his crusade against the Disintegration party, and in order to revive that old watchword of the U. E. Loyalists—"a United Empire"—Mr. H. bought the St. James' Mag., and gave it a second title—the United Empire Review. But he took a more effectual step, when he carried the war into Mr. Gladstone's own constituency, Greenwich, by lecturing there on: "The necessity for a National Policy and a United Empire." Fortunately, a few weeks later, the electors at Greenwich were called on to choose a successor to Mr. Gladstone's colleague, and the Con. candidate, who ran as an advocate of "the Unity of the Empire," was elected by a large majority. As this took place only 6 mths. before the g. e., it was regarded by the public, and proved to be, a 6 months' notice to quit to the Govt. The Cons. invited Mr. H. to address the electors of Brighton and Grantham on the subject of "The Unity of the Empire," and both these constituencies went over to that party by large majorities at the g. e. On returning to Can., 1876, he was entertained at a public dinner at the Westminster Palace Hotel. Mr. H., who was the first colonist by birth that was ever elected to the Council of the Royal Coll. Inst., resigned that position when he returned to Can. Continued ill-health compelled him in 1881 to give up his law business in Can., and to spend his winters in tropical or semi-tropical climates. The Gleaner (Kingston, Jamaica), Jan. 28, 1897, in an article headed "Public Reception to Mr. Haliburton at Southfield," says: "It is now over 11 yrs. since Mr. R. G. Haliburton first arrived at St. Elizabeth, and in compliance with an address signed by 200 of the people there brought the distressed state of the poor and the utter lack of any system of parochial or medical relief to the notice of the Government." All his efforts on their behalf, though backed up by the Island press, were unavailing, until he appealed to Eng. public opinion, when a remedial act was promptly passed, which has since worked so satisfactorily that it has been adopted by other W. I. colonies, Since 1881 he has devoted his attention chiefly to scientific investigations. These have reference: (1) To the discovery of a very simple calendar among savages and early civilizations regulated by the Pleiades, or "the seven stars." (2) To the discovery by him, in 1887-88, of a pigmy race in North Africa. In 1890 and 1891 he devoted nearly 8 mths. to enquiries in Morocco on the subject, the results of which were embodied in a paper written by him for the 9th Congress of Orientalists, which awarded him a medal for his discovery, and was commented upon, pro or con, by all the leading London papers. The Times published it at length, and made it the subject of a long editorial; (3) To survivals of dwarf races in the Pyrenees and America; (4) To "The Holy Land of Pount" of the Dra Valley of Southern Morocco. Mr. Ernest de Bunsen, the German Archæologist, dedicated his "Die Pleiaden und Der Thierkreis" ("The Pleiades and the Zodiac") to Mr. H. as the pioneer in that field, and the following, among other works, will be found to comment favourably on Mr. H.'s Pleiades researches: Smyth's "Life and Work at the Great Pyramid" (3 vols., large edition), discusses them very fully, and its Appendix contains an abridgment of over 70 pp. of "New Materials"; Sir Norman Lockyer's "Star-gazing, Past and Present"; Blake's "Astron. Myths" (preface and chap. on "The Pleiades"); Colbert's "Humanity," in which the chapter on "All Souls' Day" consists of a long quotation from Mr. H.'s work, which he says is "extremely rare," but he is mistaken in his statement that there is a copy of it in the Brit. Museum, as only a part of it is there. The most eminent scientist in Europe, and a specialist on the subject both of dwarfs and of Cretinism, Prof. Virchow, at a meeting of the Anthrop. Soc. of Berlin, July 20, 1895, read a paper on "Extracts from Mr. Haliburton's writings," in which he said, "that south, and to some extent on the heights of the Atlas, a dwarf race is living, with woolly hair, and a reddish complexion, seems to be beyond doubt, and we must certainly give the credit of the discovery to Mr. Haliburton." Prof. Starr, of the Dept. of Anthrop. Univ., of Chicago, wrote, Apl. 30, 1897: "Half of my article on the 'Pygmy Races of Men,' in the North Am. Rev., for June, 1896, was devoted to Mr. H.'s discoveries. It is possible that his idea, that the history of man begins with a 'Dwarf Era,' may in time be accepted by science." In 1893, Prof. Sayce wrote to Mr. H.: "Your name hereafter will be attached to the discovery of dwarf races in North Africa, as Schweinfurth's is to that of the dwarfs of Central Africa. It is the most important discovery that has been made for a long time." His scientific papers are: "The Unity of the Origin of the Human Race proved by the Universality of Certain Superstitions connected with Sneezing," quoted with approval by Tylor and Sir John Lubbock (1863); "New Material for the Hist. of Man, derived from a comparison of the Calendars and Festivals of Nations" [Pt. I., "The Festival of the Dead," 105 pp.; Pt. II., "Astron. Features in the Mosaic Cosmogony," 13 pp. (1863-64)]; "Explorations in the Pictou Coal Field" ("Proc. N. S. Inst. of Nat. Science," 1865); "A Search for Lost Colonies of Northmen and of Portuguese in British North Am." ("Proc. of Royal Geogr. Soc.," 1895); "Notes on Mount Atlas and its Traditions" (read before the American Assn. for the Advancement of Science, 1882); "Dwarf Races and Dwarf Worship" (read before the Ninth Congress of Orientalists, Sept. 2, 1891); "The Dwarfs of Mount Atlas" (David Nutt, London, 1891); "Some Further Notes on the Existence of Dwarf Tribes South of Mount Atlas" (a French version was read before La Soc. Kédiv de Geogr., Cairo, Apl. 8, 1892); "Racial Dwarfs in the Atlas and the Pyrenees" (Pt. I., from the Imperial and Asiatic Quart. Rev., July, 1893; Pt. HALL, James Barclay, educationist, was b. at Lawrencetown, N.S., 1850, of Loyalist stock. He received his early education in the workshops and schs. of his native village, and, in 1869, after a preparatory course, received principally at the teacher's desk, he entered the Univ. of Acadia Coll., where he graduated B.A., 1873, and M.A., 1877. In 1874, he commenced a post-graduate course at Boston Univ. (Ph.D., 1877). For a few yrs. he conducted a private sch. at Lawrencetown, when, in 1879, he was apptd. Principal of Horton Acad., and, in the same year, was called to fill the chair of education and method in History and Lit. in the Provl. Normal Sch., Truro, a position he still retains. He has been Presdt. of the Alumni Soc. of Acadia Coll., and a Senator of that Univ. His chief educational work, however, has been done in connection with the common schs. He was actively engaged as Secy. of the Kindergarten Comte. in introducing the kindergarten system into N. S., and in fostering its interests during its first trying yrs. In connection with others, he assisted in the formation of the Normal Sch. Alumni Assn., which, in turn, founded the Summer Sch. of Science of the Mar. Provinces. He was at one time Secy. and Presdt. of this institution, and is now Instructor in Physiology. In 1883 he spent 3 mths. in Europe, visiting the schs. in many of the leading cities, and 6 yrs. later he spent 12 mths. in study and observation of educational work in the schs. and univs. of Germany. Besides visiting many schs., he studied under Paulsen and Lazarus, of Berlin Univ., and under Prof. Rein, at Jena. On his return from Europe he published his "Notes on the German Schs.," in which he outlined the result of his observations of common sch. work in Germany. Subsequently, he published "Outlines of Physiol. and Logic," and "History of Education." Dr. H. is a V.-P. of the Dom. Ed. Assn., and was apptd. examr. in teaching for N. S., in 1891. He was selected to represent his province on the Dom. History Comte., 1895-96. He is unm.—Truro, N.S.

HALL, Hon. John Smythe, Q.C., legislator, is the s. of the late John S. Hall, for many yrs. an extensive lumber merchant, Montreal, and was b. in that city, Aug. 7, 1853. Ed. at Bishop's Coll., Lennoxville, and at McGill Univ. (B.A., 1874), he graduated B.C.L., at the same institution, 1875, and was in the following yr. called to the bar. He practised his profession for a considerable period in partnership with Sir J. A. Chapleau and Messrs. Nicolls and Brown, and on the elevation of the first named to the Lt.-Governorship of Quebec, succeeded him as head of the firm, which now goes by the name and style of Hall, Cross, Brown & Sharp, doing an extensive legal business throughout the city and dist. of Montreal. He was employed as counsel for the Quebec Govt. in the Interprovincial arbitration, and was created a Q. C. by the Marquis of Lansdowne, 1887. In 1895 he declined appt. to the judicial bench. Mr. H. has filled the presidency of the McGill Univ. Soc., of the McGill Graduates' Soc., and of the Junior Con. Club of Montreal. He has been twice elected a mem. of the Corporation of McGill Univ., and received the hon. degree of D.C.L. from Lennoxville, 1895. He entered the militia as 2nd lieut. in the Montreal Field Battery of Arty., 1881, and having filled the several ascending grades was in 1891 gazetted to the command, from which he retired with the rank of major, Feb., 1895. He sat for Montreal West in the Quebec Assembly, in the Con. interest, from the g. e. 1886 to g. e. 1890, when he was returned, by accl., for the 5th div. of that city, and was again returned for the same seat at the g. els. of 1892 and 1897. On the formation of the Taillon Admn. in Quebec, Dec. 21, 1892, he accepted office as Provl. Treas., and held the same up to Sept. 25, 1894, when, owing to a disagreement with his colleagues in connection with the mode of repayment of the French loan, due in the ensuing Dec., he retired from the Cabinet, and has since occupied an ind. relation in the Con. party. HALL, Thomas Proctor, educationist, is the s. of the late R. S. Hall, a native of the north of Eng., who came to Can., 1820, and settled in the Co. of Halton, Ont., by his 2nd wife, Jane Greenwood, and was b. at Hornby, Ont., Oct. 7, 1858. Ed. at Woodstock Coll. and at Toronto Univ. (B.A., and silver medal. in Nat. Science, 1882), he took a post-graduate course in Physics, Math., Psych. and Pedagogy at Clark Univ., Worcester, Mass. (Ph.D., 1893). He also followed the course in Chemistry at Illinois Wesl. Univ. (A.M.; Ph.D.) He was one of the first Fellows of Univ. Coll., Toronto. He became a Fellow of Clark Univ., and his Ph.D. at the latter was the first granted in the Dept. of Physics at that institution. His thesis on the occasion: "New Methods of Measuring the Surface Tension of Liquids," was published in the Phil. Mag., Nov. 1893. He commenced his teaching career in the Streetsville High Sch., 1882; was Science Master at Woodstock Coll., 1885-90, and was apptd. Prof. of Nat. Science, Tabor Coll., Tabor, Iowa, 1893. He was an examr. at Toronto Univ., 1892, and an Asst. in Ethn. at the World's Fair. He is a Fellow of the Chemical Soc., Eng; a mem. of the Am. Math. Soc., and was elected Presdt. of the Iowa Acad. of Science for 1896. In addition to a work entitled: "A Physical Theory of Electricity and Magnetism" (1896), he is the author of numerous scientific papers read at various times before the Am. Math. Soc., the Iowa Acad. of Science, and similar bodies. In religion he is a Bapt., and in favour of progressive theol. and Ch. Federation. As a public man, he believes in free trade, or revenue tariff for the present; single tax, govt. ownership of telegraphs, telephones, rys. and canals, and in spelling reform. The questions of Can. independence, annexation to the U. S. and Imp. federation, will, he thinks, be all swallowed up in the greater question of the federation of all Eng.-speaking nations, and the first step toward this end is likely to be the formation of a standing court or courts of arbitration, such as is now recommended by the Peace Soc. He further thinks the Govt. ought to be the organized centre of all operations which are carried on, or ought to be carried on, in the interest of all. This will at length include "all production and exchange." Prof. H. m. July, 1885, Miss Elizabeth Knight, Souris, P.E.I. (U.E.L. descent). — Tabor, Iowa, U.S.

HALLAM, John, merchant, was b. in Chorley, Lancashire, Eng., Oct. 13, 1833. HAMMOND, John, R.C.A., was b. in Montreal, 1843. He studied for his profession in Eng., France, Holland and Italy, and on his return to Can. took up his residence in St. John, N.B., where he became Principal of the Owen's Art Educational Inst. Subsequently, he took charge of the Mt. Allison Sch. of Art, but is now living in his native city. Mr. H. excels as a landscape painter, and has lately produced some paintings of Rocky Mountain scenery, which have been widely noticed. He has exhibited both at the Royal Acad., London, and at the Paris Salon, and was elected a mem. of the Royal Can. Acad. of Art., 1884. His diploma picture, "Herring Fishing," is in the National Gallery, Ottawa. —Montreal, P.Q.

HANINGTON, Hon. Daniel Lionel, judge and jurist, is the s. of the late Hon. D. L. Hanington, M.L.C., by his wife, Margt., dau. of the late Wm. Peters, M.P.P. B. at Shediac, June 27, 1835, he was ed. at the local Grammar Sch. and at Sackville Acad. Called to the bar, 1861, he soon acquired a large practice, and became Clk. of the Circuits and Clk. of the Co. Ct. Created a Q. C. by the Marquis of Lorne, 1881, he was subsequently elected a gov. of King's Coll., Windsor (where he was also Prof. of Procedure and Ecclesiastical Law) and received the hon. degree of LL.D. from Mt. Allison Univ. As a mem. of the Ch. of Eng., he has been elected a del. to the Diocesan and Provl. Synods, and was, for yrs. an earnest advocate of the union of the Ch. in Can., by the establishment of a general Synod (now successfully accomplished), and, to that end, attended the Ang. Union Conf. at Winnipeg, Aug., 1890, which framed the terms of union. In local politics, he was a Lib. of the old N. B. sch., but as regards the general Govt., he supported Sir John Macdonald and those associated with him at Ottawa. He sat for Westmoreland in the local assembly from Dec., 1870 till June, 1874, when he was defeated on the "Bible and Religious Instruction in Common Sch. question," which he advocated. Returned again, in 1878, he continued to hold a seat in the Legislature up to the date of his appt. as a Puisne Judge of the Supreme Ct. of N. B., Apl. 1, 1892. He became a mem. of the N. B. HANLAN, Edward, oarsman, was b. in Toronto, July 12, 1855, and first rowed a race as mem. of the Fisherman's crew, 1871. In the following year he won a couple of skiff races. In 1873 he rowed his first race in shells, beating Williams and McKen. In '74 and '75 he won several local races, never being beaten. In Aug., 1876, he won a championship belt given by the Toronto R. C. In Sept., 1876, he won the singles at the Centennial regatta, beating Harry Coulter and H. Thomas (London, Eng.), Pat Luther, John Higgins (London, Eng.), Evan Morris, Fred Plaisted, and Alec. Brayley. The time of the final heat was 21.09, the record at that time for 3 miles with turn. From 1876 to 1884 H. was all but invincible, only being beaten in a regatta at Providence, R.I., in 1880, when he retired at the stake boat, having some days before wrenched his side. During these yrs. he defeated, among others, Wallace Ross (twice), Plaisted, Morris (for the championship of Am. in 1878), Courtney, Hawdon (Tyne), Elliott (champion of Eng. in 1879, Tyne), Riley, Trickett (twice, Thames, for the world's championship in 1880 and 1882), Laycock, Boyd, Teemer, Lee and Gaudaur. In 1884, and again in 1885, Beach (Australia) defeated him, the former occasion being H.'s first defeat in a match race, but previous to the second race H. defeated Clifford. H. having returned from Australia, Teemer won the Am. championship from him at Troy, in Oct., 1885. Teemer lost the title to Gaudaur, and in 1887 H. twice rowed the latter for it. On the first occasion, in May, Gaudaur won. On the second, in July, H. was victorious, both races being rowed at Pullman, Ill. On Aug. 13, in the same year, Teemer for the second time won the championship from H., the course being on Toronto Bay. H. visited Australia again to meet Beach, who had previously declined to row in Eng., although the former went there to meet him. On the Nepean H. lost his third race to Beach, who resigned in favour of Kemp, who later on also defeated Canada's representative. H. next beat Trickett and Kemp again beat him, as did also Beach for the fourth time. Exhn. races engaged H.'s attention in 1889 and 1890, and these were two quiet yrs. The ex-champion came prominently before the public again in 1891, but was unable to get on many matches. He went out to the Pacific coast, and was beaten on Sept. 21 by A. Maclean at New Westminster, but the victor had 500 yards start. On Sept. 24 he was second to Wm. O'Connor in a regatta at New Westminster. On Oct. 31 he defeated Chas. Stephenson on Shawnigan Lake, B.C. Prior to his trip to the Pacific coast on Aug. 8, at Hamilton, H. and O'Connor beat Gaudaur and McKay in a race for the double scull championship of America. In 1892 H. and O'Connor, at Erie, beat Gaudaur and Hosmer in a double scull race on June 23. At Washington, a month later, the pair beat Hosmer and Ross, and in a single scull match Hanlan defeated his old rival Wallace Ross. He defeated Stephenson for the second time on Toronto Bay, Aug., 1893. On Sept. 5, at Ontario Beach, H. and O'Connor's double scull colours were lowered by Gaudaur and Hosmer, and in a match at Lake Couchiching, on Oct. 15, Gaudaur and Hosmer captured the double scull championship from the Toronto pair. Subsequently, in 1895 and '96, he raced with some of the best oarsmen in Am., winning in many cases. In Jan., 1897, he issued a challenge to row Gaudaur either in Eng. or Am. for the world's championship. His life has been published in book form by R. K. Fox, N.Y.—189 Beverley St., Toronto, Ont.

HANNAY, James, historian and journalist, is the s. of the late Rev. Jas. Hannay (Presb.), a native of Wigtown, Scot., who was for some yrs. min. at Richibucto, N.B., by his wife, Jane Salter, of Hants, N.S. Jas. Hannay, the critic and author and friend of Thackeray, and Dean Hannay, of St. Giles', Edinburgh, were of the same family. B. at Richibucto, Apl 22, 1842, he received his education at the new Kilpatrick parish sch., Scot., and at the St. John Grammar Sch. His connection with the press dates from 1862. He was admitted an atty., 1866, and called to the bar, 1867. In the same yr. he was apptd. Official Reporter of the Supreme Ct. of N. B., and held that position up to his retirement therefrom, Apl., 1873. He was asst. ed. of the St. John Daily Telegraph, 1872-83, when he became asst. chief ed. and city ed. of the Montreal Daily Herald. He was subsequently connected with the Brooklyn (N.Y.) Eagle. In 1888 he returned to St. John as ed. of The Gazette, and in 1893, he succeeded to the chief editorship of the St. John Telegraph, a position he still fills. As reporter to the Supreme Ct., he published 2 volumes of Reports, 1867-73, which were reprinted, 1878. He has successfully entered other fields of literary endeavour, writing now an easy flowing and spirited ballad, now an exhaustive historical work, and now a bright and racy mag. article or story. He first wrote poems over the nom de plume of "Saladin" for the St. John Courier and other papers. Later, he wrote a number of Acadian historical ballads. When Stewart's Quarterly was established in St. John he became one of its best contributors, supplying bright sketches and stories. His first historical effort was a series of sketches of the early forts in N. B. This was followed by "The Captivity of John Gyles among the Milicetes from 1689 to 1698," which he published 1875, with an introduction and annotations by himself,

The same yr. he wrote a history of St. John. Meanwhile, he was collecting material for the work which afterwards made his reputation as an historian. No good history of Acadia under the French régime had yet appeared. Murdock's work was more in the nature of a record of events than a history, and Campbell and Haliburton's were the product of insufficient resources. His "History of Acadia" was published in 1879 in St. John, and London, Eng. The work was favourably received and obtained the highest commendation of the reviewers; and well it might, for it possessed the qualities essential to both an historical and a literary work. It was an elaborate and scholarly work and combined the research of the historian, the judicial cast of the thinker and the grace of the littérateur. It is now in its 4th edition. Of other works from his pen the most important are: "The History of the Queen's Rangers," and "The History of the Loyalists," both in part published in the Telegraph. He is now preparing "The Life and Times of Sir Leonard Tilley," and "The History of the War of 1812." Mr. H. is a corr. mem. of the Literary and Hist. Soc. of Quebec, and of the N. S. Hist. Soc. He is the historian of the N. B. Loyalist Soc., and he has been Presdt. of the N. B. Hist. Soc. He has lectured frequently on historical subjects, and not long since, delivered a series of lectures on Can. History in the Univ. Extension course at St. John. He m. 1864, Margt., dau. of Elias T. Ross, St. John. The Printer and Publisher (Montreal), from which we have gleaned the principal facts for this article, sums up Mr. H.'s character and methods as a journalist, in the following words: "In the discharge of his editorial duties he has combined a wide knowledge of affairs with a yet graceful pen. He is rapid in composition and quick in perception. He is optimistic by nature, and believes first in supporting that which is best for the interests of the country of his nativity, and in fostering with his pen everything which is for her welfare. His newspaper articles are among the brightest and most readable in the Can. press."—St. John, N.B.; Union Club.

HARCOURT, Hon. Richard, Q.C., legislator, is the 3rd s. of the late Michael Harcourt, who represented Haldimand in the Can. Legislature previous to Confederation. B. in Seneca, Haldimand, Ont., 1849, he was privately ed. by the Rev. B. C. Hill, M.A., and afterwards attended Toronto Univ. (B.A., 1870; M.A., 1871). Becoming principal of Cayuga High Sch., he was, after one yr., apptd. Public Sch. Inspr. for Haldimand. Called to the bar, 1876, he served as Depty. Judge of Welland, and, in 1890, was apptd. a Q. C. by the Ont. Govt. In 1896 he was recommended for the same dignity by the Tupper Admn. A Lib., he has sat for Monck in the Ont. Assembly, since Dec., 1878. He entered Sir Oliver Mowat's Govt., as Treas., Sept. 30, 1890, and has established a good reputation in connection with his management of the Provl. finances. He is a Senator of Toronto Univ., a dir. of the Toronto Genl. Trusts Co., Presdt. of the North Am. Mining Co., and Presdt. also of the Home Life Assur. Co. In 1896 he was selected with others to serve as a Comnr. for the revision of the Ont. Statutes. He was one of the founders of the Ch. of Eng. Lit. and Pub. Co., and has served as a del. to the Ch. Synod. He has been Supreme Leader of the Can. Order of Home Circles. He m. 1876, Augusta H., dau. of the late Jacob Young.—Toronto; Welland, Ont.

HARDING, John Evey, Q.C., is the s. of John Harding, by his wife, Jane Talbot, who were among the first settlers in the London Dist., and was b. in the Tp. of Beverly, Wentworth, Ont., May 29, 1840. Ed. at Delaware Acad. and by the Rev. H. B. Jessop, M.A., private tutor, he was called to the bar, 1866, and practised for some yrs. at St. Mary's, Ont. He now practises at Stratford, and is one of the leaders of the local bar. He was created a Q. C. by the Ont. Govt., 1890, and was apptd. Master in Chancery, Oct,, 1890. Mr. H. is P. G. HARDY, His Honour Alexander D., Co. Ct. Judge, is the s. of the late Russell Hardy, by his wife, Julietta Sturgis (U. E. L. descent). B. at Brantford, 1858, he was ed. in the same city, and was called to the bar, 1886. He practised throughout in his native city, as a mem. of the firm of Hardy, Wilkes & Hardy. He was apptd. HARDY, Hon. Arthur Sturgis, Q.C., statesman, bro. of the preceding, was b. at Mount Pleasant, Ont., Dec. 14, 1837. Ed. at the Mount Pleasant Grammar Sch. and at Rockwood Acad., he studied law with his uncle, H. A. Hardy, and with the firm of the late Chief-Justice Harrison, Toronto, and was called to the bar, 1865. He practised his profession very successfully in Brantford, of which city he became City Solicitor, was made a Q. C. by the Ont. Govt., 1876, and was elected a bencher of the Law Soc. the same year. He entered political life, Apl., 1873, being then returned to the Legislature, in the Lib. interest, for the vacancy in the representation of South Brant, created by the election of the late Hon. E. B. Wood to the Ho. of Commons. In Mch., 1877, he entered the Mowat Admn., as Provl. Secy. and Regr., and in Jan. 1889, succeeded the late Mr. Pardee as Comnr. of Crown Lands, in the same Govt. He was chosen to serve as acting Premier and Atty.-Genl. of Ont., during the absence of Sir O. Mowat in Europe, May, 1895, and on the latter's transfer to Ottawa, July, 1896, succeeded him in both those offices. In the same year he was apptd. a Comnr. for the revision of the Ont. statutes. He has retained throughout his hold on South Brant, being re-elected at every recurring g. e. by largely increased majorities. Of his work as a public man the Toronto Globe has this to say: "No less than 150 public and private bills were introduced by him between 1874 and 1896, and nearly every one of them passed. But the subjects these dealt with are more important than mere numbers. Their wide range, scope and variety are the best evidence of the versatility and breadth of view of the present Premier, and their presence on our statute books is open testimony to his laborious public life, his industry and his valuable work as a representative and parliamentarian. As to public bills, there is scarcely a subject over which the Legislature has jurisdiction that Mr. H. has not dealt with. In his second session he introduced an important bill respecting ry. traffic, which placed the relations of rys. towards shippers and the public upon an entirely changed footing, by preventing a ry. from setting up notice of a condition protecting itself against a suit for damages where negligence could be established. This became law in the following session. Later on he introduced several bills amending the law as to Div. Cts., enlarging their jurisdiction, simplifying their practice and making remedies cheaper. An act reducing the number of Grand Jurors to 13 was also carried through by him, and is found to work admirably. The Jurors' Act and the mode of election was entirely reconstructed by Mr. H., and afterwards consolidated, with amendments. The number of jurors returned had been unnecessarily large. The act empowered the local boards, composed of the Co. Judge and others, to reduce the number wherever they felt it could be safely done. Many thousand dollars per annum have been saved to the various counties of the Province through this amendment. A recent measure introduced by him also provided that in civil cases 10 jurors might give a verdict. This has been found to give great relief to jurors and to work satisfactorily. Mr. H. was one of a comte. of Lib. mems. who originally settled the terms of and drafted the Voters' Lists Act. An act to give increased stability to mutual fire ins. cos. did much to strengthen the solvent cos. of this character, and to weed out those established on other than business principles. The act respecting interpleader lessened the cost of those proceedings materially by enabling the issues in some cases, where seizures had been made under executions, to be tried in the Co. Cts. In 1882, when Prov. Secy., Mr. H. carried through the act establishing the Bd. of Health, which has done so much to disseminate knowledge of hygiene and inspire local action on the part of the municipalities in connection with the public health. He apptd. Dr. Bryce, whose vigour and energy are well known, as Secy. Acts relating to the Admin. of Justice in criminal matters, to the laws of ins., an act under which industrial schs. might be established, one relating to the performance of statute labor, one for the organization of waterworks and gas cos., measures relating to joint stock cos., to births, marriages and deaths, to amending the Election Act, respecting private lunatic asylums, an industrial refuge for girls, and the reformatory for boys, and an act relating to religious institutions, all became law under his supervision. So also with respect to acts relating to distress for rent and taxes and exempting certain properties, as to the establishment of homes of industry and industrial farms, respecting the offices of Police Magistrate and Sheriff, damage to land by flooding, and many other acts of like character, which it is not necessary to enumerate. While he was Provl. Secy., a series of acts relating to the public institutions of the Province, and another series relating to the liquor license question and the enforcement of the liquor laws occupied a great deal of his time and attention in the Legislature. Much might be said of Mr. H.'s efforts as a temp. reformer under the license laws. The act known as the 'Crooks Act' is more largely the work of Mr. H. than of Mr. Crooks, if the scope of the act, when the latter handed over the charge of license matters to his successor as Prov. Secy., be taken into account. Bills upon this subject were carried through the House by Mr. H. in 1878, 1881, 1884, 1887 and 1888. These acts were all in the direction of providing severer penalties for infractions of the law, for its better enforcement, and to provide for the enforcement of the 'Dunkin' and 'Scott' acts as well. Space does not permit giving the details of these several enactments. Suffice it to say that during Mr. H.'s long term of the license law dept. no attack was ever made upon his admn. that did not meet with instant reply and satisfactory explanation. Bills giving the right of representation in the Local Legislature to the Rainy River and Nipissing Dists., and of the election of their first mems., were also submitted by him, as Comnr. of Crown Lands. His legislation has had largely to do with the Crown domain, free grants to settlers, the public timber and public parks, and the municipal assessment and drainage laws. Bills relating to damage to lands by flooding and affording cheap and speedy remedies ; to the floating of timber down streams ; to timber slide cos. ; to the free grants and homesteads lands ; to culling and measurement of saw-logs and the examination of cullers ; to settlement duties by purchasers of lands and a lien for wages by woodmen, are among the number of those general or minor measures, more or less affecting the Dept. of Crown Lands, which have received Mr. H.'s attention. The latter act provides that men who work in the shanties in the cutting of timber shall have a lien upon the logs cut for their wages, and an easy remedy is provided by means of the Div. and Dist. Cts. This bill has since been extended to all the new dists. An act for the protection of Provl. fisheries, comprehensive in its character within the jurisdiction of the Province, was also passed in 1892. Perhaps no more important measures, however, have been considered than those relating to mines and mining which were dealt with in 1890, 1891 and 1892. In the latter year the amendments made in 1891 and 1892 were incorporated into a general act with other amendments and the whole act consolidated. Some of these amendments are of the first importance and were in the interest of the explorer and the operator, and tended to facilitate the development of the mining interests of the Province. A Bureau of Mines was established, a minimum quantity of mining lands which may be sold by the Crown was reduced from 80 to 40 acres, and the option of taking lands or lease instead of by purchase as theretofore was given to purchasers. The duty of performing certain development work to the value of about $5 per acre within a limited time imposed upon purchasers of mining lands and the right to stake out mining claims was also granted. A royalty was imposed upon certain mines and power given to the Lt.-Gov. in Council to impose a royalty upon others. Mr. H. afterwards introduced a bill to postpone the royalty clauses during the present period of mining depression caused by the financial stringency in the U. S. and the closing down of many mines and mining industries there. Subject to this the law is looked upon as one of the best mining laws in existence. Bills establishing the Algonquin National Park, embracing nearly one million acres of land, lying between the Parry Sound Dist. and the Ottawa River, and Rondeau Park, in the Co. of Kent, embracing nearly 5,000 acres of land, have become law. Mr. H., as the author of these bills, has shown an enlightened appreciation of public wants in thus dedicating to the public for all time these tracts of land, timber, lakes and rivers. They are to be known as health resorts and timber, fish and game preserves." He was a V.-P. of the Brit. Assn. for the Advanc. of Science, 1897, and in the same year received the hon. degree of LL.D. from Toronto Univ. In religion he is a mem. of the Ch. of Eng. He m. HARE, Rev. John James (Meth.), educationist, is the s. of the late Robt. Hare, by his wife, Barbara Shillington, and was b. in the Tp. of Nepean, Carleton, Ont., Oct. 3, 1847. Ed. at Victoria Univ. (B.A., 1873 ; M.A., 1879), he entered the Meth. ministry as a probationer, June, 1867, and was ordained, June, 1879. As a youth, he showed a somewhat phenomenal interest in study. Commencing sch. life at 3½ yrs. of age, he entered the 2nd sch. reader at 4 yrs. ; the 5th reader at 7 yrs., and won 1st prize in astronomy at 9 yrs. At this early age he had gone over the greater part of the 1st Book of Euclid and Algebra, through simple equations, and similar work in other subjects. His health failing, he had to give up all study except during a few months in winter, and yet at the age of 12, he passed the 2nd class teachers' exam., matriculated into Victoria Univ. at 15 yrs., passed the 1st class teachers' exam. at 17 yrs., and commenced teaching and taught for 2 yrs. After entering the ministry, he served successively at Chatham, Smith's Falls, and London, Ont., and, in 1874, was called to the Principalship of the Ont. Ladies' Coll., at Whitby, where he has remained. He received the degree of Ph.D., from Illinois Wesl. Univ., and is a Senator of Victoria Univ. Dr. H. m. Sept., 1874, Kate, dau. of the Rev. D. C. HARPER, John Murdoch, educationist, was b. Feb. 10, 1845, at Johnstone, Renfrewshire, Scot., and is the s. of the late R. M. Harper, bookseller and publisher, who was also the founder of the first weekly newspaper printed in Johnstone. On the maternal side he is of Celtic origin. He received his early education at one of the parish schs., and then went to the Glasgow, E. C. Training Coll. There he completed the full course of study, and retired with the highest certs. granted by the Council on Education, and with special certs. from the Science and Art Dept., Kensington. After coming to Can. he became a graduate of Queen's Univ., Kingston, and received the degree of Ph.D. from Illinois Univ., 1881, after completing the 3 yrs. post-graduate course in Metaph. Science. In 1881 he was elected a Fellow of the Educational Inst. of Scot. After several years' successful teaching in the Maritime Provinces, Dr. H. was eventually apptd. Principal of the Victoria and High Schs., St. John, N.B., where his labours were abundantly successful. In 1887 the Govt. of P. E. I., having noted the success which attended Dr. H.'s work in St. John, invited him to accept the position of Supt. of Education in that province. This offer he declined, being loath to leave his work in St. John. Not long after, when the Victoria Sch. building was destroyed by fire, he was asked to assume the principalship of the Prov. Normal Sch., Charlottetown. This he did, with the understanding that he would be free to return to St. John as soon as his sch. should be rebuilt. At the end of a year or more, when he proposed to carry out this intention, strong efforts were put forth to induce him to stay, the result being that he remained in Charlottetown for 3 yrs., during the last of which he held the position of Prof. in the Amalgamated Normal Sch. and Prince of Wales Coll., with special supervision of the dept. for the training of teachers. Dr. H. went to Quebec in 1880, to assume the rectorship of the Quebec High Sch., which he held up to the time of his appt. as Inspector of Superior Schs., P.Q., the position he now occupies. He was also for a time interim Prof. of Math. in Morrin Coll. Beyond his professional reputation, Dr. H. has made his mark as a man of matured literary taste. In N. S. he took an active part in establishing a literary periodical, and has continued more or less to contribute to our periodical lit. in prose and verse. Many of his lyrics have been highly praised, while some of his poems in the Scottish dialect have been specially recognized by Dr. John Ross, in his "Scottish Poets in Am." Among his descriptive poems, some, such as "The Battle of the Plains" and "The Old Chateau," have been widely noticed. Dr. H. is also well-known as a writer of sch. text-books, his "History of the Maritime Provinces" having been recognized as an excellent treatise. Many brochures and lectures have come from his pen, the former including, "Plato," "The New Education," "Cause and Effect in School Work," "Can. Unity"; and the latter two valuable papers published in the "Trans. of the Lit. and Hist. Soc. of Quebec," entitled, "The Maritime Provinces," and "The Development of the Greek Drama." He is also a contributor to the "Trans. of the Royal Soc. of Can." For yrs. he has been ed. of the Educational Record. Of hon. positions held by him from time to time have been the Presidency of the St. Andrew's Soc., of the Teachers' Assn., V.-P. of the Quebec Lit. and Hist. Soc., of the Prov. Assn. of Teachers, and of the Columbian Ed. Congress at Chicago. His first wife was Agnes, eld. dau. of the late Wm. Kirkwood, Stanley Muir, Paisley (she d. 1883). HARRINGTON, Bernard James, educationist, was b. at St. Andrews, P.Q., where his father's family have resided for several generations, Aug. 5, 1848. Owing to weak eyesight, from which he suffered while a boy, he spent little time at sch., and received his elementary ed. chiefly from private teachers. Later, he matriculated at McGill Univ., and graduated B.A., taking 1st rank honours in Natural Science and the Logan gold medal, 1869. He then continued his studies in the Sheffield Scientific Sch. of Yale Coll., New Haven, Conn., where he remained as a post-graduate student for two yrs., devoting his attention principally to Chemistry, Mineral. and Metal., and at the end of that time graduated with distinction as Ph.D., obtaining also the prize in Mineral. Dr. H. took as the subject for his thesis the "Siemens-Martin process for the production of steel." Shortly after this Principal (now Sir J. W.) Dawson was apptd. by the Gov. of P. E. I. to examine that Province and report upon its economic resources, especially as to the possibility of finding coal on the island, and Dr. H. was selected as his asst. The results of this survey are to be found in a report published by the Govt. In 1871, Dr. H. was apptd. Lecturer in Mining and Chemistry at McGill Univ., and the following year crossed the Atlantic and spent several mths. in the principal mining and manufacturing centres of the Mother Country. On his return he was apptd. Chemist and Mineral. to the Geol. Survey, which position had been just rendered vacant by the resignation of Dr. T. Sterry Hunt. The Survey was at that time located in Montreal, and for the following 7 yrs. Dr. H. discharged the duties of both positions. In 1879, increased duties at the Univ. obliged him to resign his connection with the Survey. Since that time his attention has been devoted exclusively to Univ. work, the rapid growth of McGill Coll., and especially the greatly increased number of students in the Faculty of Applied Science, necessitating every year more extended courses of instruction. In 1883, he was apptd. David Greenshields' Prof. of Chemistry and Mineral., retaining at the same time, the position of Lecturer in Mining and Metall. This latter position, however, he retired from in 1891. We are indebted to Dr. H. for many contributions to science, especially in the domain of Can. mineral. A list of his writings will be found in the "Bib. of the Royal Soc. of Can." His principal literary work is "The Life of Sir William Logan" (1883). He has been Presdt. of the Nat. Hist. Soc., Montreal, and was for many years ed. of the Can. Naturalist, now the Can. Record of Science. In addition to his purely academic degrees, Dr. H. is a Fellow of McGill Univ., of the Royal Soc. of Can., as well as of the Geol. Soc. of London, and a mem. of the Am. Inst. of Mining Eng., and of the Am. Chemical Soc. He is also a dir. of the Cong. Coll., Montreal. In 1897, he served as V.-P. of the Chemistry sec. of the Brit. Assn. at Toronto. In 1881, he was apptd. a mem. of the Prot. Bd. of Sch. Comnrs. of Montreal. He m. 1876, Anna Lois, eld. dau, of Sir J. W. Dawson.—295 University St., Montreal.

On his return to Can. he spent 2 winters in Toronto, and was apptd. a mem. of the Royal Can. Acad. of Arts, on the formation of that body, 1880, being nominated by the founder, the Marquis of Lorne. After serving as Presdt. of the Ont. Soc. of Artists, he went to Paris for further study. While abroad he exhibited at the Royal Acad., London, at the Paris Salon and other galleries. He took up his residence in Montreal, 1883, and was dir. af the Art Sch. of the Montreal Art Assn. from that time up to 1887. He was elected Presdt. of the Royal Can. Acad. of Arts (succeeding L. R. O'Brien, who was the first Presdt.), 1890, but declined to serve. Elected again, 1893, he accepted the position, and has since been re-elected thereto at every annual meeting up to the present time. Mr. H. was awarded a medal at the World's Fair, Chicago, 1893. He is known principally as a figure and portrait painter. One of his early pictures, "The School Trustees," is in the National Gallery, Ottawa; also "The Fathers of Confederation," which was executed under commission from the Dom. Govt, and which, so far as care and research could make it, is regarded as an accurate record of what it represents. Among the most successful of his portraits are those of H. E. the Earl of Aberdeen, Lord Mount Stephen, Sir John A. Macdonald, Sir O. Mowat, C.-J. Sir Hy. Strong, Sir L. Tilley, Sir A. Campbell, C.-J. Sir John Allen, Sir Hugh Allan, Sir Wm. HARRISON, Mrs. Susie Frances, author, is the dau. of the late John Byron Riley, and was b. in Toronto a little over 30 yrs. ago. Ed. partly in her native city and partly in Montreal, she m. 1879, J. W. T. Harrison, an accomplished musical performer and able critic, who is now organist of St. Simon's Ch., Toronto. At the age of 16, Mrs. H. began writing for the press, reviews, essays and short stories, but she did not begin seriously to cultivate literature until leaving Ottawa about 9 yrs. ago. While a resident with her husband at the Federal capital, she wrote and composed a song of welcome for the initial appearance of the Marquis of Lansdowne in Can. She wrote several other songs, which were published in Eng., and likewise acted as musical critic for one of the large western dailies under the name of "Gilbert King." Since then she has contributed to The Strand, Temple Bar, the Atlantic Monthly, the Cosmopolitan, the New Eng. Mag., the Detroit Free Press, the Week, and was for some time on the editorial staff of the last-named journal. Of separate works she has published: "Crowded Out," a collection of short stories" (1888); "The Can. Birth-Day Book," (1889); "Pine, Rose and Fleur-de-Lis," "Down the River" and other poems (1891). She was one of the first writers to explore the French-Can. field for character and descriptive sketches, and has done for the habitant of Lower Can. much the same service as Geo. W. Cable has done for the Creoles of Louisiana. She now writes under the nom de guerre of "Seranus," adopting it owing to an accidental error made regarding her signature. Several of her poems are included in Stedman's "Victorian Anthology," and in Lighthall's "Songs of the Great Dom.," and her productions have all been favourably reviewed in the

Can., Am. and Eng. press. More recently she has won recognition in the lecture field, her first appearance in that capacity being made in Montreal, 1896, in a recital lecture on "The Music of French Can."—"Glen Ronald," Rosedale, Toronto, Ont.

B. at Tamworth, Eng., Aug. 10, 1848, he was ed. at Sherbourne, and entered the Roy. Mar. Light Infty. as 2nd lieut., Aug. 9, 1866. Promoted 1st lieut., Aug. 10, 1867, he subsequently passed for a co., and was placed on the retired list, with the hon. rank of capt. Coming to Can., he served for some yrs. with the Royal Grenadiers, Toronto, including the N.-W. campaign, 1885 (medal), and was apptd. Brig.-Maj. in reward for gallantry at Batoche. He retired with the rank of major, Apl. 20, 1894. Major H. was employed temporarily as a Queen's Messenger, on the Continent, 1874; and, on his arrival in Can., lived for some years in Muskoka, for which dist. he was apptd. a J. P., 1879. He is known in War Office circles as the inventor of certain improvements on the Martini rifle, the merits of which have been frequently referred to in the Eng. press. He spent some time in Eng. in connection with his invention. Major H. has also visited, on mil. business, Russia, Prussia, Poland, Hungary, Bulgaria, Roumania, Servia, Austria, Saxony, France, Belgium and Italy. HART, Miss Caroline M. C., educationist, is the dau. of Hy. N. Hart, a native of Can., who was for many yrs. a leading mem. of the St. Louis bar, and the granddau. of the late Benj. Hart, of Montreal. B. in St. Louis, Mo., she was ed. in the east, and graduated with high honours. Society claimed her young womanhood, until, becoming dissatisfied with so aimless an existence, she finally drifted into the Kindergarten, St. Louis, the first real home of the Kindergarten in Am., being the sch. where her labours and duties began, 1876. After graduating, she had charge of one of the best kindergartens in her native city, and subsequently, 1882-86, was associated with Miss Laura Fisher (now of Boston, Mass.), in the Normal Kindergarten Sch. of St. Louis. From this institution she proceeded to Toronto, and from 1886 to 1892, had charge of the Normal Training and Model Kindergarten in that city. A friend, Miss Adair, who is well qualified to speak in the premises, refers in the Kindergarten News, Springfield, to the success attending her efforts in the capital of Ont.: "The rapid extension of the kindergarten throughout Ont. and the Dom. of Can. has been mainly due to her ability and enterprise. Her appt. to the position of Provl. Inspr. of Kindergartens, 1890, gave added opportunities for furthering the cause so dear to her heart, and it is not too much to say, that from the great lakes of Ont. to the Pacific coast, wherever the Kindergarten has gained a foothold, Miss H.'s influence and the inspiration of her life have gone with it; and Can. kindergarteners speak her name with pride and gratitude." In the year 1892 she left Can., and after a year in the Normal Kindergarten, at Milwaukee, Wisconsin, she accepted the important position which she now holds (1897) as Dir. of the Training Sch. of the Baltimore Kindergarten Assn. "No one," says the paper from which we have already quoted, "could be better suited to pioneer a great cause than Miss H. With a firm belief in humanity, and the power of the kindergarten to form and enlarge individual character, and eventually to elevate the masses, her spirit is held above petty distractions and disappointments, and the work goes steadily on. Although only the second year since its organization, greatly increased accommodation has been found necessary. The outlook at present is very encouraging, and what the future may bring remains for a later time to tell." Since the above was written we learn that it is arranged that Miss H. is to take a prominent part in the lecture course of the Kindergarten Assn. in connection with Columbia Univ., Washington. Indeed, she has already delivered her first series of 5 lectures, and has won a flattering reception.—"The Northampton," Baltimore, Md., U.S.

HART, Gerald E., author and numismatist, is the s. of the late Adolphus M. Hart, advocate and author, and was b. in Montreal, Mch. 26, 1849. Ed. there, in N. Y. and at Three Rivers, he gave himself to a business career, and is at present Genl. Mangr. of the Phœnix Fire Ins. Co., Montreal. As a numismatist he formed several valuable collections of coins, one of which he sold to the Dom. Govt., Ottawa, 1880, for $2,500; two others he sold by auction in N. Y. He has also formed valuable collections of paper money and autographs. Mr. H. was one of the earliest mems. of the Numis. and Antiq. Soc., Montreal, and became a life mem. of that body. He likewise assisted in founding the Soc. of Historical Studies, of which he was elected Presdt. In addition to being the author of numerous papers, read before this Soc., he has published in book form, "The Fall of New France"; "Rebellion Notes of 1837," and "The Quebec Act, 1774," the whole with illustrations. —Montreal; St. James's Club.

HAULTAIN, Theodore Arnold, essayist and littérateur, was b. at Kannanur, the chief mil. station on the Malabar coast, in the Madras Presidency, India, Nov. 3, 1857, and is the eld. s. of Maj.-Gen. Haultain, of the British army. Ed. first at a private sch. at Brighton, Eng., and subsequently at the Bedford (Eng.) Grammar Sch., Mr. H. came to Can., 1876, and in 1877 entered the Univ. of Toronto (B.A., 1879; M.A., 1880). He then for a time took up the study of Med., but relinquished this for journalism, and used his pen actively in the columns of many Can. newspapers. In 1885, at the request of a publishing firm in Toronto, he issued a short history of the war in the Soudan, then in progress, a work which, though it was written and printed in some 3 weeks, obtained a very favourable reception. In addition to this he has published several literary brochures, amongst which may be mentioned: "A Critique of Cardinal Newman's Exposition of the Illative Sense," "A Christmas Chat: a Fragmentary Dialogue on Love and Religion," and "Versicoli," this last being a small collection of poems. Mr. H. has also contributed to many well-known mags. on both sides of the Atlantic, such as Blackwood's Mag., the Westminster Rev., Nature, Outing, the Dom. Illustrated, etc. He was also for some time ed. of the Educational Weekly (Toronto). In 1887 he was apptd. an examr. to the Univ. of Toronto, and, in the following year, acted in the same capacity to the Education Dept., Ont. In 1889 he was apptd, one of the Librarians of the Public Lib. of Toronto, a post which he resigned some 4 yrs. later, upon which occasion the Bd. of Management passed a most flattering resolution upon the services he had rendered to the library. HAWKE, John Thomas, journalist, was b. at Plymouth, Eng., Apl. 30, 1834, and is the s. of John P. Hawke, by his wife, M. A. Harvey. Coming to Am., 1873, he was for a short time a compositor on the Rome (N.Y.) Sentinel. Moving to Can. the same year he worked as a printer on various Ont. journals, and was afterwards a reporter on the St. Thomas Times (Con.). For 3 yrs. prior to 1878 he was the legislative reporter of the Toronto Leader. For a short time then he joined the staff of the Ottawa Citizen, but returned to the Leader, and soon afterwards accepted a position on the parliamentary staff of the Toronto Globe. In a few months he became its political correspondent at Ottawa. This position he held for 3 yrs., his ability being then rewarded by his recall to the home office, where he was made news ed. After remaining there 3 yrs. he became, 1885, the ed. of the Hamilton Tribune, a prohibitionist daily. Shortly after this he became ed. of the Ottawa Free Press, a position he retained until 1887, when he purchased the Transcript and removed to Moncton, N.B. The Daily Transcript was enlarged and greatly improved under his management, and the weekly edition enlarged to double its former size. In 1888 he came into prominence in a contempt of court case which was tried at Fredericton. On that occasion he addressed the full Bench of the Supreme Ct. of N. B. for 5 hours, pleading his case and reviewing the law of libel. He was sentenced to be confined in York Co. jail for two months and to pay a fine of $200. Mr. H. was Secy. of the Maritime Press Assn. during the first 3 yrs. of its existence. He is a prohibitionist and in politics a Lib. of advanced views. A strong advocate of the maintenance of British connection, he is opposed to Ind., declaring that if we cannot be a part of the Brit. Emp. we should then become a part of the greatest Eng.-speaking nation in the world. He does not, however, anticipate such a contingency. In addition to conducting the Transcript very successfully, Mr. H. has always taken a lively personal interest in the political campaigns in Westmoreland and neighbouring counties in N. B., and has attained no little prominence and popularity as a public speaker. He m. Oct., 1875, Miss Della Thornton, of Aylmer, Ont.—Moncton, N.B.

HAY, Lt.-Col. George, capitalist, is the s. of the late John Hay. B. at Keith, Banffshire, Scot., June 18, 1822, he was ed. at the Grammar Sch. there and at Croy Parish Sch., Nairnshire. Coming to the Ottawa Valley with his parents, 1834, he spent some yrs. on a farm, after which he removed to Bytown (now Ottawa city), where he was long engaged in business as a hardware merchant. He is now retired from active commercial life. Mr. H. is a J. P., a lt.-col. in the mil., and was for some yrs. a mem. of the City Council of Ottawa. He served for some time as a trustee of the Ottawa Coll. Inst., and is now Presdt. of that institution. For 46 yrs. he was connected with the Carleton Prot. Hospital as a dir., and was subsequently for 20 yrs., Presdt. of the Bd. On retiring from that office he was presented by the Bd. with his portrait painted in oils. He was one of the founders of the Bank of Ottawa, and served on its directorate up to 1894, when he was elected V.-P., a position he still retains. Always active in religious and philanthropic work, he assisted in founding the Assn. for the Better Observance of the Lord's Day, in which he held the office of Treas. He was also Presdt. of the Metropolitan Soc. for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, Presdt. of the Ottawa Temp. Soc., and has been for a lengthened period Presdt. of the Ottawa Bible Soc. Politically, he is a Con.-Lib. In Apl., 1890, he stood as a candidate for the representation of Ottawa in the Ho. of Commons in the interest of the Equal Rights Assn., of which he was a dir. In religion, a Presb., he was one of the founders of Knox Ch., Ottawa, of which he is an elder. He is also V.-P. of the Knox Coll. Endowment and Sustentation Fund, and has served as a del. to the Genl. Assembly of the Presb. Ch. in Can., and as a del. to the Pan-Presb. Councils held in Edinburgh, London, Glasgow, etc. He was also a del. to the Centennial Conf. on Foreign Missions, London, 1888. He m. 1st, Oct., 1847, Julia, eld. dau. of N. S. HAY, George U., educationist, is a native of St. John, N.B., and comes of Loyalist stock. Originally a journalist, he, later, entered the teaching profession, and is now, and has been for several yrs., Principal of the Victoria High Sch., St. John, N.B., the most successful of all the educational institutions in that city. In 1887, in conjunction with Dr. A. H. Mackay, he established the Educational Rev., of which he is still one of the eds. He is Presdt. of the Nat. Hist. Soc., N.B., a dir. of the Dom. Educational Assn. and a Fellow of the Royal Soc. of Can. He served on the Dom. History Comte., 1894-96. He has published various papers on subjects connected with education and nat. science, and an address on "Ideal School Discipline." He obtained the degree of Ph.B. from an Illinois Univ., and that of M.A. (hon. causa) from Acadia Coll., 1894.—St. John, N.B.

HAYES, Mrs. Kate E. ("Mary Markwell"), author, is the 3rd dau. of Patrick Hayes, and was b. at Dalhousie, N.B., 1856. She inherits her taste for literature from her mother, a very highly cultured woman. Mrs. H. has been known for some yrs. as a writer in both prose and verse for the mags. She enjoys the distinction of having produced the first work of fiction issued from the press of the N. W. T. of Can. This work, "Prairie Potpourri" (1895), describes scenes and incidents connected with the history of the romantic region in which the author lives. "Its place," says W. D. Lighthall, "is one of real honour in literature." Another work, "Shanty Songs and Stories," is now in the printer's hands. Mrs. H. has also written several dramatic pieces, which have been successfully staged. She was m. 1882, to C. Bowman Simpson, Bowmanville, Ont., from whom she obtained a legal separation, 1889. Her "Prairie Greeting to the Queen" on the occasion of Her Majesty's Diamond Jubilee, 1897, has been widely noticed. For some yrs. she has held the appt. of Librarian to the Territorial Legislature.—Regina, N. W. T.

Megantic, P.Q., Jan. 27, 1850, and is descended on his father's side from a family that settled in New France at least 2 centuries ago. Ed. at the local schs., he became at 14 clk. in a country store. In 1871 he went to Mass., where he worked on a farm, and acted subsequently as agent for the sale of fruit trees. He had always an inclination for carving in wood. On the suggestion of his cousin, E. E. Richard (q.v.), he went to Montreal, and in 1873, obtained a prize at the Prov. Exhn. for a small bust in wood. Soon afterwards he was taken into the atélier of N. Bourassa, sculptor and painter, Montreal (q.v.), with whom he remained for 5 yrs. After spending a year in study at Paris, he returned to Can., and designed the statue of De Salaberry, the hero of Chateauguay, which was soon afterwards erected at Chambly. In 1882 he won the prize offered by the Dom. Govt. for the full-length statue of Sir George E. Cartier which stands in Parlt. Square, Ottawa; and he was also the designer of the public statue erected there at a later date to Sir John Macdonald. In 1886 he was commissioned by the Quebec Govt. to execute a number of historical statues for the ornamentation of the Legislative Buildings, then lately erected in the capital of the Province. While at work on this important task he lived in Paris, and has since continued to occupy a studio there. Among the latest of his works are the statues to Maisonneuve and Chénier in Montreal. Mr. H. has won and received a great number of prizes, both in money and medals. Among the latter is the Confederation medal, awarded by the Govt. of Can., 1894, as a mark of its appreciation of his talents. He is a mem. of l'Alliance Française (Assn. pour la prop. de la Lang. HELBRONNER, Jules, journalist, was b. in France about 46 yrs. ago. Coming to Can., 1874, he devoted himself to industrial pursuits, and wrote in the press respecting manufactures and the condition of the working-man. He joined the ed. staff of La Presse (Mont.), and was for a considerable period ed.-in-chief of that journal. Resigning this position, Jan., 1896, he soon afterwards accepted the editorship of the new Lib. organ, Le Soir, but is now again ed. of La Presse. He served in 1886 as a mem. of the Royal Comn. apptd. to enquire into the subject of labour, and, in 1889, was a del. to the Paris Exhn.—117 St. Matthew St., Montreal.

HELLMUTH, The Rt. Rev. Isaac, late Bishop of Huron (Ch. of Eng.), is the s. of Jewish parents, and was b. near Warsaw, Poland, Dec. 14, 1820. Ed. at the Univ. of Breslau, he subsequently repaired to Eng., where, in 1841, he made a public profession of Christianity. Coming to Can., 1844, he was ordained deacon, 1846, and priest, 184–, by the Bp. of Quebec. For 8 yrs. he was a Prof. in Bishop's Coll. Univ., Lennoxville (D.D., 1854), and Incumbent of St. Peter's Ch., Sherbrooke. He was then apptd. Genl. Supt. for the Col. and Continental Ch. Soc. in the B. N. A. Colonies. While holding this position, 1861, he was chosen by the late Bp. Cronyn to proceed to Eng. to collect funds for the establishment and endowment of a theol. coll. in the Diocese of Huron. Having been created Archdeacon of Huron he set forth on his mission, which was entirely successful, the necessary funds being collected in a very short time. On his return to Can., Dr. H. was apptd. Principal and Prof. of Divinity in the new institution, which was opened, 1863, as the Huron Theol. Coll. On the retirement of Dr. Cronyn from the rectorship of St. Paul's Cath., London, Dr. H. was apptd. Dean and Rector. While in that position he established the Ch. of Eng. Y.M.C.A. He also founded Hellmuth Coll., an institution for boys, and, later, Hellmuth Ladies' Coll., both of which have been very successful in promoting the work of advanced education in the West. Of the Ladies' Coll., Dr. H. was for some yrs. Presdt. Apptd. Coadjutor Bp. to Dr. Cronyn, with the title of Bp. of Norfolk, July, 1871, he was consecrated by the then Metropolitan of Can. A few mths. later, on the death of Dr. Cronyn, Dr. H. succeeded him as second Bp. of Huron, and continued to direct the affairs of the diocese up to his resignation thereof, 1883, he being then apptd. Coadjutor Bp. of Ripon, Eng. His crowning achievement in Can. was the establishment of the Western Univ. at London, for the endowment of which he personally contributed the sum of $10,000. He received the hon. degree of D.C.L. from Trinity Univ., Toronto, 1871. After the death of Bp. Bickersteth, 1896, he retired from the Diocese of Ripon, and was named Rector of Bridlington, Yorkshire. In addition to a work "On the Authenticity and Genuineness of the Pentateuch," his Lordship has published "A Biblical Thesaurus, with an Analysis of every word in the Original Languages of the Old Testament." He has been twice m., 1st, 1847, to Catharine, dau. of the late Genl. Evans, C.B. (she d. May, 1884); and 2ndly, 1886, to the Hon. Mrs. Ashley Carr Glyn, dau. of Admiral the Hon. HENDERSON, Rev. James (Meth.), is of Scottish parentage, and was b. at Airdrie, Scot. Brought up in the Presb. faith, he was ed. at Glasgow, coming to Can., 1870. He was ordained to the Meth. ministry, 1876, and was successively stationed at Sherbrooke, South Quebec, Cookshire, Huntingdon and Montreal. At the latter city he served in 3 different pastorates, namely, Dom. Square, Sherbrooke St. and new St. James'. His ability, not only in the pulpit, but in the practical and equally important dept. of ch. organization is shown by the result of his work since his admission to the ministry. "While in Huntingdon," we quote from the Mail, "the present ch., the most costly and commodious in the district, was built; in Prescott he wiped out the debt upon the ch., and placed it upon a prosperous footing; he saved the Sherbrooke St. Ch. (Montreal) from threatened bankruptcy, renovated and beautified the interior of the building, increased the membership, and brought every source of revenue up to a high standard; at new St. James' (Montreal), his fame as a preacher was such that this, the largest ch. edifice in the Dom. was filled to overflowing. From Montreal he came to Toronto on the call of Carlton St. Ch. Here his indefatigable efforts brought the funds up to their height; the pews were all rented, and, especially at the evening services, the ch. was filled to overflowing." In 1894 he was transferred to Sherbourne St. Ch., Toronto, and, in the following year, declined a call to Grace Ch., Winnipeg. He was apptd. Asst. Secy. of the Meth. Miss. Soc., and entered upon his new duties, July, 1896. He received the hon. degree of D.D. from Victoria Univ., 1894. Dr. H. is an hon. mem. of the Can. Temp. League. Politically, he is a follower of Mr. McCarthy. He m. 1876, Mary, 2nd dau. of Jas. Gillespie, of Quebec.—51 Rosedale Road, Toronto.

HERRIDGE, Rev. William Thomas (Presb.), is the only s. of the Rev. W. Herridge (Meth.), by his wife, the late Emma Barkshire, and was b. at Reading, Eng., Jan. 14, 1857. His early education was received in part at the Model Sch., Toronto. Subsequently he was a pupil of the Hamilton Coll. Inst. and of the Galt Coll. Inst., and matriculated at Toronto Univ., where he won a treble scholarship. After his first year, in which he was 1st prizeman and winner of the classical scholarship, he spent the vacation in making a tour in Gt. Brit. He graduated B.A. in Toronto Univ. with high classical honours, 1880, and was also the winner of the 1st prize for public speaking and the 1st prize for English essay. He began his theol. studies in Montreal Presb. Coll., and during his course was asst. in St. Paul's Ch., of that city. He graduated, 1883, gold med. in Theol., and having successfully passed the prescribed exams. was awarded the degree of B.D. During his course he won the highest scholarships and prizes in the gift of the Coll., and a travelling fellowship of $500, awarded to the student taking the highest place in all the years. Meantime, he had received a call to St. Andrew's Ch., Ottawa, and accepted it on condition of being afforded time in terms of the fellowship to continue his studies in Europe. He was accordingly inducted, Aug., 1883. After a few weeks of introductory work, he sailed for Europe, and spent a year in special study at Edinburgh, Glasgow and London. He also continued his researches on the continent for some time, especially in Italy, giving particular attention to art and antiquities, and returned to Can., 1884, since when he has laboured zealously and with much benefit and advantage to the whole community, as pastor of the principal Presb. ch. at the Federal capital. Mr. H. is a mem. of the Bd. of Management of the Presb. Coll., Montreal; a trustee of Queen's Univ., Kingston; a Senator of Toronto Univ.; Presdt. of the Ottawa Art Assn., and Presdt. of the Presb. Ladies' Coll., Ottawa. As a clergyman Mr. H. has brought to his work earnestness, thought, and outspoken manly presentation of truth. One of the aims he has always had in view has been the conservation of religious peace with honour among the different sections of the Can. community. He takes it as a happy omen "that thoughtful men in different chs. are approaching one another along the lines of least resistance, are seriously asking the question whether it is God's will whether there should be such a perplexing number of sects and 'denominations,' and are realizing with growing clearness that the weakest part of a man's creed is that which is peculiar to himself, and the strongest part that which he holds in common with all who really desire the name of Christian. In this land of ours, where religious tolerance has such full opportunity for its display, we ought to be able to contribute our part in answering the prayer of Christ Himself that His Ch. on earth may be one." Among the most important of his contributions to literature have been essays on "Beethoven," "Milton," "Robert Browning," and "Woman: Her Place and Work." Politically, he is Ind. HERRING, Richard Owen, journalist, was b. in Cornwall, Eng., 1846, and was brought to this country when 6 yrs. of age. Having served his apprenticeship to the printing business, he established a paper in Goderich under the name of the Canadian Colonist, now the Star, but sold it in less than a year. After a brief course at Ann Arbor Univ., Mich., he came to Oil Wells, Ont., at the time the big flowing wells were first struck, Jan., 1865, and there started the Oil Springs Chronicle, which lived till Dec., 1866, when, as he expressively relates, "The Fenian raid knocked the bottom out of the town." Coming later to Petrolea, he founded the Advertiser, which was really a continuation of the Chronicle, and which he has continued to publish uninterruptedly ever since, with a brief exception of a few months' interregnum in 1871, when the oil business was so low that it would not pay to issue a paper, crude oil being sold for 20 cents a barrel, while ordinary drinking water brought 25 cents a barrel. Mr. H.'s paper is called the Petrolea Advertiser and Can. Oil Journal, and it is now, and has long been, regarded as the only recognized authority of the oil industry in Can. Mr. H. is one of the oldest mems. of the Can. Press Assn., having joined it first in 1867. He is a mem. of the Ch. of Eng., and, in politics, a Con. He m. July, 1877, Emma, dau. of Col. HILL, Rev. James Edgar (Ch. of Scot.), was b. in Glasgow, Scot., Oct. 18, 1842. He studied for 9 yrs. at Edinburgh Univ., with a view to entering the ministry of the Ch. of Scot.

Graduating M.A., 1868, and B.D., 1872, he was licensed to preach by the Presby. of Edinburgh the same year, and immediately apptd. locum tenens in Morningside parish, Edinburgh. He was subsequently asst. to the Rev. Dr. Gray, in Lady Yester's parish, Edinburgh. In June, 1873, he was presented by the Queen, min. of the parish of Burnt Island, Fife, at the unanimous request of the parishioners, and ordained to the ministry Sept. 14. Here he remained until Feb., 1877, when he was elected unanimously min. of the large and populous parish of St. Paul's, Dundee. In Sept., 1882, he was nominated by the Scotch Comnrs. to his present charge as min. of St. Andrew's Ch., Montreal, in connection with the Ch. of Scot., to which he was inducted Nov. 15, in that year. He enjoys the distinction of being the only Presb. min. in the Province of Quebec holding office outside the "Presb. Ch. in Can." He is chaplain of the 5th Royal Scots of Can., and one of the chaplains of the St. Andrew's Soc. of Montreal, a mem. of the Council of the Montreal Art Assn., and a trustee of the Trafalgar Inst. in that city. He is highly popular both as a preacher and lecturer. In 1894 he was commissioned by his cong. to proceed to Edinburgh for the purpose of presenting to Rev. Dr. Story, the new Moderator of the Genl. Assembly of the Ch. of Scot. (who had formerly been their min.), with a congratulatory address accompanied by a handsome court dress and robes. Mr. H. published, 1890, a volume entitled "Queen Charity and other Sermons," which was very favourably received, and has been largely sold on both sides of the Atlantic. He m. 1867, Marianne F., dau. of W. Philip, Kirkcaldy. —St. Andrew's Manse, Montreal.

HILL, James J., railway promoter and president, was b. near Guelph, Ont., Sept. 16, 1838, and is of Irish-Scotch origin. Ed. at the Rockwood Acad., he spent his early yrs. on his father's farm. On the latter's death, he went west, and was for some yrs. a clk. in various mercantile houses in St. Paul, Minn. In 1865, after having raised a co. for service during the war, he took the agency of the North-Western Packet Co., and continued in that position until the consolidation of the North-Western and Davidson lines, 1867. From the latter year to 1869 he was engaged in the general transportation and fuel business, and was the agent and consignee of the St. Paul and Pacific Ry. Co. In 1869 the firm of Hills, Griggs & Co. was formed to carry on this business, and continued in operation till 1875. In 1870 Mr. H. established the Red River Transportation Co., and opened up for the first time regular and direct communication between St. Paul and Fort Garry, now Winnipeg. In 1871 he consolidated this co. with one previously established by N. W. Kittson, and was brought into contact with Sir D. A. Smith (now Lord Strathcona and Mount Royal, q.v.), who became an associate in the business. Later, in 1878, he was instrumental in forming a syndicate, composed of the present Lord Mount Stephen, the present Lord Strathcona, himself and others, who secured from the Dutch Comte. at Amsterdam the bonds of the St. Paul and Pacific Ry., which ry. had passed into the hands of a receiver. The syndicate obtained possession of the road, and Mr. H. was made its Mang.-Dir. Out of this sprang the organization, composed mainly of the same parties, who afterwards built the Can. Pac. Ry. In 1883 he sold out his interest in the Can. Pac. Ry. to his associates, retired from the directorate, and from that time has devoted his entire attention to the business of the St. Paul, Minneapolis and Man. Ry., or to the system of roads which has since received the general designation of the Great Northern Ry. The history of this road, the completion of which to Puget Sound was celebrated at St. Paul in 1893, redounds greatly to his organizing capacity and energy of character. The road is a continental system, extending from Lake Superior and St. Paul to Puget Sound, with branches to Helena and Butte, and projecting southward from Minn. into Southern Dakota, and except that part of the system lying within the limits of Minn., has been built without the aid of land grants or any form of subsidy. It is supplemented by lines of steamships on the lakes, of approved capacity and speed, and by a fleet of vessels connecting the Pacific terminus of the Great Northern with China and Japan. Of this road he continues to be Presdt. He is also Presdt. of the Northern Express Co. Mr. H. was early and happily m., and is the father of 9 children. In honour of his wife, who is a R. C. in religion, and a model wife and mother, he gave some yrs. ago $500,000 to found a Cath. Theol. Semy. in St. Paul, to be under the direction of Archbp. Ireland.—Summit Ave., St. Paul, Minn., U.S.; North Oaks Farm, near St Paul.

HILTS, Rev. Joseph Henry (Meth.), was b. near Niagara, Ont., May 4, 1819 (U. E. L. descent). He joined the Meth. body, 1841, and has filled every position in the various depts. of ch. work from class leader to presiding elder. He became a min. of the Meth. Ep. Ch., 1856, and for 22 yrs. laboured incessantly as a travelling mission., never missing an appt. but once during the period mentioned. Of late, he has lectured frequently in different portions of Ont. Mr. H. served as a volunteer during the rebellion of 1837. He is the author of several works which have enjoyed an extensive circulation, viz. : "Experiences of a Backwoods Preacher"; "Among the Forest Trees"; and "Clothed With the Sun." Politically, he was a life-long Reformer, until the passing of the Jesuits' Estates Bill ; since then he has been a follower of D'Alton McCarthy. He m. Can. Govt., he explored a portion of the interior of the Labrador peninsula, reaching, by Moisie River, the sources of the rivers which flow from the great Labrador plateau to Hudson Bay, the North-east Atlantic and the Gulf of St. Lawrence. In his published account of these undertakings Prof. H. describes for the first time the extent and character of the Can. fisheries. Resigning his professorship, 1864, he next undertook a preliminary geol. survey of N. B., for the Govt. of that Province. In 1866 he removed to N. S., and subsequently made an examination of the gold dists. there for the local govt. In 1876 he made an exploration of the mineral field in the north-eastern portion of Nfd., and thence on the Atlantic Coast of Labrador, nearly as far north as Nain, or about 350 miles north of the Straits of Belle Isle. While thus engaged he discovered and mapped an extensive series of cod banks, stretching for several hundred miles north-west of Belle Isle, and about 20 or 30 miles from the coast line. At the close of 1876 his services were secured by the Nfd. Govt. to examine and report on the newly discovered cod banks, as far as Hudson's Straits, but just before setting out for this duty, he was called to Halifax to assist in the scientific portion of the work before the Fisheries Comn., then meeting there under the provisions of the Treaty of Washington. He remained at Halifax until the close of the arbitration, when all the documents and records of proceedings on both sides were placed in his hands for analysis and indexing. In 1878 he prepared for the Paris Exposn. a series of charts illustrating the movements of fish in the North Am. waters during summer and winter, the spring and fall spawning grounds of the herring, the coastal movements of the cod, etc., for which he was awarded a gold medal and diploma. Prof. H. was ed. of the Can. Journal, the organ of the Can. Inst., 1852-55. He likewise edited the Journal of the Bd. of Arts and Manufactures U. C., and the old Brit. Am. Mag. (Toronto). His published works, including those already mentioned, comprise the following, among others: "Prize Essay on Insects and Diseases Injurious to the Wheat Crops" (1857); "Narrative of the Can. Red River Exploring Expdn. of 1857, and of the Assiniboine and Saskatchewan Exploring Expdn. of 1858" (1860); "Explorations in the Interior of the Labrador Peninsula" (1863); "Eighty Years' Progress of North Am." (do.); "Notes on the Northern Labrador Fishing Ground" (1876); "The Effect of the Fishery Clauses of the Treaty of Washington on the Fisheries and Fishermen of Brit. North Am." (1877); "Sketch of the old Parish Burying Ground, Windsor, N.S." (1889); "History of the Univ. of King's Coll., Windsor, N.S." (1890). He received the degree of M.A. from Trinity Univ., 1853, and was made an hon. D.C.L. of King's Coll., Windsor (of which he is a gov.), 1890. In 1860 he was elected a Fellow of the Royal Geog. Soc. of Eng. He is a mem. of the Ch. of Eng., and has served as a del. to the Diocesan, Provl. and Genl. Synods. He m. Feb., 1850, Katharine, 2nd dau. of the late Lt.-Col. Duncan Cameron, C.B., H. HINGSTON, Sir William Hales, Kt., M.D., is the s. of the late Lt.-Col. S. J. Hingston, H. M.'s 100th Regt., and was b. at Hinchinbrook, P.Q., June 29, 1829. He belongs to an old Irish family, and is nearly related to the Cotters, of Cork, the elder Latouches, of Dublin, and the Hales. Ed. at the local Acad. and at the Montreal (St. Sulpice) Coll., he graduated in Med. at McGill Univ., 1851. Proceeding to Europe, he obtained the diploma of the R. C. of Surg., Edin., 1852, and subsequently obtained diplomas from France, Prussia, Austria and Bavaria. He was the first Can. admitted to the membership of the Imp. Leopold Acad., Vienna. Dr. H. commenced practice in Montreal, where he has since resided, and where he is now one of the doyens of his profession, ranking among the highest, especially in surgery. He has been for many yrs. surgeon to the Hotel Dieu Hospital, where he gives daily clinical instruction in surg. He is also a gov. of the Coll. of Phys. and Surg., and was at one time Presdt. of that body. On the organization of the Can. Med. Assn. he was elected its first Secy., and was afterwards Presdt. of the Assn. He organized the first Bd. of Health in the Dom., and has long worked in behalf of the sanitary interests of the country. When Bishop's Coll. Med. Sch. was organized, he was named Prof. of Surg. and Clin. Surg. therein, and became Dean of the Faculty—positions which he was afterwards compelled to resign owing to other and more pressing claims on his time and attention. Dr. H. was elected Chairman of the Local Bd. of Health, organized during an epidemic of smallpox, and became Chairman of the Provl. Bd. of Health, apptd. during a similar visitation, 1885. His contributions to med. lit. have been numerous and important. Perhaps his most important publication is his "Climate of Can., and its Relations to Life and Health" (1885), which was pronounced by a competent authority, "the fullest work which has appeared on the subject, and apart from its economic and ethnol. value, is, from its pleasing style, delightful to read." No mem. of the med. profession in Can. has been more honoured by scientific bodies. In addition to those distinctions already named, he has been elected an hon. mem. by several State Bds. of Med. and by many State Med. Socs. in the U. S. On the occasion of its visit to Can. some yrs. ago, he was chosen V.-P. by the Brit. Assn. for the Advanc. of Science, and not long afterwards was elected an hon. mem. of the Brit. Med. Assn. He was for some yrs. Presdt. of the City Passenger Ry. Co., and is now Presdt. of the Montreal City and Dist. Savings Bank. Elected Mayor of Montreal, 1875, he continued to fill that office up to 1878, when he declined renomination. For the coolness and judgment displayed by him during the Guibord excitement in Montreal he received the thanks of the then Gov.-Genl. of Can., the Earl of Dufferin. He is an hon. D.C.L. of Bishop's Coll. Univ., Lennoxville, and an hon. LL.D. of Victoria Univ., Toronto, and a V.-P. of the Montreal Branch of the St. John's Ambulance Assn. He was apptd. a Commander of the Roman Order of St. Gregory, 1875; was knighted by H. M., May 24, 1895, and was called to the Senate of Can. by the Earl of Aberdeen, Jan. 2, 1896. HODGINS, John George, historiographer, Ont. public service, is the eld. s. of the late Wm. Hodgins, of Dublin, Irel., by his wife Frances, dau. of the late Jas. Doyle, of Newcastle, Co. Wicklow. B. in Dublin, Aug. 12, 1821, he came to Can., 1833, and received his education at Upper Can. Acad., and at Victoria Coll., Cobourg (M.A., 1856). He subsequently followed the law course at Toronto Univ. (LL.B., 1860; LL.D., 1870), and became a mem. of the bar. His connection with educational work dates from 1844, in which year he entered the Dept. of Education of U. C. as chief clk. He was apptd. Secy. of the Provl. Bd. of Education, which body was afterwards designated the Council of Public Instruction, 1846. His merits becoming more fully known, he was promoted Depty. Supt. of Education, 1855. Not long after his first appt. he spent a year in Dublin familiarizing himself with the details of management in the office of the National Bd. of Education of Irel., and in mastering the methods in the Normal and Model schs. of that country. On his return to Can., he set himself to the task of applying so much of the details of the Irish system as was adapted to the circumstances of this country, and together with his official chief, Dr. Ryerson, to round and perfect the system throughout. In 1871 he and Dr. Machatti were deputed by the Ont. Govt. to visit the U. S. and report upon the subject of Technical Schs. of Science. This led to the establishment by the Province of the Coll. of Tech., and subsequently to the Sch. of Practical Science. He remained Depty. Head under Dr. Ryerson during the whole of the latter's admn., and on his retirement, 1876, was apptd. Depty. Mr. of Education. This office he retained until 1889, when he became Librarian and Historiographer of the Educ. Dept. for Ont. Besides being ed. of the U. C. Jour. of Education for an extended period, he has written much otherwise. He was one of the pioneers in sch. book literature in Can., and rendered important services in this regard. His published works include, "Lovell's General Geog."; "First Steps in General Geog."; "School History of Can. and of the other British North Am. Provinces"; "The Can. Speaker and Reciter"; "School Manual"; "Lectures on the Sch. Law"; "Sketches and Anecdotes of the Queen"; "The Sch. House and its Architecture"; "The Documentary History of Education in Upper Can." (4 vols.); and "The Legislation and History of Separate Schs. in Upper Can." A noted work of his was a "Report of the Educational Features of the Centennial Exhn. at Philadelphia." Dr. H. was the chief ed. of, as well as one of the gentlemen under whose supervision, "The Story of My Life," by Dr. Ryerson, was published. He is likewise the author of several other papers on the life and labours of that eminent educationist. In benevolent and religious work he has been most active, having been hon. Secy. of the U. C. Bible Soc. since 1860; hon. Lay Secy. of the Ang. Synod of the Diocese of Toronto since 1870; V.-P. of the Toronto Humane Soc.; and Presdt. of the Prisoners' Aid Soc. and of the Irish Prot. Benevolent Soc. He was one of the founders of the newly organized Royal Can. Humane Soc., and is hon. Secy. to that body. He took a prominent part in the formation of the Queen's Own Rifles, and was a lieut. and capt. therein. He was elected a Fellow of the Roy. Geog. Soc., London, 1861; received the French decoration of the Palm Leaf, 1879; was apptd. hon. Secy. of the Intern. Congress of Educators, New Orleans, also one of the educational jurors at the exposition held in that city, 1885; later he was elected a cor. Fellow of the Acad. of Sciences, New Orleans; and under Lord Lansdowne's Admn., was awarded the Confederation medal in acknowledgment of his services as a public officer and a man of letters. He m. 1st, Nov., 1849, Frances Rachel, eld. dau. of Jas. Doyle, Cloyne, Co. Cork, Irel. HODGINS, Thomas, Ont. public service, is the 4th s. of the late Wm. Hodgins, of Dublin, and bro. of the preceding. B. in Dublin, Oct. 6, 1828, he was ed. there, at Bristol, Eng., and at the Univ. of Toronto, where he gained the Univ. scholarship in Civil Polity and History, and graduated B.A., with 1st class honours, 1856, proceeding to M.A., 1860. He followed the law course at the same institution (LL.B., 1858), and was called to the bar the same year. He practised his profession in Toronto, and was at one time the law partner of the late Chief-Justice Harrison, with whom he edited a volume of Municipal Law Reports, 1863. Created a Q. C. by the Earl of Dufferin, 1873, he received a similar dignity from the Ont. Govt., 1876, was elected a Bencher of the Law Soc., 1874, and apptd. Chairman of the Legal Education Comte. of the Soc., 1875. Mr. H. was senior law examr. in the faculty of law, Toronto Univ., for a considerable period, until elected by the Benchers to be the representative of the Law Soc. in the Senate of the Univ. He was for many yrs. a contributor and equity reporter to the Can. Law Journal, and has written and lectured on a variety of public questions. He has published separately: "Reports of the Decisions of the Judges for the Trial of Election Petitions in Ont."; "The Dom. Franchise Acts, with Notes"; "A Handy Book on the Dom. and Ont. Franchises"; and "A Manual of the Law affecting the Electoral Franchise and Voters' Lists for Legislative and Municipal Elections in Ont." He sat in the Provl. Legislature, for West Elgin, in the Lib. interest, 1871-79, and while there secured various amendments to the law of property and trusts. Both then and afterwards he was a strong advocate of manhood suffrage in Provl. elections. He was an unsuccessful candidate for Toronto West, Dom. g. e. 1878, and for West York, Dom. g. e. 1882. He was apptd. Master-in-Ordinary of the Supreme Ct. of Ont., 1883, and Judicial Referee under the Drainage Laws, 1896. He is a mem. of the Ang. Ch., and m. HODGINS, Lt.-Col. William Egerton, Dom. civil service, is the eld. s. of J. G. Hodgins, M.A., LL.D. (q.v.), and was b. in Toronto, Oct. 3, 1850. Ed. at Hellmuth Coll., London, and at Toronto Univ. (B.A., with honours, 1874; M.A., 1875), he was called to the bar, 1877, and practised his profession in Toronto. Since 1883 he has held a position in the Dept. of Justice, Ottawa, and has compiled two volumes embodying correspondence, reports of the Mr. of Justice and Orders in Council upon the subject of Provl. Legislation, which were printed by order of the Govt., together with a work on Joint Stock Companies, and the issue of Letters Patent in Can. His connection with the Can. militia service has been long and distinguished. He entered the Mil. Sch. at Toronto as a cadet, 1866, and after obtaining a 2nd class cert. there, was gazetted ensign in the militia. He subsequently joined the Univ. co. of the Queen's Own Rifles, and was promoted lieut. 1877. In 1881 he was promoted capt. and given command of "I" co., which he held until 1883, when, removing to Ottawa, he was transferred to the Gov.-Genl.'s Foot Guards as adjt. In 1889 he was granted the bt. rank of major, in 1890 was promoted as major of the regt., and on Oct. 25, 1894, succeeded Lt.-Col. Toller in the command. He holds a 1st class V. B. cert. in addition to his other certs. In 1882 and 1883 Lt.-Col. H. served as orderly officer and also as brigade-maj. at the camp No. 3 Mil. Dist. During the term of office of the Marquis of Lansdowne, as Gov.-Genl., Lt.-Col. H. served on his staff as an extra A.D.C., and in Sept., 1888, he was apptd. hon. A.D.C. to the late Sir Alex. Campbell, K.C.M.G., Lt.-Gov. of Ont. He has always taken a great interest in rifle shooting, and has for a long time been connected with the various rifle assns. HODGSON, Jonathan, merchant, was b. in Clintonville, N.Y., Apl. 15, 1857, and is the s. of Thos. Hodgson, who emigrated to Can. from Durham, Eng., 1818. He subsequently removed to the U. S., where his business called him, but returning to Can., 1835, settled at Lacolle, P.Q., where he successfully cultivated a farm from that time up to his demise, 1879. Ed. at Lacolle, he commenced his business career as clk. in a genl. store at Napierville, P.Q. In 1850 he removed to Montreal and entered the employ of Wm. Moody, a wholesale merchant in that city, with whom he remained for 7 yrs. Then, entering into business on his own account, in partnership with John

Foulds, he laid the foundation of the extensive business of which he has since been at the head. The name and style of the firm was Foulds & Hodgson, wholesale dry goods and smallwares merchants. Mr. Foulds retiring, 1870, Mr. H. became the senior partner in the firm, which was reorganized, 1879, by the admission of other partners. The firm rapidly gained the confidence of the public, more and more as the business became extended. One of the oldest and most active mems. of the Montreal Bd. of Trade, Mr. H. is also a prominent mem. of the Dry Goods Assn., and has served as a del. to Ottawa from that body on several occasions to interview the Govt. on matters affecting its interests. He is also dir. of the Merchants' Manfg. Co., of the Almonte Knitting Co., of the Royal Victoria Life Ins. Co., of the Herald Publishing Co., of the Alliance Assur. Co., and of the Merchants' Bank of Can. Politically, like his father before him, he is a faithful Lib. In religion, he is an adherent of the Presb. Ch., but lends his aid to all religious and moral movements looking to the welfare and benefit of his fellow-men. As a public man, he has always believed in a tariff for revenue only; he is a firm believer in the advantages of Brit. connection, and is utterly opposed to annexation with the U. S. HOLMES, Simon Hugh, public officer, is the s. of the late Hon. John Holmes, senator, a native of Rossshire, Scot., by Christina Fraser, his wife. B. at East River, July 30, 1831, he was ed. at Pictou Acad., and was called to the bar, 1864. He likewise engaged in journalism, and was ed. and prop. of the Colonial Standard (Pictou) for 20 yrs. A Lib.-Con. in politics, he unsuccessfully contested Pictou for the N. S. Assembly in that interest, g.e. 1867. He was first returned, g. e. 1871, and continued to hold the seat until his retirement from political life, May 23, 1882, in consequence of his appt. as Prothy. and Clk. of the Crown for the Co. Halifax. He was created a Q. C. by the Marquis of Lorne, 1880, and was Premier of N. S. from Oct., 1878, to May, 1882. Mr. H. favours the N. P. on fair trade lines. The country, he thinks, ought to be engaged in the industries for which it is adapted by nature, and all these protected against unfair competition, especially as to markets, so that all competitors may be on an equal footing. Occupations, or industries to which a country is not adapted by nature, climate, or facility of production, are time and money wasted, and do not come within the legitimate sphere of the operations of a true national policy. This, in his opinion, is the essence of true political economy. Facilities for transportation, and all the best and latest improvements in everything, ought to be adopted, and these be aided by the best education in science, literature and art, always aiming at the very highest position attainable as a nation in religion and morality, as well as social relations. HOSMER, Charles Rudolph, telegraph manager, is the s. of the late Hiram P. Hosmer, and was b. at Coteau Landing, P.Q., Nov. 12, 1851, and ed. there. He learned telegraphy at the age of 14, and has followed the business ever since; was Supt. of the Dom. Tel. Co. at the age of 21, and became Presdt. of the Can. Mutual Tel. Co., 1881. In 1886 he was apptd. to his present position, Mangr. of the Can. Pacific Ry. Co.'s extensive system of telegraphs. He is on the directorate of the Postal Tel. Co. and of the Montreal Gas Co., and is a V.-P. of the Commercial Cable Co. In an article contributed by him to "Puck's Girdle; or, Gleanings from the Postal and Telegraphic World" (1889), he recounts some of the leading features of his present charge—a charge which has been the means of working a revolution in the commercial life of all parts of Can. during the past 10 yrs. "In former days the Great N. W. Tel. Co. had undisputed control of the entire telegraphic business of Can., and so great was the power that it exercised for good or for evil that people began to seriously ask themselves whether such exclusive power should not belong alone to the Govt., and be subject to popular control. As was the case, however, with Eng. railways, so it was with the Can. telegraph system; relief from the danger was speedily found in competition. The engrs. who carried the ry. line across the continent also took with them the essential telegraph line, until in Nov., 1885, Can. found that she possessed not only a great trunk ry., but also a telegraph system bringing every section of the Dom. into the closest contact, and occupying the almost unique position of being practically operated as a portion of the Can. Pac. Ry. system." But in its anxiety to beat records in the matter of distance, Mr. H. shows in the article refd. to, that the C. P. Co. has not forgotten the need for a high-class telegraphic service. This care in establishing an efficient line was made all the more necessary by the enormous lengths of the circuits which have to be worked. Mr. H. says that direct circuits (duplexed) are worked regularly between San Francisco and New Westminster, 1200 miles; between New Westminster and Winnipeg, 1472 miles; and Winnipeg and Montreal, 1423 miles; while, after 6 o'clock, Winnipeg and New York work direct with each other over a distance of nearly 2000 miles, and on Sundays New York and San Francisco are put in direct connection, a distance of over 4600 miles. And this is not all, for Mr. H., speaking of that bee-hive of industry, his central office in Montreal, says that in the operating room of the co. can be seen telegrams passing to and fro between San Francisco and New York, Chicago, etc., and also messages going back and forth between San Francisco, Vancouver, B.C., and other Pacific points, and China, Japan, Australia, New Zealand, Batavia, etc. Let us presume that one of the regular steamers of the C. P. Ry. has just sailed from Vancouver to Yokohama, a distance of 4232 miles, which she makes in from 12 to 14 days. The telegram announcing her departure to the agents in Yokohama would go via Montreal to New York, 3500 miles; thence across the Atlantic to Eng., 3000 miles; Eng., via Gibraltar, Malta, Alexandria, Aden, Bombay, Madras, Singapore, to Hong Kong, 8500 miles; and to Yokohama, 1600 miles, or a total distance from Vancouver to Yokohama of 16,600 miles—that is, nearly 4 times the distance covered by the steamer. HOWLAN, His Honour George William, statesman, was b. at Waterford, Irel., May 19, 1835. Coming to P. E. I., with his parents, 1839, he received his ed. at the Central Acad., Charlottetown, after which he entered mercantile life, and was long engaged in business on his own account. He was a mem. of the Island Assembly, from 1862 to June, 1873, when he was apptd. Collr. of Customs at Charlottetown. This office he resigned, in Sept. following, in order to contest Prince for the Ho. of Commons at the first election in the Island after its admission into the Dom. Defeated on that occasion by a small majority, he was called to the Senate of Can., Oct. 18, 1873, and remained a mem. of that body up to his appt. as Lt.-Gov. of P. E. I., Feb. 21, 1894. He entered the P. E. I. Govt. under Hon. Geo. Coles, 1866, and continued therein (being co-leader during a portion of the time) almost uninterruptedly till June 30, 1873. While in office he was sent to Washington as a del. on trade matters, 1869. He was also a mem. of the delegation sent to Ottawa, May, 1873, to negotiate terms of union with Can., which terms upon submission to the Legislature were unanimously adopted by both Houses. While a mem. of the local Legislature, he advocated the construction of the P. E. I. Ry. Subsequently, he identified himself very closely with the project for building a submarine tunnel between P. E. I. and the mainland, and secured an appropriation for a survey for the same. In 1892 he was sent by the Govt. of P. E. I. to consult with the eminent engr., Sir Douglas Fox, London, Eng., on the feasibility of building a submarine tunnel to connect P. E. I. with the mainland, and at the same time by the Dom. Govt. to consult with the Nfd. delegates, then on their way to London on the subject of confederation with Can. Mr. H. was for many yrs. Vice-Consul for Sweden, Denmark and Norway in P. E. I. HOWLAND, Henry Stark, merchant and capitalist, is descended from John Howland, a Quaker, who, with other of the "Pilgrim Fathers," came to Am., 1620, and is a younger s. of Jonathan Howland by his wife, Lydia Pearce, both formerly of Dutchess Co., N.Y. B. at Paulings, N.Y., Aug. 2, 1824, he was ed. in the same State, and came to Can., 1840. After being engaged for many yrs. in milling in Co. York, Ont., he entered municipal politics and was elected Warden of York. He likewise took an active part in the promotion of ry. construction, and was for some time Presdt. of the Toronto and Nipissing, the Toronto, Grey and Bruce, and of the Toronto and Ottawa roads, the last-named being now operated by the Can. Pac. Ry. On the organization of the Canadian Bank of Commerce he was elected to the office of V.-P. In 1875 he assisted in founding the Imperial Bank of Can., and became its first Presdt., a position he still holds. He was one of the chief promoters of the Can. Car Co., 1872, and of the Dom. Lands Colonization Co., 1882, and later assisted in founding the Imperial Trusts Co. of Can., of which he is now Presdt. HOWLAND, Oliver Aiken, barrister and legislator, is the s. of Hon. Sir Wm. P. Howland (q.v.) by his 1st wife, Marianne Blyth, and was b. at Lambton Mills, Ont., Apl. 18, 1847. Ed. at U. C. Coll., at the Toronto Model Grammar Sch., and at Toronto Univ., he studied law under the late M. C. (afterwards Chief-Justice) Cameron, was called to the bar, 1875, and has since practised in Toronto. He is V.-P. of the Can. Bar Assn., and was recommended for appt. as a Q. C. by the Tupper Admn., 1896. He has appeared before H. M.'s Privy Council in Eng. as counsel in several important cases, including Smith v. Goldie, Langtry v. Dumoulin and Duggan v. London and Can. Loan and Agency Co. Taking a great interest in literary and scientific investigation, and in the promotion of hist. research, he has been for yrs. an active mem. of the Can. Inst., and of other bodies having similar aims. He was a mem. of the Council of the Inst., 1892-94, and in the former year was chairman of the memorial publication comte. in connection with the Ont. Centenary. In 1895 he was elected chairman of the hist. sec. of the Inst., and inaugurated the movement for a Can. Hist. Exhn. during 1897 in commemoration of the 400th anniversary of Cabot's landing on the shores of N. S. He is also Presdt. of the Internl. Deep Waterways Assn., and in Nov., 1895, was apptd. a comnr. on behalf of Gt. Brit. and Can. on the Internl. Comn. on the subject of deep waterways and lake levels. He entered political life at the Provl. g. e. 1894, being then returned to the Legislature for South Toronto in the Con. interest by a majority of 2070 over the Lib. candidate, the present Mr. Justice Moss. In addition to two books: "The Irish Problem, viewed by a citizen of the Empire" (1887), and "The New Empire; Reflections upon its Origin, Constitution and its relation to the Great Republic" (1891); he has written for the Week, the Can. Mag. and the Barrister. Among such contributions have been articles on "The Life of Sir John Thompson," "Art Spirit," the "Copyright Question," and on the "400th year of Can. History," besides reviews of writers of History and Travel. He is a believer in the continued development of Can., Brit. and Am. institutions and relations rather than in political revolution; in Imp. unity, without any sacrifice of Colonial individuality. In the "New Empire," published in 1891, he was the first to advocate an internl. ct. between the U. S. and the Brit. Empire, and to exhibit the constitutional and hist. unity of the two peoples as a foundation for such a ct. The scheme is the same as that adopted by the two Govts. in 1897, in the treaty agreed upon between Lord Salisbury and Presdt. Cleveland. In the interval Mr. H. had placed the scheme before several popular bodies, including the internl. deep waterways convention at its meetings at Toronto, 1894, and Cleveland, 1895, and at the Trans-Mississippi Congress at St. Louis, 1895. Resolutions embodying its principles were unanimously adopted by these bodies and forwarded to the govts. of the U. S., Gt. Brit. and the Colonies in 1895. The resolutions recommended the institution of a permanent ct. founded on the Supreme Cts. of the 2 nations for the settlement of all questions that might in anywise arise between the people and govt. of the U. S. and the Brit. Empire. These principles are embodied in the resolution. In 1897 he read a paper on the subject before the Can. Bar Assn. at Halifax. Mr. H. is a Fellow of the Imperial Inst. In religion, he is a mem. of the Ch. of Eng., and has been ch.-warden of St. James', Toronto, for many yrs. He is also a dir. of Bp. Ridley Coll. Howland, and was b. in Paulings, N.Y., May 29, 1811. Ed. at the Kinderhook Acad., he came to Can., 1830. In 1840 he purchased the Lambton Mills, Co. York, Ont., and soon afterwards engaged in the wholesale grocery trade in Toronto. He entered Parlt. as mem. for West York, 1857, and was a mem. of the Ho. of Commons after the union of 1867 till July, 1868, when he became Lt.-Gov. of Ont. This office he vacated Nov., 1873. He had previously held office in successive Admns., as Mr. of Finance, Rec.-Genl., Postmaster-Genl., Mr. of Finance (a second time), and Mr. of Inland Revenue. He was a del. to Washington respecting Reciprocal Trade, 1866, and to the London Colonial Conf., to complete terms of union of the B. N. A. Provinces (thus becoming one of the "Fathers of Confederation"), 1866-67. Sir Wm. withdrew from business, 1894. He was for some yrs. Presdt. of the Ont. Bank, and Presdt. of the Toronto Bd. of Trade. He remains Presdt. of the Gold and Silver Mines

Developing Co., Presdt. of the London and Can. Loan and Agency Co., and Presdt. of the Confederation Life Assur. Co. In 1880 he headed a syndicate for the building of the Can. Pac. Ry. For his services in behalf of Confederation, he was created a C.B., 1867, and in 1879, as a further mark of royal favour, he was apptd. a K.C.M.G. HUDON, Rev. Hyacinth, S.J. (R. C.), is the s. of the late Victor Hudon, Presdt. of the Victor Hudon Cotton Mills Co., Montreal, and was b. at St. Pie, P.Q., Nov. 24, 1839. Ed. at St. Mary's (Jesuit) Coll., Montreal, he was called to the bar, 1863, but abandoning that profession, joined the order of Jesuits and was admitted to the priesthood, 1877. He studied Phil. in the U. S., and Theol. in France. In Sept., 1893, he was apptd. Rector of St. Mary's Coll., Montreal, a position he still fills. His bro., the Rev. Henri Hudon (obit Feb., 1897), was for some yrs. Superior-Genl. of the Order of Jesuits in Can.—St. Mary's College, Montreal.

HUGHES, Alexander, soldier and statesman, was b. at Brantford, Ont., 1846. In 1861 he entered the 7th Wisconsin State Volunteers, and served in the field during the continuation of the Am. civil war. At the battle of Gainesville he was wounded and taken prisoner, but escaping, was again wounded at South Mountain, Sept. 14, 1862. At Gettysburg, he was shot in the left side, and again, in the famous charge at Spottsylvania Ct. House, 1864, he received a stunning blow upon the head from a rebel musket, and a gunshot wound in the right knee, the ball remaining there for 6 yrs. after the war. At the battle of North Anna, he received a gunshot wound which entered the left side, breaking a rib, and then passed round to the right side. This shot seriously injured his spine, 13 pieces of bone being removed from that one wound. He was not able to sit up a whole day during the 2 yrs. succeeding his last wound. He was in every battle in which the Iron Brigade fought, from Gainesville up to North Anna, except the battle of Antietam, and would have been there but for the wounds he had received at Gainesville and South Mountain. After the war, Capt. H. studied law, and became supdt. of a public institution in Iowa. He m. 1869, and removing to Dakota, 1870, became Atty.-Genl. of the Territory. He has also filled several other positions of public responsibility.—Bismarck, Dak., U.S.

HUGHES, His Honour David John, Co. Ct. Judge, is the s. of the late Rev. David Hughes, formerly Headmaster of the Classical and Math. Sch. of Kingsbridge, Devon, Eng., and subsequently min. of Vicarage St. Chapel, Yeovil, Somerset, by Jane Morrish, his wife. B. at Kingsbridge, May 7, 1820, he was ed. chiefly by private tuition and at the London Dist. Grammar Sch., Ont., and was called to the bar, 1842. He practised at Woodstock until Sept., 1847, when he removed to London, where he became a partner of his brother-in-law, the late John Wilson, Q.C., afterwards a Judge of the Common Pleas. He was still with Mr. W. when he received his appt. as Judge of the Co. Ct. of Elgin, Sept. 29, 1853. His Honour has not infrequently acted on assize for judges of the Superior Cts., when the latter have been absent from illness or other cause. He was a R. O. under the E. F. Act, and has filled other local positions. Recently he was elected a V.-P. of the Ont. branch of the St. John's Ambulance Assn. In religious faith, he is a Presb. He m. HUGHES, Lt.-Col. George Edward Dumoulin, police service, is the s. of the late Hy. B. Hughes, advocate and Clk. of the Peace, Three Rivers, P.Q., by his wife, Eliza Dumoulin. B. at Ste. Thérèse de Blainville, P.Q., July 5, 1847, he was ed. at Nicolet Coll., admitted a N. P., 1873, and called to the bar, 1881. In his youth he served as a Pontifical Zouave in Italy. He practised his profession in partnership with Hon. J. A. (now Judge) Ouimet, in Montreal, until he became Deputy Clk. of the Peace and Clk. of Licenses, Montreal. These offices he resigned on his appointment as Brigade-Major of Mil., No. 6 Mil. Dist., Dec. 17, 1883. He was promoted lt.-col., Mch., 1884, and in 1885 accompanied his old corps, the 65th Batt., to the N.W.T., remaining in the field until the termination of the rebellion (medal). Lt.-Col. H. commanded the batt. at the engagement with the enemy at Frenchman's Butte, May 28, 1885, and for his conduct there was recommended for a full colonelcy by Genl. Middleton. He holds a first class M. S. cert. He was apptd. Chief of Police for the city of Montreal, Apl. 17, 1888. In religion, he is a R. C., and was created a Knight of the Roman Order of St. Gregory, 1889. — 1539 Notre Dame St., Montreal; St. James's Club; City Club.

HUGHES, James Laughlin, educationist, is the s. of John Hughes, a native of Tyrone, Irel., now living at Blackstock, Ont., by his wife, Caroline Laughlin, of Huguenot descent, and was b. near Bowmanville, Ont., Feb. 20, 1846. Ed. in the public schs. and in the Normal Sch., Toronto, he spent some yrs. on his father's farm before entering on his career as a public school teacher. In 1867 he was apptd. asst. in the Provl. Normal Sch., Toronto, and became head-master of that institution. In May, 1874, he was chosen for his present office, Inspr. of Public Schs., Toronto. Mr. H. was a mem. of the Central Comte. of Examrs., 1877-82, and was apptd. by the Ont. Govt. a special comnr. to investigate the frauds in teachers' exams., 1877. He was sent to St. Louis, 1883, by the same Govt., to report on the kindergarten system in that city, and it was mainly through his instrumentality that the system was introduced into the Province, together with the phonic method of teaching reading and systematic hand-training as a means of intellectual development. In 1893 he was Chairman of the World's Congress of Elementary Education, and he has since been Presdt. of the Chautauqua Lit. and Scien. Circle in Can. In 1895 he was elected a dir. of the Dom. Educatl. Assn. He has held high offices in the Orange, Masonic, and Temp. bodies, as well as in other fraternal orders and socs. At present he is Grand Master of the Orangemen of Ont. West, and represented that body at the Orange Triennial Council, London, Eng., 1894. He was for a term Presdt. of the Irish Prot. Ben. Soc. He has been also Presdt. of the Toronto S. S. Assn. and of the Teachers' Assn., and is now Chairman of the Ex. of the Woman's Enfranchisement Assn. For yrs. he was Secy. of the National Lacrosse Assn. of Can., and he was afterwards Presdt. of the Toronto Lacrosse Club. Besides other productions, he is the author of

HUNTER-DUVAR, Lt.-Col. John, poet, is of Scoto-Eng. birth and education. B. Aug. 29, 1830, he has spent the greater part of his life in Can., and his sentiments and interests are wholly Canadian. He served as Lt.-Col. of the 3rd Brigade Halifax Garrison Arty., later held the same rank in command of Prince Co. (P.E.I.) Batt. of active mil., and afterwards, until 1889, was for 10 yrs. Dom. Inspr. of Fisheries for the Province of P.E.I. He is a J. P. for his co. Although an ardent and industrious student, his efforts at literary production have been desultory rather than systematic. Not posing as a mag. writer, many articles of his, critical and artistic, archæological, and in poetry and fiction, have found their way into high-class periodicals here and in Eng. His taste savours of pronounced mediævalism, as might, perhaps, be expected in the mem. of a family which does not accept the political latitudinarianism of the times. His writings are well known, especially in the Maritime Provinces. Among the lesser of them are fragments of a lyric poem: "John a'Var his Lais"; translations of "Vaux des Vires," and of an Italian troubadour romance: "The Seven Lays of Lancelot"; the "Moira Encantada"; "On the Tigris"; "The Judgment of Osiris," besides a work of fancy, "Annals of the Court of Oberon," with others. His published volumes are: "The Enamorado," a drama; "Roberval," a drama; "Immigration of the Fairies," and "The Triumph of Constancy," a romaunt; "Fin de Siecle," a comedy; and "The Stone, Bronze, and Iron Ages." Col. D. is one of the P. E. I. Comité of the All. Scient. Univ., of Paris; also an hon. mem. of the Soc. of Can. Literature, Montreal; and of the Woman's Historical Soc., Toronto. HUNTER, John Howard, Ont. public service, is the s. of the late Wm. Hunter, by his wife, Charlotte Howard. B. at Bandon, Irel., Dec. 22, 1839, he received instruction under various classical and math. masters, afterwards spending 2 yrs. in the Queen's Univ., Irel. On removing to Can., he entered Toronto Univ. (B.A., 1861; M.A., 1862), and having for some yrs. followed the profession of teaching, became Principal of Beamsville Grammar Sch. He exchanged this position, in 1865, for that of Principal of the united Grammar and Common schs. of Dundas. In 1871 he became Head-master of the St. Catharines Grammar Sch., an institution which, while under his management, was elevated to the rank of a Coll. Inst. In 1874 he accepted the charge of the Provl. Inst. for the Blind, Brantford. Here he remained until 1881, when he was called to take charge of the Dept. of Ins. for Ont., for which his knowledge of Law, Math. and Finance specially adapted him. While filling these several positions, Mr. H. was afforded opportunities of rendering special and important services to the cause of education. Besides being a frequent contributor to periodical literature, he has published a pamphlet entitled the "Upper Canada College Question" (1868); a "Manual of Insurance Law" (1881); and has written several articles for "Picturesque Can." He was also selected, 1882, to edit a set of "Royal Readers" for the public schs. "Mr. Hunter is not only one of the most accomplished teachers in the Province, but he is also a man endowed with a power of deep and original thought, with a love of learning which amounts to enthusiasm, and with the rare gift of being able to infuse his spirit into others. As a writer, we know of none in Can. with a style more pure, clear and vigorous."—(Vide the late Hon. Thos. White, M.P.) In legislation, Mr. H. has drawn a number of the most important recent statutes in Ins. and Company Law. He has been associated with his sons, W. H. and A. T. Hunter in the authorship of treatises on Ins. and Real Property Law, works which have received high commendation from the law journals of Eng. as well as of Can. HUNTER, Joseph, C.E., was b. in Aberdeen, Scot., May 7, 1839. Ed. at the Grammar Sch. and at Marischal Coll., Aberdeen, he came to B. C., 1864. Becoming a surveyor and engr., he was afterwards employed in connection with the surveys undertaken for the Can. Pac. Ry. He entered the legislature as one of the mems. for Cariboo at the g. e. 1871 (the first legislature elected after the Province entered the Dom.), and sat until 1875, when he declined renomination. He was elected for Comox, g. e. 1890, and was re-elected 1894. In 1883 he was apptd. Chief Engr. of the Esquimalt and Nanaimo Ry., and in 1886 was made also Genl. Supt. of that road. HUNTER, Samuel, cartoonist, is the s. of Capt. John Hunter, Clk. of the D. C., Millbrook, Ont., by his wife, Jane O'Brian, and is, on his father's side, of U. E. L. descent. B. at Millbrook, Mch. 3, 1858, he was ed. at the same place, and since his earliest yrs. has had a predilection for caricature. He first devoted himself to newspaper illustrating about 13 yrs. ago, during which time he exercised both pen and pencil, much of his paragraphing finding a market among the comic weeklies in the U. S. Several yrs. were spent in the Can. West, studying Indian life and the picturesque of the plains, and his reproductions of native life found ready sale both there and in the east. The last 3 or 4 yrs. have been devoted to caricature exclusively, during which time this work has been a feature of many of the leading Can. dailies. At present Mr. H.'s time is occupied in producing cartoons for the Toronto World, and very often he has produced 12 to 17 political caricatures a week, a record which perhaps few cartoonists have yet essayed for any length of time. Such a strain requires relaxation, however, and July and August of each year are spent in camping out, fishing, exploring and roughing it generally among the northern lakes. He is a firm believer in the possibilities of Can., and desires to see it occupy the position of a nation in the near future. He m. HUNTER, Rev. William Armstrong (Presb.), is the s. of Wm. Hunter, Millbrook, Ont., and is a native of that place. Ed. at Peterboro' Coll. Inst., and at Toronto Univ. (B.A., with honours and gold med. in Mental and Moral Phil., 1877; M.A., 1879), he followed his theol. studies at Knox Coll., and at Union Semy., N. Y., and was ordained to the ministry, 1880. Apptd. to Parkdale, Toronto, he subsequently accepted a call to Erskine Ch., same city. He published a work on "Evolution and Christianity" (1895), in which he contends that, far from destroying or undermining the theol. argument of Christian belief, the doctrine of evolution strengthens and confirms it. He received the degree of Ph.D. on exam., 1895. Politically, he sympathizes with the Lib. party.—Erskine Ch. Manse, 20 Cecil St., Toronto.

HUNTER, Rev. William John (Meth.), is the s. of John and Nancy Hunter, natives of the Co. Tyrone, Irel., and was b. at Philipsburg, P.Q., Feb. 26, 1835. Ed. at Victoria Univ., Cobourg, he was ordained to the ministry, June, 1860, having previously been engaged in ch. work for some yrs. He has been stationed in London, Hamilton, Toronto and Montreal, and has held almost every position of honour and responsibility that could be entrusted to him. He was chairman of the Ottawa Dist., 1874-75 (the Dom. Meth. Ch. being built during his pastorate); Secy. of Montreal Conf., 1876; Chairman of Hamilton Dist., 1885; Presdt. of Niagara Conf., 1886. He received the degree of D.D. from Chicago Univ., 1878, and, subsequently, that of Ph.D. from Syracuse Univ. One of the ablest preachers in the Meth. "A Conservative first, last and always, a hard fighter, a man of unimpeachable moral character, a church-goer, and liberal to all religious and charitable objects. While on good terms with the French-Canadians, as he must have been to have represented Richmond and Wolfe so long, he is yet a staunch and reliable Eng.-Canadian. He is a self-made man."—Witness.

JACK, Mrs. Annie L., author, was b. in Northamptonshire, Eng., Jan. 1, 1839, and is the dau. of John Hayr. Coming to Am., 1852, she attended Mrs. Williard's Acad., Troy, N.Y. (where she was a sch. friend of Louise Chandler Moulton), and it was in the Times of that city that her first article was published. Before the age of 16 she became first asst. teacher in the free schs. in Troy, but subsequently removed to Can. on her marriage with Robt. Jack, a Scotch fruit-grower of intelligence and position. Mrs. J. has since made herself widely known as a writer on horticultural subjects, in which field she is a recognized authority. Her success in horticulture attracted the attention of the poet Whittier, who wrote to her: "Many women desire to do these things, but do not know how to succeed as thou hast done." She has written stories and poems for many periodicals, and one series of stories on "Women's Work in New Channels" attracted the attention of Harper's Young People, resulting in her pen being engaged in their service on these subjects. As "Loyal Janet" she wrote for the Montreal Witness, some yrs. ago, some Scotch articles that hit upon social topics, and were very popular. Her horticultural articles are of practical use and helpful to those engaged in the culture of fruits and flowers. Mrs. J.'s eld. s., John Geo. Jack, b. at Chateauguay, developed very early a taste for natural science and research. He was ed. chiefly at home, till he went to Boston and became associated with the Arnold Arboretum in connection with Harvard Coll. He is a teacher of Botany in connection with Harvard, and associated with Prof. Sargent in his work there. In 1891 he visited Europe for the further prosecution of his studies. He has written many descriptive articles for Forest and Garden, N.Y.—"Hillside," Chateauguay Basin, P.Q.

Inst., a position he filled till his appt. as Prof. of Chemistry at the Ont. Ag. Coll., Guelph, 1886. Principal Mills writes that: "Prof. James was popular at the Inst., both with the students and with his fellow-professors. His lectures were always prepared with the greatest care and delivered with that clearness peculiar to his style, which rendered them so attractive. So completely satisfactory were his lectures that his many friends who were cognizant of this fact, while they rejoiced to hear of his promotion to another branch of the public service, felt that the Ag. Coll. would sustain a severe loss in his removal." The promotion referred to was his appt. as Depty. Mr. of Agricul. and as Secy. of the Ont. Bureau of Industries, which took effect from June, 1891. In this new position, by his ability, knowledge and peculiar fitness for the duties entrusted to him, he has earned credit both for himself and for the govt. to whose wisdom and discernment he owes his appt. He belongs to the Meth. Ch. He is also a mem. of the Senate of Victoria Univ., and Secy. of the Alumni Assn. of the Univ. He was a del. to the Deep Waterways Convention, 1894. JARDINE, Rev. Robert (Lib. Christian), is the 2nd s. of the late John Jardine, by his wife, Jean McCreath. B. in Augusta, Ont., 1840, he was ed. at Brockville and at Queen's Univ., Kingston (B.A., 1863; M.A., B.D., 1866), and took a post-graduate course in Phil. at Edinburgh (D.Sc., 1867). He was Prof. of Eng. Lit. and Phil. in N. B. Univ., 1867-69. Licensed, June, 1867, he was ordained as a min. of the Ch. of Scot. by the Presby. of Glasgow, Scot., 1869, and went to India in the same year as a mission. He was 1 yr. in Bombay and 6 yrs. in Calcutta, as Principal of the Genl. Assembly's Coll. He returned on furlough, 1877, but did not go back to India, on account of the climate. He was a min. of the Presb. Ch. of Can., 1878-93, holding positions as pastor of St. Paul's Ch., Chatham, N.B., St. John's Ch., Brockville, and St. Paul's Ch., Prince Albert,

N.W.T. He is the author of "The Elements of the Psychology of Cognition" (1874), a work which has reached a third edition; "What to Believe" (1876), and was a contributor to the Calcutta Rev. For many yrs. he had entertained doubts regarding the correctness of orthodox doctrines, and gave much attention to Oriental religions. In Prince Albert, retired from the active ministry through force of circumstances, he investigated freely the origins of Christianity, resulting in convictions that Presb. and other branches of the Cath. Ch. are far removed from Primitive Christianity in consequence of interpolation of mythological and other corruptions from the lower grades of heathenism. This conviction led to his requesting the Presby. to strike his name off the list of ministers, not wishing to occupy a false position. He then went to Chicago and affiliated with the "Am. Congress of Lib. Religious Socs.," where he is now working, being pastor of the Ch. of our Father there. The Congress referred to was the outcome of the Parlt. of Religions, held in 1893, and is likely, he thinks, to lead to a very important progressive movement of religious thought and life. He m. JARVIS, Thomas Stinson, author and dramatic critic, is the eld. s. of Stephen Maule Jarvis, barrister, Toronto, by his wife Mary, dau. of Thos. Stinson, Hamilton, Ont. B. in Toronto, May 31, 1854, he received the earlier part of his education at U. C. Coll., and at 17 was sent away for a year's travel, his father judging this to be more profitable than a Univ. course. After seeing Europe, and passing a winter in Italy, the s. visited various oriental countries, and at his return had perhaps travelled more widely than any other Can. His first effort in literature: "Letters from East Longitudes," was compiled from letters written while in the East to his parents. It was dedicated, by permission, to the Earl of Dufferin, then Gov.-Genl. of Can., who showed the beginner a good deal of favour, and much praised its descriptions of Jerusalem and the Holy Land. From 1875 to 1880, Mr. J. took the law course, being articled to Sir O. Mowat, and when called to the bar passed second among 40 competitors. For many yrs. a mem. of the Royal Can. Yacht Club, the studies of law and yachting were made together, in his usual division of outdoor and indoor work; and he was afterwards given the command of numerous yachts in the annual and international regattas—among which were the vessels of Commodore Boswell, who preferred him to a professional. Niagara Falls, Can., was chosen as the town in which to commence his practice, and he soon appeared as counsel in some important extradition cases, which were fully reported at the time. Under commission from the Dom. Govt., he was apptd., 1883, to act judicially in extradition matters in Ont. During the next 9 yrs. he was twice sent to Eng. to arrange settlement of estates for clients in Am. His practice, however, lay chiefly in the criminal cts., and this assisted him in the mechanism of a novel which the Appletons of N. Y. published, 1890. "Geoffrey Hampstead" was the most widely reviewed novel of its year in the U. S. The 2nd ed. was published in Can. The scene is laid in Toronto, and the book is partly a study of heredity, dealing with the rights, wrongs and tragedies of different people who, as the Chicago Times says, "are not novelists' creations, but the real men and women we live among, and whom we grow to know as we know our own brothers and sisters." By the Am. press (163 reviews collected) the author was guessed at differently, owing to the variety of detail in the book. He was suggested to be a banker, a detective, a "society man," a "science professor," and a lawyer, while all seem to agree that he was a yachtsman. As this novel was written for amusement during odd hours, its success suggested that works of fancy were really pleasanter than addressing juries; and in 1891, Mr. J. moved to N. Y. to take up the life of letters. Here he held the yachting editorship of two papers, and contributed to various mags. A Boston publication, which pays the largest prices in Am., accepted 11 of his stories, and in the year of the World's Fair he produced his second novel: "Doctor Perdue," which took the $1000 prize in Chicago. This was in some respects a sequel to "Geoffrey Hampstead," in which the leading character provided a study of the mixture of good and evil in one person—his finer points not, however, saving him from penitentiary in the end: and in "Doctor Perdue" is shown the same man after the chastening of grief and solitude had brought to the front the obscured nobility of his nature. In the two books, taken together, it was the author's wish to suggest that much may be hoped for, even in men who fall so very far from grace as Hampstead. Mr. J.'s next work, "The Ascent of Life," was published in 6 serial articles in the Arena mag., and was afterwards issued in book form. It commences by reciting personal experiments in mesmerism, where various patients exhibited a clairvoyance, which was tested to prove with scientific certitude that the human being contains faculties capable of obtaining knowledge in channels other than those of the ordinary five senses. The reality and completeness of this thought transference has been proved before, but the point dwelt upon by the Theosophical Soc. in adopting this work as one of their aids is the way the truths thus obtained are continued towards explaining the advance of all natural life into higher grades. Into the appendix is placed a large collection of reported med. cases which exhibit the extraordinary effects of mental impressions and shocks upon the embryo—to assist in showing the formative, and in all ways fateful power of strong desires, or ideals, or shocks to alter the form and abilities of the coming offspring when such mental conditions are present in the parent during gestation. In the human being the improvements effected by the gradual advancing of the ideals are carefully traced, and the same principles and processes in regard to prenatal influences are shown to affect the evolution of all living creatures, from the lowest upwards. The Arena says: "Stinson Jarvis has bridged the gap at which Darwin was halted, and by extending scientific methods into the examination of more immaterial processes has given an aid and new vista to the study of evolution which have established his name in the realm of lasting and valuable literature"; "The Ascent of Life" was issued early in 1894, the author spending the remainder of the year in Paris and London, where his works had made him friends in the artistic community. From here he published, in N. Y., his last novel, "She Lived in New York." Mr. J. is now dramatic ed. of an old-established N. Y. publication. If the following of letters has necessitated a rather cosmopolitan existence, we are sure from his writing that with him Eng. will always be his country and Can. his home. He m. May, 1881, Annie, dau. of the late Prof. Croft, of the Univ. of Toronto. (See the Arena, Dec., 1893, for an interesting account of his family and his own career.)—345 W. 34th St., New York.

JOLY DE LOTBINIÈRE, Hon. Sir Henri Gustave, statesman, is the eld. s. of the late Gaspard Pierre Gustave Joly, a Huguenot native of France, who became Seigneur de Lotbinière, by his marriage with Julie Christine Chartier de Lotbinière, grand-dau. of the last Marquis de Lotbinière, engr.-in-chief of New France. B. in France, Dec. 5, 1829, he was ed. at the Keller Sch., Paris, in company with the late Mr. Waddington, the French Minister. Coming to Can., he devoted himself to the study of law, and was called to the Quebec bar, 1855. He practised his profession in the city and dist. of Quebec, and was created a Q. C., 1878. A Lib. politically, he was returned in that interest to the Can. Assembly, g. e. 1861, as the representative of the Co. of Lotbinière. He took a prominent part in the debates on the Confederation of the Provinces, 1865-66, joining Messrs. Dorion, Holton, Huntington and other Lib. leaders from L. C. in opposition to that measure. In the first election for the United Provinces, 1867, he was returned to the Ho. of Commons and to the Provl. Assembly. He remained a mem. of both those bodies until 1874, when at the abolition of dual representation, he elected to remain in the local legislature. He led the Opposition in the Assembly against the DeBoucherville Govt., until Mch., 1878, when, on the dismissal of his Ministers by Lt.-Gov. Letellier, he (Mr. J.) was called to the Premiership. While at the head of the Govt. he initiated and carried out a vigorous policy of retrenchment, as well as of political purity. The salaries of Ministers and the indemnity of members of the Legislature were reduced. An effort was made to abolish the Legislative Council, and all unnecessary outlays were cut off. Defeated in the House, 1879, he resigned, and from that time up to 1883, was again the leader of the Opposition. In 1885 he retired from public life in consequence of his disapproval of the course of the Lib. party on the Riel question. He reappeared on the surface, June, 1893, as a del. to the Reform convention at Ottawa, and was then elected vice-chairman of that important gathering. Later, in Feb., 1894, he undertook a mission of peace and good-will to the Province of Ont., to dispel the prejudice existing there against the people of the Province of Quebec, and to bring about a better feeling between the two provinces. In Feb., 1895, in response to a general call from his party, he agreed to return to public life, and from that time took an active part in the agitation which led to Sir W. Laurier's success at the polls at the g. e. 1896. During the contest he was returned to the Ho. of Commons for Portneuf. On the formation of the new Admn. at Ottawa, he was offered and accepted the office of Controller of Inland Revenue. He became a Privy Councillor with the title of Mr. of Inland Revenue, June 30, 1897. He is an hon. D.C.L. of Lennoxville Univ. (1887), an LL.D. of Queen's Univ. (1894), and in acknowledgment of his public services received the K.C.M.G. from Her Majesty, May, 1895. He declined a seat in the Senate in 1874 and again in 1877. In the latter year he also declined a seat, with the office of Mr. of Agriculture, in the Mackenzie Admn. Sir Henri is known all over the continent for his interest in Agricul., Horticul. and Forestry, having written and spoken frequently on those subjects. He has held office as V.-P. of the Am. Forestry Assn., as a mem. of the Council of Agricul., P. Q., as a mem. of the permanent Comte. in connection with the Provl. Agricul. and Industrial Expns., as a dir. of the Abbotsford Pomol. Assn., as Presdt. of the Fruit Growers' Assn. of Quebec, and as Presdt. of the Soc. for the Re-wooding of Quebec. In 1893 he was entrusted with the preparation of the Provl. Forestry exhibits sent to the Chicago World's Fair, and throughout the Mercier régime he assisted in the admn. of the Dept. of Agricul. During the existence of the Imp. Federation League he gave the scheme his entire support, and he is now as warmly inclined towards the Brit. Empire League. He is also connected with the United Empire Loyalist Assn. In religious belief, he is a mem. of the Ch. of Eng., and has served as a del. to the Diocesan and Provl. Synods of the Ch. In 1888 he was authorized by the Quebec Legislature to add De Lotbinière, his mother's name, to that of Joly. He m. 1856, Margaretta Josepha, dau. of the late Hammond Gowen, of Quebec. Their eld. son, Edmond, adopted the legal profession, and m. Lucy Campbell, dau. of the late W. D. Campbell, of Quebec; the 2nd s., Alain, graduated from the R. M. Coll., Kingston, 1883. JOHNSON, Miss E. Pauline, poet, is the dau. of the late Geo. Hy. M. Johnson, head Chief of the Mohawk Indians, by his wife, Emily S. Howells, a native of Bristol, Eng. B. at "Chiefswood," Six Nation Indian Reserve, Co. Brant, Ont., she was ed. by private tuition and at the Brantford Model Sch. Her first verses appeared in the "Gems of Poetry," N. Y., and since then she has been a frequent contributor to the Can. and Am. periodical press. "Her best poems," writes one of her biographers, "the ones in which there is the greatest life and fire, are those on Indian subjects, canoeing, Can. scenery, etc. Into her poems of this class, 'The Death Cry,' 'A Cry from an Indian Wife,' 'As Red Men Die,' 'The Idler,' 'In the Shadows,' 'In April,' she has thrown all her heart. They possess an irresistible passion and ardour. Nothing stronger than 'As Red Men Die,' was ever published in Can.; nothing more sympathetic with nature, and hence more thoroughly artistic than 'In April.' And as regards prose, one has but to read such a sketch as 'Prone on the Earth,' to appreciate Miss J.'s power and delicacy of touch upon the harp-strings of human nature." Miss J. visited Eng., 1894, and while there published "The White Wampum," a collection of about two-score poems. She made her first appearance as a reciter of her own poems in 1891, and has since then appeared in many Can. and Am. cities. During the season, 1893-94, she gave the remarkable number of 125 recitals in 50 different places. More recently she has recited in the U. S., and on the Pacific Coast, in company with Owen A. Smiley, an Eng. entertainer. In 1896 she won the 1st prize of the 3 offered by the Industrial League, for the best campaign song for the Dom. g. els. It was entitled, "The Good Old N. JOHNSON, JAMES, journalist, is the s. of Wm. Johnson, merchant, Antrim, Irel., and was b. there June 1, 1844. Destined for a mercantile career he, on completing his education, entered the employment of Pine & Sons, Belfast. In 1866 he followed his two brothers to Can., and was for some yrs., Depy. Regr. of Frontenac. Having all his life cultivated a taste for literary and newspaper work, he drifted naturally into journalism, and, resigning his official position, accepted the editorship of the Kingston News, the leading Con. organ in the Midland Dist. Later, in 1883, he was called to Ottawa to assume the editorship of the Daily Citizen, and remained connected with that paper up to his removal to London, Eng., some yrs. ago. He still contributes occasionally in the way of European correspondence to the Citizen. During the celebration of the Queen's Diamond Jubilee, 1897, he wrote descriptive letters to the Mail and Empire. He was for yrs. Capt. and Adjt. of the 14th Batt., the Princess of Wales Own Rifles, Kingston, and was on active service with his regt. during the Fenian troubles. He was Presdt. of the Parliamentary
